Charlevoix Rayders Lose to Mancelona 19 to 18

Rayder halfback Tom Lakies (33) carries the ball for a substantial gain while tackle Ken Wojan runs interference for him and an unidentified Rayder takes out a would-be tackler in the Charlevoix-Mancelona game last week. The Rayders dropped the game to the Ironmen 19 to 18.

Mancelona end Dexter Bailey (41), and two unidentified Ironmen are also pictured.

Ironmen Use Passing Attack to Cinch Game

Though Charlevoix outplayed Mancelona on the ground Friday night, it was the Ironmen's passing offense that won them the game by a 19 to 18 score. The extra point which gave the visitors the victory was scored on a pass into the end zone.

This week the Rayders will travel to Gaylord to take on the Blue Devils who last week managed to hold the top-rated Harbor Springs to a 26 to 13 score.

Both Gaylord touchdowns were made on pass plays which the Blue Devils utilized for most of their ground gains against the Rams.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

Favored teams racked up victories in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night as Mancelona edged Charlevoix 19 to 18; Harbor Springs won over Gaylord 26 to 13; East Jordan trounced Pellston 34 to 0 and Boyne City downed Grayling 74 to 0.

At Harbor Springs the Rams took to the air to score two touchdowns and then stayed on the ground for two others as they won over Gaylord 26 to 13.

Early in the game right end Allen Allerding took a 22 yard pass from quarterback Richie Clarke and then romped 20 yards to score to put the Rams ahead 6 to 0 when Clarke's kick was wide.

Gaylord countered with a touchdown by end Darwin Mason who scored a 47 yard pass from quarterback John Burnison. Later in the period fullback Jack Meyer put the Rams ahead with a 46 yard run around end. This time Clarke's kick was good.

Allerding took a five yard jump pass from Clarke in the second quarter with Clarke adding the extra point to give Harbor Springs a 20 to 6 halftime lead.

Halfback Doug Bottomley went over from the five after taking a 40 yard pitch from Burnison to cut the Rams' lead. Burnison passed to Mason for the extra point.

Early in the final period Meyer scored again, this time from the 30 for the victory.

East Jordan 34; Pellston 0

Though they never threatened, the Pellston Hornets held the East Jordan Red Devils scoreless for the first period in their meeting Friday.

After that, however, the Jor-danites scored freely for the lop-sided win.

Fullback Al Ingalls opened the scoring when he went over from the four after taking a 20 yard pass from quarterback Gene Richards. Richards converted as the half ended 7 to 0.

Early in the second half freshman tackle Louie Kramer scored for the Red Devils when he fell on an East Jordan fumble in the Pellston end zone. Again, Richards converted.

Runs accounted for the final three touchdowns as left half-back Jack Gee scored from the 15, halfback Larry Hayden from the 20 and Larry Hayden from the seven. Richards booted the extra point following the last touchdown.

Boyer City 74; Grayling 0
Boyer City scored almost at will over the Vikings who never threatened.

Halfback Doug Newville and Bob Christianson accounted for three apiece, fullback Carl Charon scored two on long runs, end Dave Green scored two more on passes from quarterback Morcy Hobbs, and Carl Aimesbury scored one for a total of 11 touchdowns. Charon kicked five points, Newville booted one and Christianson and John Kirby ran the ball over for two more.

Mancelona-Harbor Springs Tilt May Be Key Loop Game

The game which may decide the Northern Michigan Class C championship, the meeting of Mancelona and Harbor Springs, will highlight loop action this week . . . the second of the current season.

Elsewhere in the loop, Charlevoix will play at Gaylord, Boyne City will host East Jordan and Grayling will travel north to take on the Pellston Hornets in the only afternoon game scheduled.

The Mancelona-Harbor Springs game on the former's field will mark the meeting of two of the strongest contenders for the loop title now held by Boyne City.

Both teams are made up of veteran players, the majority of them seniors. However, there the likeness ends for Mancelona has a team that depends almost entirely on an aerial offense while the big Harbor Springs squad have used a ground attack to collect most of their yardage to date. Some of the outstanding ball handlers in the loop can be found in both backfields. The Rams line, however, is their biggest asset for it has been a stone wall on defense, stopping opponents without effort, and a powerhouse on offense, breaking through and opening the way for their 'bread and butter' player, fullback Jack Meyer.

In addition to their power, both teams have their sights on their first loop title since the league was formed 22 years ago. With so much at stake both teams will be up for the big meeting Friday. The result is a toss up but the Rams will have a slight edge over Mancelona.

Boyer City will host East Jordan this week in a game which will be a real test for the young Jordanites.

At East Jordan Coach Gayle Saxton is hoping for the return of right end Richard Kramer who suffered a hip injury in the Pellston game and tackle Jerry Chanda who missed the Pellston game because of a bad knee. With those two back in the line up he is sure his Red Devils can give the Ramblers a good game.

Boyer City, on the other hand, is concerned about their star athlete, fullback Carl Charon, who suffered a bad hip bruise in the Grayling game. Coach Paul Mahier said that he did not think Charon would be out for practice this week and whether he plays Friday will depend entirely on how well the injury responds to treatment and rest. Should the injury keep Charon out of the game, a sophomore, Dave Green, will be called on to replace him.

East Jordan could give the Ramblers a good game but they will pose no serious threat to the defending champions.

The Pellston Hornets who lost

If Charlevoix can perfect a passing defense and if the Rayders play the type of ball they displayed during the last half of the game against Mancelona they should make their way into the victory column this week. However, they will have to play heads-up ball all the way for Gaylord will be out seeking the same honor.

In the game Friday night Mancelona scored two touchdowns in the first half before Charlevoix came to life to score three in the last half. However, the Ironmen's experience and excellent passing attack paid off in the final minutes as they scored the final touchdown to take the game.

Charlevoix took the kick-off in the game and picked up two first downs to move from their own 31 to the Mancelona 38 before they were forced to punt.

Mancelona was charged with clipping as they took the punt and were set back to their own three before play resumed. On the first play from scrimmage quarterback Ronnie Johnson faded back into his own end zone and got off a 35-yard pass which fullback Johnny Phillips took to the Rayders three before he was brought down. Two plays later he carried the ball over for the touchdown. The kick was wide and the score remained 6 to 0.

An exchange of punts gave Charlevoix possession of the ball as the quarter ended. The Ironmen took over on their own 21 after the Rayders failed to pick up necessary yardage. Mancelona's ground attack was stopped and they were forced to punt with Charlevoix taking the ball and moving it to the Mancelona 29 where they again bogged down and the visitors took over.

A pass from Ronnie Johnson to Phillips moved the ball from the 29 to the 42 and a second pass by Johnson sent Phillips into the end zone as he outran all Rayder tacklers. Ronnie Johnson passed to Phillips for the extra point which was to give Mancelona the victory.

Charlevoix was on the Mancelona eight as the half ended. The Rayders were inspired when they returned for the second half, recovering a Mancelona fumble on Mancelona 32 on the second play after the kickoff which opened the period. With halfbacks Tom Lakies and Larry Ingalls carrying the ball they moved to the six and were penalized to the 11 for being offside before Ingalls scored. The kick for the extra point was wide.

An exchange of punts followed the kickoff before Mancelona was forced to kick the second time, giving the Rayders possession of the ball on their own 34 as the third period ended.

A pass from quarterback Bob Mol to end Steve LaBlance moved the ball to the 34 and ground gave the Rayders three first gains by Ingalls and Lakies downs and put the ball on the four yard line. Lakies moved it to the one foot line from where Ingalls scored on the next play, again the boot was wide.

Mancelona's attack seemed to bog down and after failing to move the ball the Ironmen were forced to punt. The Rayders took the kick on the Mancelona 46 and with Mol, Ingalls and Lakies picked up three first downs to place the ball on the four from where Ingalls scored the Rayders third touchdown in the second half.

Trailing by five points Mancelona took to the air. On the second play from scrimmage Ronnie Johnson on his own 38 got off a pass to end Dexter Bailey to move the ball to the Rayder 30. Ronnie Johnson repeated the play, this time to Bailey on the five, to put Mancelona ahead 19 to 18.

Charlevoix was on the march when Mancelona intercepted a pass as the game ended.

Rep. Griffin Is Guest Speaker At State Federation Meeting

"It is important that everyone participate in party politics. Too many people stand aloof and then, when it is too late, regret that they did not support the party or program in which they believed," Rep. Robert P. Griffin of the 9th Congressional district told the delegates to the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Northwestern District of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Club last Wednesday.

More than 75 members and guests gathered for the luncheon at the Weatherly Inn at which Mr. Griffin spoke.

He went on to say in regard to this same issue "How much better to light your one little candle than stand and curse the darkness." He also said that the people "back home" are much more important to the legislators than they realize. He urged those present, as club women, to let their views be known and to urge others to do the same.

During his talk he also outlined the accomplishments of the recent session of Congress. He spoke at length on the Eisenhower Doctrine, the Battle of the Budget and the Civil Rights Bill.

The luncheon meeting concluded the two-day conference which was attended by federated club members from Muskegon north to the Straits.

Mrs. Harry L. Potter of North Muskegon was re-elected to head the organization for another year as were the other officers including Mrs. LeMoine Cronewett of Ludington, Vice president; Mrs. E. C. Hammes of Ingham, recording secretary; Mrs. C. Edgar Miller of North Muskegon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Arch Marshall of Manistee, treasurer and Mrs. Harry W. Jones of North Muskegon, parliamentarian.

Miss Helen Harris of Muskegon, president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs, was the principal speaker at the banquet at St. Mary's school dining room Tuesday evening.

The 1958 convention will be held at Whitehall.

The Shakespeare and Dickens Study Clubs, headed by Mrs. T. R. Miller and Mrs. Clark Coulter respectively, were convention hosts.

State Officers Attend D. A. R. Regional Meet

The regional meeting of the D. A. R. was held at the Perry Hotel in Petoskey Wednesday with the Pe-to-se-ga chapter hosting the Job Winslow chapter of Traverse City.

Highlight of the meeting was the attendance of the following state officers and board members: State regent, Mrs. Clarence W. Wacker; first vice regent, Mrs. Roy V. Barnes of Royal Oak; chaplain, Mrs. Harold E. Doyle of Detroit; treasurer, Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby of Plymouth; historian, Mrs. Clare E. Wiedlea of Sturgis and librarian, Miss Royena M. Hornbeck of Kalamazoo.

In observance of Constitution week, Mrs. Wiedlea presented a history of the framing of the Constitution and of how the various articles affect the individual.

At the business session reports were given on the work in the approved mountain schools. The current project of the Michigan chapters is a new laundry at Tannasee school in Tannasee, S. C.

Neither team had a chance against their stronger opponents but should have a good game when they meet each other. Grayling with more experienced players should have the edge in the meeting but the Hornets are a scrappy outfit despite their inexperience and may surprise the Vikings in this meeting.

Sportsmen Will Find Abundance Of Game on Isle

Beaver Island will be a veritable sportsman's paradise this fall with fish, birds and deer in abundance, according to a report by the Beaver Island Civic Association.

The biggest perch-run in recent years is now on in the harbor at St. James with record catches daily.

There are many ruffed grouse for the bird hunters who took to the woods Tuesday. Hunting on the island, however, is expected to be better latter this month when the heavy foliage is off the trees. At present the trees still have most of their leaves.

The bird population on the island is probably the highest in the state, a survey by the Conservation Department reveals. There is one bird for every two and three-fourths acres of hunting area on the island as compared with one in every seven acres on Drummond Island and one in every 15 acres in other hunting areas in the state.

The deer herd is also very good this year and should result in excellent hunting on the island.

In announcing the sale Mr. Faulkner said his family had owned the two-story brick building located at the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets since 1899. Mr. Faulkner had owned it since the death of his parents. The building has 25 ft. frontage on Bridge st., and 80 ft. on Clinton st.

The structure is one of the oldest in the city and in the past had been the site of a millinery shop, a saloon, an engineering office, a liquor store and more recently the home of the Western Auto store.

Mr. Potts plans for the building are not known.

Islander Aboard First U. S. Ship On N. W. Passage

A young Beaver Island Coast Guardsman saw history in the making recently when his ship, the USS Storrs, and two other Coast Guard buoy tenders became the first American ships to open the way through the Northwest Passage.

By accomplishing this feat, the Storrs earned the distinction of being the first U. S. ship to circumnavigate the North American continent.

Andrew J. Gallagher QM 3-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gallagher of St. James was the young island resident. A veteran of 18 months in the U. S. Coast Guard, he had transferred to the Storrs only a short time before the ship left Seattle on the history-making cruise.

Most of the 7,000 mile trip was made through heavy ice from the time the ship entered the Bering Straits July 10 until they passed through the Davis Straits 64 days later. After completing the historic trip the Storrs docked at Boston Sept. 24 before going to Baltimore where it will remain in drydock for 30 days. The ship will then proceed to its home port of Juneau, Alaska, via Miami, Kingston, Canal Zone, Acapulco, San Diego, San Francisco and Seattle.

Mr. Gallagher is visiting relatives at Yeadon, Pa., while on a seven-day leave from the ship.

Let's Face Our Obligation

For the third time within three months the voters in the Charlevoix school district will be asked tomorrow (Friday, Oct. 11) to approve a three mill tax levy for a period of one year in order to clean up a deficit of $24,514, forced upon the district when the heating system at the school was condemned by the state fire marshal. It was a situation beyond the control of anyone.

The school has been operating with this deficit for four years. Each year the procedure to get by has been the same—get an advance on the next year's allotment from the state and borrow enough more to cover the deficit. How long can this go on?

Continually rising costs have hit the school the same as they have affected business and the individual, thus the school has been forced to cut corners in order to even hold the deficit to the original figure. It should be remembered too that only seven mills has been allocated the school by the county allocation board, placing the Charlevoix school in a class with only a few other schools receiving the lowest allocation in the state. The average for the state is more than eight mills and many counties allot much more.

Every voter should realize, too, that this request for three mills is for ONE YEAR ONLY. It can not be continued after that time without an election on an entirely new proposal. That point is definitely stipulated on the ballot you will receive at the polls.

We believe if the voters take time to get the facts in the situation they will agree that it is good business to eliminate this deficit in one clean sweep and give the board of education an opportunity to operate the school on a pay as you go basis. A YES vote appears to us to be the logical answer.

At the first election the proposal allowing the levy was approved by property owners who were the only ones permitted to vote on that proposition. Why the proposition to actually levy the three mill tax was voted down at that time seems a mystery to us in view of the fact that all eligible voters had the right to cast a ballot. In other words, why should the voter who doesn't have to pay the tax refuse to let the property owners raise the necessary money and thus avoid paying out more taxes for interest over a longer period of time.

We have heard it suggested that school costs be cut in order to save money for the debt. We approve, BUT, after taking a sheet of paper to itemize the savings we would make we decided we should get a little more informed about school operations before presenting our ideas to the board of education.

We do have a suggestion we believe will work to the benefit of all. First vote YES at the school election tomorrow and get the debt off our backs. Next, all of us take enough interest in the school system to get informed about what we are paying for and what we are getting. (If you want to test yourself on this subject list three non-essential expenses that appeared in the financial statement of the school district, published in the Sept. 19 issue of the Courier.)

It is safe to say the board of education will welcome any workable plan to reduce school costs and, within the limits of state educational requirements, comply with the wishes of the community. However, if we expect the board of education to curtail or eliminate any part of the educational program, the board has the right to expect full support from the majority.

Your first opportunity to support the school board is at the school election tomorrow when you can vote YES. If you are 21, a citizen and a resident of the district you may vote.

Feeder Cattle Sale To Be Held Oct. 10

The 12th annual Feeder Cattle sale will be held at Gaylord Thursday, Oct. 10, under the sponsorship of the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders' Association, according to Ed Rebmam, agent.

The sale at Gaylord is one of three held in northern Michigan. It is expected that some 500 yearling and 1,100 calves will be offered for sale by the 100 consignors. All are from commercial beef cow herds and are sired by registered beef bulls. The majority of the cattle will be of Hereford stock although there will be some Angus cattle.

The cattle will begin arriving at Gaylord early next week. Prior to Thursday's sale they will be sorted and grouped in pens according to sex, weight, quality and breeding.

Among the Charlevoix county consignors are E. K. Shanahan of Birchwood Ranch who plans to sell about 40 and James Gallagher and William Schmidt of Beaver Island who usually sell about 40 cattle at the sale.

The young stock is purchased by southern Michigan buyers and transported to southern Michigan where they are prepared for market.

273 Dawn Patrol Planes Swoop on Beaver Island

A dawn patrol flight of 273 small planes set down on Beaver Island over the weekend, bringing more than 600 visitors to America's Emerald Isle for a day of fishing, hunting and fun.

Headed by Dr. John P. Ludwig, Jackson physician and owner with his father of the Beaver Lodge, the planes started arriving Saturday and by night 44 lined the airport. On Sunday the planes began arriving at dawn and by mid-morning were lined up two-deep around the field until the number reached 273.

When many more planes and visitors appeared than were anticipated, every island residence and available eating place were pressed into service. When fishing sites around the harbor became filled, a barge was towed to the middle of the harbor and anchored. Most fishermen reported catching the limit. A few visitors took to the woods to hunt ruffed grouse but the heavy foliage cut their bag to almost nothing.

Many summer residents returned to the island to assist in directing traffic and all island cars were placed in service transporting visitors about the historic island.

Archie LaFreniere, president of the Beaver Island Civic Association, reported the event exceeded all expectations.

Among visitors was Mort Neff whose television show, Michigan Outdoors, is seen weekly. The films of last Sunday's dawn patrol visit to the island will be shown this Thursday (today).

Voters Again Asked To Approve 3 Mills Tax to Cover Deficit

A proposal to increase the tax limitation by three mills for a period of one year will be placed before the voters for the third time tomorrow (Friday) at a special election in the Charlevoix school district.

Election booths will be set up in the high school gymnasium and the polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. All electors are permitted to vote on this issue. An eligible elector is any person at least 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States and has resided in the state at least six months and the school district at least 30 days.

The Charlevoix board of education is asking for the three mills for one year only in order to wipe out a deficit that has been carried for four years. The $24,000 deficit was created when the state fire marshal condemned the school heating plant, forcing the board to use operational monies to pay for a new plant. Since that time revenues have barely covered increased school expenses with nothing left over to cut down the deficit.

Two proposals were presented to the electors at the first election. One proposal provided for increasing the tax limitation by three mills for one year. The second proposal, voted on by property owners only, allowed the levying of the three mill tax for one year. This proposal was approved and the first proposal rejected. Statute provides that both proposals must carry in order to levy the tax.

The deficit each year has forced the district to get advances from the state a year ahead of appropriations and borrow enough more money each year to cover the deficit according to statements by members of the board.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Was it the Russian Satellite or the latest comet... that's what Doug MacDougal would like to know about the 'thing' he saw traveling across the sky at sunset Saturday night. As Doug tells us, he was enroute from Cheboygan to Charlevoix when he saw this thing streak across the western sky. He was telling some of his friends about it when they mentioned the satellite which he hadn't heard about because he'd been on the road most of the time. Announcement made Saturday about the latest comet... so it could have been that. But what ever it was, it was certainly something to see, according to Doug.

The Dawn Patrol on Beaver Island was really something Sunday from what we hear... 273 planes carrying more than 750 people made the trip. Some came in Saturday and the remaining 229 Sunday to give the island its biggest day ever. Even the fish cooperated with seeds of the visitors taking home the limit. And when they ran out of dock space, a big barge was towed out and anchored in the harbor. When many more people than were anticipated showed up every cottage, hotel and restaurant was pressed into use... whether it was still open or not. And Sunday night the place was still going strong with everyone still left on the island meeting at one of the more popular spots for an "evaluation" meeting. If the little island can stay afloat under all that excitement, it's good for a long while yet.

Don't know who they were but we've never seen so many strange people in town this time of year. You see plenty when the perch run (which is about to begin) is on but these people weren't fishermen. Someone suggested color tourists and that could have been for the countryside is certainly beautiful this fall. The sunny days and clear weather certainly helps too.

Shoes are something most people take for granted... but a little girl we know owes perhaps her life to her shoes. As youngsters will do, little Linda Foster who's only 4½ crawled up on the roof. No one knows exactly what happened but she slipped and fell from the roof. As she came down her foot caught in a pocket fence which caught her from falling head-first to the ground. The other children ran for help and when her mother, Mrs. Doris Foster, dashed from the house she found the child, frightened but unhurt... with the heel of her shoe almost pulled off where the fence had broken her fall.

To our good friend, Dr. Perry G. Holden, who now lives at Mason's happy birthday. He'll be some ninety-two years old come Monday. The grand old man of agriculture, Dr. Holden, who once lived here with his daughter, Mrs. Ellsworth Besemer, has been honored by his alma mater, Michigan State and has received many, many other honors for his work in developing hybrid corn. Those of us who were fortunate enough to know him well when he lived here remember him with the happiest of thoughts. And on the occasion of his birthday anniversary wish him the best ever.

What with baseball running over into the football season... as it does every year at World Series time... one sure can get confused. One is never sure whether the Braves made a touch-Down at the Lions a home run. But they were both doing OK over the weekend. What happened after that could be anyone's guess. When it would have been so simple to come up with one more stickout, the Braves Sunday had to win the hard way. By going into extra innings and then coming up with a homer with two men on. If you don't hear from us it will be because we're recuperating from too much football and baseball.

That satellite that's whizzing around in outer space has been brought close to Charlevoix by one of our radio operators. Phil Lawrence, over at the Fairport. In case you didn't know, Phil's quite a ham. He was away for several days but as soon as he returned to set about picking up the signal from the Satellite. He's had it on, off and on, ever since. Says it's something to hear... that the signal went off about 20 seconds Monday night and is now a little different than when he first heard it. At times it fades out entirely and then again comes in very strong. We hope it stays that long enough for us to hear it.

International Letter Writing Week Is Oct. 6-12

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Charlevoix during the week of October 6 to 12, postmaster Peter H. Timmer announced today.

Commenting on the establishment of International Letter Writing Week, Mr. Timmer pointed out that each year since 1938 the Post Office Department has joined in the observance of National Letter Writing Week—an annual event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a symbol of American freedom.

"As a result of its success," Postmaster Timmer stated, "National Letter Writing Week will be conducted on an international basis on the idea that written communication between people in all the countries of the world will contribute toward the building of a lasting peace."

"I am sure we are all aware that a personal letter is, next to an actual visit, the most intimate means each of us has to human beings. Letters between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings. The problems of freedom loving peoples will be more quickly solved if they are better understood."

"I urge all citizens of Charlevoix to join in this first celebration of International Letter Writing Week and at the same time write that overdue letter to friends and relatives in America."

Michigan Bell Manager

LIKE PULLING TEETH, isn't it, to get a letter out of that boy or girl away at college? It's always been like that and we guess it always will be. So why fight it? The easiest, surest way to keep in touch is by telephone. Rates are especially low after 6 p.m. and on Sunday. Why not arrange a special time, maybe once a week, for your youngsters to call you? Have them reverse the charge if you like. You'll enjoy the chance to talk as much as they will.

ENTERTAINMENT for your group or club is no problem with one of Michigan Bell's free movies or lecture programs. You can choose from a list. They vary from 10 to 60 minutes long. For example, the recent Bell Telephone TV films, "Our Mr. Sun" and "To the Magnificent," are available. One of the most popular lecture-demonstrations, "Color Come Calling," shows how to blend, contrast and harmonize colors for skillfully decorating your home. If you need a movie projector to show a Michigan Bell film, arrangements can usually be made for that, too, at no charge. For details, just call our business office.

HELPING YOU is her business. She's a typical Service Representative in the telephone company's business office—one of the girls you'll talk with when you call up or drop in to discuss your telephone service. You've noticed how courteously and quickly she handles your business. That's because she enjoys helping others, and because she had special training before she ever talked with a customer. That training continues to keep her posted on practically everything the customer might want to know about his telephone service. She's one of the people who make your telephone service good.

Charlevoix Shuts Out Gaylord by 26 to 0 Score

Rayders Meet Hornets Here Friday Night

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up a 26 to 0 victory over the Gaylord Blue Devils Friday night to make their initial appearance in the win column this season.

This week the Charlevoix eleven will host the Pellston Hornets who defeated Grayling by a 15 to 0 score Friday afternoon despite the fact that the squad was riddled by the flu bug. Earlier the Hornets had been trounced by East Jordan by a 34 to 0 score.

Turning an upset, which hardly seems likely, the Rayders should come up with win No. 2. However, should the Rayders focus their attention on past the Hornets to the Boyne City game they could find themselves on the short end of the score.

Though Coach Francis McMahon is starting a rebuilding program, the Hornets are a scrappy outfit which should give the Rayders a pretty good game.

In the game at Gaylord Friday night, the Charlevoix eleven was in control of the game from the opening kickoff to the final whistle.

With the game only a few minutes old, the Rayders opened their scoring attack when fullback Larry Ingalls scored from the three after a 71 yard run by halfback Tom Lukes had put the ball in scoring position. The kick was not good and Charlevoix went ahead 6 to 0.

On the second play after the kickoff, Charlevoix recovered a Gaylord fumble on the Gaylord 42 and started their second offensive march. With Lukes, Ingalls, quarterback Bob Mol and halfback Bud Bickley carrying the ball they picked up two first downs to the 7 yard line from where Lukes ran the ball over for the tally. He made a second trip into the end zone for the extra point as Charlevoix went ahead 13 to 0.

Gaylord took the kickoff and marched to the Rayder 27 where they fumbled and the Rayders recovered as the quarter ended.

With all four backs totting the ball the Rayders picked up five first downs to move the ball deep into Gaylord territory. Lukes took the ball over from the one yard line after a series of four plays had moved the ball from the 10 yard line. Ingalls ran the ball over for the extra point. Gaylord and the ball on the Rayder 33 as the half ended 20 to 0.

Gaylord kicked off to Charlevoix and the second half. With Lukes, Ingalls, Mancelona and Bickley carrying the ball they moved the ball to the 10 yard line. Ingalls ran the ball over for the extra point. Gaylord and the ball on the Rayder 33 as the half ended 20 to 0.

Gaylord kicked off to Charlevoix and the second half. With Lukes, Ingalls, Mancelona and Bickley carrying the ball they moved the ball to the 10 yard line. Ingalls ran the ball over for the extra point. Gaylord and the ball on the Rayder 33 as the half ended 20 to 0.

Following the Rayders' fourth possession, which was the third possession of the game, the Rayders took over on downs. They moved the ball to the 10 yard line. Ingalls ran the ball over for the extra point. Gaylord and the ball on the Rayder 33 as the half ended 20 to 0.

The game bogged down in the final period as the teams exchanged punts several times, with most of the action limited to the area between the 30 yard lines.

men took to the air in an effort to score. A pass from Ron Johnson to end Dick Holstad on a play that covered 35 yards cut the Rams' lead to two points as the game ended.

Boys City 41; East Jordan 0. With Carl Charon scoring 23 points and passing for the 24th, East Jordan never had a chance against the Rayders.

With Rayder tackle Bruce Pease (77) leading the way, an unidentified Rayder ball carrier (behind Pease) tries to break away for a gain in the game with Gaylord Friday night.

Also joining in the action are quarterback Mike Gencit (11) and end Steve LaBlance (88) and several unidentified Gaylord players.

The Rayders won 26 to 0.

Boyne City Rambler Meet Harbor Springs in Game of the Week

The Ottawa Indian stadium at Harbor Springs will be the scene Friday of the battle of the week between the defending champions, the Boyne City Ramblers, and the Harbor Springs Rams.

Action elsewhere, overshadowed by this game, will find East Jordan entertaining Grayling, Mancelona traveling to Grayling and Charlevoix hosting Pellston.

Two distinct types of ball will be on display at Harbor Springs this week. The Rams are expected to use the hard-hitting line drives with a few passes thrown in while Boyne City will undoubtedly depend on the speed of their backs, particularly fullback Carl Charon, to skirt the line and pick up ground gains by outfunning the opponent.

Whether the Rams will be able to crush the Boyne City line and halt their runners remains to be seen. However, the Rams have had more tough competition going into this game than have the Ramblers who have had no opportunity to put their team to a real test against such opponents as Grayling whom they trounced 80 to 0 and East Jordan whom they downed 41 to 0.

Harbor Springs on the other hand, has had two tough games including one with Gaylord which they won 26 to 13 and against Mancelona when they won by two points.

The game will be a hard fought one and chances are a lucky break, such as the safety in the Mancelona - Harbor game last week, may spell the difference between victory and defeat. However, by virtue of their position as defending champions and the possibility that Charon and company may outsmart the Rams, the Ramblers will have a slight edge in the meeting—but nobody's sure.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

This Week's Games

Harbor Springs and Boyne City repeated the only undefeated teams in the Northern Michigan Class C game following Friday's games and only two weeks of action.

The Rams remained in the win column of the Class C game by rolling over East Jordan 41 to 0 to keep their record clean.

Charlevoix and Pellston moved into the win column for the first time after the Rayders trounced Grayling 26 to 0 and Hornets won over Grayling 15 to 0.

At Mancelona it was a safety which gave the Rams a victory after the teams had matched each other in scoring plays.

The incident which led to the tiepoint margin occurred late in the first period when the Mancelona quarterback Ron Johnson stepped into the end zone as he reled back to get a pass into the air. His action gave the Rams the two-point victory margin.

Harbor Springs opened the scoring in the game when halfback Pete Graham, who only this week was transferred from the line to the backfield, went over from the 15-yard line midway in the first period. Quarterback

Richie Clarke's boot was wide and the Rams went ahead 6 to 0. Later in the period they picked up two points on the safety for an 8 to 0 advantage at halftime after both teams failed to score in the second period.

Harbor Springs kicked off to Mancelona to open the second half. Fullback Bob Johnson took the ball on the kickoff and romped 30 yards to put the Ironmen back in the game. Ron Johnson passed to end Dexter Bailey for the extra point to make the score 8 to 7.

Early in the last quarter fullback Jack Meyer went over from the one-yard line to give the Rams a 14 to 7 margin. Clarke converted to make the score 15 to 7.

With time running out the Iron-

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Some Thoughts About Memory On An Autumn Evening

For some reason these crisp autumn evenings remind me of bon fires, spouting white smoke against the night and of old men spinning yarns of early days of hardship and adventure.

The reminiscent spirit that roams on fall nights may be conjured up by all the tokens of days past lying now around us. There are the fallen leaves, tinted memories of a verdure now rapidly fading. There are the withering grasses that but a few short months ago were on the gain, growing from tender, spindly shoots into a tall, thick lushness. In autumn most birds' songs are but thin, straggling reminders of their full summer voices. Trees, with mighty effort, can preserve only the faintest semblance of modesty as their gay grab falls from their thin shoulders. The locust is scratching his last tune, a hesitant and faint memento of glories melodies played some weeks ago. So all over the Northland now careless Autumn, like a thoughtless picnicer, drops scraps and leavings of a finished summer.

In such a season it is natural and good to give some thought to the past. And there is nothing more conducive to the revival of mellow memories than an autumn night beside a blazing fire in the company of seasoned old veterans of life's rough and tumble who know how to mix history with imagination and serve it up appetizingly.

I well remember from my boyhood hearing menfolk tell of pioneering days in Michigan's Sanilac County, where my Grandfather Kohn settled upon arriving from Germany with his wife and one child, and where eleven more children were born and raised. There was the morning, for instance, when my father, then a lad not yet in his teens, was out on the farm when he went to the barn to find the cows. Again, I recall hearing of a criminal's terror of the little brood of Kohns when a spooky howling persisted outside their cabin, and they could not identify its source, until someone noticed an open bottle sitting on a stump and assured the rest of the youngsters that the tuneless, weird wailing was but a prankish wind blowing across the bottle's mouth. There were also the hunting stories of how the older boys of the family coaxed the younger ones into serving as hunting dogs, tracking game on cold winter days and chasing it into openings in the woods where the hunters could get a clean shot.

I've wondered while hearing old people reminisce why—out of

Knox Expresses Desire to Meet Citizens of Area

Victor A. Knox, U. S. Representative of the 11th Congressional District, will visit Charlevoix Tuesday while on a tour of the 16 counties in his district, according to Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix county clerk, who received the information regarding the visit in a personal letter from Mr. Knox.

Mr. Bulow, who has arranged the details of the visit, said that Rep. Knox is anxious to meet all residents of the community regardless of their political affiliations, and would discuss any governmental problems with them. Mr. Bulow emphasized the fact that this was not a political visit.

Mayor James Hiller, who is also vice chairman of the county Republican committee, and city officials will be on hand to greet Rep. Knox when he arrives here at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Mr. Bulow said.

meanest to her. She remembered that.

Many professionals, such as professors, doctors, ministers, and scientists are notoriously absent-minded. This may be because their attentions are so absorbed in remembering the things that aid success in their life's work that other matters are easily overlooked and forgotten. Thomas Alva Edison was such a person, his thought being so preoccupied with inventions and improvements that other affairs were often neglected. One afternoon Edison got off a train at Orange, New Jersey, congratulating himself that for once he had forgotten nothing. He had checked his baggage. It was all there. He had his hat and coat and all his other belongings. For once he had remembered everything. Thomas Edison picked up his bags and started down the platform. The ticket agent, an old acquaintance of Edison's met him and asked, "You're sure you have everything, Mr. Edison? didn't leave anything on the train?"

Mr. Edison smiled and confidently replied, "Not this time!" Then, looking toward the train, Edison gasped, dropped his baggage and raced for the pass, eager car he had just left. For at the window he saw the puzzled face of his bride of two weeks!

While forgetting one's wife cannot be recommended, Mr. Edison's kind of intense preoccupation with his life's purposes offers a lesson worth emulating. The noted inventor, like great people of all time, was so dedicated to a worthwhile object that he became absent-minded about a multitude of other things. We could all afford some such dedication. If the overly sensitive person had it, he would be so absorbed in a worthy purpose that he would not notice some slights and unkind criticisms come his way, and those that he did notice he could soon forget. Every mind and every memory is limited. The bigger the aims that fill it, the less room there is for such trash as little indignities and earning criticisms. Abraham Lincoln once explained why he could be almost absent-minded at one of the slurs of his political foes: "I do the best I know how, the very best I can. I have to keep on doing this down to the very end. If the end brings me out all wrong, then ten angles I had done right would make no difference. If the end brings me out all right, then what is said against me now will not amount to anything." Lincoln's mind was so full of exalted purposes that there was no space left for memories of unpleasant things said about him.

One more value of memory occurs to me. Memory attaches us securely to the future. When our time here is done the years will not move on, like a departing train, without us, leaving us lost and lone in the past. We live on, not only in some other realm, but her on earth in the memories and affections of those we leave behind. Memory makes that possible. In Springfield, Illinois Abraham Lincoln's home is preserved, with the stoves and fireplaces, furniture and utensils he used, all in place, and thousands of people pass through this Lincoln museum each year. One late evening a lady tourist and her little daughter passed the Lincoln home and the child noticed a light burning through the window. She exclaimed to her mother, "When M. Lincoln went away he left his light burning, didn't he?" Of course he did. All good people leave a light burning when they go away, burning in someone's heart, in someone's memory. And—that is one of the gifts of memory: it keeps the good that is in us alive in the world long after we are gone.

following a pitch-out, went over from the 16 and then fell on the ball after knocking a Red Devil pitchout-out into the end zone for 8 points. He booted five conversions and passed to end Rick Casper for another for a total of 24 points. Halfback Doug Newville added two TD to the total, scoring from the nine in the second period and from the six in the final period. Halfback Bob Christiansen went over from the 14 in the last quarter to conclude the Ramblers' scoring. East Jordan never threatened.

Pellston 15; Grayling 0
Grayling, playing without the services of end Bill Lucksted who suffered a lower leg injury in a hunting accident last week which has benched him for the season, fell victim to the Hornets who racked up their first win of the season.

Only six members of the Hornets starting line-up and 19 of the club's 48 candidates were in uniform as a result of the flu attack at the high school. The Hornets, however, overcame this handicap to win by a comfortable margin. The first touchdown came in the opening quarter with quarterback Basil Naganashe passing to fullback Jack Schmalzried in a play that covered 35 yards to score. The conversion kick was blocked as the Hornets led 6 to 0.

In the third period the Hornets took to the air again with a 40 yard pass play from Naganashe to left end Bill McClutchey to put the ball in scoring position on the two yard line. Schmalzried bucked the line for the tally. Naganashe scored the extra point on a quarterback sneak. Late in the period Schmalzried and tackle Bill Shaw trapped a Grayling player in the end zone as he went back to punt on a fourth down to add another two points to the score.

The Heart Association, Hearing Association, Leader Dog for the Blind, Mental Health Society, Retarded Children, Michigan Children's Aid and the Multiple Sclerosis Society are among the widely known agencies which receive financial assistance. Their services are well known and speak for themselves.

The Scenic Trails Council of Boy Scouts of America has entered a request for $1,450. Last year the council requested $1,550 and was given $1,375 by the local council, all of which went directly to support the council.

This year the Community Chest board of directors decided to give only $800 to the council and keep the remaining $650 for use locally.

Rayder Reserves Rack Up Second Win at Petoskey

Charlevoix's little Rayders defeated the Petoskey Reserves 28 to 12 to rack up their second win of the season Tuesday night.

Next Tuesday the local Reserves will travel to Boyne City to take on the Little Ramblers.

Bobbled punts on the part of Petoskey gave the Rayders their first two scoring opportunities.

The first came midway in the first quarter when a bobbled punt gave Charlevoix the ball on the Petoskey 30. After moving the ball to the 12, Tom Louiselle scored and Joe Beaudoin ran the ball in for the extra point.

Later in the period Charlevoix took over on their own 11 and moved the ball to the Petoskey 37 from where Beaudoin broke away to score. Gene McBride added the extra point on a plunge.

Still in the first half, a fourth down play back-fired for Petoskey and Charlevoix took over on their own 30. On the second play Beaudoin scored from the 25 with Gary Chew running the extra point over.

Louiselle scored the Rayders last touchdown from the two late in the game after a bootleg play with Beaudoin carrying had placed the ball in scoring position.

With Charlevoix emptying the bench, Petoskey scored twice late in the game. The first touchdown was scored by Ray Chapin who went in from the 30 yard line after Petoskey had recovered a Rayder fumble and the second was scored by DeWayne Annis on a pass play from Ted Borsch as time ran out.

Little Rayders Win 13-6 Over Mancelona Squad

Charlevoix's Little Rayders won the opening game of their schedule Tuesday night by racking up a 13 to 6 victory over the Mancelona Reserves on the latter's field.

A Charlevoix fumble gave Mancelona their only scoring opportunity early in the game. A 30 yard pass play and a pass for the extra point put the little Ironmen ahead 7 to 0 when the game was only minutes old.

However, on the second play following the kickoff, Rayder halfback Tom Louiselle went around end and romped 60 yards to score. An attempted pass for the extra point was knocked down and Mancelona still led 7 to 6.

In the second quarter fullback Joe Clarke on a reverse went for 30 yards and the Rayders' second touchdown. This time Joe Beaudoin scored the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

The second half was scoreless but the Rayders were on the two-yard line as the game ended after Beaudoin had intercepted a pass at mid-field.

The Reserves will play at Petoskey at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Development Group to Sponsor 33-County Meet at Mt. Pleasant

Greater production, more sales and better profit patterns in Arts, Crafts and Home Industry, will be featured in a 33-county conference at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant on November 9 under sponsorship of the Northern Michigan Development Council. It was announced today by Myron M. Riggs, Council President and chairman of the conference.

The conference, scheduled to start in Wariner Hall at 11 a. m., is another in a series of area meetings the NMD Council is sponsoring to improve the economy of Northern Michigan. A meeting in Grayling in May featured Agriculture and Natural Resources and drew about 600 from 74 cities and villages. An industrial conference is planned for the coming winter.

The Mt. Pleasant meeting will include talks by well-known state and national speakers. They will discuss all phases of arts, crafts and home industry in an effort to help these small operators expand their business and provide more employment. There are hundreds of them in Northern Michigan, Riggs stated.

Resource speakers will talk on materials, purchasing, making and marketing and there will be displays and demonstrations. It will be an all day program with noon lunch, available in the college cafeteria.

Following an address of welcome by Dr. Charles L. Anspaach, CMC President, the speaking program will include the following:

"The Great Opportunity in Arts, Crafts and Home Industry"—Les Biederman, President Midwestern Broadcasting Co.

"This Has Been Done Elsewhere"—Kathryn V. Fitzgerald, Deputy Commissioner, New York State Department of Commerce.

"What Has Happened in Our Own Area"—Ferris Crawford, Department of Public Instruction.

"Types of Articles That Fit The Program"—Mary Louise Morse.

"Art as a Social Resource"—Michael Church, Supervisor, Special Project, University of Michigan.

"Marketing"—Major Buyer: John Foley, President, Herpolsheimers, Grand Rapids.

Gift Shop Buyer: Mrs. Ford Cary, Traverse City.

"Crafts Can Be Big Business"—Aarre Lahti, Professor of Design, University of Michigan.

"You Take It From Here"—Paul Herbert, Mich. Dept. of Economic Development.

A discussion panel with talks by buyers and suppliers will conclude the meeting.

Cooperating with the Northern Michigan Development Council in staging the area conference are: Central Michigan College; Donald Setzerbo, Consultant, Field Services, CMC; Michigan Dept. of Economic Development; Robert Ichikart, Chairman, Dept. of Art, University of Michigan and Virginia Blackwood, former President of the Crafts Division, Minnesota Dept. of State.

The conference, displays and demonstrations are open to the public. Riggs announced that brochures of the conference discussions will be mailed to all who register at the Mt. Pleasant meeting and provide their home or business addresses.

U. S. Coast Guard Engineers to Make Survey in City

A board of U. S. Coast Guard officers named by Rear Admiral E. H. Thiel, Commandant, Ninth Coast Guard District, will visit Charlevoix Wednesday while making a survey of possible sites for a home port for the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew.

The information regarding the visit of the six-man board was received in a letter to Mayor James Hiller from Adm. Thiel.

The board will visit here to determine the advantages and the facilities the city has to offer and upon completion of a tour of all possible homeports in northern Michigan will submit their recommendations to Adm. Thiel.

These recommendations will be based on all information available by the board.

Adm. Thiel said he hoped that a decision regarding a possible home port for the Sundew would be made by January, 1958.

Members of the board are Capt. C. R. MacLean, Cmdr. B. R. Henry, Cmdr. W. R. Riedel, Lt. E. D. Fulcher, Lt. H. D. Muth and Ens. C. C. Franck Jr.

When the group arrives here Tuesday members will be taken on a tour of the community and shown all facilities the city has to offer.

An invitation to a luncheon at the Weatherlane Inn has also been extended to them by Mayor Hiller.

Chest Fund Drive Passes Halfway Mark

The Community Chest fund drive to raise $9,150 for 10 agencies passed the half-way mark this week according to Charles A. Duerr, who with Mrs. Duerr, is heading the 1957 fund drive in the community.

He reported that a total of $4,944.77 or 54 per cent of the total had been contributed up until Wednesday. This includes $3,285.57 from business industry and professional circles, $50.00 from organizations; $67.20 from the townships and $1,117 from summer residents.

In announcing the results, Mr. Duerr said that the drive was falling behind expectations and urged that everyone give, and give generously so that the drive could be brought to a successful conclusion.

He also asked that contributors contribute on a "fair share" basis. In explaining what this meant, he said that the government recognizes the need for "fair share" contributions to health and welfare agencies and provides a 10 per cent exemption for your fair share gift.

To find your fair share, the 10 per cent is broken down to include five per cent for church obligations, two per cent for church missionary programs, one per cent for other charities (independent campaigns, etc.) and one per cent for dependency situations (aged mother, etc.). Those leaves only one per cent. Your fair share, if you make less than $5,000 a year, is 1/4 of this remaining one per cent. If you make more than $5,000, it is 1/2 of this one per cent.

In other words, your fair share gift is 1/4 or 1/2 of one per cent of your yearly income.

He went on to say that the stability of fair share giving is one of its important advantages. The giver cannot be "rated up" because the campaign goal increases. "Fair Share" is your insurance that you will not be asked to give more until you are financially capable of increasing your contribution.

Mr. Duerr concluded by saying that if everyone would give on a "fair share" basis the community would have no difficulty reaching its goal.

Supervisors Meet To Adopt Budget; Apportion Taxes

Before the board adjourns it must apportion the taxes and adopt a budget for 1958.

The tentative budget adopted at the April meeting was for $206,818 as compared with the 1957 budget of $201,055. It is expected that the tentative budget will be cut drastically before it is approved by the board.

Mrs. Ida Meyer, Former Resident Dies in Chicago

Mrs. Ida Meyer, 67, a former resident and mother of W. F. Meyer and Richard Meyer, died Monday at her home in West Chicago, Ill.

Funeral services were scheduled for Thursday with burial in a West Chicago cemetery.

Mrs. Meyer and her late husband lived in Charlevoix at one time and operated a store where the Neff Bros. store is now located.

Voters Approve 3 Mill Levy to Clear Deficit

Voters of the Charlevoix school district Friday gave their approval to a proposal which would permit the tax limitation to be increased by three mills for one year so the millage would be levied enough extra revenue to retire a deficit of four years.

The proposal was approved by a vote of 418 to 340 in the special election Friday after having been defeated in two earlier elections.

The proposal which would allow the levying of the three mills was approved by the taxpayers in July.

The board of education asked for the extra millage to pay off a deficit of $24,514 which developed in 1953 when it was necessary to purchase a new heating plant after the existing one was condemned by the state fire marshal.

Band Parents Elect Officers; Plan Program

The Charlevoix Band Parents Association met at the high school band room recently for its annual organizational meeting.

Election of officers headed the agenda and resulted in the reelection of H. B. Schofield as president; Vernal Seymour vice president; Mrs. Davis Pierce, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Miles, treasurer.

C. A. Odmark, band director, told the needs of the band. Considerable discussion was held regarding the policy of the band association in relation to the purchase of equipment. It was decided to purchase for school use a new tape recorder and a new multi-speed record player.

The group also voted to underwrite the additional cost of records made from tapes of the high school band and glee club performances. The records are to be sold to the students and the general public.

Plans were also made for the annual band dinner which has been scheduled for Nov. 7. Mrs. Robert Withers and Mrs. Karl J. Erber were named co-chairman of the event.

Other projects were discussed but tabled until the December meeting.

A letter of appreciation for the All-State Scholarship at the National Music Camp at Interlochen from David Miles, the 1957 recipient, was read.

Bert B. Crandall Succumbs After Short Illness

Postpone Football And Homecoming Plans for Weekend

Flu hit the Charlevoix public schools this week and by noon Wednesday had cut classroom attendance to a point where school officials felt it was in the best interest of the community to dismiss classes until Monday, Sept. R. G. Bennett has reported.

Hardest hit were the top six grades where 48 per cent of the students were home with the illness. In the elementary school there were 25 per cent of the pupils at home. In making the announcement Mr. Bennett said that countless students were taken home during the morning when they became ill after reporting at school.

Before making the decision to close the schools until Monday, Mr. Bennett consulted with other teachers, members of the Board of Education and Dr. Robert G. Martin, local health officer.

Dr. Martin advised persons who come down with the flu to take aspirin, drink plenty of fluids and have complete bed rest. If you are apprehensive about your condition or that of your family, then call your family physician. Classes will be held as usual at St. Mary's school which has not yet felt the effect of the illness. The illness, which in many instances has closed schools throughout the state, has a number of the Rayder football players sidelined. This has necessitated the postponing of the Charlevoix-Boyer City football game scheduled for Friday night. Mr. Bennett said.

Homecoming activities planned for this week will have also been abandoned for the present. The game between the Charlevoix Reserves and the Boyne City Reserves scheduled for Tuesday night was also postponed indefinitely.

On Wednesday 195 of the 404 students in the top six grades were on the sick list while in the elementary school 127 of the 479 enrollees were absent.

Other schools in the area have a high rate of absenteeism. At Manistowick approximately 50 per cent of the high school students were absent Tuesday. A representative of the school said that there was a chance that the Manistowick-East Jordan game would be postponed. A decision regarding this is to be made Thursday.

The absenteeism was said Wednesday to be growing, due to the flu.

Classes will be resumed at both the public schools at the usual time Monday morning.

Dairy cows do better after they've had a vacation. Michigan State University dairy specialists say that DHIA records show that cows produce the most milk and butterfat when the dry period ranges from 45 to 75 days. High producers and thin cows need the longer rest periods.

Use hot water for the most thorough cleaning of your laundry. A cool rinse is satisfactory, but a hot wash—140 to 160 degrees does the best job with colors and fabrics that will stand the hot water.

Wins Festival Honors

Don E. Prior, Detroit, receives a silver cup from Gibson Girl Nancy Lawrence after his 1906 Pope-Toledo won the grand championship in the 1899-1916 division at the Old Car Festival in Greenfield Village. Prior's accurate restoration of this antique seven-passenger car with its 35-40 h.p. engine cost him well over the original $3,500 price. The maker, the Pope Motor Co., Toledo, Ohio, was in business from 1901 to 1910. A 1923 Stutz Bearcat, owned by C. E. Valentine, Jr., also of Detroit, won the grand championship in the 1917-1925 division. The seventh annual meet attracted a record 266 antique cars.

Opinions Vary About Straits Bridge Benefits to North

Opening of the new Mackinac Bridge on Nov. 1 or earlier is certain to benefit Northern Michigan—but authorities disagree about the amount of economic expansion to expect.

While Upper Peninsula residents rub their hands in anticipation of a great new prosperity boom, other observers are taking a let's-wait-and-see attitude.

Michigan State University specialists, familiar with various aspects of the northern economy, offer contrasting views concerning the first direct highway link between the two parts of Michigan.

A member of the Tourist and Resort Service sees the straits bridge becoming one of the nation's top tourist attractions and a magnet for tourist dollars which already mount up in millions each year.

An M. S. U. extension director in the Upper Peninsula foresees both advantages and new problems awaiting the northern area. Specialists in transportation, geology, forestry and dairy departments offer conservative views about long range effects of the travel.

Dr. Robert W. McIntosh, M. S. U. extension specialist with the Tourist and Resort Service, believes the bridge "will be a tremendous stimulus to Northern Michigan." He points out that Straits of Mackinac traffic is expected to nearly double in the first full year of bridge operation—from an estimated 1,000,000 cars via ferry and bridge this year to an estimated 1,927,000 in 1958.

"The greatest effect probably will be in land use and increase of recreational facilities," Dr. McIntosh said. "Land prices are jumping now. In some areas frontage for a gas station now costs $60,000—the price once of a whole section of land in the area. The impact will be felt most in the eastern portion, from Manistique to Drummond Island."

The Mackinac Bridge will join the links at Sault Ste. Marie as a great tourist attraction, he added, pointing out that man-made objects always are the greatest attractions—"like New York City, Washington and the Golden Gate Bridge, for example. Many tourists bypass Grand Canyon to visit a nearby dam site."

Dr. McIntosh predicts heavier traffic in both directions. Eventually, he pointed out, a four-lane divided highway from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie will be integrated with the 41,000-mile national system of interstate highways, "creating for many American shippers the shortest route to the Pacific Northwest and the Rockies." A ten-minute instead of ten-hour crossing for deer hunters will help too, he added.

"Outstanding scenery is one of our greatest resources," agrees Dan Sturt, M. S. U.'s District Extension Director in the UP. Increased travel over the bridge, he says, "may develop the Upper Peninsula into the playground of the industrial midwest."

"Of equal importance the bridge will mean closer markets for our farm and timber products," he added. "The distance barrier which has discriminated against Upper Peninsula producers, industrial and farm alike, through the years will be lessened."

"The Michigan State University Upper Peninsula resource development program, operated from our Extension Center in Marquette, is attempting to encourage development of new varieties of crops, improved, farm forestry practices, better tourist and resort services and the like, all of which are in keeping with changed conditions which will result in the Upper Peninsula from such dramatic developments as the new bridge."

"On the debit side," he cautioned, "more people will mean more problems in some respects at least. The need for greater safety efforts and zoning to insure our scenic beauty will no doubt be heightened." Dr. Bennett T. Sandefur, professor of geology at M. S. U., concludes that the Mackinac Bridge will have important service aspects, but is not as certain of resulting economic expansion.

"The most important Upper Peninsula products are limestone and iron and copper ores," he pointed out, "all of which will continue to depend upon cheaper lake shipping to compete with other sources."

Increased tourist trade in the UP could be balanced somewhat by losses at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, present ferry headquarters, he warned, with some tourist traffic moving on into Ontario resorts.

"It is possible that steel plants could be induced to move nearer our sources of essential iron ore and limestone," Dr. Sandefur explained, "but coal and electricity are necessary too and they are more available to the south."

A business specialist on the M. S. U. faculty sees truck traffic increasing with the bridge, but declines to estimate how much, and doubts immediate industrial expansion.

"There aren't enough population centers in the Upper Peninsula—like Sault Ste. Marie," he said. "But the moment you get a good transportation facility the population may be drawn into the area. If it is, industry will tend to move in also. The important thing is that the expansion is now possible."

Members of the M. S. U. forestry department predict the UP lumber industry will be affected slightly, particularly in the eastern area where abundant pulpwood material wants to be used.

"It will be possible for some wood to be trucked to Lower Michigan mills, traffic which is virtually non-existent now," said Dr. Lee M. James, associate professor of forestry. "A number of companies have indicated they will bring down some new material."

Dairy production in Upper Peninsula dairy herds may not be affected greatly, though more cattle may be bred to freshen seasonally to coincide with tourist demands.

Have You Ever Been Left Holding the Bag?

It is a pretty embarrassing experience to say the least, but it does happen to all of us at one time or another.

You may have even come to The Courier sometime with a good news story about your family, your club or neighborhood organization and found that there was no space left. Fortunately this doesn't happen very often, but when it does it is as embarrassing for us as it is for you. We want the news items you have to offer and we are publishing them in ever-increasing numbers.

However, the publishing of a weekly newspaper is a detailed and time-consuming operation. The preparing and processing of news stories about your home community is a continuous program. The publishing of a weekly newspaper is also a business with payrolls to meet, materials to purchase and services to render. That's why copy deadlines are necessary and why advertising support is essential. A newspaper can run only as many pages as its advertising revenue will allow. Thus there is a direct connection between advertising support and the degree of service which can be rendered by your home community newspaper.

The Courier has been extremely pleased with the increased requests by individuals and organizations for news space. We have also been very gratified by the steady increase in paid circulation which The Courier has experienced. These are important symbols of value to any advertiser. We urge that you support your hometown merchants and encourage them to advertise where Charlevoix people meet in the

Rayders Romp Over Pellston Hornest 86-0 Score

Second String Players Carry Most of Game

The Charlevoix Rayders, 26 strong, romped to an 86 to 0 score over the Pellston Hornets who never threatened as local second stringers played most of the game.

This week the Rayders will host the league-leading Boyne City Ramblers who soundly trounced Harbor Springs 27 to 0 to eliminate the Rams as a title threat.

In the game Friday Charlevoix kicked off to Pellston and gained possession of the ball when the Hornets punted on fourth down.

With Tom Lakies and Larry Ingalls carrying the ball, the Rayders, in five plays, moved the ball to the nine yard line where Ingalls went through the line to score. Lakies ran the ball over for the extra point.

On the first play after Pellston took the kick-off, Charlevoix recovered a fumble on the latter's 22 yard line. Quarterback Bob Mol took the ball to the 17 but a backfield in motion penalty moved the ball back to the 27 from where Lakies scored on the next play. Ingalls booted the extra point and the Rayders led 14 to 0.

Ingalls kicked off to Pellston who took the ball on the 15 yard line. An offside penalty moved the ball to the 11 where the Hornets bogged down and were forced to kick. The kick was a bad one and the Rayders took over on the Pellston three yard line. On the next play Ed Louisselle, one of the many sub-

(10) Steve Wells, 16, a junior guard who is 5 ft. 6 in., weighs 153 pounds and is playing his first year of Varsity football after two years with the Reserves. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wells.

(66) Chuck McDermott, 17, senior guard, who is 5 ft. 8 in., weighs 150 pounds and is playing his second year of Varsity ball although he saw little action last season due to a knee injury. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDermott.

stitutes who had gone into the game following the Rayder's second touchdown, went over for a touchdown. Ron Anderson, another substitute, ran the ball over for the extra point.

The quarter ended with Charlevoix in possession of the ball on the Pellston 11 after the Hornets had been forced to punt from their own 25 yard line.

As the second quarter opened Louisselle scored, Ingalls kicked the extra point.

A Pellston fumble recovered by the Rayders on the 28 set up the next touchdown which Anderson scored from the five yard line.

Anderson scored the conversion point on an end run.

Again Pellston was forced to punt and the Rayders took over on the 11 yard line. With Louisselle and Anderson carrying the ball, Charlevoix moved the ball to the nine yard line from where Anderson scored again, making the score 41 to 0.

Pellston took the kick-off and moved the ball to their own 43 yard line where Charlevoix again took over. Anderson toted the ball to the seven and Bruce Pease scored on the next play.

Pellston kicked off to Charlevoix to open the second half.

Charlevoix marched the ball from their own 25 to the Pellston 21 where the Hornets recovered a Rayder fumble. On the next play Charlevoix intercepted a Pellston pass on the 23. On the next play Louisselle scored and Stan Smith ran the ball over for the extra point.

The next two touchdowns were scored by quarterback Mike Genett who intercepted a Pellston pass on the 43 and again on the 46 to score. End Dick VanRaaphorst kicked the extra point following the second touchdown.

Early in the fourth period, Louisselle romped 75 yards to score. Genett intercepted a Pellston pass and went 17 yards and Pease went over from the nine to conclude the scoring for the night. Lakies returned to the game to kick the extra point.

Louisselle scored four TDs, Genett three, all on intercepted passes, Anderson and Pease two each, Lakies and Ingalls one each. Lakies, Ingalls and Anderson scored two extra points each and Smith and VanRaaphorst added one each.

Everyone in uniform played with the second stringers playing more than three-quarters of the game.

Rayders Meet Defending Champs In Homecoming Game Friday

Action in the Northern Michigan Class C league this week will find the defending champions, the Boyne City Ramblers playing at Charlevoix in the homecoming game for the Rayders, East Jordan playing at Mancelona and Grayling traveling to Gaylord in night games and Pellston hosting Harbor Springs in the only afternoon game.

The Charlevoix-Boyne City game will attract the most interest this week as the Rayders try to do what no other team has been able to do . . . stop Charon and thus halt the Ramblers' offensive attack.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

Northern Michigan Class C teams posted shut-outs over two rivals Friday as the current season ended its third week of play.

In the last game of the week Boyne City rolled over Harbor Springs 27 to 0; Grayling edged East Jordan 6 to 0; Mancelona won over Grayling 31 to 0 and Charlevoix dumped Pellston 86 to 0.

Boyne City 27: Harbor Springs 0 At Harbor Springs the defending champions dominated the play as fullback Carl Charon scored three touchdowns and three extra points and halfback Doug Newville added a tally on a 65 yd. run.

The Harbor line collapsed under the rugged Rambler attack, allowing Charon and his teammates through almost at will. Charon scored the scoring with a 15 yd. run in the first period. The best was blocked and the score remained 6 to 0 until Newville made his thrilling run midway in the second period. This time Charon kicked the extra point.

In the third period it was Charon again, this time on a 40 yard run. He repeated the performance in the last quarter when he went over from the 10 yd. line. He made his total 21 points for the game when he kicked two conversions.

Gaylord 6: East Jordan 0 A touchdown by halfback Doug Bottomley was the margin of victory for Gaylord in the Blue Devils' meeting with East Jordan Friday night.

In a game marked by sloppy ball playing and many fumbles and pass interceptions, East Jordan offered no great threat to the visitors who never allowed the Jordanians inside the 15 yard line all evening.

A clipping penalty by Gaylord voided a 90 yd. punt return by quarterback John Burnison late in the game.

Mancelona 32: Grayling 0 Mancelona took to the air to defeat the Grayling Vikings Friday.

A pass from quarterback Ron Johnson to end Dick Holstad which covered 10 yards gave Mancelona a 6 to 0 lead after the Don Beihl kicking the conversion.

Later in the game Ron Johnson passed to Bob Johnson who scored on a 25 yard play. Jerry Beihl intercepted a Grayling pass late in the game to score

They Rayders will have their work cut out for them when they take on the Ramblers who have found little opposition thus far along their trail to another title. In successive weeks they have defeated Grayling (20-0), East Jordan (41-0) and Harbor Springs (27-0). The latter was touted as the greatest threat to their title hopes.

Charlevoix, on the other hand, has lost to Mancelona (19-12) and won over Gaylord (26-0) and Pellston (86-0).

Again the outcome of the game will depend on whether the Rayders can stop fullback Charon who last week scored 21 points including three touchdowns and three extra points. The local Charon has no one who can outrun the speedster so will have to crash the Rambler line to get to him before he is able to take off on the long runs which have led to most of his touchdowns. Whether Charlevoix can do this remains to be seen.

On the basis of records, Boyne City should successfully defend their title. The Rayders, however, will be out to make the meeting a successful homecoming game and can be depended on to give the Ramblers the toughest game they've had this season.

Mancelona should have no trouble when they host the East Jordan Red Devils this week. The Ironmen have defeated Charlevoix (19-12) and Grayling (32-0), losing only to Harbor Springs by a two-point margin while East Jordan has one victory over Pellston (34-0) while losing to Boyne City (11-0) and Grayling (6-0). If East Jordan is up for the game, it could be close but Mancelona should come up with a sizable margin.

Grayling, has offered little resistance to any of its opponents when it meets Boyne City (71-0), Pellston (41-0) and Mancelona (32-0) so Grayling should be able to rack up its second win of the season without too much trouble after winning over East Jordan (6-0) last week.

Harbor Springs, stinging from their 27-0 defeat at the hands of Boyne City, can be expected to return to the win column this week when they travel to Pellston to take on the Hornets who fell victim to Charlevoix's Rayders last week.

Despite the lop-sided score at Charlevoix, the Hornets are a scrappy outfit, putting all they have into every play regardless of the odds against them.

No doubt the Rams' second stringers will get a good workout against the Hornets but the Pellston eleven will be in their fighting all the way.

Whether you be man or woman you will never do anything in this world without courage. It is the greatest quality of the mind next to honor.

—James L. Allen

from the 40 as time ran out. The Vikings never threatened, attempted run for the extra point was stopped at the line of scrimmage.

A 35 yard play in which end Dexter Bailey scored after taking a pass from Ron Johnson accounted for the second TD as the half ended 12 to 0.

A 10-yard pass from Ron Johnson to halfback Doug Molby scored the third touchdown with

State's Leading Game Bird

This cock pheasant may be one of the more than 1,000,000 bagged by Michigan hunters this fall. The kill during the October 21-November 10 season in the lower peninsula is expected to top the million mark for the fifth consecutive year, again making Mr. Ringneck the most popular game bird in the state.

Michigan Clay at Work

Workmen turn out a line of products fired in a kiln at one of Michigan's several plants. Michigan clay is utilized in the manufacture of products for industrial and building uses. The resource also supplies material for ceramic ware and professional potters.

Joseph Liebling to Conduct Master Singers on Community Concert Series

"Varied" is the word for the program which the Master Singers, a chorus of 20 unaccompanied mixed voices, will present on Wednesday, October 30th, at the Petoskey high school auditorium under the auspices of the Northern Michigan Community Concerts Association.

The enthusiastic young choristers represent a cross section of all musical tastes, and from their all-embracing repertory director Joseph Liebling, a man whose experience had led him from Paris bistros to Carnegie hall, has culled a program of sure-fire audience appeal.

It runs the gamut of time and type—songs sacred and profane; a rousing group of old English drinking songs and saucy love lyrics follows hard on the heels of an amazingly ethereal "Sanctus" by Clemens and a thunderous 12-part antiphonal chorus of Gabrieli; songs old and new: Three stunning "Reincarnations" by the contemporary Samuel Barber ("music as warm as the sun", says Mr. Liebling), or an impish pair of songs by France's Poulenc contrast with the haunting "Bailero" from the popular collection of songs of the Auvergne.

In case there are any lingering doubts as to the wide-ranging tastes and abilities of this eclectic chorus, there is a grand finale as a clincher: a lilting medley of Broadway tunes from the inimitable Rogers and Hammerstein "Carousel" and a stirring group of Negro spirituals.

Recently Carleton Sprague Smith, chief of the music division of the New York Public Library and a member of the board of directors of both the Metropolitan Opera Association and the New York Philharmonic Symphony, wrote, "Mr. Liebling's familiarity with the choral repertoire enables him to choose a program that will get the maximum amount of music and sound from any group. I trust Mr. Liebling's judgement and I have a genuine admiration for his musicianship and conducting."

County Expense to Jump $10,800 Over 1957

An Editorial

What Is Three Mills?

It is the intent of the Courier to support or oppose editorially any project, program or promotion on the basis of facts as we find them, always bearing in mind what we believe to be in the best interest of the community as a whole. We also respect the right of every individual to disagree with us in any sincere belief or opinion he may have.

Approval at the recent special school election to raise the tax limitation three mills for one year for operational expense (primarily to wipe out a reported deficit of $24,514) has resulted in considerable controversy. Because there are two valuations for levying taxes in the county (state equalized valuation and county equalized valuation) an issue has developed as to which valuation was intended for spreading the tax.

A three mill tax levied on the state equalized valuation would give the school in excess of $33,000 while three mills levied on the county equalized valuation would raise approximately $21,773.

We were of the opinion the intent of the levy was to raise sufficient extra taxes to wipe out the current deficit and endeavor to put the school on a pay as you go basis. Apparently many others had the same opinion. To further confuse the issue many voters interpreted the wording "assessed valuation" to mean county assessed valuation, because they were not aware of the fact that the state equalized valuation is used as the basis for levying a school tax.

It is unfortunate that the request for three mills was presented to and approved by the board of supervisors when a request for 2.2 mills would have accomplished what many of us thought to be the purpose of the extra tax.

Be that as it may, the board of education indicated at the regular meeting Monday evening that it wanted no part of a tax levied under questionable or misleading representation. Action was taken, with no opposition, requesting the board of supervisors to change the basis of spreading the tax from the state equalized valuation to the county equalized valuation. This means that the property owner will pay at the rate of $3.00 per $1,000 on his county equalized valuation. It also means the school will be about $3,700 short on paying off the deficit.

Nearing Goal In Community Chest Drive

The 1957 Community Chest fund drive now underway reached the two-thirds mark Wednesday with a total of $6,008.37 reported to date.

This figure represents 66 per cent of the goal of $9,150 which must be reached if the drive is to be successful.

"If the Charlevoix area is to meet its obligation, another $3,000 must be contributed before the drive closes this month," Mrs. Charles Duerr, co-chairman with Mr. Duerr of the 1957 drive said Wednesday.

Illness has slowed down the drive which was scheduled to end this week. However, workers are now out en force in an effort to bring the drive to a successful conclusion.

Contributions to date include: organizations, $90.00; residential, $272.60; townships, $396.70; business, industry and professional, $3,867.07; summer residents, $1,447.00.

New '58 Ramblers Now on Display At Hudson Sales

The new 1958 Rambler car is now on display at the show room of Charlevoix Hudson Sales and Service. The new line includes six and eight-cylinder models, featuring more than a hundred major styling and engineering improvements designed to "take further advantage of the trend toward compact cars which gained such a strong foothold in 1957."

In developing the new models, American Motors apparently foresees an increasing demand for cars that are economical to operate and easy to park and handle while still maintaining roominess and good styling.

Eleven models—station wagons, sedans and hardtops in the six and V-8 series are offered. Both the V-8, known as the Rambler Rebel, and the six are built on the compact 108-inch wheelbase. The new Rambler combines a roomy six-passenger interior with a compact exterior aimed to offer better maneuverability and economy in a full sized American car.

Major styling changes inside and out are apparent from the low and wide grill to the gracefully flared tail fins and the smartly styled interiors. The Rambler conveys a feeling of swiftness, luxury and comfort.

Mrs. John Reynolds Named Director Of Welfare Unit

The appointment of Mrs. John Reynolds as director of the Charlevoix county Department of Social Welfare received the approval of the county board of supervisors before the group adjourned Thursday.

Mrs. Reynolds joined the staff at the Welfare Department office in November 1955. Prior to coming to Charlevoix she had been employed in the office of the Probate Judge in Allegan county. She has also been associated with the investigation division of finance companies. She has served as acting director of the welfare department since March.

Rayder-Viking Game Is Called

The Charlevoix Grayling game scheduled for Friday has been cancelled at the request of Grayling where the absenteeism in the high school hit the 40 per cent mark Wednesday.

A call from Grayling Coach Art Thayer, to Ray L. Kipke of the Charlevoix Athletic Association at mid-morning Wednesday asked that the game be called off because the majority of the Vikings had the illness that has been sweeping through most schools in the area.

This is the second game to be called off. The other is the East Jordan-Harbor Springs meeting which was cancelled at the request of East Jordan.

Engineers Are City Guests on Inspection Tour

Charlevoix was host Wednesday to a group of U. S. Coast Guard officers who were making a tour of Northern Michigan ports before selecting one as a home port for the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew now docked at Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Mayor James Hiller and City Superintendent Hal M. Hill conducted the board of six officers on a tour of local facilities available to the Coast Guard in the event the ship should be docked here. They were interested especially in docking and housing facilities.

At noon Capt. C. R. MacLean, Cmdr. B. R. Henry, Cmdr. W. R. Riedel, Lt. E. D. Fulcher, Lt. H. D. Muth and Ens. C. C. Frank Jr., members of the survey board named by Adm. E. H. Thiel, Commandant, Ninth Coast Guard District, Warrant Officer Joseph Etienne and John Kinnunen of the Group office here were guests at a luncheon at the Weathervane Inn. Mayor Hiller, Mr. Hill, members of the city council, representatives of the Board of Commerce and several others also attended.

Flu Epidemic On Decline in Local Schools

The Charlevoix public schools reopened Monday after being closed since Wednesday night because of the influenza epidemic which hit the schools last week.

Supt. R. G. Bennett said Wednesday that enrollment was slowly returning to normal with only 45 students in the top six grades absent from the classrooms and 115 out of the lower grades. The figures show a steady decrease in absenteeism.

Elsewhere in the north, however, other schools are feeling the effects of the illness. East Jordan schools closed Tuesday night for the remainder of the week when 50 per cent of the students and five teachers became ill. The illness also forced the cancellation of the Harbor Springs-East Jordan game scheduled for Friday.

Boyer City schools are also being hit by the flu. More and more students are absent from the classrooms but the absenteeism has not reached a point where it has been necessary to close the schools. The Boyer City Reserve game at Petoskey was cancelled Tuesday but the Varsity squad is expected to be ready for the Pellston game Friday night.

Gaylord schools have reopened after being closed one day last week. Grayling has some illness in the schools but have not closed. Mancelona, after being closed two days last week, are back on schedule. Harbor Springs has some flu cases but have not closed. Pellston, the first school to be hit by the illness, reports no new cases.

Rayder Reserves Dump Pellston By 33 to 0 Score

Charlevoix's little Rayders dumped the Pellston Reserves by a score of 33 to 0 at Kipke field Tuesday night.

With more than 30 players getting into the line-up Charlevoix was in command of the action at all times. Pellston moved inside the Rayder 15 yard line only once during the action.

Quarterback Joe Beaudoin opened the scoring, he broke away for a 55 yard run to give the Rayders a six point lead. Later in the first half Gene McBride scored from the six and Clarke scored the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

In the third period Clarke broke loose with a 40 yard run to score with Gary Chew running the extra point over.

Late in the final period Sam Supernaw got off a pass to Beaudoin who had been switched to left end. Beaudoin scored on the play which covered 60 yards.

The Reserves will host the Boyne City Reserves at Kipke field at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Supervisors Adopt Budget of $211,846 At October Session

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors adopted a budget of $211,845.15 for 1958 before adjourning Thursday afternoon following the shortest October session in recent years.

The new budget is $10,800 over the 1957 budget of $201,045 which, by way of comparison, was $17,836 more than the 1956 budget of $183,209.

The 6.5 mills levy on the state equalized valuation of $32,691,700 will bring in revenue amounting to $212,495.05.

At the present time the county has a deficit of $46,693 due partially to unusual expenditures during 1956. An effort will be made to cut this deficit during 1958 and perhaps pay it off during the following year.

There were no salary increases this year. Only new appropriation was one for $500.00 made to the Beaver Island Historical Park.

As in the past the welfare department will again receive the largest single appropriation. This year's appropriation of $59,450, however, is $200.00 less than the 1957 allotment of $59,650. The decrease was possible because it was not necessary to allocate monies for capital improvements on the county-owned and operated Grandview hospital which last year required a $5,000 appropriation. With the construction of the new 60-bed fireproof building underway, there was no need to make repairs on the old building at this time.

Other appropriations which showed increases were the County Board of Education for Office of the County Superintendent of Schools, $4,400, an increase of $320; maintenance of Whiting Park, $3,000, an increase of $500.00; advertising, $1,500, an increase of $1,000; Civil Defense, $1,000, an increase of $200.00.

Other appropriations which remained the same or were less than last year include District Health Department No. 4, $10,106.25; Child Guidance Clinic, $981.90; Veterans Affairs, $800; Fish and Game Conservation, $450.00, in decrease of $75.00; 4-H Fall Achievement Day, $350; Apiary inspection, $150.00; Children's Aid Society, $250.00; Soldier and Sailor Relief fund, $300.00. The board also established a new fund to be used for altering, equipping and maintaining county buildings. Rentals and fees other than justice fees will be deposited in this fund which will be used for the above mentioned purpose on authorization of the board. Until now this income has been placed in the general fund.

Roy Scott of Boyne City was re-named to the Charlevoix county Welfare Commission for a three-year term.

Charlevoix Co. Is Certified Modified Brucellosis Free

Dr. Cecil Hendee, acting veterinarian, presented to Charlevoix county a certificate stating that this county is certified as a modified Brucellosis-free area. Certificates were presented to Russell Curtis, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and to Ed Rebnan county agricultural agent.

This certificate means that the infection of Brucellosis in Charlevoix county is less than one per cent of the cattle and less than five per cent of the herds. One of the greatest advantages to the farmers of Charlevoix county is that they do not have to have a blood test to sell an animal if their herd is clean. All that is necessary is to ask the State Department of Agriculture for a certificate.

New Dollar Bills Join Passing Parade of U. S. Currency

The old-look dollar bill, as cut down in 1929 and later redesigned, is in line for gradual retirement.

In the United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing, new presses are now turning out this year's model at the rate of 280,000 a day. Nearly four times as fast as the old machines, they print 32 instead of 18 bills to a sheet.

By October 1, more than 25,000,000 examples of America's latest small-format paper currency were to be available for distribution. In time the new bills will supplant old ones returned to the government for funeral-pyre rites.

The basic design of the 1957 dollar, showing George Washington's portrait of the face and back of the Great Seal of the United States on the back, will remain the same, says the National Geographic Society. But there are several noteworthy changes.

The phrase "I Did We Trust" has been added in accordance with the 1955 Act of Congress that required all future paper currency, as well as coins, to carry the motto.

Quality of the bills will be improved, since the new presses can reproduce the required fine engraving work on dry paper instead of having to use the damp material of the past.

The dry process also eliminates former shrinkage. Hence George Washington's face will be slightly fuller, although he looks out from a steady contracting dollar in terms of buying power.

Finally, the new dollar bill will carry the name of the present Secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson, who replaced George M. Humphrey. And on its face will appear the series date 1957-A, a date that represents not the time of printing but the latest change in design.

Letters A, B, C, D, and so on that follow the series date stand for successive signatures of United States treasurers or Treasury secretaries.

Most of the roughly 1,292,000,000 dollar bills now in circulation bear a 1955 series date. Rare dollars of this and earlier series are collectors' items. A special 1933 issue, signed by U. S. Secretary of the Treasury, B. T. Welch, in honor of the centennial of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, is good for more than a laugh. In good condition one such bill may be worth $100.

Genuine freak bills rate high in collecting circles. Reported to have been a dollar bill with the George Washington face on both sides, and an "S11 bill" combining one and ten-dollar designs.

The fast-moving everyday dollar has an average life expectancy of 13 months. Officially pronounced too limp to carry on, about 11,200,000,000 such bills are annually burned, with as many precautions taken in the destruction as in the production and distribution of the currency.

The art of salvaging mutilated and charred currency is another complex activity of the Government's money handlers.

Using tweezers, needles, blades, and magnifying glasses, the Treasury's trained women technicians each year reconstruct millions of dollars worth of bills from bits and lumps of paper and laymen would judge junk.

Less than two-fifths of an original bill is worthless. Between two and three-fifths brings half face value; three-fifths and more, full value.

Charles Robinson To Preach Sunday

Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, will speak at the regular morning service at the First Methodist church at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Courier Letter Box

What did we learn from our last school election. After defeating the extra mill tax several times it finally carried by a large majority. Ask yourself, "Why". The voters who were in favor for the increase got busy and worked among their friends and on election day provided transportation for the voters.

There is a city primary election coming up and now is the time to think and lay your ground work for the nomination of your candidate who is the best qualified for the office.

There seems to be a lot of dissatisfaction among the citizens about our administration.

If you want to win and elect your candidate start now and organize. Let us hear from you.

Poultrymen Have Winter Problem From Moisture.

The biggest problem facing poultryman in the winter is moisture in the hen house. Wet floors make dirty eggs and injure the health of the flock.

Because Michigan is surrounded on three sides with water good ventilation is necessary to keep the laying house dry.

Mac Moore extension poultryman at Michigan State University, recommends a positive ventilating system for the job. Such a system involves an exhaust fan controlled by a thermostat which pulls fresh air across the laying house and expels it after it has picked up moisture.

Have a fan big enough to move a minimum of one cubic foot of air per minute for each square foot of floor space in the house. And have enough air intakes so air will flow freely.

Air drawn out of the attic will help conserve the temperature of the laying house Moore says. Insulation also conserves the body heat given off by the hens which helps keep the poultry house warm. Warm air holds more moisture; fans placed near the ceiling will get rid of more moisture.

Moore says gutter cleaners not only save labor in the poultry house but they also get rid of about a third of the moisture. This takes some of the load of keeping the house dry off the ventilating fan.

All Class C Teams to Resume Play Friday

Northern Michigan Class C teams are expected to return to the gridiron in force this week after six of the eight teams were forced to cancel games last week because of the flu.

In the top game of the week Mancelona will host Gaylord while elsewhere East Jordan will play at Harbor Springs, Boyne City will host Pellston and Charlevoix will travel to Grayling.

Unless both the Mancelona and Gaylord squads are weakened by the flu which forced cancellation of last week's games, this meeting should be a good one. Mancelona has racked up a 19 to 17 win over Charlevoix and lost to Harbor Springs 15 to 13 while Gaylord has lost to both teams by scores of 26 to 0 and 26 to 13 respectively.

Though Gaylord has used a passing attack with great success on occasion, Mancelona's has been much more effective in most instances and this may make the difference in the meeting between the two teams who are old rivals.

Harbor Springs will entertain East Jordan this week in a game which will keep the Rams hustling all the way. The Jordanites will be the underdogs going into the game but should the Red Devils decide to play ball they could give Harbor Springs a good game. The Rams, however, should stay in the win column.

The Pellston Hornets, handicapped by the loss of six regulars from the squad as the result of a disciplinary measure, will limp into Boyne City this week for their meeting with the Ramblers who are expected to roll up a mighty big top-sided score over the hapless visitors.

Charlevoix will travel to Grayling this week to take on the Vikings who have shown little thus far in the season. The second stringers should have another workout such as they had over Pellston two weeks ago as Coach Don Carey tries to keep the score down.

Harbor-Pellston Only Teams to Keep Schedule

In the only game played in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday, Harbor Springs dumped Pellston 50 to 6.

All other games were postponed until Nov. 13 because of a flu epidemic which hit the participating schools.

Coach Hank Bruno started his second stringers against the Pellston Hornets who were playing without six regulars who will be out for the remainder of the year as a disciplinary action.

The first quarter which featured only 12 plays was scoreless.

Midway in the period Basil Nakanashe, regular Hornet quarterback, was benched with a head injury. He was replaced by Barry Anderson.

On the first play of the second period Harbor Springs started its scoring attack when right end Allen Alkinding picked up a Pellston fumble and romped 54 yards to score. Quarterback Richard Clarke placed kicked the extra point.

Fullback Jack Meyer scored from the nine, Pete Graham drove a Pellston ball carrier into the end zone for a safety and Sam Gokee took the ball on a 45 yard run to score in the second period. Clarke added the extra point following Gokee's touchdown.

The entire first team started the second half and played for four minutes before Coach Bruno started substituting again.

Gordon Kruskie scored from the seven yard line to open the scoring in the second half after the ball by recovering a Pellston fumble on the latter's 21 yard line. Clarke added the extra point on a kick.

Pellston failed to move the ball and Harbor Springs took over on the Hornets 14. Two plays later Clarke passed to Doug Moeke for the three for the tally.

Clarke then added the conversion point. Later in the period Clarke passed to Don Barnet for a 23 yard play with Clarke booting the conversion. In the final period freshman Francis Lauer went over from the two. Clarke passed to Ken Garver for the extra point.

Pellston's only tally came in the final period when Duane Johnson scored from the four on a pass from Anderson.

All 19 Rams in uniform saw action with the second stringers playing most of the game.

All Cancelled Games to Be Played Nov. 13

The Northern Michigan Class C football games cancelled last week because of the flu epidemic in participating schools have been re-scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 13, it was announced following a meeting of league officials at Boyne City Thursday night.

Charlevoix will now host Boyne City on that date.

The Harbor Springs game scheduled for Nov. 8 will now become the homecoming game, H. E. Bingham, high school principal said this week. The meeting with the Rams is the first home game. In the next two weeks Charlevoix will play at Grayling and at East Jordan.

Other games to be played on Nov. 13 are the meeting of East Jordan and Mancelona on the latter's field and Grayling at Gaylord.

If it should be necessary to cancel other games, the games will not be re-scheduled but counted as games not played.

Lots of people have great aims in life, but never pull the trigger.

Helen June Brown Becomes Bride of Mr. Veldkamp in Atwood Ceremony

The Atwood Reformed church was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Helen June Brown and Versal James Veldkamp.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown of Ellsworth and Mr. and Mrs. John Veldkamp of Central Lake.

Bouquets of white gladioli and pompoms and plants of rose and white pompoms and lighted tapers in neandelabra formed a setting for the double ring service performed by the Rev. Douglas VanGessel.

Organist was Virginia Kuiper of Grand Rapids and Ellsworth. Donald Heeres of Grand Rapids and Ellsworth sang "Because I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white nylon tulle and lace oversatin for her wedding. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice of shirred tulle and lace and a bouffant skirt of tulle over satin. With it she wore a lace jacket styled with a Peter Pan collar and long fitted sleeves which came to a point over the wrists. A crown of seedpearls and sequins adorned her finger tip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and American Beauty roses.

Virginia Brown assisted her sister as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of pastel pink lace and net over taffeta, and a matching lace bolero. Her halo of lace and flowers matched her gown. Her bouquet was of pink and white fringed carnations.

Mrs. Allen Klooster, sister of the bridegroom, and Mary McElroy as bridesmaids wore gowns of yellow and pastel blue respectively similar to the honor attendant's. Their halos of pastel flowers on lace matched their gowns. Mrs. Klooster's bouquet was of yellow and white and Miss McElroy's of blue and white fringed carnations.

Norman Veldkamp of Flint assisted his brother as best man. Groomsman were Martin Rubingh and Frank Brown, brother of the bride. Seating the guests were Robert Drenth and Henry DeVries.

Mrs. Brown chose a gray tweed dress with white accents and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Veldkamp, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy crepe dress and matching accessories. Their corsages were of pink and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vander Ark, uncle and aunt of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

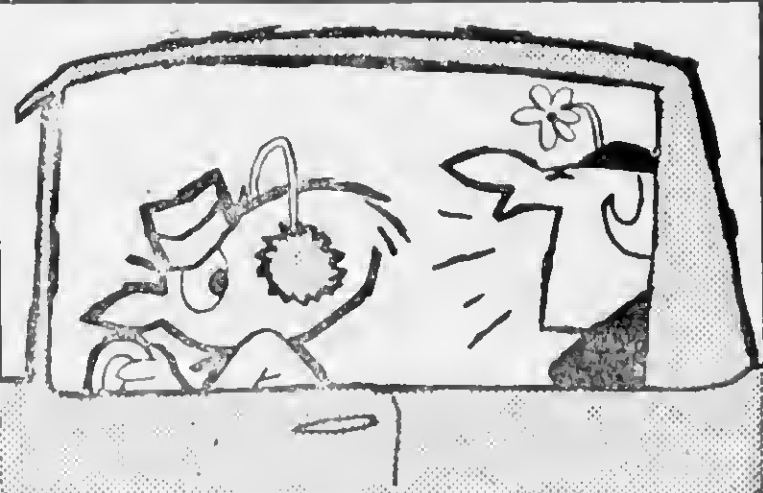

A reception followed in the church parlors. The refreshment table was centered with a tiered bridal cake topped with a miniature bride couple encircled with a heart. Mrs. John Tornga Jr. and Mrs. VanderArk were in charge of the gift table.

A brief program featured vocal numbers by Alice Veldkamp and Mrs. Henry A. Elzinga and a skit by the Drenth brothers.

After a wedding trip to the upper peninsula the couple will reside at Rest Haven on Campbell Lake. For traveling the bride wore a black and brown striped wool sheath dress, black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bride is a 1955 graduate of the Banks township high school and is employed at the Mt. Clemens Co. in Mancelona. Mr. Veldkamp, who attended Central Lake high school, is employed by the Drenth Brothers of Ellsworth.

Michigan's Industrial climate, which has been kicked around often and hard between Democrats and Republicans when discussing the state tax structure, finally left the warming glow of favorable light.

The State of Oklahoma, which is carrying on an active campaign to interest new industry to locate there, wrote 10,000 letters to plants all over the country. Don C. Weeks, director of the Michigan Department of Economic Development, recently heard from an Oklahoma official that Michigan industrialists show "outstanding loyalty to their state." This loyalty was so marked in replies from 400 Michigan industrialists contacted, that it became a subject for general discussion in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma businessmen will soon be following up the letters with personal visits to offices which received the letters. This, of course, includes Michigan.

Important aspect about this display of loyalty is that it can overcome some of the underserved poor publicity which resulted from political fighting when Democrats were charging that industry should be taxed more and Republicans were charging the present tax structure is "driving industry out" of the state.

The Uninsured driver and related problems are receiving careful study. A commission appointed by the governor is examining him as a cause of financial hardship to others when he becomes involved in an accident.

Commission members are weighing pros and cons of several plans which deal with this problem in other states. A report, or probably a majority and several minority reports, will be submitted about Christmas.

Two basic philosophies from which commission members must choose involve plans which will set up funds within state government so that people suffering loss from uninsured drivers can be paid, or plans which will force uninsured drivers to become insured at the risk of losing the right to drive.

The first approach attempts to spread the cost damages caused by uninsured drivers over all drivers; the second attempts to reduce loss by fixing responsibility on the individual driver and forcing those who are not insured off the road.

Neither approach is as simple as it sounds, but the commission is working in the hopes that it can recommend some plan which will be an improvement over existing conditions.

Politicians Are Sprinting toward next year's election like men in gray flannel suits wearing track shoes.

Party finances for years have been shunted into the background with partisans pushing policies and personalities, leaving the dollars and cents work in the precincts.

Now both sides have discovered that it takes money to elect a slate in November.

It has always been this way, but the parties liked to pretend that money was a convenience. Not really necessary, but handy.

Democrats conducted a doorbell and front porch campaign this fall. It was well-publicized and the yield was satisfactory. State Chairman Neil Staebler said the program was designed to raise money, but also to make the precinct workers feel they had a key role in the Democratic party.

Republicans took up the same sort of program. Don E. Ahrens former vice president of General Motors (Cadillac division) was named party finance chief. He has experience with a number of local campaign drives.

His first move was to start a "Republican United Fund" campaign and suggested that party members contribute $1 a month, or year, to provide a continuing fund to pay expenses.

Ahrens is interested in "businesslike concepts, budgeting of necessary expenditures, thorough audits, and the utmost in establishing financial responsibility by party leaders."

Michigan's Prisons are still overcrowded. This has been an annual complaint since the 1952 riots at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

There have been a number of building and remodeling projects, but still there are more prisoners than cells.

The latest problem is the state's women prisoners now stationed at the Detroit House of Correction itself overcrowded.

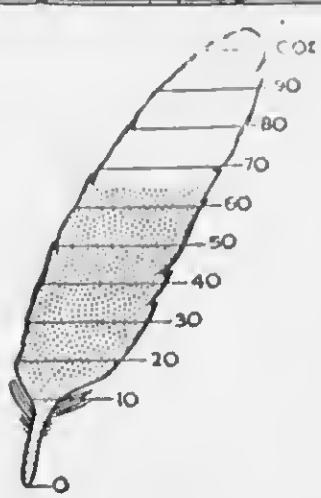

Last month the state corrections commission urged quick action to take over the Detroit House of Correction, at least its women's division.

The theory was that, if the commission was charged with the responsibility of caring for and rehabilitating all state prisoners, it should have jurisdiction over the facilities.

In addition, an investigating group hired by Detroit concluded that the institution was ill-fitted and ill-administered to care for prisoners.

The state commission then said it should either make the Detroit prison a state institution or build a women's prison of its own.

That led up to a proposal by Blissfield, that the state take over one of its less-occupied tuberculosis hospitals as a women's prison.

Whether it can or will be done must await the next legislative session, starting next January.

Fire Damages Farm Home in Norwood Twp.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Buttlere located five miles south of Charlevoix in Norwood township was severely damaged by fire believed to have been caused by defective chimney at 11:40 a. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Buttlere and three of their small children were at home when the fire started. She discovered it when she heard a crackling and when she investigated the source and opened the door to the second floor and found the stairwell filled with smoke.

The Charlevoix fire department answered the call and fought the stubborn blaze for some time before bringing it under control. There was extensive damage to the second floor, attic and roof. Fire Chief John Curtis would make no estimate of the damage. First floor furnishings and other possessions were saved but the family's bedroom furnishings, linens, clothing and other possessions were lost in the blaze. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Efforts were being made Wednesday afternoon to find living quarters for the family.

Could Be Sputnik But Who Knows?

Was it Sputnik, a meteor or what?

That's what the many people who saw the unusual object in the sky about 6:30 p. m. Monday would like to know.

To those who saw it with the naked eye it looked like a ball of fire crossing the sky from the southwest to the northeast. Mrs. John Cross and Mrs. C. M. Bice, who saw it through powerful binoculars, report that it was a colorful object, similar to a Christmas tree ornament in colors of red, green and yellow. At times it looked as though there were sparks flying from it.

Whatever it was, it was seen throughout the area and caused quite a furor. As yet, there has been no official explanation.

Funeral Services Held Monday for Mrs. F. G. Brown

Mrs. Forrest G. Brown, 62, Hayes township resident for the past 11 years, died Thursday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for six hours.

Mrs. Brown died of pneumonia resulting from influenza. She had been in ill health for some time as the result of a cardiac condition. Her death was the first attributed indirectly to influenza in Charlevoix county.

Funeral services were held at the Pontius Chapel Monday with the Rev. A. R. Gold officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Vermillion county, Ill., March 3, 1895, the former Dollie L. Pugh was married to Mr. Brown at Caygo, Ind., in 1912. The family resided in the Lansing area until coming to their present home in Hayes township in 1946.

Local Student Wins State 4-H Award In Handicraft

Rodney Richardson was notified this week that a gun rack he made in 4-H third year handicraft had received the A award at the annual state 4-H held in East Lansing last August.

The gun rack was made eligible for state competition by virtue of having won the A award in the annual county 4-H show.

Rodney is a sophomore in the Charlevoix high school and his gun rack was made in the manual training class under the direction of the instructor, Robert Cook, who also is a leader in 4-H advanced handicraft.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Richardson of Norwood, Rodney was active in 4-H work for a number of years prior to attending the Charlevoix school.

Fire Destroys Weisler Home And Belongings

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weisler in Norwood township ten miles south of here early Tuesday morning.

The fire was discovered by their son, Martin, 20, who was awakened at 4:30 a. m. by the smell of smoke. He aroused his sisters, Rosalee and Stairley, who were sleeping in another upstairs bedroom and then descended to the first floor to awaken his parents.

The family escaped in their night clothes after calling the Charlevoix fire department.

The Ellsworth fire department joined the Charlevoix firemen in fighting the blaze but the fire had too much of a start and that, plus the lack of water, made it impossible to save the two-story six-room stone veneer house.

Also lost in the blaze were the family's clothing and personal belongings and all their household furnishings.

Fire Chief John Curtis estimated the loss at $8,000 which was partly covered by insurance.

A second son, Raymond, 19, who had been working the night shift at the canning factory in Ellsworth, arrived home shortly after the fire was discovered. Later Tuesday morning the residents of the Norwood community went about the job of providing shelter for the Weisler family. By night the school house had been cleaned and partially furnished from contributions of furniture, linens, dishes and food.

The Goldman Meyer fund and the Charlevoix county Red Cross Chapter also joined in assisting the family.

Community Chest Drive Boggs Down In Final Stages

With $1,462 remaining to be raised, the 1957 Community Chest drive to raise funds for 10 agencies has bogged down, Charles A. Duerr, co-chairman with Mrs. Duerr of the current fund campaign, said Wednesday.

To date $7,687 or 84 per cent of the total has been contributed to the drive that has shown little progress during the past few days.

In announcing the progress of the drive, Mr. Duerr said that the business, professional, industry division of the drive had surpassed the quota set for this group, that the organizations were meeting their quota and that the drive among the summer residents was lagging a little.

It is the drives in the residential district of the city and in the townships that have fallen short of their quotas, he added. If the goal of $9,150 is to be reached, it will be up to the individuals of the community to dig down deep and give generously to the drive.

At this time, it is the workers in these areas that are 'carrying the ball', so to speak, and if they are to complete their job successfully they must cover the areas assigned to them as soon as possible and the people in those areas must contribute generously.

These are the critical days of the drive, Mr. Duerr said in conclusion. Give them your close attention and your job, as workers and contributors, so the drive can be brought to a successful conclusion.

Contributions to date include: $4,784.07 business, professional, industry; $1,632.00, summer residents; $100.00, organizations; $735.60, residential and $435.65, townships.

New Feature Is Offered Readers By Harold E. Kohn

Beginning with this week's issue of the Courier the Reverend Harold Kohn will vary his column, "Adventures In Understanding," with occasional cartoon commentaries on religion and life under the general heading, "Something To Think About."

Early in his ministry the Reverend Mr. Kohn served under appointment of his denomination as a pastor and chief staff artist at the Otterbein Press in Dayton, Ohio. While there his religious cartoons appeared each Saturday on the church page of the Dayton Daily News, and many of his cartoon commentaries appeared in newspapers throughout the American southwest and in religious periodicals of many denominations.

When discussing this new feature of his column with the editor of the Courier, Mr. Kohn said that he has no intention of regularly substituting his "Adventures In Understanding" column with cartoons, but plans only to diversify his interpretations of religious and life occasionally with the use of cartoons in the belief that often a few brush strokes can say as much as a thousand words.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

How about the stuff that blew in from the west last Friday night and covered the ground for a few hours? It didn't seem possible after all the beautiful fall days we'd enjoyed, but there it was. But we were luckier than places in northern Indiana and Illinois where they had several inches of it.

With the football season running until mid-November this year we sure hope we don't get a lot of snow right away. 'Cause it's mighty cold sitting in the snow. We understand that even the football team hauled out 'long johns' to wear under their football uniforms and unpeep shirts the other night... plus long socks and gloves. It must have been cold.

Friday was the day we picked to take a look at the remodeling job now under way at the fishery station... better known as the fish hatchery. There was practically a gale blowing off Lake Michigan but inside it was a warm 60 degrees... which seemed warm to everyone but us. We did enjoy a tour of the place under the guidance of George Roff, head man at the place, and his assistant, Ray Nowland. The workmen weren't exactly ready for visitors so we ducked under wires, went through water, around wet concrete, dodged workmen carrying lumber and looked under canvas to see what was going on. And came away very pleased... for the place is going to be beautiful... with its long raceways, new water system, new kitchen, walk-in cooler and freezer... to name a few improvements. We hope to do a picture story when the place is 'prettied up' a bit more. At the moment we don't think they'd appreciate visitors so how's about waiting till it's done before you go on an inspection tour.

We sure spoke out of turn last week when we said we didn't think there were many birds around 'cause we hadn't heard of hunters bringing in any. Kenny Balch chimed in to tell us there were lots of birds... which around here means partridges... and that he and Markie White had brought in 31 since the season opened... and in all he knew of 44 that had been taken. Of course, he didn't tell us exactly where they got 'em. Not that it would have mattered because we're scared of guns.

On Saturday Gerald Goss who'd just come home from a hunting trip down Ionia-way, called to tell us there were seeds of birds around here. If you could get 'em. He and his brother, Shelby, had gone to southern Michigan to hunt pheasants. The day before the season opened they'd cruised through the hunting area and saw, within 500 ft., eight pheasant cocks. But after the first gun was fired the next day there was nary a one to be found. They came home with a few... but mighty few, of the rainbow-hued birds.

And the ducks and geese have gone south, we find. Bill Baker reported that he saw a flock of 80 to 100 go over the airport one day recently. They were the big Canadian geese and were traveling in their familiar V-formation. Glenn Krohn also sighted a huge flock flying over Little Traverse Bay on Lake Michigan one day recently while driving on US-9 north.

When Bill Baker called to tell us about the geese he'd seen he was about a flock that passed over the airport last fall. Seems that they had been flying through a sheet of ice and their wings became coated with ice. The whole flock came down and stayed on the ground until the ice had melted and then took off again.

Birds, with their meeky sense of direction, will never cease to amaze us. We can understand why they know when to take off... after all, they know when the weather changes... but how they take the same routes and return to the same areas year after year we'll never understand.

And what a pair of full grown raccoons were doing in our neighborhood early Sunday morning we'll never know either. It was too early for the dogs to be out when our mother looked out and there they were... coming down the sidewalk on the north side of Aulsebrook. They turned on to Nichols st., ambled toward Petoskey ave., jaywalked near the corner and disappeared. We've seen just about every other kind of wild life but this is the first time we've had a visit from the black-faced, ring-tailed 'coons.

Mrs. Ray Wood, working near a front window in her Michigan ave. home became fascinated by a big red squirrel which seemed to be working real hard, totting something to a new home he was evidently building in a nearby cottage. She finally started to count his trips and in a 40 minute period he had made 24 trips into the house. He's lived in a nearby tree until he discovered an opening in the house and moved in. The house is vacant... and without any furnishings... so he probably can't do any damage. Or can he?

Television viewers had a pleasant surprise the other night when one of our prominent local residents appeared on the Limelight program over WPBN-TV. We didn't happen to see him but we understand Bill Ratigan himself... and Charlevoix—proud... Spoke of Charlevoix as a haven for writers and artists and mentioned many of them... plus many of our outstanding senior residents including Capt. Roy Ranger, Bill Bellinger and Joe Howard.

A belated birthday greeting to one of our older and better known residents... Morris Ackert... who for years represented the city utility department to the majority of the city's population... He was some 82 years old on Oct. 19.

Let's hope that we've seen the last of the flu around northern Michigan. It sure threw the football season into a turmoil for only one game was played again last week. Teams, this year, are being defeated by the illness rather than a tough opponent on the gridiron. The first series of cancelled games have been re-scheduled... but from there on in the games will go by the board... a low blow to say the least.

The kids will be out on force tonight... trickin' and treating

Towsley-Bebee Exchange Wedding Vows in Double Ring Ceremony

The Community Church of God was the scene recently of the wedding of Linda Lou Towsley and Rex Vernon Bebee.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Carl Towsley and the late Mr. Towsley. Mr. Bebee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Crist of Lansing.

The Rev. George L. Majors officiated at the double ring service solemnized on Saturday, Oct. 19. White gladioli and pom-poms decorated the church for the occasion.

Mrs. John L. Boss was the organist and Mrs. Herbert Hamlin the soloist. She sang "I Love

You Truly", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her uncle, Harold Towsley, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white lace and net over satin for her wedding. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves of lace. The full skirt was of net over satin. A seedpearl crown secured her finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink rosebuds.

Gail Ann Curtis was her only attendant. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses.

Carl Lee Sneathen assisted the bridegroom as best man. Seating the guests were Stanley Towsley, cousin of the bride, and Michael Johnson, nephew of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Towsley chose a powder blue dress, matching accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Crist, mother of the bridegroom, wore a moss green dress, matching accessories and a corsage of white pom-poms.

A reception at Fellowship hall followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Bernie Ward Sr., Mrs. Lawrence Swanson, Mrs. Harold Towsley, Mrs. Russell Curtis, Mrs. Bernie Ward Jr. and Mrs. Allen Ulrich.

To our many friends and business acquaintances:

It is with much regret that we feel it necessary to leave Charlevoix and take our daughter, Denise, to a warmer climate.

We have sincerely enjoyed our years here and deeply appreciate the way we were accepted in the community so that we feel we, too, can call Charlevoix our "home town." Words seem inadequate to express our thanks to those who shared our joys and, this past year, our anxieties in our daughter's illness. Your prayers and kind words will never be forgotten.

We hope we have, in some small way, contributed to this community and also that we have helped those who have called us in their time of bereavement.

Dodge Grille Combines Boldness, Good Taste

Adding a dramatic touch of boldness to the Swept-Wing '58 is the completely redesigned front end. Dual headlights are arranged side-by-side, under flared, fashionable hoods, for safer, sure night time driving. Parking lights are recessed in protective "bombs," placed to shield the cross-hatched grille from damage. Aiming to the uncluttered look of good taste are the straight line of the front bumper with its sturdy overbar to protect both grille and front license plate.

The new models are now on display at the show rooms of Brown Motors, Inc., Charlevoix.

Many people could retire comfortably on what their experience has cost them.

Raisers of Feeder Pigs Plan Meeting

A meeting of farmers interested in the production of feeder pigs has been scheduled for next week, Friday, November 8, at 1:30 p. m., according to Ed Rehnman, county agricultural agent. Ed Miller, livestock specialist from Michigan State University, will be present to aid in the discussion.

Many Charlevoix county farmers are looking for another source of income. Some of them feel they could supply feeder pigs to southern Michigan farmers. These southern Michigan farmers are interested in a supply of feeder pigs large enough so that they could fill a double-deck truck.

Many questions are asked about this feeder pig program such as what breeds, time of farrowing, disease control program, marketing and etc. It is the purpose of this meeting to discuss with those farmers who are interested in going to this program to answer some of these questions.

The place for the meeting has not been set. It will depend on how many are interested. Anyone in the county who would like to know more about this feeder pig program are asked to either contact Dawson Way of Charlevoix or Ed Rehnman, county agricultural agent, at Boyne City. They will then be notified of where the meeting will be held.

Board Calls One Man for Induction

One Charlevoix county draft registrant will be called for induction into the armed services Dec. 9, to fill the county's December draft quota. Mrs. Mary Bourgoin, clerk of the board, has announced.

The name of the man to be called will be announced following a meeting of the draft board scheduled for late November.

No one will be called for pre-induction physical examinations.

Children Provide Answers to Poor Eating Problems

Listen to your children—they might give you a hint as to why they don't eat the breakfast you'd like them to. Grade-schoolers will tell you their reasons are: "No appetite," "Ate what was there," "Food's not there," "Too little time," "Had to prepare the food myself."

Clare Brown, Charlevoix home demonstration agent, tells of research done in Pennsylvania to tell school children what kind of breakfast they should eat and to learn why they didn't eat breakfast. Clare says the kids have the solution to their problems when they suggest that they should get up earlier, go to bed earlier, have the kind of food they enjoy or have someone to eat their breakfast with.

In the experiment 1,187 grade-school children were taught the foods they need for good breakfast and what the foods do for them. At school they saw how white rats grew—or didn't grow when given food typical of good, fair and poor breakfasts.

At the end of the five-week breakfast education program 86 per cent of the boys and girls could select a good breakfast menu on paper; yet only 40 per cent had eaten a good breakfast that day.

Over 75 per cent of the children who told their parents about the effects of good, fair and poor breakfasts of the growth of laboratory animals and thus interested their parents in the program, had a good to fair breakfast that morning of the survey. But children ate better breakfasts if the meal had been prepared for them, especially so if they had helped an adult in the family prepare it.

Over one-fourth of the children in the survey got their own breakfasts—and their breakfast record was poor. When adults supervised or ate breakfast with children, the children generally ate better than when they had breakfast alone or with other children.

The greatest number of good breakfasts were found among children whose parents regularly had a good morning meal tells Clare Brown.

Put your automatic washer where you will get full value from the time and energy-saving advantages which it offers. To save steps your laundry center should be near the place where most soiled laundry collects and (or near) another work area. For economy, it should be near another plumbing installation. Consider a location near the kitchen or the bedroom-bathroom area, suggest M. S. U. home management specialists.

Warn of Dangers Lurking Behind Hallowe'en Capers

Roasting marshmallows over a bonfire, bobbing for apples in a tub of water, trick-or-treating at the neighbor's house and hopping you won't be asked for "pay"—a dance, song or poem—for the treat.

All this is Hallowe'en, a once-a-year occasion when Johnny and Mary can fill their paper sacks with a collection of goodies even the heartiest of appetites can barely dent.

Hallowe'en . . . a night when bedtime is moved back an hour (or two, if you protest enough), a night when small spooks slither through the streets of Pumpkin Center, Calif., Skull Creek, Colo., and Trout, Ark.—and most places in between.

The originators of the observance of All Saints Day probably never realized how the eve would be marked in the 20th Century. And for sure, they never realized the dangers of Hallowe'en hijinks.

Rally Day Planned By Bible Baptists

The Baptist Bible church will sponsor a special rally day at the church on East Garfield ave. Sunday, the Rev. James Luginbuhl, pastor of the church has announced.

The rally will begin at the Sunday school hour of 10 a. m., continue through the 11 a. m. worship service and the 8 p. m. evening service.

David Hailer of Harbor Springs gospel accordionist, will also preach at the services. He is a senior in the Harbor Springs high school and has studied for two years under the nation's best gospel accordionist.

There will also be a young people's meeting at 7 p. m. Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Luginbuhl has extended an invitation to everyone in the community to attend this special rally day on Sunday.

Trissel Revival At Ellsworth To Close Sunday

The Trissel family featuring the Rev. P. D. Trissel will conclude their special revival services at the Pilgrim Holiness church in Ellsworth Sunday evening, the Rev. W. L. Silvers said this week in urging residents of the area to hear this unusual family.

The Rev. Mr. Trissel who has had more than 20 years experience as an evangelist will bring a special message to each of the remaining services. He will also join his wife and their three children in singing many beloved hymns. Both Mr. and Mrs. Trissel as well as their children, Paul, 15, and Becky, 13, play several musical instruments. The services are punctuated with numerous musical selections as well as vocal numbers. The youngest daughter, Debbie, sings with the group but does not play an instrument.

The Trissel family has traveled from coast to coast and from the Gulf of Mexico into Canada from their present home in Florida and are widely known on both radio and television.

The Rev. Mr. Trissel has extended an invitation to everyone to attend services at the Pilgrim Holiness church at 8 p. m. to-night, Friday, Saturday and Sunday and hear this the message this family nightly.

Hot Lunch Cooks Attend Workshop At Boyne City

A workshop for school lunch cooks in Charlevoix and Emmet counties was held at the school cafeteria in Boyne City Wednesday.

The workshop was held under the direction of Norman E. Tollar, chief of school lunch program for the state of Michigan, and Hal Bolin, Department of Agriculture specialist from the regional office in Chicago. Mr. Bolin discussed and demonstrated food handling and preparation and also demonstrated the use of small kitchen tools in food preparation.

The workshop was held from 4 to 7:30 p. m. and featured a potluck supper.

Arrangements for the workshop were made by the county superintendents' offices in Charlevoix and Emmet county.

Mrs. Marie Blissett and Mrs. A. D. Cunningham of the Charlevoix school lunch room staff attended the workshop.

The holiday, the National safety Council points out, can be full of fun for youngsters if a few simple precautions are followed.

No one wants a repetition of the tragedy in Seattle, Wash., when a youngster's Hallowe'en mask slipped, blinding his view of an onrushing auto.

How can parents make this Oct. 31 safe from Hallowe'en hazards?

By buying their children light-colored costumes, for one, the Council says. They're easier to see at night.

For another, by making sure the outfits aren't tripping hazards and that they are flame-proof.

Other tips: 1. Masks are dangerous because they restrict vision. They're also hot and scratchy, so kids will welcome a painted false face. A little rouge, eyebrow pencil and moustache stick can make children miniature ghosts, goblins, pirates or clowns—but with the added safety factor of allowing them to see danger in time to avoid it.

2. Use a flashlight instead of a candle in jack-o'-lanterns.

3. Remind children that on Hallowe'en, as during the rest of the year, safety precautions should be observed. No dashing from between parked cars, no playing in streets, no crossing streets without first looking both ways.

4. To make doubly sure motorists can see costumed children, put reflectorized tape or bands on their outfits. A Cleveland, Ohio, radio station came up with a novel idea that drew praise from parents everywhere—a reflectorized paper pumpkin for pasting on trick-or-treat bags. The pumpkin gave off a yellow glow in auto headlights.

Further, grownups can help make Oct. 31 accident-free, the Council says, if they will:

1. Light porches so trick-or-treaters won't trip in the dark.

2. Watch out for disguised dangers in the streets—logs, barrels or piles of leaves, for example—that may conceal pranksters.

3. Tie white strips of cloth on wires or ropes surrounding newly planted trees.

4. Take indoors any object that may tempt vandals and be turned into safety hazards. In this category are barrels, trash cans, lawn-mowers and bicycles.

5. If, despite your precautions, your car windows get soaped, take time out before driving to clean them.

Most of the autumn antics, the Council agrees, are good for laughs. But many can lead to accidents.

"Have fun, but don't let your guard down", it advises.

Israel Plans Copper Industry in Region of Solomon's Temple

A biblical prophecy fulfilled 3,000 years ago has taken on fresh meaning in modern Israel with the launching of a copper-mining project north of Eilat on the Gulf of 'Aqaba.

"For the Lord bringeth thee into a good land . . . a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass," the Israelites were told in the description of the Promised Land (Deuteronomy 8:7-9).

The current undertaking will exploit rich copper deposits at Timna, some 15 miles north of the Gulf. Its ancient prototype was King Solomon's highly successful copper and iron industry, whose ruined mines, crushers, and smelters still scar the barren near-by hills.

Using conscript labor, Solomon had the ores "roasted" on the spot, says the National Geographic Society. He then shipped the rudely processed metal to refineries at his Gulf of 'Aqaba port, Ezion-geber.

Proof of the Bible's accuracy in the brief reference to mineral wealth of ancient Palestine was Most spectacular of the Glueck finds was the long-lost city of Ezion-geber at the narrow head of the Gulf of 'Aqaba.

Covered by later settlements, Solomon's industrial center was a Palestine Pittsburgh as well as a seaport, naval base, and fortress.

Ezion-geber's arid location offered a puzzle to scholars. Why did Solomon with his wisdom build the city west of more abundant sweetwater supplies and still worse, put it directly in line with hot, fierce winds carrying sandstorms along the Wadi Araba?

The answer became clear with study of the buildings. Made of heat-hardened mud bricks, the walls of many were pierced with flues and stained green by sulphurous gases.

The structures had been used as huge smelters. Their flues, linked by a system of air passages, provided forced draft from steadily blowing winds to keep the flames going for the refineries.

Finished articles of various kinds were made from the purified copper. Some doubtless went into the "burnished-brass" decorations—described in Chapter 7 of Kings I—which were used in Solomon's Temple at Jerusalem.

Demand Growing For Pulp Wood

A good market for pulp wood exists in Michigan at present and it promises to get even better as new mills become active, according to Ed Reiman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

This good market can help all forest owners by giving them a profitable outlet for thinnings and products of improvement cuttings, as well as harvest cuts.

A folder that tells about these markets and offers tips on kinds of wood being bought for pulpwood use, what lengths and diameters of wood are desired and lists other specifications is now available from the Charlevoix county extension office.

The folder was written by Les Dell, extension specialist in forestry at Michigan State University. It is called "Marketing Michigan Pulpwood" and is free for the asking. Request Extension Folder F-321.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Merion Sitzema of Charlevoix and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Heeres of Ellsworth. Baskets of white gladioli and pompoms, potted palms and lighted tapers in candelabra formed a setting for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Neal Punt.

Peggy Doctor, cousin of the bride, as organist played a program of traditional music, the wedding marches and accompanied the solemn, Donald Heeres, uncle of the bride, who sang "The Wedding Hymn", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace and net over satin for her wedding. Fashioned with a fitted lace bodice, a small pointed collar and long sleeves, the gown had a bouffant skirt of net and panels of lace which extended to the hemline. Her fingertip veil was held by a seed-pearl and sequin tiara and she carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums and white roses.

Shirley Sitzema, as her sister's honor attendant, wore a ballerina length gown of turquoise lace and net over taffeta and a matching lace bolero. Her headdress was a wreath of white roses and she carried a colonial bouquet of rose pompoms and white pompoms and Fuji mums.

Marcia Sitzema and Janice Heeres, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids, wore gowns styled identical to the honor atendants in yellow and light blue respectively, wreaths of white roses and carried bouquets similar to the maid of honor's in colors to match their gowns.

Marvin Heeres assisted his brother as best man. Rogers Sitzema, brother of the bride, and Harold VandenBerg seated the guests.

Mrs. Sitzema chose a black jersey dress with silver accents and black and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Heeres, mother of the bridegroom, wore a royal blue taffeta dress and matching accessories. Their corsages were of pink and white fringed carnations.

Mrs. Gertie Doctor, grandmother of the bridegroom, selected a navy crepe dress, black accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

A reception followed in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Doctor, uncle and aunt of the bride, as master and mistress of ceremonies. A four-tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment tables. Assisting the Ladies Aid who were in charge of the reception were Rose Ann Elzinga and Carolyn Anderson of Muskegon, Donna Klooster and Louise DeYoung.

A short program featured readings by Mrs. Harold Jansen and Theodore Heeres, vocal solos by Silas Doctor and Don Heeres and a skit by Mrs. John Klooster and daughter, Bonnie.

After a wedding trip to the upper peninsula, the couple will reside in Grand Rapids. For traveling the bride wore a turquoise knit suit with white angora trim, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of the Banks township high school which the bridegroom also attended.

Guests were present from Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Detroit, Traverse City, Kalamazoo, Charlevoix, Alwood and Ellsworth.

Boyne City Wins 40-0 Over Pellston Squad

For the second week in a row, only one game was played in the Northern Michigan Class C league after flu epidemics in participating schools necessitated cancellation of games.

Boyne City romped over Pellston by a score of 40 to 0 in the only game Friday night.

High-scoring Rambler fullback, Carl Charon and halfback Bob Christensen accounted for two touchdowns apiece and Doug Newville and Morey Hobbs one each in the meeting with Pellston.

In the second play of the ball game Christensen romped 78 yards on a reverse play to score for the Boyne eleven. Charon added the extra point on a kick. On the first play from scrimmage after taking a Homet punt, Charon went off tackle to score on a 55 yard run and then booted the conversion.

Late in the first quarter Charon scored again, this time on a 37 yard run around right end before leaving the game when he became ill.

The second quarter was scoreless but as the second half opened Christensen broke away for a 26 yard run which resulted in a touchdown. Doug Newville kicked the extra point.

Later in the third period Newville went around end to score from the 20 yard marker and added the extra point on a boot.

Hobbs scored from the two yard line on a quarterback sneak midway in the last quarter to conclude the Ramblers scoring attack.

Pellston never threatened in the meeting with the league leading Ramblers.

Boyne City had two touchdowns called back when they were nullified by penalties.

Three Football Games Scheduled for Friday

With only three games remaining to be played by each of the teams in the Northern Michigan Class C league, the meeting between Boyne City and Gaylord has already been cancelled, leaving only three to be played Friday.

Barring complications, Charlevoix is scheduled to play at East Jordan, Harbor Springs will host Grayling and Manicella will play at Pellston.

This marks the third week that games have had to be cancelled because of a flu epidemic in one or both of the participating schools.

When Charlevoix and East Jordan play this week it will mark the first appearance of both teams since Oct. 11 when Charlevoix played Pellston and East Jordan hosted Gaylord. Since then both teams have been idle because of the flu in their own schools or in the schools of their opponents.

Chevrolet makes Public Appearance At Charlevoix Oil Co. Dramatic new styling and outstanding engineering advances mark the 1958 Chevrolet which made its bow in Charlevoix today.

Labeled "the car of the year" by newsmen and technical writers who have attended private showings, the new model was unveiled today at the Charlevoix Oil Co. show room.

The 1958 Chevrolet is new from bumper to bumper and from frame to roof line. The all-new features include, among other things, a completely restyled car which is longer, lower and wider and emphasizes flowing sculptured lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders.

It also features a 348-cubic inch engine which is new from fan to flywheel. Designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, the optional turbo-thrust V-8 offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance.

Charlevoix Oil Co. extends an invitation to everyone to visit the show room and see first hand the new Chevrolet models now on display.

Buick Features Miracle Ride And New Styling for '59

Buick this week presented its 1958 line of cars.

The models, with dynamic new styling, feature the new miracle ride, a revolutionary new dynamometer, improved brakes with thicker linings and a host of other engineering changes.

The new car went on display at the Perry Motor Sales show room in Petoskey Tuesday and will remain on display for the remainder of the week.

A spokesman for the company said that this is the beginning of a new era for Buick. The new styling which features the most dazzling grille design in the history of Buick, is a complete departure from the industry's traditional front end design.

The models now on display feature a new high in automotive engineering which must be seen to be appreciated. An invitation has been extended by Perry Motor Sales to everyone interested in the "newest of new cars" to visit the show room in Petoskey.

New Dodge for '58 Now on Display At Brown Motors

Significant advances in safety engineering, fuel economy, and engine performance, plus dramatic "swept-wing" styling, distinguish the 1958 Dodge passenger cars which are making their debut today (Thursday).

In Charlevoix the 1958 Dodge cars will be displayed in the showroom at Brown Motors.

The all-new Ram Fire V-8 engine, designed for top economy and performance, as well as a quiet operation, heads a long list of important engineering features of Swept-Wing '58. Among these are the "sure-grip" differential, which provides pulling power to the rear wheels with the most traction, eliminating wheel-spinning on ice or snow, or in sand and mud.

Dodge engineers have combined beauty with engineering advancements to make Dodge the top car in its price range on the road today.

Brown Motors has extended an invitation to the car-driving public to see the beautiful new models now on display at their showroom.

In Charlevoix there are approximately 150 girls and 25 leaders and assistant leaders participating in the Girl Scout program. The adult membership, including the Girl Scout Council, is entirely voluntary. The Charlevoix Council is headed by Mrs. Lloyd Arnold.

Holy Cross Church to be Moved To New Site on Beaver Island

St. James, B. I.—The 96-year-old Holy Cross church will be moved this week from its present location on the island to a new site overlooking St. James harbor.

The almost-century old church, part of which is said to be constructed of logs, will be moved along the King's Highway to the village located on the northeast section of this 17-mile long island by the Central State Building Movers of Mt. Pleasant.

Moving the church is considered a most unusual procedure but the Rev. Father Joseph Herp OFM (C), pastor of the church since 1951, has an explanation for the proposed project. As he puts it, "We couldn't afford to build a new church so we have no choice but to move it. After all, Christ wants to be in the midst of His people so how else can this be accomplished than to have the church in the midst of the populated area of the island?"

Father Joseph, as he is called by the parishioners who number 57 households, can give no explanation of why the church was constructed so far from the village by the Irish settlers who flocked to this northern Lake Michigan island following the assassination of King James Jesse Strang in 1856. Strang, it will be recalled, took his Mormon followers to Beaver Island in the late 1840's. Later he proclaimed himself king of the colony which he ruled with an iron hand until his untimely death in 1856 after he was shot by two island residents who resented Strang and his doctrines. Following his death the Mormons were driven from the island and the Irish settlers arrived in large numbers and assumed possession of the homes formerly occupied by the Mormons.

According to Father Joseph of the Franciscan Order, Holy Cross church is the third Catholic church on Beaver Island. The first church was a crude structure of logs, hides and birch bark constructed by the Indians on Indian point on the northwest section of the island in 1832 under the guidance of Father Baraga, who later became the Bishop of Marquette. The early missionary is credited with bringing Christianity and Catholicism to the Ottawa and Chippewa Indians although earlier missionaries had traveled through the area. Nothing is known of the fate of the Catholic church during the years of Mormon occupation but it is

Ralph Washburn, Pioneer Resident Dies at Grandview

N. Ralph Washburn, 83, lifelong resident of this community, died late Wednesday at Grandview hospital near East Grandview where he had been a patient since January 1956. He had been in failing health for several years.

The body is at the Winchester Funeral Home. Arrangements had not been completed Wednesday night.

Born in Charlevoix Aug. 6, 1874, the son of O. S. and Margaret Washburn, Norman Ralph had always lived in this community. He was a millwright and machinist and for many years operated a machine shop on the south side of Round lake. He was also a printer, a trade he learned while on the staff of the Charlevoix Sentinel. He was active in community affairs and served two terms as second ward alderman. He also was chairman of the Board of Works for many years.

He was a life member of the Knights of Pythias and at one time was a member of the Macabees lodge.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Luna E. Wellman of Woodbury, N. J., and a brother, Roy A. of Long Beach, Calif.

Burning Chimney Threatens House

Rayder Reserves Score Victory Over Petoskey

Charlevoix's little Rayders rolled over the Petoskey Reserves by a score of 26 to 6 at Kipke field Tuesday night.

In an earlier game Charlevoix dumped the Northmen Reserves 26 to 12.

In the meeting Tuesday Charlevoix marched the ball from their own 30 yard line to the two yard line to score midway in the first quarter.

In the second period Joe Beaudoin, on the 15 yard line got off a pass which right end Charles Coleman took in the end zone for the second tally. Beaudoin passed to left end Jim Ladd for the extra point to give the little Rayders a 13 to 0 halftime lead.

Charlevoix recovered a Petoskey fumble on their own 30 yard line in the third period and in five plays moved the ball to the seven yard line from where Beaudoin went over on a quarterback sneak. Later in the period, Chew intercepted a Petoskey pass and went 25 yards to score. Carl Sneathen ran the ball over for the extra point.

Petoskey's only touchdown was scored late in the final quarter by DeWayne Annis who took a Charlevoix punt and romped 65 yards to score.

The Charlevoix Reserves will conclude their 1957 season in a game at Boyne City at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

New School Addition Dedicated Monday at Ellsworth Ceremony

"A good education is imperative in today's world. To give our young people this education it is important that we have good schools," Charles Langdon of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction told the people of the Ellsworth district at the dedication of the new addition to the Banks township school Monday night.

He went on to say that the people of Ellsworth should be proud of the new addition which was dedicated Monday night.

The dedication ceremony Monday climaxed a building program which started last year at this time when ground was broken for four new classrooms.

The $171,000 project included the construction of a combination gymnasium and auditorium which is 92 by 98 feet. When used as a gymnasium folding bleachers are used. Chairs are placed on the floor when the building is used as an auditorium.

The project also included the construction of four classrooms adjacent to the existing elementary building. These rooms feature the most modern lighting and ventilation systems. They are now in use.

The dedication ceremony was the first major event held in the new auditorium-gymnasium.

Until now all public meetings as well as basketball games were held in the town hall.

No Time for "Sputnik Hysteria"

Why get so disturbed because Russia has put a "Sputnik" and a "Mutnik" in space ahead of us? Let's admit it a scientific achievement and leave off with the hysterical criticism of government and officials that is more apt to result in a divided front than a united front if the satellite really presents a threat to our security.

When every citizen is dependent upon the state for his existence and answerable to the state for his every move it is little wonder that Russia has been able to draft the best that science, industry and labor can produce to become a first. It is common knowledge that Russia has carried on an intensive educational program for some time but that program is concentrated on those who can be of definite value to the state. We have seen plenty of what happens to the individual whose ideas conflict with those of the state.

It seems to us that individual freedom and private enterprise are far more valuable than just being a first with a scientific feat. If Sputnik poses a threat to our security it is time to form a united front in counteract it instead of using it as an issue to create distrust for self-centered motives.

A republic, by its very nature, is made up of opposing forces but as long as those opposing forces can set aside selfish interest and unite against a common danger, whether it be in the field of science, industry or armament, we should have faith in our ability to catch up with sputniks.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

This you'll find hard to believe, but Mrs. Albert Edwards told us the other day that she'd picked a pint of red raspberries in her garden Thursday. Now that's something for the last day of October. She said she'd been picking berries all along but she thought these would be the last of the berries for this year. Don't believe there's been a killing frost around here for there's seeds of flowers including petunias and outdoor mums still in bloom all over the place. Even after the snow last week. These brave blossoms are sure an appreciated sight now that there are so few flowers left.

If the weather we had on the first day of the month is any criterion of what's to come, we've got it made. Have seen few days as beautiful as that one this time of year. Everyone, except of course, the deer hunters, are hoping it will last till Christmas.

And speaking of deer hunters, if any of your family is taking off for hunting camp have about giving up a ring to tell us about it. And to those hunters who'll take to the woods and fields around here, don't forget to give us a ring when and if you get your back to opening day. We'd like to know the time, the general area, the approximate weight and the number of points on the antlers that is. The office number is 2211 and ours is 6833 so don't forget to call.

Even if you didn't look at the calendar you'd know what time of year it was if you walked past Staley's Hardware. Where the annual fall hunting scene has been up for some time. Complete with all the equipment and a number of deer heads, that is.

By the way, who had more fun last week than all the young folks who went on the town to "track and treat"?

Well, we think it was the youngsters who took them around and those at the homes where the youngsters stopped to pick up a treat. You know, in the old days they say that hoboes used to mark houses where the hand-outs were worthwhile. The youngsters must do the same thing for there are some places they never go. and then there are those they never miss.

And if you haven't any use for that jack-o'-lantern now that Halloween is over, may we suggest that you use it to roast marshmallows. That idea isn't original but one thought-up by Garryn Bice who put the idea to use the day after Halloween.

Oh yes, did you happen to see spooknik on Halloween? One of the parents in our neighborhood, escorting some youngsters on their rounds turned up with one. Rather clever, we thought.

Then there was the youngster who won a prize in the Halloween parade, decked out like "spooknik" another red square. And speaking of spooknik, did you see the object in the sky one night last week. Lots of people throughout the area did. and are still wondering what they saw. We didn't happen to see it. but unless it was wearing a sign and lighting up in 16 different colors we wouldn't see it anyway.

Now that "mutnik" is in the sky, suppose someone will be seeing that. Haven't checked with any ham operators to see if the signal is being picked up as sputnik's was.

You know, everyone's trying to be the first to make a trip to outer space. And then there are those who wouldn't give a hang for a trip to outer space, the moon or any other such strange place. Maybe several thousand feet up via regular airliner but no farther, thank you.

Our community certainly was hit by bad fires last week. One early Tuesday at Norwood in which the Charles Weiser family lost all their belonging plus their home and another on Wednesday in which the Jerry Butcheres lost many of their possessions and in which the home they were buying was badly damaged. The first serious fires we've had for some time. As serious as the fires were it was fortunate that no lives were lost for there could have been.

For their fine work following the fire at Norwood the residents of that little community are certainly to be commended. It is one of the few places that can be described as a "closely knit" community. The fire at the Weisers was discovered at 4:30 a. m. And 12 hours later the people in this community had cleaned the school which is no longer used, had given the gathered enough furnishings, linens and what have you to furnish the building after a fashion so that the family had a place to live. That's neighborliness that you seldom see in this day and age. People who will forget themselves like this to help those in need deserve the praise and gratitude of everyone. We feel fortunate to count such people among our friends.

The homecoming, postponed from Oct. 18, will be held this weekend. There'll be the snake dance, bonfire and pep rally, the latter at Kipke field Thursday night. The parade featuring a school band, Friday afternoon. Host of floats led by the high school band, Friday afternoon and then the big homecoming game with Harbor Springs Friday night. Weather-wise we have our fingers crossed. Jill Davis, with tongue in cheek, has assured us there's nothing to worry about in this department. We hope she's right. So why not plan now to take in the festivities. It's going to be good fun.

And to Coach Carey and his Baydies the best of luck in this week's game and the meeting with Boyne City come Nov. 13. We think the Baydies have what it takes despite the loss Friday night. So how's about getting into that old "fightin' spirit" for the two big meetings. Who knows? If you try you might even make Nov. 13 Boyne City's unluckiest day!

But come what may, we'll be there rooting for all of you every inch of the 100 yards. on that gridiron.

Remember the Four Goons? There was Quint Walker who's now in Japan with the Army, Ed Carson who's attending Michigan Tech, Terry Davis, a student at Michigan State and Joe K. who's presently in California. As far as we know Joe is the only one who's still doing some pantomiming. His mother tells us that he put on his singlets at a Youth Center in a community near San Francisco and made such a hit that he's been asked to perform regularly with an orchestra at the center. Joe, Guy Swanson and Charlie Dennis all went west earlier this fall. All have jobs in the area we understand.

You know those perch you've been hearing about at Beaver Island? We have proof that they're as big and delicious as they say a great deal to the entire state for our friend Johnny Gallagher sent us some and we've enjoyed every bite.

There were those who said it wouldn't be done. but last Friday these pessimists were shown a thing or two. for the great Mackinac bridge was opened and is now in use across the Straits of Mackinaw. It's called the miracle bridge at Mackinac and it's that and more.

What it means to the people of the upper peninsula was put into words the other day by Mrs. Emory Pierce of the Soo. who said that "We no longer feel as tho' we're in Alaska."

Now we feel as though we belong to the rest of the state of Michigan. It's going to mean as big and delicious as they say a great deal to the entire state and will prove it's worth in many ways. Don't it make you feel proud that you're living in such a grand state?

A curious record of pine carvings in the Mackinac Straits bridge. The best of a forest conflagration is needed to trigger the slow opening of arms and release of seeds. Thus the tree automatically replant a burned over tract.

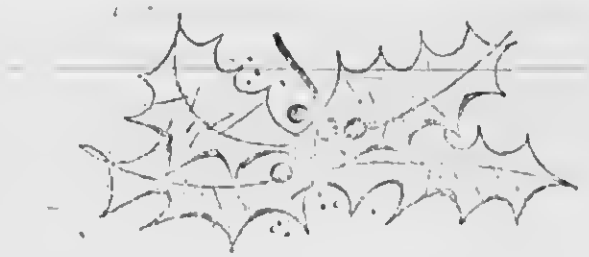

What is the life expectancy of Michigan's Mackinac Straits bridge? It's engineer-designer, David B. Steinman, New York, says the span is built to remain serviceable for at least a century.

Koehler - Lehman Speak Wedding Vows At Mount Zion Church in Detroit

Mount Zion Lutheran church in Detroit was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Marilyn Faye Koehler and Charles Raymond Lehman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Koehler and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William VerMeulen of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lehman of Detroit are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. George Chermak officiated at the double ring service before an altar graced with arrangements of white gladioli and mums and pink roses and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white velvet for her wedding. Styled with a fitted bodice, Victorian collar and long sleeves appliqued with lace, the tiered skirt ended in a chapel length train. A velvet cap embroidered with seedpearls secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white mums centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Kenneth Garner, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Audrey Anderson, Elizabeth MacDonald, Dorothy Ketch and Mrs. William Koehler. They wore identical gowns of peacock blue velvet fashioned with scoop necklines, bracelet length sleeves, princess waitlines with a full skirt featuring a back drape. They carried baskets of yellow and gold mums.

Paula Lynn Garner, niece of the bride, as flower girl wore a floor length gown of rose velvet and carried a basket of white mums and pink roses.

Michael Lehman assisted his brother as best man and ushers were Robert Lehman, Gerald Fagge, Robert Alfes and Robert Ajax.

A reception followed in the Mount Zion Fellowship hall.

The couple will be at home at 8342 Spencer ave. in Detroit following a wedding trip to Lake Worth, Fla. For the bride were a gray Indian cotton dress with matching jacket and matching accessories.

Legion Head Urges Observance Of Veterans' Day; Flag Display

A rallying call went out today from state headquarters of the American Legion to all citizens of Michigan urging a dramatic demonstration of national unity on Veterans' Day, November 11.

State Commander, Giles Reeve of Ecorse has reemphasized the conviction of National Commander, John S. Gleason of Chicago, that "there is a great need to remind the entire world . . . friend, enemy and neutral . . . that the citizens of the United States have always and will always stand together in the face of common danger."

Gleason, who has just returned from a brief Crusade for Freedom trip to Europe, is of the opinion that neutral and friendly nations of the world are being blackmailed by Kremlin exploitation of Sputnik. "The American Legion," he says, "can serve as a rallying point for a great new national unity demonstration."

Both Reeve and Gleason predict that a display of the American flag over every home and building on Veterans' Day would be a massive reaffirmation of our love of country.

The state's 510 American Legion posts, representing some 55,000 Legionnaires, have been requested by Commander Reeve to contact the clergy in their communities in order to effect a mass ringing of church bells at 11:00 a. m. on that day. All citizens are also urged to offer silent prayer at that time for world peace and unity.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Pontas and daughter, Denise, left Saturday to make their home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sonecal have returned to their home in Newawa following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Greenway.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shaw left Wednesday for Osprey, Fla., where they plan to spend the winter months.

Defensive Driving Urged by Truckers In Safety Campaign

Michigan's trucking industry is conducting a November safety campaign focused on defensive driving.

W. H. Boutell, president of the Michigan Trucking Association, defines defensive driving as driving so as to make quick, correct decisions in emergencies. It is based on the assumption that the other driver is likely to make a mistake at any moment. It is driving to defend oneself.

Boutell pointed out that the defensive driver is a safer driver, since he is constantly aware of the overall traffic picture and drives ahead of himself. He knows what action he will take in case of an emergency.

"Driving can be a pleasure if we train ourselves to watch the other driver," he emphasized.

Mistakes to watch for include:

1. Changing lanes suddenly.
2. Turning improperly from the wrong lane.
3. Trying to "beat" traffic lights.
4. Stopping suddenly without warning.
5. Improper pulling out from the curb.

According to Boutell, the defensive driver considers weather, traffic and road conditions while driving. He keeps in mind the human factor — which is the greatest cause for highway accidents.

Elephants make a dreadful din while feeding in the forest. Branches crack like pistol shots, and trees crash to earth. Yet, on seeming danger, the herd can move away almost in silence, hardly disturbing the foliage, the National Geographic Magazine says.

Holy Cross Church To Be Relocated

The majority of today's population live in or near St. James. Father Joseph feels that with the church on the new site which was donated by the Gallagher estate it will be much easier for the people to attend services more often.

How do the island residents, many of whom are considered "old-timers", feel about the project? There are those who feel that the church should remain where it was built and then there are others who feel that it will be better to have the church where the island population is.

The site selected for the church is across the street from the parish hall where services will be held until the church has been moved to its new foundation and the project completed. This is expected to take up to three weeks.

Father Joseph said that the project was made possible by a $5,000 grant from the Catholic Extension Society of America. Without this financial assistance by the Society we could never hope to accomplish our goal, he said.

Equipment to move the church was brought to the island aboard the freighter, Mackinac Island, owned by Ernest Manthe of Petoskey. Mr. Manthe offered to transport the heavy equipment when it was found that it was too big to be moved aboard the motorship, Escalade Isle, the ferry which operates between Beaver Island and the mainland at Charlevoix.

San Francisco, the "City That Was", following the earthquake and fire of 1906, quickly rose from the ruins. At the time, huge billboards proclaimed the shattered city's spirit: "Don't talk earthquake. Talk business."

Justice Court News

Justice John Connolly reported the following cases which appeared in his court during the past week.

Neil Shohind of Inkster, charged with speeding, was ordered to pay a $5.00 fine and $4.50 costs. Summons issued by State Police.

Clifford Pierce, 17, charged with malicious destruction of property, was ordered to pay $5.00 costs and to make restitution for damages. Summons issued on a citizen's complaint.

Dan McAllister, 70, charged with failing to yield the right of way, was ordered to pay $5.00 fine, $3.30 costs and surrender as driver's license.

James Baker Jr., 18, of Bay Shore, charged with reckless driving, was ordered to pay a $25.00 fine, $3.30 costs and surrender as driver's license.

Prince Phillip Recalls 40,000 Mile Journey to Open Olympics

Prince Philip, planning a round-the-world trip last year, remembers that he was like the wayfarer who knocked on a farmhouse door and said "Lady would you kindly sew a shirt and this button?"

The trip grew out of an invitation to open the Olympic Games in Australia. That pleasant chore merely involved making a speech, which the Prince composed and delivered with true economy of words. "I declare open the Olympic Games of Melbourne, celebrating the XVth Olympiad of the modern era."

As things turned out, a remarkable shirt grew from the button. Why not use the opportunity, Prince Philip asked himself, to pay calls on remote, lonely fringes of the Empire? His itinerary was expanded into a 40,000-mile, four-month journey that ended early this year.

The account of Prince Philip's unique tour among British Commonwealth people appears in the November issue of the National Geographic Magazine. Publication of the story coincides as nearly as possible with the visit of Queen Elizabeth and the Prince to the United States, and the presentation of a special gold medal to the Royal Highness by President Eisenhower in behalf of the National Geographic Society.

Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, has a strong personal interest in geography and science. In an introduction to the narrative of the journey, which was prepared by staff writer Beverly M. Bowie with the help of Prince Philip's reminiscences and personal diaries, the Prince writes: "I visited the Chatham Islands, 500 miles east of New Zealand, population 600; Graham Land, population 60 temporary inhabitants and several million penguins; the Falkland Islands, population 2,000; Tristan da Cunha, population 250; and St. Helena, population 5,000."

"All of these places are off the shipping routes, without airfields, and contain human communities which may not have all the modern conveniences, but certainly have many advantages over the big cities of population. You may not have a television set, but you will get more of it."

In one primitive corner of the Commonwealth, Philip found that he was known among tribesmen as "Man belong Missus Queen." Explaining the goddess and steel-strong ties of the Commonwealth, the Prince writes:

"The Crown is not just an impersonal symbol, it is a living institution, continuing from generation to generation. It is little wonder therefore that the people were interested to see and meet The Queen's husband and to show, through him, their affection and loyalty to their Sovereign."

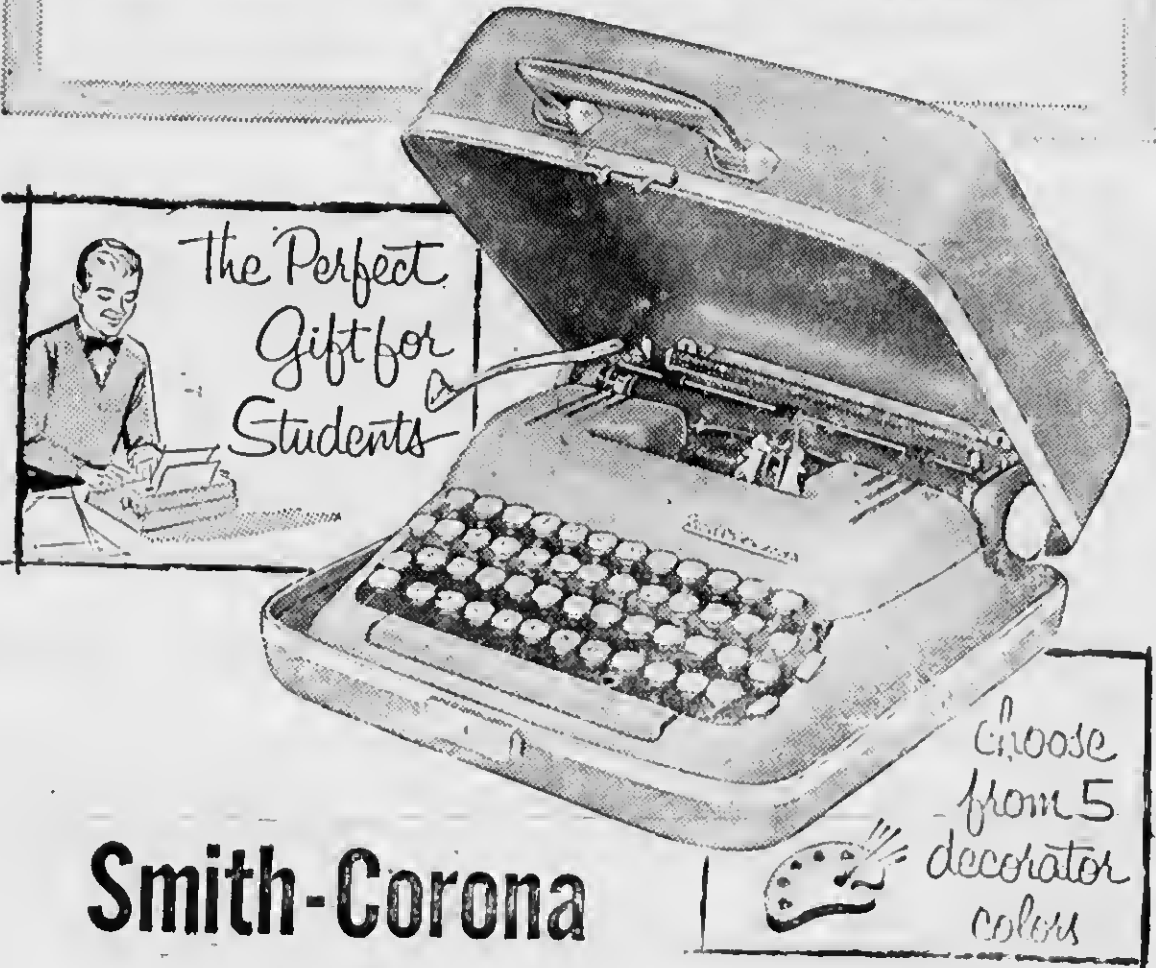

Prince Philip boarded the royal yacht Britannia at Mombasa, Kenya, after a flight from London via Gibraltar. Exotic names appeared in succession on the ship's log—the Seychelles, Ceylon, Malaya, Australian New Guinea, the Admiralties.

From Darwin, Australia, the Prince drove 65 miles through the bush to Rim Jungle, the uranium center; was told of the loss of 500 lives of mining in Australia's Northern Territory; and capped his visit by chugging 18 miles up an estuary in the dark and shooting a six-foot crocodile between its eyes.

In 106-degree heat, Prince Philip visited one of Australia's largest outback stations—a 5,000-square-mile ranch with 43,000 cattle.

Australia and New Zealand marked the end of the outward journey. Returning, Britannia sailed to ice-studded waters of the Antarctic, then headed homeward via tiny Atlantic islands

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Meaningful Conversation

If you will stand outdoors on these chill autumn evenings, you may chance to hear the distant conservation of migrating birds as they call to each other through the darkness. Sometimes the muted honks of wild geese float down from a moonlit sky. Again the thin, high piping of South-bound warblers greet an attentive ear. Bell-like voices of myriad species of feathered travelers set the heavens ablaze with vital communications that keep individual birds from getting lost from the flock. It is as if these pilgrims were reminding each other that no one need be lonely. "We are all together. No one need make this hard journey alone. We are at each other's side to guide, to help and to cheer."

Human beings need something of this deep native wisdom and grace of the migrating birds, the wisdom and grace to use their powers of communication for good, for maintaining fellowship, for strengthening faltering spirits, for cheerful purposes.

How often our conversation is meaningless and inconsequential! When William Gillette, the actor, was a young man he lived in a boarding house. At that time he was studying stenography and thought it a good idea to practice shorthand evenings while sitting in the drawing room with other boarders and listening to their conversation. So one evening after another he took down every word spoken by the guests. Mr.

Gillette, referring to this experience, one time told a friend, "Years later I went over my notes, and found that in four months of incessant conversation, no one had said anything that made any difference to anybody."

How long has it been since you were engaged in a conversation that made a real difference to you? Or, more important still, how long since you said anything that made a real difference in anyone else's?

On these fall nights, as migrating birds speed across the uncharted skies communication is carried on as if their lives depended upon it. It is the way they keep together and are heartened for their long journey.

Here is a spiritual exercise worthy of your highest effort. Try for one week to communicate with your fellow men as if their hope and cheer and very lives depended upon what you had to say.

Try it. You can be at least as good as a bird.

There is only one toll gate at the Mackinac Straits bridge, linking Michigan's two peninsulas. It is at the St. Ignace side of the span.

Held Monday for August VanderArk

Ellsworth—Funeral services for August VanderArk, 70, were held Monday afternoon in the Atwood Reformed church with Rev. Douglas VanGessel officiating.

Mr. VanderArk was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan, September 13, 1887 and came to this vicinity at the age of two.

On November 14, 1919, he was united in marriage to Jeannette Morrow. To them were born six children, all of whom survive. Two sons, August of Inkster, Michigan, Everett of Saint Cloud, Minnesota. Four daughters, Mary Breckenridge of Grand Rapids, Alice Chipman of Flint, Margaret Kerr of Inkster and Jean Kroger of Key Biscayne, Florida. Three sisters, Margaret Klooster and Winifred Hoffman of Ellsworth and Gertrude Vandenberg of Central Lake Rt. 1. Also twelve grandchildren.

Mr. VanderArk farmed in the Ellsworth area until 1921 when he entered the grocery business. Later he was owner and operator of Big Fish Inn, a resort hotel in Ellsworth.

In 1919 when the village was incorporated, Mr. VanderArk was elected to the first council and served in that capacity for seven years. He was a member of the Atwood Reformed church, the Ellsworth Sportsmen club, Lions club, Jansen-Richardson Post, American Legion, was a former member of the school board and had also served as Justice of Peace of Banks Twp.

In September of this year due to poor health he entered the Veterans hospital in Saginaw where his condition grew steadily worse and passed away Nov. 1st.

Burial took place in Atwood cemetery.

Dew Conscious Scientists Take Over Poets Domain

It is the old central idea of the poets that dew is the life-giving force.

Glancing droplets on grass and leaves, it has been learned in the past, is an important sign of rain. In some semi-arid places, dew is vital to plant life.

Dew does not fall from "the wings of clouds," as Shelley put it. It does not fall at all. It is formed in the same way that water films a pitcher of iced tea, the National Geographic Society says.

When the sun goes down, the air cools and can no longer hold as much water vapor as it did during the day. The moisture condenses on leaves and other objects. When the temperature drops below freezing, dew becomes frost.

Dew is formed most heavily on clear nights of fall; when there are few clouds to interfere with the radiation of heat from the earth's surface. Muggy or windy nights also hamper dew formation.

Ancient people were wise in the uses of dew. Significant current experiments were inspired by the repeated use of dew in the imagery of the Old Testament.

"I will be as the dew to Israel," promised the Lord in Hosea 14:5. Moses, just before his death, blessed the tribe of Joseph with the words, "Blessed be his land for the precious things of heaven, for the dew."

Pondering such statements, modern Israel has set up a network of dew-measuring stations. Experiments there show that some plants grow twice as fast with as without it.

In California it has been discovered that certain plants can grow without other water, if they have dew regularly. On dewless nights, a fine spray, using much less water than customary irrigation, keeps them healthy.

Dew is especially beneficial to young leaves. It comes at night, when plants do most of their growing. Scientists often find old leaves wet in the morning and young ones dry.

Young leaves can take in the dew directly and use it. Moreover, many plants can reverse their whole pumping systems, absorbing water through the leaves, distributing it to stem and roots, and even pushing it out into the soil in a time when it is needed.

Some early people used much the same principle to protect wheat crops and to treat diseases.

On a thin near-Jordan plain, for example, round pebbles, rather than being found in the soil, they were "laid out" at nightfall, edging up quantities of dew. The earth at dawn became wet enough to grow figs and grapes.

Similar pebble mounds in Feodosiya in the Crimea were equipped with pipes that carried the condensate to public fountains.

In Spain's southern provinces entire communities live below ground in natural caves, the National Geographic Magazine says. Their homes vary just as houses do: some have only a single room, others as many as 20 chambers with tiled floors and whitewashed walls. Granada's carvens, has sheltered many of Spain's finest singers and dancers.

The pirate Blackbeard was no Bluebeard. He is reported to have had 14 wives. Most of them are believed to have been alive to mourn him when he was killed.

Wildlife Ups and Downs

Scientific studies by game biologists indicate small game populations move in cycles, varying from abundance to scarcity and back over a period of years. Ruffed grouse populations in Michigan, for example, moved from a low point in 1945 to a high in 1951, back to low in 1955 and are on the upswing now.

Conservation biologists in many parts of the world are seeking answers to one of the unsolved mysteries in wildlife conservation—game population cycles.

Periodically, an "unexplained" catastrophe sweeps across the land, killing thousands—even millions of wild creatures. These game populations increase again, only to be decimated again in a few years.

These regular fluctuations of abundance and scarcity are known as "cycles," with one cycle covering a full swing from peak to depression and back to peak.

Some species show marked changes while others apparently are not affected. Cycles are most pronounced among large groups of wildlife, rodents, their predators and various gallinaceous birds, such as grouse and certain partridges.

Various species of mice and lemmings seem to fluctuate in number approximately every four years, while cycles for snowshoe hares, lynx and grouse seem to follow a pattern of approximately 10 years. Cycles are most apparent in northern areas, such as Canada, the northern United States and Scandinavian countries.

There are other complications in the mystery. A cycle for particular species may reach a peak in one area and not affect a neighboring area until years later. Also, it is not known how much cycles are related—between rodents and their predators, for example. It seems likely that a decrease in predators follows a decline in their food supply.

Some species, such as ruffed grouse, seem to follow a regular cycle pattern without regard for the cycles of other species, amount of hunting, or other known factors.

Meanwhile, biologists are busy studying habitat, food supply, age composition, physical condition and other factors of various species.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

Games in the Northern Michigan Class C League last week saw East Jordan upset Charlevoix by a score of 14 to 13 while Manelona dumped Pellston 26 to 0 and Harbor Springs shut out Grayling 39 to 0.

Manelona 26; Pellston 0

Pellston posed a threat to the Manelona Ironmen Friday as the Hornets took the kickoff and marched to the Manelona one. The threat was cut short, however, when the Hornets fumbled and Manelona recovered. From then on Manelona controlled the game.

Manelona took to the air to score their first touchdown with end Dexter Bailey scoring from the 15 yard line after taking a 30 yard pass from quarterback Ronnie Johnson. Johnson passed to Bailey for the extra point to put the Ironmen ahead 7 to 0.

In the second period full back John Phillips romped 45 yards and later in the period full back Jerry Bell went over from the 19 yard line to give the Ironmen a 14 to 0 lead. The game was over.

Charlevoix's last game will be played on Nov. 13. Grayling will play at East Jordan and Gaylor will play at Pellston. The following Wednesday, games postponed from Oct. 23 will be played. This action will see Charlevoix facing Boyne City, East Jordan playing at Manelona and Gaylor entertaining Grayling. Harbor Springs and Pellston are the only teams that played on that date.

Wednesday's games will conclude the current season which was riddled with cancellations due to the influenza epidemic which hit all schools in the area.

The Charlevoix - Grayling - East Jordan - Harbor Springs and Gaylor - Manelona games scheduled on Oct. 23 and the Boyne City - Gaylor game called off on Nov. 1 will not be rescheduled because of the weather and the basketball season which will open Dec. 6.

The Boyne City, Manelona game will be the headliner Friday. The league-leading Ramblers will be defending their first place standing when they travel to Manelona to take on the Ironmen. Boyne City with four wins have yet to be scored on much less defeated this season. On the other hand, Manelona has a record of three wins and one loss, the latter to Harbor Springs (15-13), a team the Ramblers dumped 26 to 0. Manelona has an excellent team and their passing offense leaves little to be desired but whether they have the defense to halt fullback Carl Charon and Co. remains to be seen. It is doubtful if they can do what no other team has accomplished this season but they will be trying. A win by Manelona would give the Ironmen a share of the title. If they lose, the title will go to Harbor Springs. A win by Grayling would give them a share of the title. If they lose, the title will go to Harbor Springs. A win by Pellston would give them a share of the title. If they lose, the title will go to Harbor Springs.

Harbor Springs will be playing their first game in four weeks when they entertain the Pellston Hornets this week. How they will meet competition after such a long lay-off will not be known until game time Friday but the Grayling eleven should come up with a victory over Pellston whose only win has been over Grayling.

Six of the eight teams in the loop will take on league opponents Wednesday to conclude the current season.

The Charlevoix - Boyne City game will head the list. If the Rayders can get past Harbor Springs Friday they may be able to take the loop champs. However, after their defeat at the hands of East Jordan it is doubtful if they can accomplish this feat.

Manelona will find itself with another tough opponent in East Jordan next Wednesday. The Red but in the final quarter Jerry Bell went over from the eight yard line.

Pellston played its best game of the season with fullback Jack Schmalzer and fullback McClutchie leading the action.

Harbor Springs 39; Grayling 0. Harbor Springs took the Grayling kickoff and three plays later fullback Sam Goke scored from the 11 yard line to open the Rams' offensive attack. Quarterback Rene Clarke's kick was blocked.

Later in the first period fullback Jack Meyer went over from the eight yard line. This time Clarke's boot was wide. Clarke intercepted a Viking pass and romped 30 yards to score and then ran the ball over for the extra point to give Harbor Springs a 19 to 0 first quarter advantage.

In the second period Clarke scored again, this time on a 20 yard line and Clarke booted the conversion point and halfback John Barowski plunged over from the one yard line and Clarke ran the ball over to give the Rams a 39 to 0 win over the Grayling eleven.

Solidly built on a 121-inch wheelbase, the Star Chief Catalina is synonymous with big car styling and comfort, and is available in four models; two and four-door Catalinas, a four-door, slim pillar sedan and a four-door Custom Safari station wagon. Among the fine features of this series is the big "Tempest 395" V-8 engine and "prestige" interior of glamorous leather and fabric.

Sixteen all-new models in four series... headed by a "dream car" series of two family sports-type cars — are presented by Pontiac in 1958, General Motors' Golden Jubilee year.

These bold new cars which are both a tribute to GM's Golden Jubilee and Pontiac's 50th anniversary will be displayed in the Urick Pontiac-Cadillac Sales room at 103 Antrim st. Saturday.

The 1958 Pontiacs are lower, longer, wider and combine performance and comfort with high style and luxurious interiors. In addition to the new top-of-the-line Bonneville convertible and sport coupe, Pontiac offers other new innovations for '58. Among them are a convertible in the lowest priced Chieftain line, air ride suspension as an option in all models, along with improved fuel injection, introduced. There are many other engineering advancements and model changes which must be seen to be appreciated. Jean Urick of Urick Pontiac-Cadillac Sales has issued an invitation to the public to come to his showroom at 103 Antrim st. and see the beautiful new 1958 Pontiacs on display beginning Saturday.

Construction on the five-mile Mackinac Straits bridge, linking Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas, was started in July, 1954. It is opening in November, 1957, marked the great achievement by contractors who kept ahead of schedule.

State-Federal Team Work to Benefit State's Handicapped

Dreams are coming true for 3,000 Michigan's New... State-Federal Team Work to Benefit State's Handicapped

Michigan's Mackinac Straits bridge, according to David B. Steinman, designing engineer, can bear a maximum load equivalent to a "continuous line of heavy trucks about 50 feet apart on each of the four lanes—a load which will probably never be obtained under actual conditions. Under ordinary heavy traffic the average load will probably be less than one-third of that load.

Local Emergencies Aided by Lenore Goldman Meyer Fund

A report on the activities of the Lenore Goldman Meyer fund for the fiscal year which ended in August was made at the annual meeting of the local administration committee held last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ranger.

The report revealed that a total of $12,379.97 was spent during the 1956-57 fiscal year. This included $4,000 for emergency assistance involving 36 persons and $310.42 for milk for needy children at the Charlevoix public, St. Mary's parochial and the Charlevoix Retarded Children's schools.

The $928.54 spent for emergency assistance to some 36 persons was in the form of clothing, food and other items. The amount spent last year tops the figures of $559.95 spent during 1955-56.

The amount spent for milk also increased from $231.95 to $310.42 last year.

The milk program is made possible by the free donation of the cash by the 5000-2000s who see that milk is given to those children who might not otherwise receive this important diet item. The fund underwrites the cost of the milk for these children.

The expenditures during the past year bring to $10,130.96 the amount spent since the fund was established in 1941.

Members of the local administration committee are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meyer, permanent members of the committee and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Anee and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamlin. The latter couple was named to the committee this fall to succeed Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bice who had served with the group for the past two years.

Duties of the local committee are to investigate and evaluate all cases referred to them and to administer the Goldman Meyer fund.

File Appeal in Controversial Foote Estate

Judge Charles L. Brown has taken under advisement four appeals which were filed against the disposition of assets by the probate court in the controversial $40,000 estate dispute of the late Frank Foote, East Jordan recluse who died Dec. 29, 1954.

Two appeals were filed by B. V. Halstead of Petoskey to get Mrs. Minnie Gibson of Summit, Miss., sister of Foote, more of a share; an appeal was filed by Wendell M. Miles, U. S. District Attorney of Grand Rapids, asking that all of the $14,000 in government bonds go to the government and an appeal was entered by Charles Menmuir of Traverse City and William Downs of East Jordan in behalf of the Red Cross which was to receive, according to the will, some $11,000 in securities following the death of Mrs. Gibson who was to receive the interest from the securities until her death.

The appeals were filed during the recent October term of circuit court.

Charles Brooks of Ellsworth was sentenced to one to two years in Southern Michigan prison by Judge Brown during the recent term of court. He was charged with uttering and publishing worthless checks.

Homecoming Plans Upset By Weather

Weather in the form of a snow storm accompanied by high winds resulted in the postponement of all homecoming festivities with the exception of the coronation of the 1957 homecoming queen during the pep rally Thursday evening.

At that time Esther Boss was crowned 1957 homecoming queen by Mayor James Hiller who spoke briefly. Members of her court, Wanda Russell, Mary Schuchard, Mary Ann Berg and Susie Duerr, also were introduced by Mr. Hiller.

Mike McCann was master of ceremonies at the rally. He introduced Coach Don Carey, Larry Smith who represented the Rayder football team, Leonard Burns and Fran Martin, all of whom addressed the students and fans who gathered at Kipke field for the rally. Cheerleaders led the crowd in a number of cheers. Special music was by the Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark. A snake dance and bonfire preceded the pep rally.

The homecoming parade scheduled for Friday was postponed until Wednesday afternoon. At that time parade judges, Mrs. E. D. Hawley, Hal M. Hill and Fran Martin were to view the parade and name the best decorated floats entered by the high school classes.

Queen Esther and her court were to be introduced at halftime of the Charlevoix-Bozette City game. The high school band was also scheduled to present a special homecoming show as part of the halftime festivities. The winning floats were also scheduled to circle the football field.

Rayders, Bob Mol and Larry Ingalls, were dubbed co-captains of the 1957 football team during the homecoming dance Friday night.

The homecoming was originally scheduled for Oct. 18. A flu epidemic which closed the local schools forced postponement at that time.

The homecoming festivities were in charge of the pep club headed by Judy Ingalls.

H. A. Hamilton, 77, Succumbs Sunday at Detroit Hospital

H. A. Hamilton, 77, father of Mrs. Fenton R. Bulow, died at Grace hospital in Detroit early Sunday. He had been in failing health for some time.

Funeral services were held at the Armstrong Funeral Home in Detroit Tuesday with burial at Charlotte.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Bulow; two sons, Edward of Springfield, Ohio, and Robert of Detroit; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bulow had gone to Detroit Saturday to visit relatives. They remained there to attend the funeral services and returned home Tuesday evening.

Distribution of Highway Vehicle Fund Completed

The Michigan State Highway Department has completed distribution of the Motor Vehicle Highway fund as collected under Act 51 of 1951 and Act 87, as supplemented by Acts 153 and 262 of 1957.

The amended act combined old Act 51 of 1951 and Act 87, public Acts of 1955, and reallocated funds to the State Highway Department, counties and municipalities.

Third quarter monies received by the county totaled $64,187.03 while the city of Charlevoix received $5,723.20; Boyne City, $7,851.60; East Jordan, $4,099.32 and Boyne Falls, $767.92.

Charlevoix county also was one of the 23 counties to share in the distribution of snow removal funds. The distribution is based on the number of "inch miles of snowfall" in each of the counties recording over 70 inches of snow.

The reimbursement formula multiplies the number of inches of snow by the number of miles of road in the county road commission.

Charlevoix county which had 8,378 inches of snowfall received $4,833.58.

Plan Annual Smorgasbord to Benefit Ski Run

Plans for the second annual smorgasbord sponsored by the Charlevoix-Mt. McSamba Recreation Corp., for the benefit of the Mt. McSamba Ski run were announced this week by Robert Neff, who will again serve as general chairman.

The event will be held at St. Mary's school hall on Sunday, Dec. 15.

A meeting of persons interested in the event and all those who assisted last year has been called for 9 p. m. tonight (Thursday) at the community room of the city hall.

A work bee will be held again this Sunday in an effort to get the slope in condition for the season. Plans are also being considered for several new slopes.

If there is anyone who would like to contribute time to work on the slope and cannot do it on Sunday, these persons may call King Saunders, manager of the slope, who will accompany them to the park and direct them in the work that has to be done before the season opens.

Plans are also under way for a benefit smorgasbord to be held at St. Mary's school hall Dec. 15. Anyone wishing to assist in this project is asked to attend a meeting at the city hall at 9 p. m. tonight (Thursday).

Funeral Services Held Sunday for Mrs. Aubrey Block

Funeral services were held at the Winchester Funeral Home (the former Pontius Chapel) Sunday with the Rev. Kenneth Mitchell officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Hayes township, May 14, 1903, Verda Shearer was married to Mr. Block at East Jordan in 1929. They have always resided here.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Daniel Potter and Mrs. Jerry Haggerty of Charlevoix and three brothers, George Shearer of Grandville and Raymond and Carl Shearer of this city. Several nieces and nephews.

Services Held for N. Ralph Washburn

Funeral services for N. Ralph Washburn, 83, who died Wednesday at Grandview hospital where he had been a patient for 22 months, were held at the Winchester Funeral Home (Former Pontius Chapel) Saturday. The Rev. A. R. Gold officiated. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Community Chest Fund $300 Short of Goal

The 1957 Community Chest fund drive is within $300 of its goal of $9,150.00, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Duerr, co-chairmen of the campaign said Wednesday. Ninety-six per cent or $8,850.00

Christmas Seal Drive Launched By TB Association

Christmas Seals next week will be mailed to more than 1,900 homes in Charlevoix County when the nation-wide drive against tuberculosis opens November 15.

A total of 3.8 million sheets of Christmas Seals will be mailed by tuberculosis association to every community in Michigan.

"If these sheets of Christmas Seal were laid end to end, they would stretch across the state from Monroe to Copper Harbor," Dr. Glenn E. Loomis of Traverse City, a member of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association Board of Trustees, said.

"At one each Christmas Seal represents a small contribution in the fight against TB, but when thousands of contributions are added together, they build a formidable wall of defense against tuberculosis."

Money raised during the Christmas Seal sale is used to help fund people sick with tuberculosis. Seal funds also support a station wagon educational program telling the facts about TB and research into new and better ways of treating tuberculosis.

This year's Christmas Seals are gleaming red and silver Christmas tree ornaments reflecting the happy faces of a little girl and Santa Claus. The Seals were designed by G. Clinton Bradley, a Philadelphia artist.

"A child's vision of Christmas—that is the way Bradley describes the 1957 Christmas Seal—in designing the Christmas Seal I wanted them to express the true spirit of the holiday which centers on home and family—the home and family we help protect when we buy Christmas Seals," he said.

had been contributed or pledged Wednesday.

"If everyone who has not been contacted this fall would mail his or her check to the Charlevoix County State bank, we are sure the goal could be reached with little effort," Mrs. Duerr said.

The solicitations are complete with the exception of a small residential area on the south side and Beaver Island where workers have not completed their calls and at Bay Shore where workers could not be obtained.

Remember, if the 10 agencies which receive funds through the Community Chest are to continue their work in the Charlevoix area, the quota must be reached.

Won't you give now and make up the $300.00 which means the difference between failure and success of the 1957 Community Chest fund drive?

Launch Drive To Finance Share Surplus Program

A special appeal to be launched during the Thanksgiving season will ask Private-Sale in America for nearly $1,000,000 to finance the 1958 Share Our Surplus program through which foods from U. S. surplus stocks are distributed free to hungry people overseas.

More than 300 million pounds of food, or more than 300 pounds for each dollar of contribution, will reach needy persons abroad as a result of the 1958 SOS program.

The program, which is sponsored by the Church of World Service, will receive the support of the people of Charlevoix through the Union Thanksgiving Service to be held at the First Baptist church at 10 a. m. Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28. The offering received at that time will be contributed to the 1958 Share Our Surplus program. The decision to make this contribution was made at a meeting of the Charlevoix Ministerial Association.

Was Buck Hypnotized by '58 Cadillac?

Whether the deer was hypnotized at the sight of the new 1958 Cadillac, thrilled at the prospects of riding in it or trying to escape its power was not determined Tuesday when a seven-point buck jumped into the path of the new model car while under a road test before being placed on display at the Urick Pontiac-Cadillac showroom at 103 Antrim st.

The accident occurred less than a mile from the city limits when the buck came over a hill and on to the highway near the John Patrick farm as the 1958 Cadillac, driven by Wilbert Wil-helmed hopes! helm of the Urick Pontiac-Cadillac service department, was passing by. The deer hit the left front side of the car, doing approximately $300.00 damage to it.

The deer, killed by the impact, was turned over to the Conservation Department which gave it to the hot lunch program at the Charlevoix public schools. The car was returned to the garage where a survey of the damage was made. A hurried trip to Bay City netted another 1958 Cadillac which went on display at the showroom Wednesday.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By FRED MARIN

Winter sure struck with a vengeance last weekend. Throwing homecoming plans for a loss, and making life miserable for players and spectators alike at the game Friday night. Despite the threat of rain the coronation and pep rally, the snake dance and bonfire were held Thursday night when the weather cleared for a couple of hours. But on Friday the rain changed to a wet snow that melted as it hit and the winds blew, cancelling the homecoming parade and football game. The parade is scheduled for some time this week. We sure hope it comes off because the top seven classes have really put a lot of effort into their floats.

But regardless of what the snow which covered the ground over the weekend did to football, the deer hunters are happy. Many have already taken off for camps all through the upper peninsula. Others who are hunting in the area are poised for the first crack in the dawn so they can start banging away at what they hope is something with horns. Sure hope everyone's careful so we won't have any casualties to report.

For the first time in most people's memories the hunters won't have to get for hours waiting for their turns to cross the Straits of Mackinac. They'll just wait across the beautiful new miracle bridge. Mackinac and deerpens are a sight to behold. A very few are still in the area.

By the way, if you don't know what a "deer" is, it's a four-legged animal with antlers. It's not a "stag" or a "buck" until it has antlers. You don't know what a "stag" is? It's a deer with antlers. You don't know what a "buck" is? It's a deer with antlers. You don't know what a "stag" is? It's a deer with antlers. You don't know what a "buck" is? It's a deer with antlers.

Charlevoix County School Systems Add New Speech Training Program

A new remedial speech program has been added to the educational facilities in Charlevoix county through the cooperative efforts of each of the school systems in the county, according to Charles A. Robinson, county superintendent of schools.

The objective of the program is to help those pupils who are in need of special speech correction.

Allen G. Coltharp has been engaged as speech therapist by the county Board of Education. His duties include a responsibility for such cases include stuttering, articulation, voice and other types of speech handicap. All of the children in the schools of the county. Though the program is administered from the county office, Mr. Coltharp's work is cooperatively outlined by the county superintendent of schools and each of the local superintendent of the area school systems.

Since schools opened in September, Mr. Coltharp has screened the entire elementary school population in the county and has found approximately 332 children who are suspected to need remedial speech help. These range from mildly handicapped children with articulation disorders to the very severely handicapped children with stuttering or organically caused speech disorders.

Dr. C. Van Riper, Director of the Speech Correction program at Western Michigan University and George O. Egland, a member of his staff, have examined the Charlevoix county program and given their certification so that the program now is approved for participation in state aid monies available for special programs in the schools.

Michigan Milk Producers Oppose Marketing Control

In a meeting marked with enthusiasm and general accord, Harold Blaylock of Vassar was named to the board of directors of Michigan Milk Producers' Association at the 41st annual convention November 7.

Delegates, meeting at Michigan State University, approved several resolutions unanimously, heard reports from officers, and gave president Glenn Lake a rousing ovation at the conclusion of his key-note speech.

Mr. Blaylock was elected director at large on the first ballot. He was one of five nominated for the post.

In one resolution, delegates firmly opposed the establishment of a state milk marketing control bill. The vote was 225 to 47.

Among the other resolutions approved, the association endorsed the dairy farmers' "self-help" program, commended Michigan State University for its contributions to agriculture, endorsed the expanding public relations, advertising and merchandising program of the American Dairy Association and approved further promotion of dairy products at state fairs through suitable exhibits.

President Lake, in his key-note address, charted and optimistic course for the future, directly pointing the finger at those "who would harm or destroy dairy-men in Michigan" and cited the gains that have been made by MMPA during the past few months. He emphasized that the association belonged to the members and only through their combined efforts could the ultimate goals and objectives be achieved.

Reserve Band Finished Season As Performing Organization

The Charlevoix Reserve band, composed of eighth and ninth grade musicians, boast 46 pieces this year, according to C. A. Odmark, band director.

Basically a feeder training group for the senior band, the reserve band is a performing group in its right. The band made its first parade appearance recently when it led the Halloween parade. During the early weeks of school, 20 members of this band served "double duty" by filling vacancies in the senior marching band created by the loss of football players and cheerleaders.

Now that the outdoor marching season is over, the Reserve band has started concert rehearsals. This year's band is a well balanced concert group, according to Mr. Odmark who listed its personnel as follows: three flutes, four clarinets, three alto saxophones, one tenor saxophone, 11 cornets, one horn, one baritone, four trombones, three basses and two tubas. Two horn players have been added to the senior band in order to fill in the instrumental line.

The Reserve band members recently elected officers for the year. They are: president, Glenn Sander; student director, Evelyn Peters; secretary, Mable Bingham and treasurer, Lenore Erber.

Membership in the Reserve band follows: flutes, Judy Russell, Eva Trimble, Sandra Tuomela; clarinets, Sharon Abblatter, Dagmar Bruck, Marjorie Chew.

In addition to the above mentioned people, the Senior girls of the high school band served as waitresses; posters were prepared by band members; four boys from the Reserve band worked on the dish return committee and all 105 band members joined in selling tickets. Donald Nowland of the Reserve band sold a total of 57 tickets and Don Heise of the Senior band sold 27 to top their respective groups.

Profits which should total well over $300.00 will be used in the band parents project undertaken by the group.

Mrs. Withers and Mrs. Erber would like to express their appreciation to the public for their enthusiastic endorsement of the project and to the many, many people in the Band Parents Association who cooperated in making the dinner a success.

Note: The above mentioned hunters are those who were brought to the attention of the Charlevoix Courier.

State News Men to Study Taxes at MSU Conferences

The relationship of the newspaper to local taxation will be studied at the sixth annual Community Newspaper Editorial Conference at Michigan State University Nov. 15-16.

A panel of tax authorities, comprising Dr. James W. Miller, state controller, Clarence W. Luck, deputy commissioner of the Michigan Department of Revenue, and Dr. Daniel C. Cline, of the MSU department of economics, will discuss "Taxes in Your Town" at one of the Friday Nov. 15 sessions.

Also on the two-day program will be a report by Prentiss M. Brown, Mackinac Bridge Authority, on the opening of the Straits bridge; a few insights on "Reporting Municipal Affairs," by John H. Huss, director of the Michigan Municipal League, and informal shop-talk sessions for weeklies and dailies.

Faithful, Intelligent Elephant Is Overated as a Mental Prodigy

Elephants are smart, but they are hardly the mental giants pictured by the tall-tale fraternity.

One zoo director, after an exhaustive study of animal behavior, placed the Indian elephant third in a list of 10 most intelligent animals, the National Geographic Magazine says. It was outranked by chimpanzee, beaver, lion, grizzly bear, pack rat, mountain goat, and dog.

Legends of the elephant's phenomenal memory and ability to even old scores often stem from the imagination of the mahouts who train and ride them. M. D. Chaturvedi, who spent 30 years as an officer in the Indian Forest Service, passes on the following anecdote with a grain of salt.

The elephant concerned had seen a keeper steal its bread ration and hide the food under his turban. At the first opportunity, the beast snatched turban and bread, and ate both.

As an example of his own credulity, Mr. Chaturvedi recalls an elephant roll call he witnessed when a young officer. As each name was sounded, the animal lifted its trunk, as if to say, "Present, Sir." He was much impressed—until he learned that mahouts guided the salutes.

On the other hand, Mr. Chaturvedi once knew an elephant that seemed to show powers of reasoning and memory. He was riding it back to base when it suddenly stopped short and refused to go on. Deciding to humor it, Chaturvedi turned around and discovered his rancor lying in the road where it had slipped from the elephant's back.

Whatever their intelligence quotient, many elephants labor prodigiously, faithfully, and skillfully under the direction of their mahouts.

The big tusked that toil in the forests of India and other Asian lands not only move logs but help knot the dragropes too. When loading logs on a trolley, the animal must place them properly in pyramid form. Another then shunts the little wheeled cars into position, pulls the chains tight around the logs, and pushes the loaded train down the yard.

One blind elephant collected logs rolled downhill by other elephants, and stacked them in lots of 20. She separated each lot from the other by the same space, measured by the length of her own body.

One method used to round up work elephants calls for digging deep pits across the herd's known trails. The trapped animals are raised gradually by filling the holes with wood. They are then roped and led away by komkies, or trained elephants.

More exciting is the keddah, or drive. With encircling fires and an unearthly din made by tom-toms, tin cans, and gunshots, beaters force the wild herd into a cul-de-sac. Individual members are separated from the group and noosed while tame elephants crowd about, holding the captives helpless.

Training techniques differ. In Mysore, chanting men march around a captured elephant tied to a tree. When the beast is giddy, a mahout jumps on and off its back. After several months, the elephant is ready for walks between two komkies. Eventually, by force and example, it learns to follow orders given by its rider in the form of subtle pressures by knee, heel or toe on the animal's ears or shoulders.

Trainers say that elephant crows, especially young ones, are more alert and easier to teach than mules. After 30 the beasts are considered too old to learn new tricks. But all work elephants known enough to refuse to labor under tropic sun without a daily wallow in fresh running water.

Younsters Push Adults for Top Livestock Wins

Vying for top honors in competition with grown-ups, farm boys and girls will again play an important part in events of the International Live Stock Exposition, set for Nov. 29 through December 7 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Youngsters have many times gone on from winning top places in junior competitions to such major show awards as the grand champion steer and the grand champion barrow. Grand champion steers have been shown by youngsters 13 times in the 57 years of the Exposition.

The first two days of the 1957 show will be largely devoted to youth activities. On Friday, November 29, state champion judging teams from 30 states will match their skill in judging cattle, sheep and swine in the National 4-H Livestock Judging Contest. Next day students from agricultural colleges of over 40 states will take part in a similar contest.

Junior Showmen Complete

Big feature of the opening Saturday is the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest in which more than 300 farm boys and girls will exhibit some 500 head of cattle and hogs of their own raising. Ten winners go on to compete in the open classes against adult showmen the following week.

This year a large number of entries by youngsters is reported in the Carcass Contest. The carcass classes determine yield and quality of meat in animals that are pre-judged on hoof, slaughtered and judged again. Increased interest in this contest and a spectacular auction sale of the champion carcasses are bringing out a record entry this year, the management informs.

The International Grain and Hay show will be housed in spacious new Donovan Hall—most recent addition to the International Amphitheatre. It includes competition for corn raised and exhibited by farm youths. Winner is named "Corn Prince" or "Princess."

4-H Youths Parade

A moving climax to youth activity at the International show is the 4-H Club parade in the Amphitheatre arena at the Wednesday evening horse show. More than 1,500 outstanding 4-H Club youngsters from all the states and a number of foreign countries will jam the arena and fill the air with songs of their home states. The 4-H Congress is held in conjunction with the Exposition.

Arthur Godfrey, star of TV and radio, will appear with his trained Arabian horse at all evening horse shows during the 9-day event. The International Horse Show, considered the country's greatest, is scheduled every evening and five afternoons from November 29 to Dec. 7.

Farmers Permitted Roadside Stands For Own Produce

New legislation affecting roadside selling does not prohibit farmers from selling their produce at roadside stands or at the farm, says Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

The new law states that it is unlawful for anyone to sell farm products or other merchandise within the right of way of any highway outside the corporate limits of any city or village. The law became effective September 22, 1957.

The law goes on to read that this section shall not be construed to interfere with any permanently established business presently located on or partially on private property, without granting to the owner any additional rights or authority that the owner may not now possess.

G. N. Mottis, farm economist at Michigan State University, says that while legal, farm roadside stands should be at least 100 feet from the center of the highway. This gives customers a place to park off the highway right of way while making purchases.

Check with the county road commission to see what distance applies to a given situation.

The law was passed to promote highway traffic safety and to protect established food retailers from the competition of itinerant merchant truckers who had frequently operated on highway rights of way near cities and towns.

Motorists will get a free trip across the Mackinac Straits bridge in 1957 if everything works out.

Financiers said it will take 40 years to retire the $98,800,000 in bonds to pay for the bridge unless re-financing, lower interest rates, and extra traffic make it possible sooner.

Cars from every county in the state were on hand to make the first official crossing Nov. 1. In the 10 hours after Gov. Williams paid the first toll, 3,005 vehicles passed the gates.

For years, the pileup of traffic has stretched back five to eight miles.

Now, the two great peninsulas have been linked by steel and concrete and officials on both sides of the straits expect a bonanza of business and industry.

There have been dreams of such a bridge for more than 100 years—since Michigan obtained the Upper Peninsula from the Northwest Territory in negotiations following the Toledo War.

Hundreds of men have figured directly in its construction.

They include former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, whose administration built a causeway into the straits from St. Ignace as a starter 16 years before the bridge was to be completed by others.

They include Republicans in the legislature and Democrats in the executive office during the past 10 years, and interested groups on both sides of the straits. Now, it is finished.

Left behind are the ferry boats and the memories of the millions who rode on them between the peninsulas since the state-operated service was inaugurated 34 years ago.

The five-boat fleet is for sale. The crews are either already working in other state or private employment or are looking for work. That was one of the main problems as the bridge neared completion.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie inherited the job of finding work for the men.

As the bridge opened, fewer than 100 of the 475 in the full-time and part-time complement were still unemployed. A special staff in Mackie's department is still working on the problem.

Michigan is the first state to be fully organized in the "Cooperative Dairy for Civil Defense" plan, according to Leonard Francke, secretary of the Michigan Milk Dealers Association.

This is a plan to supply pure drinking water to areas hit by disaster. In brief the idea involves an agreement by dairies to fill paper cartons, usually used for milk, with water. The filled cartons can be readily transported to the stricken area for distribution through Red Cross or Civil Defense representatives.

Tornadoes, accidental industrial pollution, atomic attack or other emergency conditions can create a vital need for pure water.

This was the case in Utica last year when it was discovered that waste materials discharged into the water supply made the water unfit for consumption.

To date, the plan has been used in four natural disasters in other states. The most recent was Hurricane Audrey last August. Pure water was also trucked into the St. Charles, La., area following a flood.

"CD for CD" is a program embraced by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. FCDA is recommending that other states follow Michigan's lead.

The original idea came from a Michigan man, George D. Scott, vice president of the Page-Pak Division of Excella Corporation, by no strange coincidence, manufactures the paper cartons used by dairies.

Local Officials are urged to start training schools for bad drivers hauled into their courts.

The new law authorizing the local schools became effective Sept. 27.

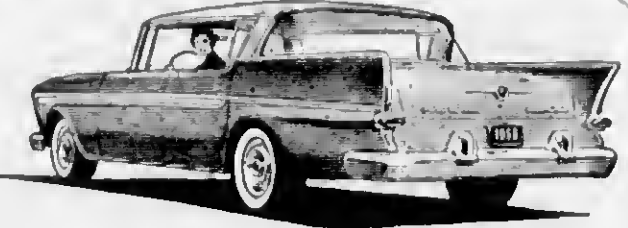

It sets up a committee of local law enforcement officers, officials and educators to organize the schools to which "students" are referred by the courts.

"We should try to give this law a good chance," said Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction.

Through November, he has scheduled 15 training courses for local officials, urging them to start the schools and giving them the guidance of state-trained experts.

The value, he said, can be seen in the reduced traffic fatality figures.

Trap Rams in End Zone to Cinch Game

The Charlevoix Rayders dumped a strong Harbor Springs squad Friday night by a score of 8 to 6 as a safety scored early in the second half gave the Rayders a victory instead of a tie with the visitors.

The game, the last of the season for the Rams, gave them a record of four wins and two losses plus one cancellation.

The Rayders were scheduled to take on the league champions, the Boyne City Ramblers, at Kipke field Wednesday night. The game was postponed from Oct. 19.

The Charlevoix-Harbor Springs game, like others in the loop, was played on a rain-soaked field. A wet snow which melted as it hit the ground driven by a southwest wind up to 50 miles an hour slowed play in the first half. A drop in temperature during the half turned the sleet-like snow to dry snow which covered the field during the entire last half.

Harbor Springs kicked off to the Rayders who took the ball on their own 28 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage the Rayders fumbled and Harbor Springs recovered on the 35 yard line. Three plays later the Rayders regained possession of the ball on the 28 yard line as the Rams fumbled. A series of plays by the Rayders moved the ball to the Harbor Springs 38 where the Rams took over on downs.

The Rams moved to the Charlevoix 18 yard line following a concerted drive on the ground, only to lose the ball to the Rayders on downs.

With Larry Ingalls, Ed Louiselle and Bob Mol carrying the ball, Charlevoix then marched to the Harbor Springs eight.

A penalty on Harbor Springs placed the ball on the one yard line from where Ingalls scored. Ingalls then bucked the line for the extra point but this time the Rams defense held and the score remained 6 to 0.

After taking the Rayder kickoff, the Rams were forced to punt on fourth down and the Rayders took the ball at mid-field.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

With one game remaining to be played, the Boyne City Ramblers clinched their third straight Northern Michigan Class C title Friday night by defeating Mancelona 12 to 6.

Elsewhere Charlevoix upset Harbor Springs 8 to 6, East Jordan dumped Grayling 29 to 0 and Gaylord won over Pellston 27 to 6.

Harbor Springs and Pellston concluded their 1957 schedules with Friday's games with Pellston listed as the only team in the league to play all its games.

On Wednesday night the remaining six teams were scheduled to play their final games. All three meetings were postponed from Oct. 13 when an influenza epidemic kept most of the schools closed.

Charlevoix was to meet the Harbor Springs Rams at Kipke field, but the game was postponed because of the weather.

Boyne City 12, Mancelona 6. The Charlevoix Rayders defeated Harbor Springs 8 to 6 Friday night. Mancelona scored in the first quarter to become the first team to break the Rambler defense.

The Mancelona touchdown came early in the period when Jerry Biehl scooped up the ball after a Mancelona player had partially blocked a Rambler punt. Biehl went 15 yards to score.

Mancelona threatened again later in the period after marching to the Boyne City eight yard line but a fumble by the Ironmen gave Boyne City the ball and the threat was halted.

A 25-yard run by fullback Carl Charon tied the score at six-all as the half ended.

The winning touchdown came in the third period when Boyne City punted, the ball hit a Mancelona player in the back and the Ramblers fell on the ball on the 30 yard line. Two plays later Charon scored from the 25 yard line.

East Jordan 29; Grayling 0. The Grayling Vikings never threatened as East Jordan rolled up 29 points on four touchdowns, two conversions and a 25 yard field goal by quarterback Gene Richards.

Richards scored from the four yard line and Allan Ingalls went over from the two with Richards kicking the extra point to put East Jordan ahead 13 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

Fullback Glenn Kowalski scored from the two, Richards ran the ball over for the extra point and Ingalls scored from the 30 to give the Jordanites a 26 to 0 halftime lead.

The third period was scoreless. Midway in the final period Richards booted a 25 yard field goal after play bogged down on the 15 yard line.

Gaylord 27; Pellston 6. Pellston held Gaylord scoreless in the first period but in the second quarter the Blue Devil offensive started to click and they scored three touchdowns for a 20 to 0 halftime lead.

Darwin Mason scored from the 11 yard line on a double reverse and quarterback John Burnison ran the extra point over to put Gaylord ahead 6 to 0. Doug Bottomley went 25 yards to score midway in the period. Gaylord then capitalized on a blocked

Special Licenses Issued to 57,619 Deer Hunters

All successful and unsuccessful applicants for 1957 special season deer hunting permits have been notified and no more permits are available.

In four special season areas, application totals fell short of permit quotas, but Department officials point out there is no fair method of distributing these excess permits.

Some 57,619 permits were issued for this year's "any deer" season, about 1400 short of the quota.

After considering various methods, Department officials decided against attempting to distribute the 1400 permits among the four areas.

Letting excess permits be available to all areas would have been a fair method, but the limited number of permits would have been distributed among the four areas.

Hunters who applied this year by the October 10 deadline automatically received permits if the area chosen was not over-subscribed. In areas where applications exceeded quotas, all applications mailed by October 10 were eligible for drawings which determined distribution.

punt which defensive guard Bob King scooped up on the 15 and carried into the end zone. Burnison ran the ball in for the conversion point.

Keith Hardie scored the Blue Devils final touchdown in the third period after taking a lateral pass from Burnison on the 26 yard line. Will Wright scored the extra point on a run.

Pellston's lone touchdown was scored by Tom McLain who fell on the ball in the end zone after a Gaylord punt had been blocked.

All games were played on rain-soaked fields covered with slush snow. High winds up to 50 miles an hour made passing and punting difficult.

Dr. Stanley Hecker
Cites School Needs
At P. T. A. Meeting

Dr. Stanley Hecker of the Michigan State University Administrative and Educational Services Division was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the P. T. A. held Wednesday evening at the high school band room.

He outlined the methods whereby it was possible to make an accurate survey of the school needs in any community. He said that there were four basic committees needed to make such a survey. They are community population and school enrollment; educational program now in the school; school finance and school plan.

He advised that the survey be done over the past five year period.

If the P. T. A. and the Charlevoix schools should decide that such a survey is necessary, then he said assistance would be given by his department in organizing the various committees and outlining their particular duties. At the completion of the project the survey would then be evaluated and recommendations made.

Supt. R. G. Bennett spoke briefly on the object of such a survey and introduced Dr. Hecker.

Mrs. Isaac Terr, vice president, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. H. E. Paddock read the secretary's report and Mrs. James Miller the treasurer's report. Lloyd Arnold of the Membership committee reported that the organization now had 276 members. Mrs. Glenn Sander's room was given the prize an aquarium, for having the most parents join the P. T. A. during the recent membership drive.

Prizes will be awarded each month to the room which has the

The fund is designed to offer emergency aid to those in the Charlevoix area who are in need of immediate assistance other than medical care. Only persons not receiving financial aid from other sources are eligible for assistance through the fund.

Mrs. Meyer, in whose memory the fund was established, had been a summer resident here since childhood and loved Charlevoix and its people though she only spent her summer vacations here. Because of her love for the Charlevoix area and the people she knew, the memorial fund which bears her name was established here.

The initial contribution was made by Mrs. Meyer's immediate family who continue to make generous donations to it. Many people who have become acquainted with the work accomplished through the fund now contribute in honor of, or in memory of, someone. Each year many new names are added to the list of contributors.

Electric Cut-offs
Caused By Testing

If the residents of the community have been concerned about recent minor power failures, it has been because a recently installed engine has been placed in operation in order to clear it of any small operating 'bugs' or difficulties.

This explanation was given following the brief power failure Wednesday morning.

Other engines which are always ready to use were placed in operation at once when it became necessary to take the Fairbanks Morse opposed piston engine out of operation.

Only by using the engine, can the operating flaws be corrected before it is placed in full operation, Hal M. Hill, city manager, said Wednesday.

Only $127 Needed To Reach Goal for Community Chest

The 1957 Community Chest fund drive neared its goal of $9,150.00 this week as the campaign reached the 98 per cent mark, according to Charles A. Duerr, who with Mrs. Duerr is co-chairman of the campaign.

On Wednesday a total of $8,880.50 had been contributed and another $142.00 pledged bringing the total at this time to $8,922.50 or $127.50 short of the goal of $9,150.00.

Only one area in the county, Beaver Island, has yet to be heard from.

With only $127.50 to be raised, Mr. Duerr said he was quite sure the current drive would be brought to a successful conclusion shortly. He asked that those who had not been contacted to leave their contribution at the Charlevoix County State Bank.

A complete report on the campaign results will be given next week.

In announcing the results to date, Mr. and Mrs. Duerr have also published the names of the captains and workers. "We would like, at this time, to thank all the captains and workers for their efforts and fine cooperation during the drive. Without it we never could have brought the drive along to this point," Mr. and Mrs. Duerr said.

Mr. Sayan was named president; Jerry Brainerd, also of Harbor Springs, secretary and Mrs. Winfield Hinds of Petoskey, treasurer.

Fifteen northern Michigan shops were represented at the meeting.

Attending from Charlevoix were Mr. and Mrs. Novotny and Albert Edwards.

Mayor Is Notified Scheduled Move to Be Made Next June

Charlevoix has been named as the permanent base for the U. S. Coast Guard buoy tender Sundew effective in June.

The announcement came Saturday in a letter to Mayor James Hiller from Rear Admiral E. H. Thiel, Commander of the Ninth Coast Guard district with headquarters at Cleveland.

Adm. Thiel said that the ship, which has a crew of 42 including six officers, will come here in June from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where it has been stationed for several years.

In announcing that the ship would be stationed here permanently, Mayor Hiller said that Charlevoix was, indeed, fortunate to be selected as the base for the ship. He went on to say that Charlevoix, like other northern Michigan communities, had been seeking new industry for a long time.

The basing of the ship in Charlevoix will be comparable to a new industry and will mean a great deal to the city's year-around economy, he continued.

At least 26 families are expected to move here in June after the ship arrives from Sturgeon Bay. Unmarried enlisted men will have quarters aboard the ship.

The transfer of the Sundew to the Michigan side of Lake Michigan has been anticipated for some time in an effort to place the ship in a central location to better serve the lighthouses in northern Lake Michigan, Lake Huron and the Straits area where the ship assists in ice breaking operations each spring.

In his letter to Mayor Hiller, Adm. Thiel wrote:

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that a decision has been made to base the buoy tender Sundew in Charlevoix beginning next June. As you know this move must yet be approved by the Commandant of the Coast Guard. As district commander I have made the recommendation to him that the Sundew be moved from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to Charlevoix at that time."

I wish to express the appreciation of my staff and myself for the cooperation of the Charlevoix community in this move.

The third deer to be reported was a 4 point buck taken by Jack Curtis, 18, another high school student, who filled his license at 8:45 a. m. Friday while hunting in the swamp on the Gerald Burke farm.

Other young hunters who successfully filled their licenses early in the season were 15-year-old John Fratricks, who brought in 6-point buck taken while hunting in Norwood township Friday afternoon; Ted Mason, 17, who came home from a hunting trip in Antrim county with a 7-point deer which dressed out at 110 pounds. The buck, his first, was shot about 9:15 a. m. Saturday; Chris Campbell, 16, brought home a buck the first time he ever went deer hunting. Turkeys at the Barkdoll farm, the last of a flock of 3,200 to be marketed this week, held only awe for little Dawn McKenzie who visited the farm recently.

The Barkdoll flock was among the 9,800 birds raised in the area this year.

910 birds were kept by growers as breeding flocks.

This compares with 13,575 turkeys raised last year by nine growers and 14,100 in 1955 by 11 growers.

At one time there were some 60 growers in the area but the number has dwindled until this year there were only five. The high cost of poultry, the rising cost of feed, increased marketing demands in a highly competitive field with prices falling lower each year are the chief reasons given by those who have left the business.

As one grower said, "It costs

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

And so ends the 1957-1958 football season. But before it's all over we'd like to say "thank you" to a lot of Charlevoix football players. The Varsity and Reserve team members. There were times when we wish it might have been different but sure it couldn't be, well, we liked it because it was just good football.

There's nothing more wonderful than winning on all. But the times when you don't. But a game has given the best he has, we know, then we ask no more. We think the Charlevoix players have given the best they know how on most occasions this fall. Every player can't be perfect every game. Not even the boys who do this for bread and butter do this. So, again we would like to say. Thanks for a lot of good high school football. To the Varsity players who'll be leaving us come June. And to all the guys who'll be around next year. To the latter we have one other thing to say: we'll be expecting great things from you, come next fall.

There were a lot of big news events over the weekend. But the one that headed the list was the defeat of Oklahoma by Notre Dame. We've been thinking for a long time that Oklahoma wouldn't have a chance if they played in the Big Ten where all the teams play for keeps.

American Legion annual games party at Legion hall 8 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 23. Turkey, door prize.

Though Notre Dame is not a member of this great group, the Irish play a good many of the Big Ten teams. And has a great following throughout the country. We were happy that it was one of our north midwest teams that toppled the great Sooners.

Maybe it was a good thing that they did tumble for if you read the psychiatrist's comment about Sooner fans you know that they were well on their way to a break-up. The fans were bored, said the man, and since they had known nothing but victory there was reason for concern. The fighting Irish must have read that and decided it was up to them to save the fans from their fate. Anyway, they don't have to worry no more cause the Irish saw their way and gave it (if you'll excuse the English).

The kids around here sure put the elders to shame on the opening day of the deer hunting season. Don't think that any of the first four deer reported at the Courier office were shot by anyone older than 20 years. Buddy Johnson was only 15. One of the fellows was all for putting out an extra so the world could be told about his good luck. And we'd also like to warn the hunters still in the field. Don't know if it's contagious but we've heard of a few bad cases of buck fever, too.

What's that about if at first you don't succeed, try, try again. And that's exactly what happened with the homecoming around these parts. The parade was finally held Wednesday afternoon. And Queen Esther Boss and her lovely court, Susie Duerr, Wanda Russell, Mary Ann Berg and Mary Schuchard, were finally presented Wednesday night. Though there were only five floats remaining, for some of them had to be dismantled because the trucks they were mounted on had to be used, it was well worth while. Each year the floats have been lovelier and cleverer. This year it was mighty tough picking the winner. Had there been five first prizes it would have been easy. We think you'll all agree with us on that count. P. S. Won't you fellows in the Sophomore class start speaking to us again, please?

You'll notice elsewhere in the Courier that we did a turkey story this week. And you know, it's not going to be too long before turkeys in northern Michigan are going to be rarity. Mrs. John Barkdoll was telling us that a couple bus loads of kindergarteners from Petoskey visited their farm to see the big birds. And well they might for at the rate the turkey population is decreasing there may come a time when the kids think turkeys are raised the way they come from the butcher shop. And that's no malarkey.

But turkey or no, the anniversary of the day that turkey was the piece de resistance. Thanks to it, it'll be here next week. That's why it's still one of the big family days of the year. When all the family and friends join together. But we wonder how many count their blessings at such a time. We wonder if they feel grateful for these same friends and relatives. For the beauty around them. For the privilege of living in this great land of plenty. For the liberty that is theirs. And all the other great privileges such as freedom of worship, of speech and the others given us in the Constitution by the same people who had fled to this country because they couldn't enjoy these things in their homeland. There are millions and millions seeking the very things we take so much for granted. So come next Thursday won't you, if only for one brief second, say "thank you" in your own little way for what you have. And a happy Thanksgiving to all of you. And don't eat too much.

And while we're on the subject of holidays, it's less than six weeks til Christmas. And only 24 shopping days til the big holiday. So how's about making out that old list and getting started in the Christmas gift buying. or making. There's still time, if you hurry, to get that parcel in the mail for that service guy or doll who's so far away and who'd love nothing more than to be remembered this holiday season. Have you ever been away from home on Christmas morning and to find no one about you who knew what the living room back home might look like or have any idea of the people you might know? If you have you know how much any remembrance at Christmas time would mean. So how's about it? There's still time to get a package, a batch of pictures of familiar scenes or faces or just a letter off to him or her.

LOW-COST SOIL-CEMENT WILL ANSWER YOUR ROAD PROBLEMS

There's a new economical, easy way to end the problems of dusty, rutted gravel roads or asphalt roads that break up every spring and need constant patching.

Soil-cement base construction provides a durable, all-weather road which is low in cost and requires only minimum maintenance. As its name implies, this type of road is built simply by compacting soil, cement, and water, producing a hard concrete-like base suitable for light-traffic trunklines and county roads. The base actually gets stronger with age!

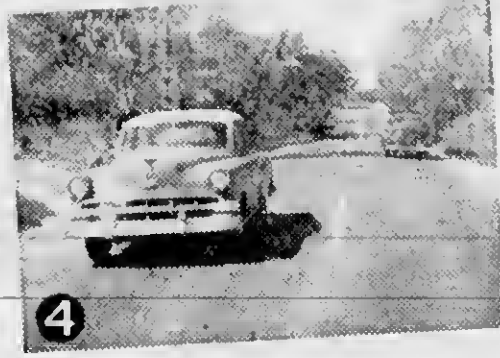

Soil-cement already is proven in Michigan. Genesee County, for example, has 115 miles of soil-cement roads giving excellent service. Public approval is enthusiastic. Huron, Macomb, and Oakland Counties also have successfully tested soil-cement.

Soil-cement roads are quickly built. Traffic can immediately use a soil-cement road without detour delays. Up to 2.5 miles have been built in a single day in Michigan!

Ask your county road engineer about soil-cement and write for free information to

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

WHAT GIFTS BRING pleasure every day of the year, make life easier, and are not likely to be duplicated? Additional telephones in color, of course, a welcome solution to the "what to give" problem. Bedroom phones are wonderful for Mother. Dad would get a real kick out of a telephone for his den or basement workshop. And teen-agers think a phone in their own room is tops. Christmas will be here before you know it—o perfect time for giving gift telephones.

THE DISTANT EARLY WARNING LINE—a chain of radar stations stretching 3,000 miles across the Arctic—is now in operation and will give 4 to 6 hours warning if enemy planes approach from the north. The Air Force asked the Bell System to design the DEW line. Among the thousands of men who worked for many months in the cold and desolate Arctic to complete the job on schedule were 4,478 telephone men—many from Michigan. The Bell System skills that produced the DEW line are the same ones that help make your telephone service better and more useful to you every day.

WE RAN ACROSS these figures recently, and we thought you might be interested in seeing how the telephone industry is contributing to Michigan's prosperity. Last year the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit, Western Electric Co., paid $19,325,784 for supplies and materials bought from 1,223 firms in some 146 towns and cities in Michigan. That's quite a lot of business coming into the state, creating job opportunities and helping to keep the factories humming. Since we're all Michiganders ourselves, we're mighty glad

Mr. and Mrs. Alward were married Nov. 27, 1907, at the Norwood home of Mrs. Alward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. VanDusen. They resided in the community and in 1912 purchased the VanDusen homestead where they made their home until retiring in March 1947. Since then they have lived in their present home located in the village of Norwood.

Mr. Alward was born in Union township, St. Joseph county, Ind., Nov. 6, 1872, and came to Michigan as a young man in his early 20's to work in the lumber woods near Kalkaska. A short time later he came to Norwood, then a flourishing little community, to work on the McIntyre farm now owned by Raymond Stafford.

Mrs. Alward, the former Ruby VanDusen, was born in Norwood township Sept. 27, 1881. She is a member of the Methodist church.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Alward have been active in community and church affairs.

While operating their farm they became the first farmers in the area to operate a commercial maple sugar bush. Many people, especially summer residents of the area, visited their farm each summer to purchase a year's supply of maple syrup.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A. A. Rothermer's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Readiness

All night a high November wind has been blowing across Lake Charlevoix, building high stacks of waves and then, like a destructive youngster pushing over its pile of blocks, spilling them in wild disorder upon the shore. It is morning now, and at this moment whitecaps roll and boil in disordered fury while wild fowl of our bay struggle to escape the teasing and buffeting of the recklessly mischievous storm.

In the woods that line the lake, trees have been falling helter-skelter, their great bodes sprawling prone upon the wet, inhospitable earth and their roots groping about helplessly in the insubstantial air that affords them no anchorage. The winds alone could not have accomplished this havoc. They have had the help of many days of cold rains pelting and softening the earth around the trees' roots. Then, wherever roots were shallow or weak, wherever their grip upon the earth was made slippery or uncertain, these rough boisterous gales toppled the trees in crazy, disordered fashion.

As I look about me early on this mid-November morning I see change and stability side by side and in sharp contrast to each other. Downshore from where I write high waves erode the sandy beach, gouging it, cutting into the shore and eating away the land. But directly in front of me the beach was prepared for this storm and all other storms to come. Rocks lie there in thickly scattered profusion, anchoring the earth. Under the tempest's pounding some stones may stir a bit, rolling this way and then that way, but when the waves subside and the high waves subside, the shore at our lawn's edge will show little change. It was ready for the storm.

Back of the house most trees still stand, for they were prepared for these soaking rains and these high winds. Their roots penetrate deep into the rocky soil, and their roots intertwine in fellowship and interdependence with the roots of neighboring trees, each one being strengthened by his fellows. Only the shallow-rooted, the independent, the rotten-at-the-center trees have fallen. On every hand, following a tempest, the contrast between unreadiness and readiness is easily seen.

A young man applied to a farmer for a position as hired man. After he had detailed the experience that qualified him for the job the farmer asked the youth what faults he had. "Well, now," he replied, "the last farmer I worked for claimed I was terribly hard to wake up during a bad storm at night."

This disclosure gave the employer some moments of hesitation, but he hired the fellow. One night a few weeks later a raging wind storm hit the area. The farmer awoke in alarm dressed quickly and hastened to the hired hand's room. He called, but there was no response. He pounded on the man's bedroom door, but there was no answer. Finally, in desperation and anger the farmer left the house and went alone to check on the livestock and farm equipment. To his utter astonishment he found every barn door securely fastened. A tarpaulin covered and secured the hay stack. Heavy stones were laid on the pile of lumber east of the barn. Everything was in its place and safe from all harm.

Then it dawned upon the farmer why his new hired man slept soundly during a storm at night. One of the secrets of achieving peace of mind is spiritual readiness for any event. We cannot extemporize strong character after a crisis comes. When storms of trouble or temptation suddenly descend upon us, there is seldom time to get ready. We either are ready, or we are not. The prepared person does not need to resort to hasty emergency measures. He is already established with deep roots and solid foundations, an abiding trust in God's goodness and His availability, a firm faith in his own reserves of God-given spiritual and moral power. Because he is ready before the emergency he is confident that he is ready for it.

A contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world. —Joseph Addison

Kiwanians Told Of Unusual Stones Found in Vicinity

Stanley Kellogg of Petoskey gave an interesting and enlightening talk on the hobby of rocks and minerals at ladies night dinner meeting of the Charlevoix Kiwanis club Monday evening.

Forty-four members and guests gathered at the high school cafeteria for the event.

Mr. Kellogg and E. K. Shanahan showed samples of the various rock formations to be found in the area. Mr. Kellogg said the the Charlevoix area is an area rich in such formations making it an ideal spot in which to follow this hobby.

In observance of farm-city week, Kiwanis club members will entertain farmers in the area at their Monday meeting.

If used to capacity, which is highly unlikely, Michigan's new Mackinac Straits bridge could accommodate in one week the entire volume of traffic carried during an entire year on the ferry fleet.

Three games, postponed from Oct. 18, were played Wednesday night to conclude the 1957 Northern Michigan Class C football season. Boyne City defeated Charlevoix 33 to 0 to end the season with a clean record. Mancelona rolled over East Jordan 26 to 6 to move into second place with Harbor Springs as the season ended and Gaylord downed Grayling 29 to 0 to finish in third place after playing one less game than other loop teams. In the final standings Charlevoix and East Jordan are tied for fourth place, Pellston finished in fifth and Grayling in the league cellar.

Mancelona 26; East Jordan 6 In their meeting with East Jordan, the Mancelona Ironmen jumped into a 6 to 0 lead in the first period after fullback John Phillips carried the ball from the midfield marker into the end zone.

In the second quarter, quarterback Ronnie Johnson got off a pass to end Dick Holstad who scored on the play which covered 25 yards. Phillips plunged the ball over for the extra point for a 13 to 0 lead.

East Jordan got back into the game just before halftime when quarterback Gene Richards hit halfback Jim Yettaw with a 35 yard pass to cut Mancelona's lead to seven points, 13 to 6 as the half ended.

In the third period Jerry Biehl scored from the 10 yard line and in the final quarter Johnson hit Holstad with a 20 yard pass. Holstad then romped 15 yards to score. Johnson passed to End Dexter Bailey for the conversion point.

Gaylord 29; Grayling 0 The Gaylord Blue Devils, by playing one less game than other league teams, edged themselves into third place in final league standings after racking up wins over East Jordan, Pellston and Grayling.

In the meeting with Grayling Wednesday night, the Blue Devils racked up a Grayling player in the end zone for a safety early in the first period after the Vikings had gained possession of the ball by recovering a Gaylord fumble on the Grayling nine.

In the second quarter the Gaylord defense started to roll and the Devils scored two touchdowns before the half. End Darwin Mason scored from the 31 yard line on an end run with

Defeat Rayders 33-0 To Retain 'C' Title

The Charlevoix Rayders bowed to the Boyne City Ramblers by a score of 33 to 0 to retain Class C Conference title.

Despite the lop-sided score the Rayders held the Ramblers to seven points at halftime and 13 points for three periods before Boyne City broke the game wide open and rolled up three touchdowns in the final period.

The game had been postponed from Oct. 18 and was the final game of the season for both teams.

Charlevoix kicked off to the visitors who took the ball on their own 20. On the next play with fullback Carl Charon, the backbone of the Ramblers squad, carrying the ball, the Ramblers picked up a first down on the 30. A penalty set the Ramblers back on the 25 where play bogged down and they had to punt.

Joe Beaudoin, playing his first Varsity game, took the punt and returned it to the Charlevoix 48 yard line. With Tom Lakies and Larry Ingalls carrying the ball, the Rayders moved to the Boyne 41. However, a holding penalty on the Rayders moved them to their own 46 after Ingalls had picked up three yards on a line plunge.

After failing to pick up necessary yardage, Charlevoix was forced to punt. A bad pass from center went over Ingalls' head. After recovering the ball, he was trapped on the Charlevoix 26 where Boyne City took over. On three plays Boyne City moved the ball to the 18 but a major penalty set them back to the 33. Charlevoix took over on downs on the 18 after the Ramblers failed to pick up a first down.

Despite a backfield in motion penalty, the Rayders moved to their own 39 before they were forced to punt on the final play of the first period.

Second quarter play started with Boyne City in possession of the ball on their 47. The Ramblers picked up two first downs halfback Doug Bottomley plunging over for the conversion point and fullback Larry Warner went in from the two to add the second tally with Keith Riddle scoring the extra point.

Pass interceptions accounted for the final touchdowns. Halfback Bob Burnison intercepted a Grayling pass and went 40 yards and later in the third period guard Bob King romped 65 yards to score after taking a Viking aerial. Terry Couch scored the conversion point following Burnison's touchdown.

Work Progresses Preparing Ski Run

Work is continuing at the winter sports park at Mt. McSaba as the ski slopes and other facilities are readied for the winter months.

As in the past there will be a work bee beginning at 1 p. m. Sunday. Anyone wishing to contribute time during the week has only to call King Saunders who will direct these people in the work to be done.

The seeding has been most successful on the slope and plans are now underway to cut some of the higher growth.

A new trail has been blazed and the job of cutting out the trees and under brush remains to be done.

Plans have also been made to erect a bulletin board in the downtown area. The skiing conditions at the park will be posted there daily by Mr. Saunders when the season opens.

Scenic Trails Name Executive Officer

George E. Schraut, director of Education and Training Milwaukee county council has been named scout executive of the Scenic Trails Council to succeed Donald F. Berg.

Mr. Schraut will arrive in Traverse City late this month. Mr. Berg who has served as Scout Executive for several years will leave Dec. 1 for Detroit where he will serve in the same capacity with the Lincoln Trails Council.

Four lanes are provided for traffic on Michigan's $100,000,000 Mackinac Straits bridge. The 48-foot roadway has a small center mall two feet wide to separate opposing traffic. The two outer lanes are each 12 feet wide, and the two inner lanes are each 11 feet wide.

Local drivers receiving certificates were Earl W. Crandall, Herbert L. Cummings, Martin Elzinga, Bradford V. Foster and Wesley A. Howard.

Two of the above mentioned drivers, Mr. Elzinga and Mr. Foster also were honored for their years of accident-free driving. Each has been a driver for 12 years.

All drivers from Charlevoix and Emmet counties were honored at an award banquet at East Jordan.

City Approved For Sundew Base

The fine cooperation you and your fellow citizens extended in helping us to arrive at this decision. We of the Coast Guard are looking forward to many years of increased good relationship with the fine people of Charlevoix. I know that the fine cooperation experienced in the past will continue.

Very truly yours,
E. H. Thiel,
Rear Admiral, U. S. Coast Guard Commander, Ninth Coast Guard District

Charlevoix already is the U. S. Coast Guard Group Headquarters for an area which extends from Grand Traverse Bay on Lake Michigan to Alpena on Lake Huron and includes 22 manned stations and 11 unmanned installations. Warrant Officer Joseph Etienne is Group Commander and has 105 men in his present command. Many of these men make their home in Charlevoix.

The U. S. Coast Guard has had a number of facilities here for many years. Among these are the buoy depot and its adjacent storage area and dock and a mobile power boom for loading and unloading the huge buoys which each fall are brought here for winter storage.

The selection of Charlevoix as a base for the Sundew followed a survey made personally by Adm. Thiel earlier this fall and a second made by a group of Coast Guard engineers who visited here only last month to see what facilities the city had to offer.

City officials and local business men worked diligently to supply information requested by the Coast Guard on housing, utilities, schools, hospitals, docking facilities that would be available to the ship and other information which resulted in bringing the ship to Charlevoix.

"Can you imagine anybody crazy enough to get up this early in the morning to go fishing?"

At that time Charlevoix was one of seven lake ports being considered as a prospective base. Others were Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Mackinaw City, St. Ignace, Cheboygan and Alpena.

450 birds through the winter months but have purchased it from Addison Chew, another local grower.

Mr. Chew, whose farm is in Marion township, had 3,000 birds, an increase from 1,950 last year. He plans to keep 1,000 for a breeding flock and after selling 450 birds to the Barkdolls market only 1,550 birds at processing plants in southern Michigan.

Rowley Williams, who also lives in Marion township, raised a flock of 2,000 birds, the majority of which will be sold at a processing plant at Hemlock. He plans to keep 500 birds as a breeding flock and will sell a few locally.

David Matchett has 1,000 broeze and white turkeys which he plans to sell throughout the area as well as locally. He had a breeding flock of 400 birds last year but recently decided against keeping a flock through the winter this year.

Jolmar Romback who lives near Ironton is the only other grower. He had 600 birds, 100 less than last year. He plans to keep a breeding flock of 160 birds and market the others.

Missing from the scene this year are Hiram Brock who last year raised 2,500 birds, John L. Boss who had 700, Albert Carlson who had 875 and Lawrence E. Boss who had 500 turkeys for a total of 4,625 birds.

Truth has only to change hands a few times to become fiction.

The courage we desire and prize is not the courage to die decently, but to live manfully.

School and County Tax Is 32.13 Mills

More than 1,600 statements for winter taxes will be mailed early next week.

Taxpayers will find that this year's taxes will amount to $32.13 per $1,000.00 valuation.

The courthouse sinking fund which was approved in order to provide funds to construct the new county building here has one more year to run. This is the first year that the Grandvue hospital levy, which was approved last year in order to provide fund for construction of a 60-bed addition to Grandvue hospital, has been on the tax roll.

Under schools, the "School voted millage" is that approved to finance the construction of four classrooms on the elementary building and the music and industrial arts building. The "special school voted" is the three mills approved in October to provide extra operating funds for one year only.

Taxpayers will note that the city receives no revenue from the winter taxes. The city serves only as a collection agency which then turns the tax monies over to the proper county officials.

Where do your winter tax monies go? To the county and to the schools is the explanation of the opportunity of the $32.13 on every $1,000.00 valuation shows:

County
County operational tax	$10.03
Courthouse sinking fund	1.55
Grandvue hospital	2.84
TOTAL	$14.42

Schools
Allocated	$10.08
School voted	4.63
Special School voted	3.00
TOTAL	$17.71

The city receives its revenue from the summer taxes which are levied in July at the rate of 17 mills. Of this amount the city receives 12.21 mills to underwrite operational costs, 2.79 mills are earmarked for the interest and sinking fund and two mills for the street fund.

A Thanksgiving Thought

America is a nation of strengths. Its industrial might gives her people the highest living standard in the world. Its powerful defenses safeguard her heritage of independence and freedom.

America is a nation of strong people. They have courageously resisted the cold war tactics of an alien doctrine. They have bravely stemmed the advances of aggressors.

America is a nation of shining ideals. It has held proudly in trust "the preservation of the sacred fire of liberty," as George Washington called it. It has always been a nation "under God," as the Pledge of Allegiance states.

America is a nation of growing spiritual strength. In its early years, hardly more than a tenth of its citizens were connected with religious groups. Since then we have put on much spiritual armor. Today 60 per cent of us are Church and Synagogue members. More than half of us attend worship services regularly. We are on the high tide of deepening interest in religion.

A French visitor to our shores in 1830, Alexis de Tocqueville, expressed his amazement at the power religion exerted upon the life of the nation. He found in America that the spirit of religion and the spirit of freedom "were intimately united and that they reigned in common over the same country."

Thus did the French writer discern the source of our strong freedoms — our recognition of our dependence upon God. In our own day President Eisenhower has called for "a frank acknowledgment of our faith that He can supply that additional strength which, for these trying times, is so sorely needed."

November has been set aside as Religion in American Life Month. Across the nation emphasis has been placed on the importance of religion in personal, family, community and national life.

What better time to climax this observance than on Thanksgiving, a day made traditional to our way of life when our forefathers bowed to their Creator with thanks and looked to Him for guidance and strength to build a strong and free nation.

Why "plaster" your home with insurance policies?

Look into our new 1-policy, 1-premium home-protection package.

The big thing about home insurance is protection... not the number of policies you carry. We can provide you with fire, theft and liability insurance all in one policy... with one premium. ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Come New Year's Day, it'll be Ohio State and Oregon in the Rose Bowl... The combination has all the ingredients for a whale of a game... But if we were betting we'd bet on Ohio State... And that big event will be staged only a month from Sunday... Where has 1957 gone?

But between now and then there are seeds of things to do, basketball games, four in all before the holidays... the addressing of Christmas cards, the wrapping of gifts (if you're lucky enough to have them purchased), meetings, meetings and more meetings for just about anything you'd like to mention... And then there are those who wonder what we do in Charlevoix in the winter time... Why, there's not enough hours in the day.

The big thing at the moment is Thanksgiving... But come next week there's a big meeting to put the final touches on the plans for the second annual smorgasbord... And if there's one boy in this town who knows the true meaning of that word it's Bob Neff who's heading up the effort... He can think of more foods... why just mention the word to him and he can come up with some wonderful combinations... The ski run will benefit from the event to be held at St. Mary's school hall on Dec. 15... This one promises to be a bigger and better than last year's... And it should be for there are many more people helping with it... This is one event that's truly a community project because just everyone gets into it one way or another... So plan meeting at the St. Mary's school hall next Wednesday... and the smorgasbord on Dec. 16.

You know, the people of Charlevoix must live right... that's the only explanation we can give for receiving the 'plum' that every northern Michigan community was after... the Sunday... Maybe it was because the city officials just laid what they had on the line... with no frills or promises... maybe it was because Charlevoix has always been friendly to the Coast Guard... Maybe it was because we have a beautiful landlocked and accessible harbor... Or perhaps it was a combination of all three... What ever it was, we hope you appreciate how very fortunate we are to have the ship based here permanently come June... So a great big vote of thanks to all those who, in their own quiet ways, did the job and did it well... We're lucky to have such people among our midst.

We don't know for sure but we think the Weatherman pulled out all the stops last weekend... In 48 hours we had just about any kind of weather you'd like to mention... But this time of year one can expect just about anything... only you don't expect it all at one time.

Do you have a son in the 14 to 18 year age group?... If you have or if you're interested in boys this age you should attend the meeting that's been called for next Wednesday to organize an Explorer Scout post... There are so many interesting things these youngsters can do... now that they're past the Boy Scout age... Everyone interested in the program, boys, parents and prospective leaders are urged to attend the meeting... The time and place will be found in the Coming events column.

Every now and then we hear about the wild life of the area moving into town... Not long ago, we're told, Mayor James Hiller sighted a beautiful red fox over on the north side not far from where he lives... About the only thing we've missed this year is a bear... but we wouldn't be a bit surprised to meet one coming down the street one of these days... Ohhhh... what are we saying.

Just a reminder... that it will soon be Christmas... Many people have found it hard to believe... but according our calendar Sunday will be Dec. 1 and from then on the days fly, but fast... And when you're making out that Christmas card list, why not include someone who might not receive a card... There isn't anyone in that category?... Who are you kidding?... there are lots of people without families who are not remembered at holiday time...

You've heard people complain about the busy holidays and how there's never enough time to do all the things you've planned

CORRECTION

It was erroneously reported in the Going and Comings column in the Nov. 21 issue of the Courier that Malcolm McDowell was discharged from the Charlevoix hospital on Nov. 11. A check of hospital records revealed that a Malcolm McDowell of East Jordan was discharged on that date and that Mr. McDowell had not been a patient in the hospital.

Our sincere apologies to both Mr. McDowell and Mr. McDonald for the mistake caused by the similarity of names.

Visit to Berber Country Told In Letter From Phyllis Roberts

Phyllis Roberts, serving in French Morocco, North Africa, as a civilian employee with the U.S. Government, has written to her mother, Mrs. Bertha Roberts, about a recent visit into the Sahara Desert. It follows:

"I had a nice vacation over Armistice Day weekend. Went down into the desert. It's Berber country down there.

"They are entirely different

Arabs. They live in houses made of clay bricks. They dry their corn on top of their houses.

"We went to a 'Djefn' which is a Berber feast. The Moroccan government arranged it for us. The first course was roast lamb. They bring around water and soap to wash your hands and everyone eats with his fingers. There were about six courses and all were delicious.

"There was one fruit I'd never seen. It's like a long green apple but when you open it, it tastes just like wild strawberries. It must be a native fruit of the Atlas Mountains.

"After the feast there were the Berber dances. The men had sort of half-drum made of goat skin. I suppose, they kept warming the drums at the fire. They only hit them with one hand. The women keep time to the drums and sing in answer to men singing.

"All the Berber women I saw on the trip really wear colorful clothing. They don't wear veils.

"We were a long time crossing the 'High Atlas' Mountains. I was really hanging on for dear life around those mountains. There is room for only one-way traffic and you could look a mile straight down most of the time.

O. E. S. Plans Two Special Meetings For Next Week

Plans for two special meetings of the Charlevoix chapter No. 72, Order of the Eastern Star were announced by Mrs. Melvin Plum, worthy matron, at a recent meeting of the organization.

On Monday there will be a special meeting at the Masonic Temple at 8 p. m. for the ceremony of initiation. This meeting has been called for 8 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. Wednesday a single school of instruction will be conducted by Mrs. Trula Davy of Alpena, Grand Esther of the Grand Chapter of Michigan.

At the regular meeting at which these events were announced, Glenn B. Snider showed an American Cancer Society film. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William H. Supernaw, Mrs. Lester Smith, Mrs. John Cross and Mrs. C. M. Bice.

In conclusion, Mrs. Plum urged all members to attend the special meetings next week.

Saw a truck and a car that had missed a turn. The desert seemed real lifeless after we crossed the Atlas Mountains... Just rock, stone and sand.

"We stayed at a hotel down in the desert. We went through the Casbah. I sure was glad to get out. Shook hands in there with a lot of Berbers.

"The evening before we went down into the desert, we went through the native markets and the native square in the city of Merakech. The square is so interesting... there are the dancers from different tribes, the snake charmers, the story tellers, the men who write letters for those who can't write, little booths selling things to eat, etc. It is fascinating. I always like to visit that square. You really have to watch your purse for there are so many pick-pockets there. I usually put mine inside my coat."

Guild Notes...

The new tasty candies packed in cans (for easy shipping or wrapping) is now available through the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital, according to Mrs. James Hillier, candy chairman. The creamy mints and the chocolate straws also make ideal little Christmas gifts... or a gift for the postman, the milkman, the paper boy or someone you'd just like to remember with a thoughtful little gift... The attractively canned candies are on sale at the hospital... or you may call Mrs. Hillier, Mrs. Gordon Freedman or Mrs. E. D. Hawley to name a few.

Have you met Perky? If you've had a child in the hospital recently you've found what a fine companion he is for your child. Perky is a little puppet... who's apt to appear on just about any color girl... He's made by Guild members and given to each small child who enters the hospital as a patient. Perky has an important role to play for its job to keep the little patients entertained and to make him forget his illness. If you could see him you'd realize that he's an ideal ambassador of goodwill... Anyone would fall in love with him on sight... And when the youngster goes Perky goes along with him as a souvenir of his hospital visit.

The favors committee has been busy recently, making clever Thanksgiving tray favors under the direction of Mrs. Ralph McRae... On each major holiday, the occasion on their trays... Besides making favors for the forthcoming holidays, the committee decorates a tree in the lobby at the hospital... places other lovely reminders of the Christmas season around the hospital and on Christmas sees that each patient who must remain in the hospital over the big day has a gift from the Guild on his tray... just to let him know that he hasn't been forgotten at Christmas time.

Have you heard about the little Christmas party that's been planned for the December meeting on Dec. 10?... Following a brief business meeting, there'll be a brief Christmas program and refreshments served by the hospitality committee... Plan now to attend... This will be an excellent opportunity to introduce new members to the Guild.

Michigan is inhabited by several types of snakes, but only the Massasauga rattler is poisonous. This thick-bodied, sluggish snake—despite the highly toxic properties of its venom—has never been known to have caused the death of a healthy human in Michigan. The Massasauga is a small or medium-sized snake and usually frequents marshy areas, but sometimes ranges up-land during summer months.

Hunters Continue To Fill Licenses

More and more hunters have reported filling licenses during the past week.

Youngest hunter to come home with a buck is Charles Bergmann, 14-year-old son of the Ted Bergmanns who brought down a five-point buck while hunting east of here near Big Rock on Lake Michigan with his uncles.

Irv Drost reported filling his license.

Gene Gibelyou came home with a spikehorn antler his son, Clare, and Charles Beeman with does on special licenses taken in the Delta county area.

With the closing of Charlevoix public schools for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, several members of the faculty are planning to join families or friends elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bingham and son, John and daughter, Mable, plan to spend the holiday weekend in Gobles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kipke will go to Holland to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Baumbach and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moeller plan to spend the holiday weekend with relatives in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Novak and family are planning on joining relatives in Grand Rapids for the long weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Odmark and family will go to Dearborn to spend the holiday weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Odmark and other relatives.

Mrs. Edward O'Neill and son, Edward, are also planning to join relatives in Detroit during the holiday recess.

Hunting Camps Giving Way to Motel Comforts

The old deer-hunting camp is almost a thing of the past.

So says Warren Chase chairman of the Department of Wildlife Management at the University of Michigan.

"Although deer camps have been going down in numbers in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas for several years, it was a surprise to me to find them reaching such a low state during the early days of the deer season this year," says Chase.

"Where we often had six or seven deer camps in 1950, this year we had only two in the McKinley River—area of the Au Sable River."

Why is deer-camping declining? Says Professor Chase, "It might be said that deer camping is being reduced because it is a rough, hard way to live. You guessed it. Those once rugged hunters are now living in cozy motels and driving out to the haunts in the morning."

"Another reason why there are fewer tent camps is that hunting success has been reduced in this part of the state since 1952. While we used to find seven or eight bucks hanging in the tent camp the first day of the season, we now find that two or three deer have been taken out of the area on the same day."

"A third major reason for low numbers of deer taken the first day of the 1957 season was because of the weather report that the rain would last over the opening day. No doubt many hunters who had planned to go delayed for a day or two."

"The main reason we may ascribe to reduced hunter numbers in the Lower Peninsula is the opening of the bridge to the Upper Peninsula. No doubt this will make a change in hunter numbers from now on but we will not know until after December 1 what the effects have been on this year's hunting."

"Another reason why the deer population has starved down is that it reached its peak in 1949 and 1950, when there was great starvation of the herd due to lack of food and a severe winter. Since that time the deer food has not increased as much as was expected."

"There still may be some starvation but it is hoped that the food will increase fast enough in the next few years so that we may have as good hunting in this area in the future as we had at its peak."

"To have a vision that spells great good for a large number of people is one of life's miracles. We are witnessing such a miracle in the completion of the Straits of Mackinac bridge" — James Robertson, mayor of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Turkey Festival to Be Held Dec. 4-5

On December 4 and 5, the Eleventh Michigan Turkey Festival will be held at the Civic Center, in Lansing.

With turkey raisers scattered over most of the lower peninsula, the festival affords an excellent opportunity to bring them together, to get better acquainted, and to discuss important industry problems.

The industry is changing so rapidly that the importance of turkey growers working together cannot be stressed too much.

In addition to a two-day educational program, there will also be the Live and Dressed Turkey Show. This show is also open to Juniors in 4-H and F. F. A. There will also be 30 to 35 commercial exhibits, which will afford turkey raisers an opportunity to see the latest in equipment, feeds, health products, etc.

The festival will be climaxed with a banquet on the evening of December 5. Trevor Jones, National Turkey Federation Pre-

No Evidence to Bar Using Gibberellin

There is no evidence yet discovered that gibberellin, the much discussed plant growth stimulator, has a harmful effect.

This is the report of S. H. Wittwer, horticultural scientist at Michigan State University, who has done much of the research on the growth stimulant that makes plants grow faster and mature sooner. Since gibberellin is not an insecticide, fungicide or herbicide, the Food and Administration will not make any statement against the use of gibberellin on food crops unless there is some evidence that it has a harmful influence or residue. Wittwer thinks it unlikely that evidence of this type will be presented.

He cites four reasons for this belief:

Gibberellin applied to plants is absorbed but is not stored in any plant parts.

Tests thus far have shown that gibberellin has no toxic effect on animals.

Leafy vegetables sprayed with gibberellin several days before harvest show no residue at harvest time.

Gibberellin-like substances occur naturally in higher plants and may be the same chemically as gibberellins now produced artificially in laboratories.

Rayder Basketball Squad Prepares for Coming Campaign

With the football season over, they, too, prepare for their opening at Mancelona. Elsewhere in the Northern Michigan Class C league the story is much the same as teams prepare for opening games.

The defending champions, the Boyne City Ramblers, will open their season against Petoskey Friday. The game will be played on the Northmen's floor. Mancelona will play at Kalkaska the same night while Harbor Springs will play Petoskey St. Francis on the Petoskey high school floor and Gaylord will host Cheboygan in pre-season games Dec. 3.

At Boyne City Coach Pfahler has not picked his starting lineup but it will probably include his three returning regulars, Carl Charon, Doug Newville and Rick Casper, who is 6 ft. 3 in. Missing will be another regular, Steve Williams, now 6 ft. 6 in., tall who has been lost for the season because of a back injury received early in the football season.

Coach Pfahler will select the other starters from among the following lettermen, Bob Christensen who is also tall Jerry Greene, Pat Bryan and Jim Camburn.

On Coach Jake Schurman's roster when his team goes against Kalkaska will be such familiar names as Ronnie Johnson, top scorer in the league last season, Dick Holstad and John Phillips, the latter two both seniors, who saw action last year. He also has three lettermen who saw action last year. They are Bob Johnson, Dexter Bailey and Doug Molby.

At Harbor Springs Coach Chas. Paige has a wealth of experienced players to call on. Among them are four regulars, Pete Graham, Richie Clarke, George Coveyou and Bob Lauer. The latter pair are well over six feet.

Among the returning lettermen who are seeking regular berths are Dean Barneffier, Algen Allender, Ken Garver, Randy Lauer and Jack Meyer. When Coach Jim Mongeau sends his Gaylord Blue Devils against Cheboygan on the home floor next Tuesday he will have two regulars, Darwin Mason and John Burnison and two lettermen, Keith Riddle and Duane Jenkins to call on. Other starters and bench strength will be taken from players up from the Reserves.

At Pellston Coach Francis McMahon has three senior regulars, Duane Johnson, Allen Ball and Ray Darkalee and a junior regular, Bill McClintchey, who will form the nucleus for this year's squad. Other candidates are Jack Schmalzried, Tom McLane and Larson Givens, all seniors, Basil Naganashe and Bob Forri, juniors, and Barry Anderson, Ken Parkey and Gary Spencer, sophomores.

Coach Gayle Saxton will call on players up from the Reserves to make up his Varsity squad on East Jordan in the fall. Buck Chuk and Gene Richards are the only returning lettermen. Richard Kramer, Larry Hayden and Jim Yettaw, though not lettermen have had some experience and may be used in the starting lineup when the Red Devils travel to Pellston to take on the Hornets Dec. 6.

Last season Coach Bruce Smith's Grayling Vikings finished second in league standings, behind Boyne City and then advanced to the semi-finals in the state Class C basketball tournament before they were defeated by Lakeview, the team that took the state title. That team was composed almost entirely of seniors. As a result, he is starting a rebuilding program around the only regular from the last year's team, Don Roberts. Only other candidate is Roger Hatfield, a

Tuberculosis Is Still Problem Says Health Director

Tuberculosis is still a problem in Charlevoix county Dr. A. F. Litzenger, director of District No. 3 warned this week and urged local residents to buy Christmas seals to help fight TB.

The total TB case load in the county has increased in recent years, according to Dr. Litzenger who said that at present 20 people are under health department supervision for tuberculosis.

Charlevoix county presently has three people hospitalized for TB with 26 under health department care.

Dr. Litzenger explained that the case load includes people with active and inactive TB. Supervision of active TB is essential because tuberculosis is communicable. Supervision of the inactive cases are essential because tuberculosis is a relapsing disease.

Million Dollar Industry

Michigan annually ranks among the leading producers of sand and gravel for construction work, industrial use and other purposes. In 1956, some 42,000,000 tons of sand and gravel were produced in the state—valued at more than $37,000,000. In this photo, sand and gravel are being washed down from the sides of a pit in southern Michigan.

One of the first newsmen to drive out on Michigan's Mackinac Straits bridge, wrote: "It didn't seem like a bridge. It was like driving on a super-highway in the sky."

During 1956, a total of 42,000,000 tons of sand and gravel was produced in the state, with a value of more than $37,000,000.

Conservation Department records indicate an increase in production of about 3,000,000 tons per year since 1951 and the value of this mineral production has more than doubled since that year.

Michigan sand and gravel finds its way into a variety of industrial and construction uses, particularly in road-building work. In 1955, for example, 63 per cent of the state's production went into road construction and another 26 per cent was used for structural purposes.

At least 80 of the state's 83 counties contribute to the annual sand and gravel yield, but about two-thirds of the total production comes from seven counties—Oakland, Livingston, Wayne, Washtenaw, Macomb, Kent and Ottawa. Each of these counties produce more than 1,000,000 tons of sand and gravel annually.

Commercial producers account for some 83 percent of the total yield, with the remaining 17 percent produced by county road commissions and other governmental agencies.

A recent development in the industry is the introduction of "beneficiation" of gravel, a process which separates, screens and washes materials. This up-grading process removes objectionable chert and shale to meet specifications for highway construction work.

Thanksgiving Left-overs Offer Possibilities for Tasty Meals

A little imagination with seasoning and some experimenting with food combinations can make left-overs from Thanksgiving dinner into tasty meals, says Clara Brown, Charlevoix county home demonstration agent.

Bones and small bits of turkey can be used for soup or broth. Cover them with slightly salted water and simmer for an hour or so, then strain off the broth. Add onion, celery or other seasoning if you like a more flavorful broth.

You can use the broth to stretch left-over gravy for dumplings or in a meat pie. It can also be used in hash or to moisten left-over Pin wheels make a hearty main stuffing when you reheat it. Make one recipe of baking powder biscuit dough and press or roll it up as you would a jelly roll. Cut into one inch slices and bake. Serve with hot gravy.

You can combine cold vegetables for attractive salads. Use one vegetable or mix several. Marinate well in French dressing and serve on a lettuce leaf. Left-over meats can be diced and added to tossed vegetable salad for a main dish at lunch.

For variety in flavor you may want to try herbs, spices or other flavorings when you serve Thanksgiving foods the second time. If so, add them a little at a time and taste to make sure you don't get too much. It's easy to add more seasoning but once you get too much there's nothing you can do.

Ruth Hunsberger, district marketing agent for Michigan State University's Extension Service, gives us the following recipe for turkey salad bake, which is an excellent way to use second-day turkey.

Combine in a casserole, 2 c. diced cooked turkey, 2 cups diced cooked celery, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, 1 Tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 c. chopped nuts, 1 c. mayonnaise, 2 T. lemon juice and 1/4 c. sliced stuffed olives. Cover mixture with 1 c. finely crushed potato chips mixed with 1/2 c. grated cheddar cheese. Bake at 375 degree for 20 min. Serve hot. It's delicious.

Purchases of Savings Bonds Up In State

Dangers of New Electric Tea Pot Told by Police

The fire marshal division of the State Police has issued a warning not to use a new Japanese made electric teapot which has the potential of causing electrocution.

The teapots, which have the trade name of Rosko, have made their appearance on store counters in Michigan.

An examination of the utensil was made at the state health department at the request of Arnold C. Renner, chief of the fire division. The department reported that the heating unit, an open submersed element, creates a "fumes" shock hazard. The open element also presents a serious shock possibility. When used in the kitchen where many appliances and plumbing fixtures are grounded a person might be electrocuted by contacting these grounded surfaces and the teapot.

The assembly is in two parts—the teapot, which holds about four cups, and a plate base holder. Two connections in the heating element in the bottom of the teapot form contact with two exposed connections in the base plate which are hooked up with the power supply cord.

In addition to the other shock dangers, if the power supply is on and the plate base should be dropped in water or the electrical contacts covered by spilled tea anyone touching the plate could be easily killed, Renner said.

New Basketball Rules May Cause Confusion Among Fans

With the official opening of the 1957-58 basketball season this week, fans will be introduced to many new rules changes which are certain to confuse even the most well informed spectators. The first major change will be much in evidence as spectators view the playing floor for the first time. This will be the widening of the free throw area which has been extended from six feet to 12 feet, following the pattern used by colleges. The second rule change which everyone will find most confusing is that no player on offense, whether he has the ball or not, will be allowed to remain in the rectangular area formed by the free throw line to the end of the floor longer than three seconds.

Correct Error In Millage Assessment

A correction has been made by the city assessor in the 1957 tax levy which appeared in the Nov. 26 issue of the Charlevoix Courier. Under the taxes going to the schools, the figure for 'school allocated' should have read 10.80 instead of 10.08, mills. This change would give the schools a total of $18.43 on each $1,000 instead of $17.71.

Community Chest Drive Completed; Fund Passes Goal

The 1957 Community Chest fund drive to raise monies for 10 agencies has been brought to a successful conclusion, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Duerr, co-chairman of the campaign, have announced. On Wednesday a total of $9,054.25 had been deposited in the Community Chest account and another $324.00 had been pledged bringing the figure to $9,396.25. Any funds over the goal of $9,150.00 will be set aside as a 'cushion' for next year's drive. Prior to the drive, a quota for each division was set up by Mr. and Mrs. Duerr, based on results of other drives. The goal of the Business Professional and Industrial division, for instance, was $4,500. The drive in this category, however, netted $4,991.57. Other divisions, their quotas and totals follow: summer residents, where the quota was $1,875, netted $2,037; organizations, $125.00 quota, results, $90; residential, the other division other than organizations to fall below its quota of $1,800.00 netted only $1,100.93. This may have been because many people preferred to give at their place of employment; townships, $850.00 had a total of $864.70. Pledges totaling $324.00 included $52.00 in the business professional and industrial division; $260.00, summer residents and $30.00 organizations.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Here we go again... as the 1957-58 basketball season gets underway... From now until mid-March we'll all be living for and around the games... There'll be four between now and the holidays and 12 more during January and February... And then come the tournaments.

But let's get back to this week's game when the Rayders travel to Mancelona for the first game in their beautiful new gymnasium... They've waited a long time for this new building... We know that everyone will be real happy for them... now that they have it... It's a shame to spoil the occasion for the Ironmen but we do hope our little Rayders do just that... and come home with a big fat win... A beautiful way to open what looks from here like a tough season... If that Petoskey-Boys City game the other night was any criterion of what's to come we'd advise that you see your doctor at once for a tranquilizer... to be taken only when the going gets rough.

To Coach Carey and his Rayders... also Coach Rice and his little Rayders... all kinds of good luck in the weeks ahead.

And while we're on the subject of basketball, don't blow your stack until you review the new rulings which have gone into effect this season... There's a possibility we may lose a few officials, either as the result of insults and brawls thrown by the spectators or because they're just folded up... trying to keep up with the play... But it's going to be interesting... Just wait and see.

What did you think of that news about the new home for the 310th Ordnance Co., which came like a bolt out of the blue last week... We think it's going to be a mighty fine addition to our town... and we think we're mighty lucky to get it.

Looks like winter is here... what with temperatures dropping to 20 degrees and everything covered with a bit of snow... Could be and we shouldn't be surprised because as falls go, we've enjoyed a good one... If the winter isn't any more severe it's not going to be half bad... But anything can happen in the next four months before spring arrives... and probably will.

Understand Beaver Island had a wonderful hunting season this year... Don't know what the final deer 'take' was but on Thanksgiving Day Archie LaFreniere took Deer No. 101 and a few hours later his son, Alvin, came home with No. 102... Looks like that family won't go hungry this winter... One thing about hunting over there... the conservation department can keep a pretty good check on the number taken.

Charlevoix stores are sure taking on that Christmas look... or haven't you noticed? If you've a Christmas list you'll have no trouble finding just the things you want... And if you haven't a list, just go browsing and you'll find more things you never even thought of.

And while you're making out that Christmas list, how's about keeping in mind some of the fine books written by local authors... Most everyone loves receiving an autographed copy of a book... and it's extra special when the givers knows the author personally... as all of you do know our local authors.

Wasn't it wonderful having so many of our college guys and dolls home over the weekend... Some of them we hadn't seen since they'd left for school... Sure wish something could be planned for their entertainment during the holidays... If there's skiing... and there should be... then they'll have that... Oh, we can think of all sorts of things they might like... But who's to do it?

Didn't you enjoy the first Christmas music heard Sunday? It is so very lovely and we hear it such a short time... But each time one hears the beautiful old carols one loves them more for they become more precious as the years go by... And then there's always the new Christmas music... a little of it good... and a lot more not worth listening to... For the next three weeks we're going to listen to it every chance we have.

And if you think that the day will ever come when the story of Christmas will be no more, just take a look at a special story in the December issue of the Reader's Digest... It's the first article in the issue and is entitled "Nobody Owes Me a Christmas"... You'll get a lump in your throat when you read it... But your faith in our way of life and the things we believe to be right will be greater than ever... And when you enjoy your Christmas this year, say a little prayer for the people in other parts of the world who must keep Christmas only in their hearts... say a prayer that the day may come when they may observe this beautiful day in the ways we take so much for granted... And say a prayer in gratitude for the many things you have.

It was December 7, 1941... a quiet Sunday afternoon... Everyone was doing what he usually did on Sunday afternoon... And then chaos broke loose... It couldn't be but it was true... World War II had started for this country with the bombing at Pearl Harbor.

Since then we have lived in a new and different world... Sometimes we wonder if it is a world we'd pick from choice... surely the easy-going 'good ole days' were easier on the nerves... But since we have no choice we learn the new things as they come along and hope we will live through the atomic and electronic ages... the world of hydrogen bombs and missiles circling around in outer space... In a world where the wish on the falling star isn't anymore because the 'falling star' might be another sputnik or it's counter part falling out of space into the earth's atmosphere... Sometimes we think it would be simpler to find us a desert island and 'hole up'... busy ourselves with the needs of the moment and to heck with the future... And then again... it might get awfully dull... So we'll take our chance along with the rest of you poor mortals... and hope for the best.

Did you happen to be listening Person to Person on TV the other night when the great Olympic skater, Carol Heisse mentioned that she had spent several weeks at the home of Paul Brunet on Lake Charlevoix... Many people heard it and called us about it... It was certainly a wonderful plug for this section of Michigan.

And from down Florida-way, a card from a group of Charlevoix-ans who gathered at the home of the P. R. Rosses for Thanksgiving dinner... If you can imagine, it was 80 degrees there... signing the card were Miss F. L. Edison, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wells, Mrs. George Emery, Mrs. Jerry Conley, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Scudder, Mrs. Sadie Oldham and the Rosses... It sounded like great fun... The card was postmarked Orlando Beach, but we think the Rosses are at Holly Hill... Thanks a million for thinking of all of us back here in the north... where the temperature was down to 18 degrees that day.

This you won't believe but the Albert Edwards had lemon pie last week... made from a lemon they had raised... it weighed almost a pound and supplied enough juice, etc., for two pies... Florida had better look to its laurels.

If you have a treadle sewing machine... or know anyone who has one that no longer is in use why not donate it to the Retarded Children's school... After the holidays the children are going to try their hand at sewing... Here's a wonderful way to help in a very worthwhile project.

Pre-Season Games Are Close Contests

In pre-season games played Tuesday night, Gaylord defeated Cheboygan 56 to 44 and Harbor Springs bowed to Petoskey St. Francis 63 to 50.

Playing at Gaylord, the Blue Devils jumped into a 9 to 7 quarter lead at the quarter, increased it to 27 to 22 at the half, and 39 to 32 going into the final period.

Darwin Mason with 24 points and Dick Riddle with 18 paced the victors. George Earhart had 15 and his brother, Dale eight for Cheboygan.

The Harbor Springs Rams lost to Petoskey St. Francis Crusaders on the free throw line after outscoring them 20 to 19 in the field goal department. With Tom Grosskopf leading the way with 23 points, the Petoskey quintet led 11 to 7, 23 to 21 and 44 to 31 by quarters. The victory came when the Crusaders connected on 25 of 35 free throw attempts while the Rams scored on only 10 in 21 attempts.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold C. Kahn

All Weathers Make A Soul

At first glance winter's severe cold and bluster seem to be the enemies of all vegetable and animal growth. In the late fall "killing frosts" play a dismal prelude to a chilling theme of snows and blizzards, sleet and ice. Leaves wither and fall. Flowers droop. Woodchucks and chipmunk retreat to their dens in the earth. Wasps desert their paper nests and take refuge in tree holes and roof corners. Many birds wing southward. Frogs and toads burrow into the mud of pond bottoms. Fishes decrease their activity. To all appearances winter is the enemy of nature from which life flees or else perishes.

But appearances are deceiving. When winter lies inch-thick upon our windowsills, when northerly winds whip stinging sleet around our venerable, bare-limbed beech inside Hidden Brook gate, when deer once more - embroiled in the snowy coverlet on our acreage with dainty, heart-shaped tracks and dig for beech mast there and search for frozen apples over yonder - life will still go on, sometimes inspite of winter hardship and often because of it.

In the deep snow many a meadow mouse and whitefooted mouse will find shelter from a hawk's fierce gaze and murderous talons. Mice will safely tunnel from nest to buried food and back again unmolested by winged predators.

Cottontail rabbits and snowshoe hares will use banks of snow as ladders for climbing high on shrubs and trees where they can nibble on tender shoots and delectable buds otherwise out of their reach.

A period of penetrating cold is necessary for the proper sprouting of many kinds of seeds, and some species of plants are benefited by the bite of frost. Some years ago, at a mission agricultural farm in India, it was discovered that when the tops of eggplants were frosted the plants produced a second crop. (Thereafter, when eggplants had grown a first crop the Indians would not wait for a freeze but imitated the attack of cold weather by cutting back the plants so that they could produce once more.)

For proper hatching, the eggs of many insects, such as the Rocky Mountain locust, need to pass through a cold period. During the coldest months of the year some creatures will grow so rapidly that when spring arrives they will have passed completely through childhood and adolescence and will be able to take their places as adults. Stone flies and May flies in the brook will make this change during the winter. So will larval salamanders and the tadpoles of greenfrogs and bullfrogs.

Argonne to Close Saturday for Winter

Friday will be the last shrimp night at the Argonne until spring, Bill Matzinger, manager of the popular night spot, said this week.

At the same time he said that the Argonne would close after Saturday night until spring.

The dining room will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

Justice Court News

Justice John Connolly reports the following cases which appeared in his court during the past week.

James W. Annis, 18 of Petoskey, charged with disregarding a traffic sign, was ordered to pay $5.00 fine. Summons issued by city police.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Bedford Curtis, 41, charged with disregarding a stop sign, was fined $5.00. Summons issued by state police.

Alva Nairot, 19, of East Jordan, charged with disregarding a traffic sign, was fined $5.00. Summons issued by city police.

While we commonly think of the kindly warmth of spring and the beneficent heat of summer as providing the only favorable conditions for growth, the truth is that here in the North all weathers have a place in Nature's scheme, and without the sharp austerity of winter some forms of life would not last.

Many fresh-water clams and crayfishes will lay their eggs in the frigid waters of stream and pond during the severest months of winter.

Long ago geographers and anthropologists proved that civilization advances most rapidly in the temperate zones where there is a mixture of weather conditions—summer balminess followed by autumn chill and wintry blasts of wind and snow. The year-round warmth of the tropics makes for spiritual torpor, mental laziness, and physical dullness. It takes all kind of weather to stimulate men to be at their best.

While we pray for lives full of sunshine and pleasantness, God could do us no greater harm than to answer these prayers, for it takes all kinds of weather to grow a soul. Radiant days are necessary when bright blessings shine down upon us from above and we absorb providential goodness as a sunny hillside soaks up light. Rainy days are needed when the spirit is refreshed and cleansed as when leaves, grasses, and crops of countless forests and fields drink deeply of heaven's plenty. But wintry cold and snowy blasts from the North are also required in the temperate life—days when our lives are revealingly tested just as hard winds, heavy snows, and slashing sleet prove the strengths and weaknesses of a Northern woods, bowing snow-laden evergreen limbs in humility and breaking rotten branches off all the trees. So life's hard weather demonstrates in us what deserves to last and what ought to fade and die. Only winter clearly shows which trees are evergreen!

All weathers make a soul. It was after blindness descended upon John Milton that he wrote his sublimest poetry. Beethoven's loveliest sonatas were composed after he was stricken with deafness. What would Lincoln be without his lifelong seizures of melancholy? What would Christ be without His cross?

An American tourist in Italy watched a lumberjack at work. As the logs floated down the swift mountain stream the lumberman would thrust his hook into a particular log and draw it aside.

"Those logs all look alike," said the tourist. "Why do you pick out just a few?"

"They are not all alike," the lumberman replied. "Some were grown low on the mountainside where they were protected all their lives from harsh winds. Their grains are coarse. They are good only for lumber. So I let them pass on down the stream to the lumber mills. But a few logs grew on the mountain top. From the time they were tiny seedlings they felt the lashings of high winds and the weight of heavy snows, and they grew strong and tough and fine-grained. We do not use these for ordinary lumber. No sir! These few are especially selected for choice work."

So God uses wind-buffed souls for his choicest work.

Two Memory Books Placed in Library

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT . . ." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

Noted Harpist to Appear Wednesday On Concert Series

Mildred Dilling, who has received world recognition as one of the outstanding harpists of this decade, will appear in Petoskey Wednesday under the sponsorship of the Northern Michigan Community Concert Association.

This will be the second concert in the current series of four presented by the Concert Association.

Dubbed "queen of her domain" Miss Dilling's unrivaled position as the foremost woman harpist has been acknowledged many times by her vast public. Her rare gift of interpretation, coupled with a complete mastery of technique, has aroused new interest in the harp as a solo instrument and has won her world-wide renown as a recitalist.

Her New York recitals are brilliant events and her Town Hall recital early this year was her tenth appearance there. She has appeared as guest artist with many of the nation's outstanding orchestras and on several American radio and television networks. She also has had the signal honor of giving seven invitation concerts at the White House.

Miss Dilling is thought to have the largest harp collection in the United States. Of the approximately 4,000 harps in this country, she has 60. She always carries several of her most interesting instruments with her on tour and frequently enlivens her performance by showing them to her audience and demonstrating their tonal quality.

It is said that Miss Dilling set out to prove that the harp is as exciting a solo instrument as the piano and violin. Everyone agrees that she has achieved her goal with spectacular success.

Northern Michigan concertgoers will have an opportunity to hear Miss Dilling when she appears at the Petoskey high school auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday under the auspices of the Northern Michigan Community Concert Association.

Co-operative Has Increase In Business

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix Co-operative Co. was held at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club Monday evening with more than 100 members and guests present.

The financial report for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1957, showed that the volume of business had increased nine per cent and that net earnings were up eight per cent as compared with the same period a year ago.

Fred W. Willis, manager of the local Co-operative, who presented the report, credited this to a late harvest in 1956 and early one last summer. This condition brought the major portion of the '56 harvest in after the August 31 date in 1956. Favorable weather conditions last summer resulted in an early harvest. As a result, the total included parts of two years' harvest.

Three directors were named for two-year terms. They are L. E. McGhan and George Smith who were re-elected to succeed themselves and Aaron Brock who was elected for the first time after being appointed to fill an unexpired term.

Lee Trumble, superintendent of accounting, Farm Bureau Services, was the guest speaker at the meeting. A film on frozen foods was also shown.

The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments and the awarding of prizes. Those winning prizes were Homer Warner, Frank Collier, Fred Hoffman, George Willis, Mrs. Ole Nielsen, Mrs. Harley Warner, James McClanahan, Mark Saunders, Carl McBride, Jasper Warner, John Rombach, Gene Hoffman, Mrs. Rowley Williams, Ed Renkiewicz, Stanley Houghton, Dan Meier, Clarence Smith, Dorothy Kasik, Mrs. Joseph Stutzman, Orville Harding, Clyde Cunningham, Charles Mascho, E. K. Shanahan and Mrs. Charles Vandecar.

Severe Winter Blasts Hit Area

The first real storm of the winter season hit the Charlevoix area Tuesday.

A four inch snow fall early Tuesday, followed by heavy rain-fall after which the temperature tumbled to the 20's coated roads throughout the area with a slick covering, making driving hazardous.

Late Tuesday and early Wednesday one and one-half inch snowfall whipped by high north-west winds cut visibility to practically zero and slowing traffic to a crawl.

On Wednesday 26 mile an hour winds out of the northwest and temperatures near the zero mark brought the area's first real winter weather.

Bids on a truck to be used by the street department and an underbody scraper blade were opened and discussed. They were then referred to the city superintendent and the street committee for tabulation and evaluation.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Frank Martin

If we have the basketball players scoring touchdowns instead of buckets and field goals in place of free throws don't be a bit surprised. What with the high school basketball season opening and the college and professional football seasons still going strong we're still confused. But one thing we'll say... it's never dull.

Charlevoix will have three court games jammed into the next 10 days. Gaylord here tomorrow night, the Raiders at Pellston Tuesday and Bayne City here next Friday. What a schedule.

Right now this looks like the wildest season in years with every team a serious threat. It's going to be interesting to say the least. We know our little old Raiders will be in there pitching every minute.

Wasn't it thrilling to see someone you know introduced over television Sunday? We mean Carl Charon of Bayne City who was one of the All-State players and the only one from northern Michigan who was introduced at halftime during the Detroit Lions-Cleveland game. This boy has had honors galore heaped on him... and yet he's the same modest guy he's always been. We think we're pretty lucky to receive such recognition for this league of ours. Maybe those down-staters will realize some time that we play a pretty good brand of ball up here.

Experiments by American Scientist Blazed Trail for Rocket Flights

Four decades ago, a brilliant American physicist envisioned sending a rocket to the moon.

No one took Dr. Robert H. Goddard seriously. Yet the New England professor was not indulging in Jules Verne fantasy. His was a coldly scientific view of the future, seen through his own trail-blazing research in rocket propulsion.

Today the late Dr. Goddard is recognized as a grandfather of space travel. In Europe as well as the United States his pioneer experiments in the 1920's and 1930's are credited with having opened the way to development of rockets capable of launching artificial satellites.

A historic Goddard rocket wobbled skyward in 1926 from a farm near Auburn, Massachusetts, the National Geographic Society recalls. The flimsy-looking skeletal device rose only 41 feet, but its flight was the beginning of a new era in rocketry.

In its design Dr. Goddard had broken away from the limitations of solid fuels then available and invented a successful liquid-fuel rocket with the potential powerful jet thrusts.

His theory of "fueled" proved sound. The Germans used many of his conclusions in developing World War II's long-range V-2.

Dr. Goddard produced the first gyro-stabilized rocket. In 1935 one of his rockets rose 7,500 feet above New Mexico. Still another reached the incredible speed of 709 miles an hour.

One Goddard invention, a recoilless rocket launcher which the American military ignored in 1918, turned out to be the famous bazooka of World War II. In all, he held some 200 patents.

Curiously, Dr. Goddard's work got little attention in his own country until shortly before the war. He served in wartime at the Navy research laboratories in Annapolis, helping develop jet-assisted take-offs for aircraft. He died at Baltimore in 1945.

Like many pioneers, Dr. Goddard walked a lonely road, often ignored, often looking for financial aid to continue his work. He was born in Worcester, Massachusetts. He spent much of his professional life there, first as an instructor at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, then as physics professor at Clark University. Local alarm at his experiments finally drove him to the wastes of New Mexico—not far from today's White Sands Proving Grounds.

Dr. Goddard was chiefly in-

Whiting Park Camp Discussed By Committee

The committee appointed to look over the possibility for a county camp at Whiting Park, met last week Tuesday, in the county agent's office at Bayne City. Members of the committee and the organization they represented include Henry Howard, Pomona Grange; Clayton Healey, Farm Bureau; Mrs. Peter Dryer, Extension club; Jack Newstead, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Ed Bowerman, Girl Scouts; Lou Davis, park committee; Board of Road Commission. Also present was John Reynolds, sanitarian Supervisor; and Trim Reynolds, from the District Health Unit; Arthur Fletcher, Department of Social Welfare at Lansing; Clair Brown, Tourist and Resort Service, Michigan State University; Clare Brown, home demonstration agent; and Ed Rebnan, county agricultural agent.

This committee was selected a short while ago after all groups in the county indicated a need for a county camp. They have met several times to discuss what uses would be made of the camp, where it would be located and now are in the process of determining plans and approximate cost.

The Board of Supervisors of Charlevoix county were contacted last January by Anna Warner and William Parsons, two 4-H leaders who are very much interested in camping. At that time the Board of Supervisors stated it would be satisfactory with them for this group to construct a camp on Whiting Park property. This camp is to be built with donations rather than with tax funds.

Whether or not a county camp becomes a reality remains to be seen. However, Trim Reynolds and Ed Rebnan were appointed to make detailed plans of a camp that would be suitable at Whiting Park and to prepare as accurate as possible a cost figure that would be necessary to raise in order to construct this camp.

Due to new concepts in construction worked out by David B. Steinman, New York designer and consulting engineer, Michigan's new Mackinac Straits bridge could, in theory, withstand winds exceeding 600 miles per hour.

Fabric Care Important In Buying

Consider care when you're buying clothing or home furnishings, suggests Bernetta Kahabka, extension specialist in clothing at Michigan State University.

Remember that construction, fiber content, and fabric finish affect the kind of care required and length of wear that may be expected in "ready-mades." Good sturdy construction is needed for long wear with minimum mending.

New man-made fibers are especially designed to lighten your house laundering. Although the fabrics themselves are completely washable not everything made from them can be washed. The garment may have linings, interfacing or shoulder pads made from non-washable materials. And sometimes man-made fibers are blended with natural fibers.

Man-made fibers such as nylon, polyester and acrylic are sensitive to heat, and should be washed in cool water. They should be dried in a dryer on a low heat setting to prevent wrinkling. They should be ironed on a low heat setting.

Man-made fibers are also sensitive to light. Stains or heavy soiled areas should be pre-treated before washing with a thick paste of detergent and water or concentrated liquid detergent. Rub paste or liquid into the area with a soft brush or sponge. Rinse thoroughly and wash.

Consider construction of the garment and the fabric to decide between machine or hand washing. You may want to wash delicate, light weight fabrics by hand. Firm fabrics in well-made garments can just as well be washed in the machine.

Only a short washing period is needed either in machine or by hand for man-made fibers. Soil washes off quickly.

If you do hand washing it's best not to wring or twist garments or man-made fibers as it may cause wrinkles. In machine washing you'll find that using about 1/2 a normal load helps prevent wrinkles.

Warm water of about 100 to 110 degrees is suggested for washing man-made fibers. At high temperatures the fabrics become plastic and if wrinkled in this condition may become heat set.

It's best to drip dry garments with pleats. If you dry other garments in the dryer use a low temperature, about 160 to 170 degrees, and about 1/2 the normal load. Avoid overdrying as wrinkles may become set. Take garments from the dryer as soon as they're dry and smooth them out for the least wrinkles.

Labels on the garments may help on care. If there are special instructions it's wise to follow them for best results in laundering. You may want to save the labels in a plastic bag or not at all.

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

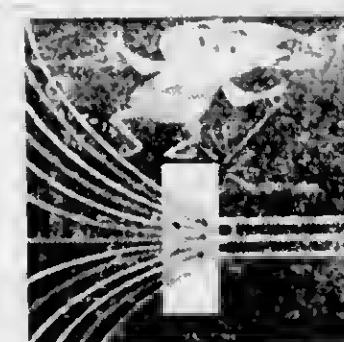

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

IT IS OFTEN SAID that the best gifts you can give are those you'd like to receive yourself. Wouldn't you like to receive, as a Christmas present, a bedroom or kitchen phone, or a phone for the den or workshop? Then wouldn't they make great gifts for Mother, Dad or the teenagers in your family? Extension telephones (in any of nine decorator colors) cost only about $1 a month after a one-time installation charge. So order your gift telephones now. It's easy: just call our Business Office.

CHRISTMAS IS GETTING

closer and closer and you probably have a hundred and one things to do—presents to buy, holiday parties to plan, and lots of errands to run. Just the spot for your telephone to come to the rescue. You can shop around by phone and find out if certain items are still available and what they cost. And for planning holiday get-togethers, there's no faster, easier way than doing it by phone. Holidays and every day, there's just no end to your telephone's usefulness.

NEWLY-DESIGNED equipment is being used to bring telephone service more quickly to fast-growing sections of town. Called Cable Concentrator, it lets as few as 16 pairs of telephone cable wires do the work of 58. In a new and heavily built-up area, where the Cable Concentrator is most useful, it means more phones can be installed without waiting for additional lines to be built. And it means more people there can have single or two-party lines. The development of these concentrators is one more milestone in Michigan Bell's continuing program to bring you more and better phone service.

Winter Sports Becoming Big Business in Northern Michigan

West Michigan winter resorts will be hosts for at least 10 major winter festivals and contests during the 1957-58 winter season.

One of the highlight events, the Michigan Winter Sports Carnival at Petoskey, will be held on three consecutive weekends, Jan. 25-26, Feb. 1-2 and Feb. 8-9.

The carnival program will include selection of Petoskey's winter queen Feb. 1 and selection of the Michigan winter sports queen Feb. 8. Other events will include several performances of the Winter Wonderland Revue by a troupe of Petoskey figure skaters and the second annual National Bump Jumper contest Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 for users of the small one-runner sleds.

Petoskey will also offer the Northern Michigan Open Speed Skating Championships, the tentative date for which is Jan. 25, and tentatively has scheduled an invitational ski meet Dec. 28-29.

Caberfae, near Cadillac, will present three events. They are the Junior Ski Meet, Jan. 25-26, and the Junior Cross Country Championships, Feb. 1 and Michigan High School Regional Inter-scholastic Meet, Feb. 15 with an alternate date of Feb. 22.

Other events on the West Michigan calendar are the Slalom and Downhill Meet, Jan. 19, and Ninth annual Michigan Ski Jumping Championship, Feb. 2, both at Briar Hill near Mesick; Avalanche Day at Boyne City, tentatively set for Jan. 25, and Third annual Winter Sports Festival at Missaukee Mountains near Lake City, tentatively set for Feb. 8.

Drost-Capelin Wedding Vows Spoken at Candlelight Service

In an impressive candlelight ceremony solemnized at the Assembly of God church Saturday evening, Naomi Drost became the bride of Gordon Capelin.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Drost and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Capelin of Boyne City.

The Rev. T. B. Tholson officiated at the double ring service in the presence of 200 guests. Baskets of yellow mums and candles formed a setting for the ceremony. Each pew was marked with a yellow bow and white mums.

Mrs. Stewart Hemmer played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. David Avorton of Saginaw who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of satin and lace for her wedding. The fitted bodice featured a V-neckline edged with embroidered lace and long tapered sleeves. The full gathered skirt of bridal satin was topped with an over-skirt of nylon net with panels of alencon lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Naomi Drost was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a blue ballerina length gown, princess style, with a back interest created by a low and streamline trim. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations in variegated shades and wore a handkerchief of matching miniature carnations.

Another sister, Mrs. Edward Korthase of Walloon Lake and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Eugene Drost, bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to the honor attendant's. They carried bouquets of yellow carnations and matching floral head bandeaus.

Connie Drost, cousin of the bride, wore a light blue dress and carried a basket of yellow rose petals. Eddie Drost, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Frank Pearson of Boyne City assisted the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Edward Korthase and Roy Kindy, both of Boyne City. Junior ushers were Dale Drost, brother of the bride, and Robert Capelin, of Boyne City, cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Drost selected a pink suit, black accessories, and a yellow carnation for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Capelin, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray suit, navy accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

A reception followed at the Community Church of God Fellowship hall. In charge of the reception was Mrs. Nina Ouderkerk, the bride's aunt, assisted by Mrs. Charles Elzinga, Mrs. Arthur Felling and Mrs. Joseph Powell. The cake was made by Mrs. Edward Korthase.

For traveling on their southern Michigan wedding trip the bride wore a light gray suit, black accessories and a white orchid corsage. After December 16 the couple will be at home at Boyne Falls.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and is employed at Burns Clinic in Petoskey. Mr. Capelin, a graduate of the Boyne City high school, is employed at the Charlevoix county road commission in Boyne City.

Wedding guests were present from Alpena, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Petoskey, East Jordan and Boyne City.

Local School to Give Christmas Program Dec. 19

The annual Charlevoix Elementary school program will be presented in the high school auditorium at 2 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 19.

More than 400 elementary school pupils will participate in an hour long variety program under the direction of Mrs. Frieda Novotny and the elementary school faculty.

The program will open with several selections by the 47-piece Charlevoix Reserve band directed by C. A. Odmark. This group will be making its first concert appearance of the current school year.

The kindergarten, each year the hit of the show, will present the Christmas story "The Twelve Days of Christmas" under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy McRae, assisted by Mrs. Colleen Wright and Mrs. Robert Gill.

The early elementary chorus will sing a group of favorite Christmas songs followed by the later elementary chorus who will present three carols of the Christmas season. Both groups will be directed by Mrs. Novotny, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns.

A fourth grade dance group directed by Mrs. Geraldine Goss will present an original dance to the popular "Winter Wonderland."

The finale will again be by the beautiful tableau scenes, the theme of which will be "Living Christmas Cards." Directed by Mrs. Ethel Courier and assisted by Mrs. Helen Richards, Glenn Snider and Larric Tuomela, this feature of the program will include living scenes depicting Christmas cards of today. Musical accompaniment will be by the 200-voice later elementary chorus consisting of fourth, fifth and sixth grade students.

Parents and friends are invited to attend the Christmas program at the high school auditorium at 2 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 19. There will be no admission charge and anyone wishing to attend is urged to do so.

School Board Places Ban on Senior Trips

Class trips for senior classes at the Charlevoix high school will be discontinued after 1959 following action taken by the Charlevoix board of education at its regular meeting Monday night.

In a resolution adopted at that time, the board of education listed the following reasons for its action:

Senior class trips are no longer educational and no longer fulfill their original purpose of education; so much student time is used in both preparing for, earning money for and actually taking the trip; so much faculty time is used from regular school functions at a busy time of year for the difficult supervision of trips and an increasing number of students do not elect to go on the trips.

The 1958 and 1959 classes will be permitted to take the regular senior trips as a school activity but after that date classes will no longer be allowed to plan and take these trips.

At the same meeting Supt. R. G. Bennett was authorized to contact the Michigan Department of State regarding the legal steps necessary in selling the former Washington school located at the corner of Pekoskey ave. and Burns st. on the north side.

Community Churches Announce Services For Christmas Week

"At that time: A decree went forth from Augustus Caesar that the whole world should be enrolled. This first enrollment was made by Cyrenius, the governor of Syria. And all went to be enrolled, everyone unto his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, into Judea to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David, to be enrolled with Mary his espoused wife, who was with Child. And it came to pass that while they were there the days for her delivery were completed. And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him up in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. And there were in the same country shepherds watching, and keeping the night-watches over their flock. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the brightness of God shone round them, and they feared greatly. And the angel said to them: Fear not, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy, which shall be to all the people; for this day is born to you in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign to you. Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying: Glory to God on high; and on earth peace to men of good will."

As the Christmas season approaches, worshippers make plans to gather together at the churches of their choice to hear the age-old story of the birth of the Christ Child re-told from the pulpit and to join the choirs in singing His praises.

In Charlevoix all churches will hold special Christmas services in observance of Christmas.

Assembly of God Church

Christmas observance at the Assembly of God Church will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday when the pastor, the Rev. T. B. Thodeson, speaks on the sermon subject, "The God-Man". Emphasis will be on the deity of the Babe of Bethlehem, Christ's purpose in coming and the assurance of God completing His plan to all men. The male quartet will sing "If Jesus had not Come."

During the Sunday school hour at 10 a. m. gifts will be exchanged in the classes.

The Sunday evening service at 8 p. m. will be congregational participation in carol singing and testimonies. The young people will sing special Christmas selections and the Rev. Mr. Thodeson will speak on the sermon topic, "The Gift."

On Monday evening the young people will go caroling at the homes of shut-ins and then will meet at the parsonage for refreshments.

Bethany Lutheran Church

At 7:30 p. m. Christmas Eve, Bethany Lutheran church will have a special Christmas service.

In this service the children of the Sunday school will tell the story of Christ's birth in word and song. The theme is "sharing", sharing with others the good news of the Savior's birth.

The public is invited to come and hear "Little Children Tell of Jesus."

The church will be decorated beautifully and the singing of familiar carols by the congregation will enhance the beauty of the service held at the manger-bed of the Babe of Bethlehem.

St. Mary's Church

Midnight Mass celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Francis Denay will open the observance of Christmas at St. Mary's church.

The choir will sing the "Christmas Carol Mass", James E. Komma and the Christmas offertory, "In Nativitate Domini" will follow beginning at midnight Tuesday.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

A collection of Northern's Diary

By Harold C. Kahn

Frogs and Men

In spite of all the soft music of whispering snow and the cheery whistling of winter winds, there is a certain musical note that I miss on December nights. It's missing on November and October and September nights too, and even in August. And until I hear again Nature's symphonic orchestra will be incomplete. The certain wild and lovely note that is lacking is the piping and singing of the frogs.

Frogs that filled our balsam-scented air with song on moist warm April nights are hibernating now in deep, death-like slumber in soil beneath the frost line and in the bottoms of shallow brooks and ponds. One Autumn night when a sudden chill nipped their sensitive skins and sent their variable temperature plunging the frogs for our neighborhood slipped cautiously into the water, and made their way downward toward winter quarters. Their temperature has continued to lower, their rate of respiration has slackened, and their circulation has slowed almost to a stop. In late summer and early fall livers became heavily stocked with glycogen, an animal starch, a material that will sustain life until kindly spring frees the frogs from their muddy prisons. Then they will take up their stations again and fiddle and pipe and sing on many a grassy bank or lily pad or rock.

If change in temperature comes suddenly, a frog will react appropriately. If he is chilled he will seek shelter. If he jumps upon a sun-heated rock or hot pavement he will hurriedly hop off again. But if the change in temperature is slow enough a frog will seldom notice it. His temperature can be lowered almost to freezing without his showing the slightest concern, providing it happens by gradual degrees. Moreover, frogs have been placed in cold water and the fluid has been slowly heated until the water was so hot it burned their skin. But the frogs were unconcerned. Frogs seem quite alert to sudden disaster descending upon them, but unmoved by slow-gaited dangers.

We are all a little frog-like. Sudden changes alert us. For the most part we avoid violent disasters. But the perils that creep upon us quietly and gradually usually escape our attention.

When a student graduates from high school or university he does not lose the benefits of education instantly. But many a person slowly, almost imperceptibly, lets slip of his study and reading habits. His avid thirst for knowledge and his craving for the best become easily satisfied. The cultivation of mind slowly disappears like fields on a well groomed farm that is sold to a lazy lout. In time, where splendid crops of high ideas grew and where budding purposes flourished, weeds take over. Fences of discrimination crumble and fall, and the place is productive of little but brambles and wild thickets.

Few marriages fall apart because of a single, big open explosion. Married people can easily guard against that. What more commonly destroys this holiest of human relationships is the gradual increase in petty discourtesies, indignities, thoughtless and selfish acts—pretty much the same things that mar any connections, but more deadly because they are committed in the greater intimacy of the home. These hideous little acts force married couples apart so slowly that they are hardly aware that they have lost each other until a crisis comes. Then they blame the crisis for their separation when all the crisis accomplished was to focus their attention on the division that had been taking place by minute degrees.

Suicide seems terrible and abhorrent when it is committed suddenly and violently with knife or rope or gun. But it is just as tragic and just as final when it is done slowly, a little at a time, with alcohol, or lack of sufficient sleep, or with a knife and fork at the table. Probably more people in America are committing suicide at the dining table, by overeating, than in any other way.

There is glad gospel as well as solemn warning in the way changes creep upon us and takes us unawares. Not only the worst things happen to us slowly, but the best things come to us gradually. Character is not created suddenly. Spiritual and moral fiber are formed by daily exercises and testings, discouragements exercising our determination irritations testing our temper and patience, duties exercising our diligence, opportunity testing our insight and purpose, bereavements exercising our faith, slights and slurs testing our charity and forgiveness.

As Rufus Jones once put it, "Nobody ever quite realizes how his life is being woven day by day out of myriads of invisible threads. But, in fact, each unnoticed influence and every imperceptible tug up or down which the ordinary daily experiences furnish are silently making the life and shaping its course. The commonplace present we hardly count because we are always looking back on a past or dreaming ahead into a rosy future, which will be full of wonderful and epoch-making events. And yet all the time, in spite of us, the future is being made out of the present, and the stuff of our future is to be what we are now weaving in."

Spiritually we are like a man going to a wise tailor to have a suit made. He may tell the tailor that he does not need to be remeasured, that he is the same size he was two years ago when he was measured for his last suit.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Yule Party

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Taylor for a Christmas party.

At the brief business meeting which preceded the party, it was reported that Christmas greetings had been sent to all Charlevoix's servicemen that 21 gifts had been sent to the veteran's Christmas shop at the VA hospital in Battle Creek that remembrances would be sent to all patients at Grandview hospital and to shut-ins in Charlevoix.

At the social hour which followed Mrs. Taylor was honored with a birthday cake. Other refreshments were served and gifts exchanged.

Name Committees For New Year Party

Committees to assist at the New Year's Eve party at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club for the benefit of St. Mary's school have been named by Mrs. Robert Withers, general chairman of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. George LaBlance and Mrs. and Mrs. Bernard Lederman are in charge of the entertainment which will include dancing and a floor show.

Mr. Withers, A. M. Allard, Fritz Allard and Maurice Foster are in charge of decorations; Emerald LaBlance, Elmer Gibson, Danford Gallagher and Fritz Allard, refreshments; Mrs. Jerome Whitley, Mrs. Leo Allard, Mrs. Emerald LaBlance, Mrs. Perry Smith and Mrs. Withers, food.

Mrs. Gibson will take tickets at the door; Frank Oleksy and Mr. Lederman will seat the guest and Don McGinnis will clear the road to the clubhouse.

Tickets are now on sale for the New Year's Eve event. Mrs. Withers is in charge of tickets.

But the tailor gets out his measuring tape and checks on all the former measurements once more, and finds a half inch has been added here, an inch has been removed over there, and three-quarters of an inch has been added here, although the customer was unaware of it. So it is with the spirit. We are easily fooled about our own measurements and easily discouraged with our spiritual thinness or bulkiness. And when we enter into God's presence in prayer we are apt to sigh, "Well, here I am again. There's no change." But God, like a wise tailor, disregards our self-estimate. He again takes our measurement, and how often, altogether unaware of it, we have lost a touch of evil here and have grown a bit of spirit here and there—a bit more patience, a little extra understanding, and added an inch of love.

Helping Santa's Helpers

Good old Santa has a staff of helpers, as everybody knows, for even as magical a man as he could hardly be expected to do such a tremendous job without some assistance . . . But do you know where his helpers get a lot of their help? Why, from the thousands upon thousands of trucks that daily transport raw materials, manufactured goods, farm products — everything it takes not only for day-to-day living but for a Merry Christmas too. You can bet your boots that everything you see around the tree on Christmas morning traveled by truck for many miles before it got into Santa's pack . . . Merry Christmas everybody!

The Gaylord Blue Devils took a quick two-point lead in the first quarter as Larrabee took the tip off and went in to score a field goal. Vandenberg countered with one for Charlevoix. Larrabee put Gaylord ahead 14 to 2 before Geneit knotted the score 4-all. Buckle, by Mol and Beers put the Rayders ahead 8 to 4 and from then on Gaylord trailed although they threatened until the final quarter.

Only two fouls were called during the first period. Darwin Mason tallied two points from the free throw line and John Burnison missed an opportunity to score after he was fouled. Beers, Vandenberg, Bingham and Mol each scored two field goals and Geneit one for an 18 to 14 lead as the first quarter ended. Mason had six points including two free throws and two field goals. Larrabee and Burnison had two field goals each. In the second quarter the Rayders continued to lead as Vandenberg scored five. Bingham four. Beers two and Mol two. ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

By Harold E. Kohn

Pulls Upward and Downward

These winter nights seem especially apt for pondering. Windy winds whisper ghost stories to the bare-limbed hardwoods and snow-blanketed evergreens and then "playful" moan around the corners of our house and mischievously rattle at our windows. A low, sleepy fire roars and dozes over chunks of maple, hickory and applewood, and a thick silence, as quiet as distant stars, engulfs the woodland.

In this cozy place my thoughts wander about as lazily and peacefully as does the long, loose veil of smoke above our chimney. They go to the warm dwellings of raccoons in hollow trees not far from Hildeaway House and roam a bit further on to tufts of dry grass that hide small, furry, bright-eyed bodies. They frolic across deep snowdrifts with snowshoe hares, and linger at the woods' edge in friendly communion with whitetail deer that pause in their browsing to look toward our window lights in wonder, lightly touched with fear.

But mostly, just now, my mind whimsically plays with thoughts of how strangely the woodland realm is fashioned by the use of two opposing forces—an upward pull and a downward tug. For instance, around us stand those giant plants, the trees. They persistently climb toward the sky, their branches stretching toward the light. And their little cousins, the shrubs, struggle upward, too, never attaining any towering height, but always reaching up as if seeking some mystical fellowship with the stars. Yet, while their limbs and twigs respond to the upward pull of light from above, the roots of trees and bushes are pulled downward by the tug of gravity and by a deep plant-thirst for ground water. At any given instant a plant is a battleground of two forces—an upward and a downward pull.

That wispy, thin flag of smoke floating above our house, groping heavenward, rises by force of the heat within it. But then, again, before it moves far up into the atmosphere is innumerable minute particles of ash and unburned specks of wood will float to earth again, becoming part of the soil, someday to be absorbed as food by trees and grasses. Smoke rises. We see that. But it falls to earth again, unseen. Smoke is a sinuous paradox of upward and downward pulling forces.

The very house in which we live aspires upward, like most other houses of our land. Studdings rise, rafters slope toward the treetops. The roof ascends to a peak that points toward the sky's zenith. This house points heavenward. But it's the downward drag, of its weight, the steady earthward pull of gravity that binds the house fast to the whirling world on which it rests. A good house harbors the tensions of its upward and downward pulls. The earthly balance between upward and downward forces is felt in all of us. We have inspirations and aspirations that draw us toward the heights. But we feel gravitational forces within us, too, and they pull us down. And this tension is not always as bad as it first appears.

Look at the self you want to be, and then look at yourself just as you are, the person you aspire to be is a bigger and better person than your actual self. To examine your potential self is to look upward to standards not yet attained and toward ideals not yet realized. To analyze your actual self means facing your shortcomings and failures realistically so that you can know what needs correction. Such introspection demands the sort of perspective that one achieves from a high hill over a village when only

By Fran Martin

And a happy New Year to you, too. Now that the really big day is over, thoughts turn to New Year's resolutions, the exchange of gifts, what to do with those white elephants you got for Christmas and who's having the biggest and best New Year's party.

But as this is being written Sunday we're still wondering if there's any chance for a white Christmas. With the temperature at 50 degrees, it hardly seems likely but we're hopin'.

We're wondering who the winners will be in the home decorating contest. There were so many pretty ones that we imagine the judges (heaven help 'em) had a hard time coming up with a decision. Have you ever seen Charlevoix look any more Christmasy? It's a wonderful use for the parking meter posts and certainly adds a lot to the beauty of the place.

Every now and then you hear of some ambitious person who undertakes to make something really worthwhile. We saw something the other day that we thought was a pretty big undertaking for such a small person. A hand-hooked rug that's all of our by six feet in size. It's a lovely thing that we certainly wouldn't mind having. It took her a year but Mrs.

Homer Nasson completed it in time for Christmas. A gift to herself.

And speaking of gifts, the birds on our street are going to be well fed this winter, thanks to a gift we received for Christmas. When there's lots of snow, we're always telling others to feed the birds. Capt. William Fisher must have thought it was time that we did something about them because he made us the most beautiful bird feeder you'll ever see. Now all we have to do is fill it with their favorite food and wait for the birds, which is going to be great fun, thanks to thoughtful Cap.

When you're driving these days, be careful. A lot of youngsters we know received toys for Christmas. Toys which are used outdoors. They'll be trying them out the first opportunity so do be more watchful than usual. If there's snow we'd hate to think that a new sled carried a youngster in the path of your car. And don't let the youngsters skate on the lakes (when and if there's ice) until you know it's safe. Those youngsters are pretty precious people and they're having a real holiday. Please don't spoil it for them.

And while we're speaking of driving, be careful all during the holidays. There's always the guy who's in a hurry or who had to have one for the road. We'd like you to start out the new year on the right foot. And have you around for a long while yet. Don't let your carelessness cost you your life or snuff out the life of someone else.

You know, if kids do something wrong everyone hears about it. But how many times does one hear of the good and thoughtful things all the other youngsters do. And as a result are rewarded for their goodness. Charlevoix transports a lot of youngsters to its schools. Several hundred in all. These kids get up at hours when most of you are still pounding your cars in order to be ready for the bus. And they don't get home until sometimes close to five o'clock. The bus drivers see these youngsters in all kinds of moods. And yet they never have any serious trouble with them. There wasn't a driver who wasn't remembered with something from these youngsters. And there wasn't a youngster who wasn't remembered with a little gift from all the drivers this Christmas. These fellows dug into their own pockets for these treats as a "thank you" to these youngsters who range in age from five to almost 20 years. We think that these drivers as well as these youngsters deserve a deep bow.

And when you discard your Christmas tree as you will before long, don't forget to save it for the ski slope. There'll be great need for them if we ever get snow. Take it to the mountain, leave it at King Saunders house and he'll arrange to have it picked up. Can you ask for better service than that?

No matter how hard people try to do things right, there's always someone, it seems, who has to throw the well-known monkey wrench. But what this fellow is going to do with the countless Christmas tree lights he's snatched we'd like to know. A good many of the merchants along the street have mentioned losing anywhere from one to a whole set from the trees in front of their stores. Who ever the spoil sport is, we hope he's enjoying those lights.

Many, many thanks to all of you who remembered us with a Christmas card this year. And there were a lot of you. There's nothing more heart-warming than to open a card from someone far away who's taken the time to send you a card. To all the fellows in the service around the world and to all of you thanks for your kindness.

Water from the Amazon River freshens the Atlantic ocean as far as 100 miles out to sea, the National Geographic Magazine says. The Amazon's discharge is greater than that of the world's three next largest rivers combined.

And a happy New Year.

We hope that 1958 will be the best year yet. As we look forward to it during these last days of '57 it looks like a beautiful year. There's so much to be accomplished, so many hopes to be realized, so much to be done. As the days of 1958 unfold, may you fulfill all your dreams and may you know every happiness. That is our wish for all of you as you sing Auld Lang Syne this New Year's Eve.

Miss Anna Pontious Becomes Bride Of Paul McClure at Church Wedding

The Community Church of God was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Anna Pontious and Paul Franklin McClure.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Isakson Pontious of this city and the Rev. Ely E. Pontious of Portland, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. James L. McClure of Stevensville.

The Rev. George L. Majors officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 150 guests. Red poinsettias, a lighted Christmas tree and candelabra with lighted tapers formed a setting for the candlelight service.

Mrs. Herbert Hamlin, the organist, played a program of traditional music; the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Harold E. Mead Jr., nephew of bridegroom, of St. Joseph.

Given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Henry Isakson, the bride wore a white gown of white lace and net for her wedding. The gown was fashioned with a fitted lace bodice, scalloped neckline, long lace sleeves which came to points over her wrists and a bouffant skirt of net with lace inserts. A small crown of seedpearls secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white feathered carnations.

Bennie Lee Kipke, as her only attendant, wore a gown of Christmas red net styled with a portrait neckline, cap sleeves and a bouffant skirt of tulle and a fitted bodice of white velvet and fringed red carnation and carried a white fur muff to which a sprig of holly leaves and red carnations had been pinned.

James Potts of Petoskey, cousin of the bride, as flower girl wore a white nylon dress over Christmas green taffeta with red poinsettias embroidered with nylon overskirt. Her headband and white muff were identical to the honor attendant's.

Thomas Capps of Chicago assisted the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Henry A. Pontious, brother of the bride, and Donald Fairchild of St. Elmo, Ill.

Mrs. Pontious chose a Dior blue sheath dress and matching short jacket and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. McClure wore a deep blue crepe dress and black accessories. Both had a corsage of red poinsettias and silver leaves. Mrs. Isakson, grandmother of the bride, wore a brown silk suit, matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed at Fellowship hall. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the refreshment table. Assisting were Betty Berg, Carolyn VanderWall, Janet Todd and Mrs. John Elzinga.

The couple left Sunday for California where they will make their home at 1737 26th ave. Apt. 307 Oakland, Calif. For traveling the bride wore a powder blue sheath dress which she had made, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, attended Anderson College for two years and is presently attending the University of California at Berkeley. The bridegroom, a graduate of St. Joseph high school also attended Anderson College for two years and is now serving with the U. S. Naval Medical Corps at the Oakland Naval hospital in Oakland, Calif.

Wedding guests were present from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Stevensville, St. Joseph, Flint, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Petoskey, and Anderson, Ind.

The very big things in the town below seem big, and the little things appear very little, indeed. This downward look toward oneself brings on dissatisfaction, the kind of wholesome discontent from which all progress is made. A growing soul is one who has a good balance between his upward and downward look.

The grace of humility is a result of a good balance between the upward tug and the downward pull we feel within ourselves. There can be no human virtue without temptation. The person who prides himself on never having the slightest temptation to do wrong is no saint. He is either an unspeakable liar or a spiritual vacuum. Even Jesus had his forty days in the wilderness of character-testing. A humble reliance upon God arises from our awareness that we are bombarded by testing that we are not supposed to resist with our own strength alone. Like the keystone of an arch, we stand by our tendency to fall.

This is Christmastime; and the old, sweet story of the coming of the Bethlehem Babe is as modern as tomorrow's newspaper, for it reminds us once again of the age-old, yet ever new, double lure of the low and high upon us. It tells of an inn with no rooms for a woman with child. It describes King Herod seeking the whereabouts of the newborn King, pretending he wished to worship him while he laid plans to kill him. And it's the story of hundreds thronging the streets drawn on by little affairs, unaware that history was being split into B. C. and A. D. by a Baby's faint cry. Thus, Christmas reminds us of our uncharitableness, our stupidity, our dimness of comprehension, the downward drag of our attentions and loyalties.

But mainly, Christmas is the story of the strange and strong attraction of the good. Christmas means Wise Men irresistibly drawn from the East by the little Babe of Bethlehem. And Christmas means shepherds enticed from their flocks, attracted by the tug of that little Life upon them, until they said to one another, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us."

Well, that's what I am counting upon these days—the pull toward Bethlehem, the attraction Christ still holds for the souls of men. The balance of power that first Christmas night seemed to be pulling the world downward. What chance did that helpless Babe have when pitted against Herod's legions? But the Wise Men believed in the Babe and came from afar to do Him reverence. And common Shepherds believed in Him, too, and were drawn to His manger. In the short view this world belongs to the forces that pull downward. It is Herod's world. But in the long view, the Christmas view, this is God's world, and the lure of the Highest is the strongest pull of all.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Had a grand holiday chat the other day with friends, old and new, on Beaver Island. As you know, up until this fall there were only about three telephones on the island and if you wanted to make a call you went to one of these and placed your call. You couldn't call up your friends because no one else had a phone either. But that was all changed when the residents of the island formed their own telephone company. Now there's a scads of telephones and the people there not only call each other but their friends on the mainland. We were on the receiving end of one of these last week and among others talked to Archie and Frances LaFreniere, the Rogers, Carlisle, the Lawrences, McDonoughs, Bud McDonough, Lloyd and Eva McDonough, and Tom Calabro. Everyone had gathered at the LaFreniere's and one thing led to another and the first thing they were calling everyone to wish them a happy holiday. . . . and our holiday was the happier because of the call. . . . there's nothing like an unexpected call from friends at holiday time. . . . or any time.

Balated birthday wishes to two of our senior residents. . . . George Meggison and Mrs. Emma Sutton both of whom observed their 91st birthday anniversaries. . . . Mr. Meggison on Dec. 26 and Mrs. Sutton two days later.

Earlier in this column we mentioned that we had a whale of a Christmas at our house. . . . It was wonderful for a lot of reasons. . . . One of the most important reasons was because many friends. . . . and we don't really know who they are. . . . joined together to give me a television for Christmas. . . . We love the gift naturally, but more important was the thought behind it. . . . Since no one will tell me exactly where the idea started and who executed it I would like to take this means of saying a million thanks. . . . to a lot of wonderful people. . . . who had already done many, many things for me with, adding this to the list. . . . I do appreciate it and I am grateful. . . . for the gift and the wonderful friends. . . . I hope that all your days in '58 will be happy ones and that the future holds everything good for all of you.

One of the nicest things about the holidays is the Vesper concert presented on the Sunday before Christmas by the Community Choir. . . . A group of local people who sing beautiful music because they love to sing. . . . We think it's just about the nicest way we know to usher in the holidays.

And while we're talking about nice things, how about the news that a former Charlevoixan, Charlie Fairbanks, is going from Ishpeming to Arizona State at Tempe as an assistant coach. . . . When you've watched a kid grow up and go places in football you can't help but be thrilled for him. . . . He'll be leaving this month in time to get there for spring training which starts early in February. . . . Just can't think of a nicer guy to be on the receiving end of such a grand opportunity. . . . We know that everyone who knows him wishes him the best of luck. . . . How about that green Christmas we had? . . . We didn't think much of it if you really want to know. . . . But come Friday and we have snow so now everyone's happy. . . . All the kids who got sleds, toboggans, flying saucers, and skis for Christmas are happy. . . . And so are those who are in for skiing in a bigger way. . . . like with all the super-duper equipment and ski clothes. . . . Talked with King Saunders Sunday and he said that they hoped to have the tows in operation shortly so by the time you read this it should be going great guns.

Back to that green Christmas. . . . Those of you who were here will believe this because you know how everyone was dashing around in light jackets. . . . But to those of you who went south to escape the winter we'd like you to know that Louis Mosier found a pansy in full bloom in his garden and Mrs. Allen Campbell picked a bouquet of pussywillows on her way to Norwood on the day before Christmas. . . . But now that Mother Nature has her seasons back in the proper order everyone's pretty happy about it. . . . After all, let's have winter when it's winter.

Even the carollers didn't make it seem like Christmas this year. . . . So many of them caroled outside our window. . . . but without the snow it didn't make it Christmas no how.

Wasn't it beautiful. . . . that 59 to 14 score that made the Detroit Lions the professional football champs. . . . Sure it was lopsided but every TD was prettier than the one before for those Lions could do nothing wrong. . . . We wanted 'em to win for a lot of reasons. . . . and they did. . . . in a big way. . . . The game wrote a great big FINIS to the pro football season which, as far as we're concerned, is all too short.

If the games on New Year's Day are as good then we'll be happy. . . . Of course we want Ohio State to win. . . . because they are representing our little old Big Ten. . . . After that we'll be willing to settle down to work again.

As this is being written we're just recuperating from Christmas. . . . hope the one at your house was as terrific as ours. . . . What with hearing from just about everyone via Christmas cards with sends of notes from around the world and receiving all sorts of wonderful gifts, we think we had the best one ever. . . . as did the rest of our family. . . . We would like to mention a few of our Christmas cards. . . . from Phyl Roberts in French Morocco, North Africa. . . . from John LaBlance who was in Japan when he mailed his card but who was leaving shortly for a cruise scheduled to take him elsewhere in the Pacific. . . . from Gary Smith stationed in the Philippines with the Marines. . . . from the Stan Evers stationed in Alaska. . . . from Francis Partridge studying at the North American College in Rome. . . . to name a few. . . . We are always thrilled and happy when people take the time to tell us we're remembered at Christmas

Beverly Richardson-Richard Smith Exchange Vows in Church Ceremony

The Norwood Methodist church altar decorated with arrangements of poinsettias and white candles and candelabra.

Mrs. Carl Luckwood, at the organ, played a program of traditional music, the wedding march and accompanied Mrs. George Light who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white tulle for her wedding. The fitted bodice which buttoned to the waist in back featured a scoop neckline outlined with lace, low-cut sleeves and long sleeves which came to points over the wrist. The full skirt with a bustle back ended in a chapel length train. A pillbox headpiece secured her finger-tip veil and she carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Mary Richardson served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink net over tulle fashioned with a sweetheart and a bountiful skirt which featured bands of matching velvet. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Ruth Ann Smith and Nancy Smith, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid, respectively. They wore identical ballerina length gowns of blue net over tulle styled with sweetheart necklines and full skirts banded with net ruffles. They carried pink carnation bouquets.

In spite of his polio-crippled legs, nine-year-old Jay Smith of Lansing gives the March of Dimes a big kick-off with the help of Michigan State's fabulous football coach Duffy Daugherty. Jay is one of the thousands of polio victims who still needs financial help from the March of Dimes because the Salk Vaccine came too late for him. He contracted polio in 1949, survived a period in an iron lung and is improving with the help of leg and back braces. Funds raised in the March of Dimes during January finance the research and rehabilitation programs of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Chicken Fricassee for Saturday Night

It's a Southern custom that when fried chicken is served, either in a restaurant or at home, it's often accompanied by waffles.

For all the young marrieds, who have invitations to return, we recommend a quick version... using canned boned chicken fricassee... in a waffle sandwich.

The waffle iron, which arrived as a wedding or Christmas gift, can now be put to good use. Stir up a bowl of batter using a butter-milk pancake and waffle mix, add some orange rind for flavor. Heat two cups of chicken fricassee and use it as filling and topping for the waffles. Garnish the sandwich with a mound of ruby red cranberry sauce.

This is an ideal Saturday night dish after an outdoor session of skating or tobogganing. And it's one in which the men can help... making the waffles. So don the aprons, gather the ingredients and go with the recipe:

Chicken Waffleettes

1 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup butter
2 cups boned chicken fricassee
2 cups waffle mix
2 cups cranberry sauce
Cranberry sauce
Beat eggs in medium-size bowl. Stir in milk, shortening and orange rind. Add waffle mix; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Pour batter onto hot waffle iron. Bake until brown. (Makes 3 large square waffles.) While waffles are baking, empty chicken fricassee into a saucepan; heat, stir occasionally. Break each waffle into 4 (making 12 squares). Spoon half of fricassee onto 6 squares; top with remaining squares and spoon rest of fricassee over top. Garnish with cranberry sauce. Makes 6 servings.
If your friends are really hungry, you can "make the rounds" again... in a matter of minutes. For with canned boned chicken fricassee and a waffle mix, seconds are no problem.

Rabbit Stew Coming Up

Hunting seasons on game birds and deer are completed, but rabbit hunting provides plenty of sport—and good eating—for Michigan nimrods. Statewide seasons on cottontail rabbits and snowshoe hares continue through March 1. The rabbit hunting season formerly ended January 31 in the southern lower peninsula, but has been extended.

Pedestrian Death Rate Highest In December Says Safety Council

If you long for the sultry days of summer, the place for you right now is the southern hemisphere, says a University of Michigan astronomer.

Official beginning of winter in the northern hemisphere came at 9:49 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 21, according to Prof. Hazel M. Losh of the U-M Department of Astronomy. This is the time of the Sun's turning point, or solstice, when it reaches the most southerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth.

"On that day," she says, "The Sun will swing its shortest daily arc across our southern sky, and we in the northern hemisphere will have our shortest day, about nine hours, and longest night, around 15 hours. After this time, the Sun will start its long trek north again, continuing to beat its longest days of June."

"Conversely, in the southern hemisphere the summer season will be starting at the same instant as our winter, for the seasons are reversed in the two halves of the globe."

Contrary to common beliefs, the seasons do not depend primarily upon the variation of the earth's distance from the Sun, but rather on the 23 1/2 degree tilt of the earth's axis. During the winter, the earth's north pole is tipped away from the Sun. We have our colder weather because the Sun is shining at a more oblique angle in the northern hemisphere, Professor Losh explains.

On the other hand, the south pole is turned 23 1/2 degrees toward the Sun, and as a result the southern hemisphere is getting its greatest heat of the year. "However," she continues, "We in the north benefit by the fact that at this time of year the earth is about three million miles closer to the Sun than during our summer. This tends to make our winter a little milder and the southern summer a little hotter."

You might expect that the coldest weather would come with the winter solstice, when the number of sunlight hours is least and intensity of sunlight a minimum. But this is not the case, for the peak of the season usually comes from four to six weeks later at a time known as the "lag of seasons," Professor Losh explains.

For a period after Dec. 21, the northern hemisphere will lose more heat at night than can be replaced by the Sun during the shorter than average days, and the temperature will continue to drop. Although the Sun's altitude and duration of sunshine increase after Dec. 21, it is not until early February that the rate of heating overtakes the rate of cooling, due to the conservation of the earth's heat by its atmospheric blanket.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Charles Tuhy, who passed away January 2, 1956, two years ago today.

Two years ago, this month of January,

You left us, Dad, and went away.

You left us, Dad, and went away.

Each time we hear your favorite song,

It seems the world has all gone wrong.

Your old books you loved to read

Are carefully wrapped and put away.

It's a part of you we cannot share.

Since we brought them home and put them there.

Now with our daughter, son and my brother there,

A happy reunion up there it must be.

Your prayers are answered and for you we are glad.

But we miss you down here so much, Dad.

Your loving wife, Mary, daughter, Anne and grandchildren.

Caution Buyers Of Mail Order Land Selling

Caution buyers of mail order land selling, as the editors of Change, Time, the Klinger, Magazine, with the result that many thousands of people who think they are buying a nice retirement spot wind up with a treeless and raw piece of land, often far from highways or towns.

Ordinarily, anyone buying real estate near home knows what he is getting. Buying property hundreds of miles away and sight unseen through advertisements and fancy brochures can be dangerous without thorough investigation.

Do you know who the promoter is and what his performance record is? Does the price mentioned cover a large enough lot for building purposes or will you be required to buy more than one lot to comply with zoning requirements? How far is the property from highways, towns, schools, churches, etc? What is the value of land in that area? Are there sanitary sewers, or must septic tanks be put in? Is the land dry or must it be drained? What about land taxes and local zoning restrictions? What are the full details on financing your lot?

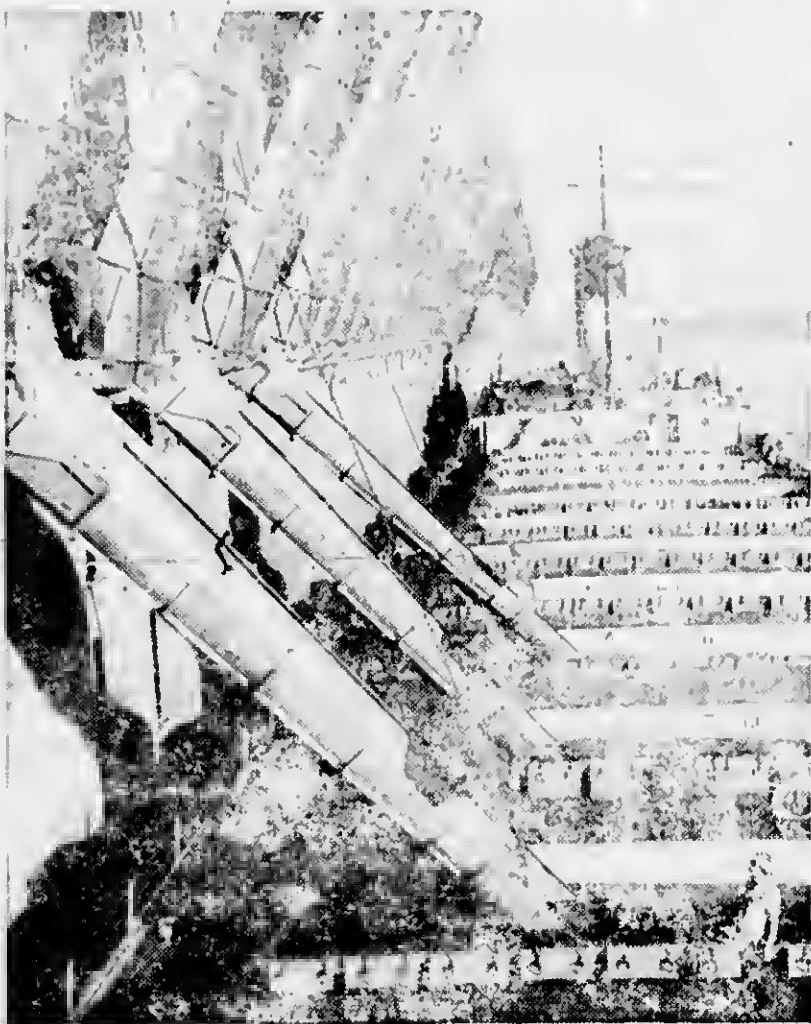

The answers to these questions should tell you something about the development. Many times you may pay almost as much for a lot in the development as you would for one acre in the area. And, although the ads may show palm-studded beaches, lovely girls on water skis and a community house with golf course, all that may be there is what has always been there—scrub palmetto and a muddy pond.

In order to estimate for yourself whether or not this is the dream spot you really want, you should make a personal visit to the lot and look at it, even if this involves traveling hundreds of miles. An alternative is to ask a relative or friend who lives near the area to make the inspection for you.

Whatever you do, investigate before you invest.

Great Lakes Ore Boats

Loading iron ore at an upper peninsula port is one of the more than 300 Great Lakes ships which represent the vital transportation link between iron mines and the nation's blast furnaces. These boats, traveling the Lakes from spring to winter, have carried an average of more than 18,000,000 tons of iron annually since 1940. Michigan ranks among the nation's leading iron ore and steel producers each year.

State Builds Up Attractions for Winter Tourists

As the winter season looms, Michigan's winter travel barometer goes up, for cold weather sports have become big business in the state.

This season, for example, some half-million resident and out-of-state sportsmen (with families, too) will storm Michigan's expanded wintersports areas, according to the state tourist council. "And that," says executive secretary Robert J. Furlong, "is a mighty conservative figure."

The estimate, he explained, is based on a council survey of Michigan's winter sports industry in 1954. "Since then the winter travel business has increased enormously," he said.

Winter sports, of course, includes everything from skiing to tobogganing to bobcat hunting and ice fishing. But the biggest single increase has been in the number of skiers who have taken to Michigan's slopes.

"We estimate 375,000 members of the 'slat set' will mush to ski centers dotting the state from the upper peninsula's 'copper country' to Kalamazoo 'down below,'" Furlong said. "And they will spend some $12 1/2 million in the process."

"Michigan now has 64 organized winter sports areas—an all-time high," he continued, "more than any other state east of the Rockies. Twenty-six of them have opened since 1953. And this year alone 9 new ski centers go into operation for the first time. But eager resort operators already are making plans for further expansion and new developments next season."

With the trend today toward family recreation, all of Michigan's winter resorts are equipped for beginners as well as experts and in-betweeners. Ski slopes vary in length from 300 to 3,500 feet, the longest being at Porcupine Mt. Lodge in the west end of the upper peninsula.

Other ski center offerings include slalom bowls, ski jumps and cross-country trails. Toboggan slides and ice-skating rinks also are standard equipment at many areas. And for the indoor division of the winter sports fraternity there are restaurants, snack bars, lounges and warming shelters. Rental equipment is available at most centers and many resorts offer special "ski week and weekend" package vacation plans which include lodging, meals, equipment and—most important—instruction.

The 9 new ski centers are scattered across the entire state, from the western upper peninsula to southeastern lower Michigan.

Of 14 upper peninsula winter sports centers four are new: Cliffs Ridge at Marquette; Big Valley at Newberry; Brice's Hill near St. Ignace; and Peek-a-Boo Hill between Hessel and Cedarville in the Cheneaux Island area.

West Michigan offers 23 ski centers, two of them new this year: Walloon Hills, 4 1/2 miles west of Walloon Lake near Petoskey; and Buck Hills, 10 miles southeast of Beulah.

Two of East Michigan's 31 ski areas are making their debut this season: Indian Hills Ski Park, 8 miles west of West Branch and 5 miles south of St. Helen; and Summit Ski Club, 3 1/2 miles south of Fenon in the southern lower peninsula.

Southeastern Michigan's winter sports centers now total six with the addition of Grampian Mt., 14 miles north of Pontiac. Newest thing on Michigan's ski scene, said Furlong, is the artificial snow-making machine. Manufactured snow will be featured by four more centers this season: Caberline, Houghton Lake Snow Bowl, Grampian Mt., and Summit Ski Club; making a total of six ski areas offering man-made snow. Snow machines were installed last year at Boyne Mt. and Mt. Holly.

Besides the addition of the nine new areas to Michigan's roster of winter facilities, existing winter sports centers have been improved and expanded since the close of last season. New slopes have been bulldozed, and old ones have been lengthened and graded. New electrically-driven rope tows and T-bar lifts have been installed by a number of areas, while Caberline has added a double-chair lift to its facilities. In all, several hundred thousand dollars have been invested in Michigan's winter sports expansion program, according to Furlong.

Many areas also have added shelters and lounges, while others have expanded present facilities to handle the growing number of enthusiasts who flock to Michigan's snow country.

Furlong said the Tourist Council now is preparing a new addition of a state-wide ski map and winter sports guide which pinpoints the location of each of Michigan's 64 ski centers—and lists their facilities. The map is expected to be ready by mid-

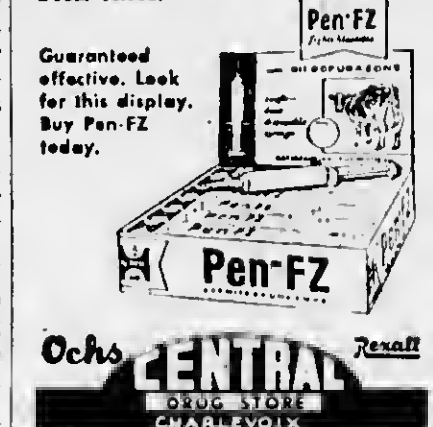

December for free distribution throughout the state and mid-west.

That would be the organized ski area, from the touch of Michigan's winter sports attractions, he pointed out. Explained, the state has been one of other developed winter recreation centers that feature other cold-weather sports. They are located chiefly in lower peninsula areas where winter snowfall is insufficient for a sustained skiing season. And besides these are the thousands of inland lakes scattered across both the upper and lower peninsulas which attract ice-fishermen, skaters and ice-boating enthusiasts.

There's a big crop of peas this year, and they're on the market in three forms—frozen, canned or dried.

Educators are finding answers to the challenge of the Russian Sputnik.

They concede the answers may be coming late but they retort to their critics that the nation was unexcited about academic achievements before that fatal satellite was launched Oct. 4.

Now sudden demands for a changeover from the arts and literature in the schools to raw science and mathematics have created their own problems.

Educators, while working desperately to help the United States catch up, are warning the nation against panic and a loss of other values in the quest for scientific supremacy.

Through the fall, with the Sputnik beep-beeping around the earth at 18,000 miles an hour, Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction warned:

Russia has concentrated more on science in the classroom; has graduated thousands more engineers each year.

Michigan educators did not wait long after Sputnik.

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, announced the formation of a special institute of scientific minds to advise him on curricula.

The thought was to superimpose the thinking of brilliant men over the university's academic activities.

In addition, the university has stepped up the work of the Phoenix Project, seeking peacetime uses of atomic energy.

Michigan State University is planning a cyclotron as the hub of a new quest into basic research in the field of nuclear physics.

This program will be added to another which has experimented for several years into the uses of nuclear energy in peacetime fields.

Bartlett's office has taken another major step toward working out an expanded science program for the high schools.

A special committee of educators and scientists, among them leaders of the Phoenix project, has developed a special bulletin for teachers.

The thick volume was inspected and approved by leading educators at a recent Lansing meeting.

"We think this is the first such attempt in the nation," said Bartlett.

All of these programs take money, and prospects for increased state aid in most of the educational fields is growing dimmer under the cloud of one of the state's worst financial crises.

Republicans and Democrats are resigned to a deficit for next year, ranging from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000 even without increasing present services or creating new ones.

Legislators claim the general fund deficit will go that high by itself, not counting a $10,000,000 deficit in school aid and the need for another $14,000,000 just to handle increased enrollments.

Both sides agree new taxes will be impossible this year with three months left to go.

Legislators are working to determine the impact of taxes on business and industry and how to realign the entire revenue structure.

Labor Unions face another attack on their autonomy in the economy during the 1958 session of the legislature.

Senator Robert E. Faulkner (R-Colombia) plans a bill requiring unions to incorporate and become subject to the same regulations and laws governing incorporated business and industries.

These include periodic audits of their books and a requirement that no corporation can make direct political contributions.

An added feature of Faulkner's proposal, he said, will be a ban on the secondary boycott, a union order barring members from buying the products of a struck plant.

Faulkner, chairman of the Senate Labor committee, is considering a right-to-work law for Michigan—the long-feared and long-fought foe of labor unions in all states.

It would enable a worker to work without the requirement of joining a union, knocking out the union shop in which an employee must join to stay on the job.

Neither is expected to pass this year, but the pressure is on now.

He who is prejudiced is usually down on something he's got up on.

Boom In Skilled Jobs Predicted In Near Future

A massive demand for workers in nearly every type of occupation and industry will come with the U. S. economic boom in the 60's and 70's, predict the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. In a copyrighted article in the December issue of the magazine, the editors state that 10,000,000 jobs will be added to the work force by 1965, another 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 by 1975.

The well-educated and the highly skilled will have greater opportunities than ever before. Semiprofessional and semiskilled workers will be in heavy demand, too. And openings will abound at all levels for women, for part-timers, and for older employees.

In a data survey, employment will be up 25 per cent in 1965, 50 per cent in 1975. The latest growth will be in the manufacturing of transportation, machinery, metal products, paper products and chemicals. The heaviest employment needs will be for semiskilled machine operators, including women, and for salespeople, managers and technicians.

New industries developing during the 60's and 70's will mean new jobs. One large company expects that 80 per cent of its output ten years from now will be items not developed today.

In the atomic energy field, jobs will multiply with a strong demand for chemists, nuclear physicists, mathematicians, biochemists and nuclear and other kinds of engineers. Many semiprofessional technicians will be needed for inspection and contamination teams.

Electronics manufacturing will require thousands of new engineers, draftsmen, office workers, as well as skilled and semiskilled plant workers.

Plastic-products manufacturing, a relatively new industry, will hire faster than most other industries. Most openings will be for inexperienced workers who will be trained on the job.

There will be a big rise in construction where most jobs will be filled by craftsmen and other skilled workers.

Jobs in the wholesale and retail trades will swell 45 per cent by 1975 with work at that time for more than 19,000,000 people in sales, clerical and managerial positions.

Demand will grow in local and state governments for all kinds of teachers, nurses, engineers, office help, policemen, postmen, and skilled workers.

In the finance, insurance and real estate fields, jobs will increase by 80 per cent in 1975, nearly half the employees in this field are women.

Growth in the professional occupations has been three times as fast as for the rest of the work force, and swift expansion will continue. Biggest needs will be for teachers, engineers, natural and physical scientists, technicians and medical people.

In the clerical and sales occupations, the demand for operators of automatic data-processing equipment will leap. The heavy turnover in stenographers, typists and secretaries will continue, assuring jobs for newcomers. The high turnover in sales occupations will provide a wide variety of openings. The service occupations will continue to have heavy turnover, but most industries in this field will have lots of room for part-timers, women and older workers.

There will be a big need for all kinds of skilled workers, particularly for industrial machinery repairmen, electronics technicians, business machine repairmen and building trades workers.

Although there will be more machines to do the work of people today, the over-all growth of the economy will pull up the slack. Machines will actually help double the output per worker in the next 25 years. Growth in the manufacturing industries will offset job reductions caused by automation. And demand will spur for skilled hands to develop, produce, operate and repair the new machines in industry and the home.

Place Limit on Rental Payments Under Soil Bank

The limitation of $5,000 under the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve program applies to the total amount which any one person may receive in annual rental payments during one year for taking part in the program, Carlton Smith, chairman of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declared today.

According to the Chairman, some confusion appears to exist between the limitation on payments under the two reserve programs of the 1958 Soil Bank. Here is how he explains the two payment limitations:

Under the Conservation Reserve Program, a farmer may earn up to a total of $5,000 in annual rental payments in any one year, and no matter whether he has one farm or many farms, this $5,000 is the total he may earn in such payments for each year the contract is in force.

Under the 1958 Acreage Reserve program, however, a farmer may earn up to $3,000 in Acreage Reserve payments on each farm in which he has an interest as a "producer." This $3,000 covers the total of all Acreage Reserve payments on all crops eligible under the 1958 program. Thus, a producer who earned $3,000 in 1958 Acreage Reserve payments for reducing his acreage of wheat could not earn any additional Acreage Reserve payments on that particular farm in connection with corn or cotton or other eligible crops. If the farmer had more than one farm, he could earn up to $3,000 in such payments on each of his farms. Also, each farmer taking part in the program on each farm could earn up to $3,000 in such payments.

In other words, the Conservation Reserve limitation of $5,000 applies to the total annual rental payments to any one participant, no matter how many farms he may have. The Acreage Reserve limitation of $3,000 applies to each producer on each farm in which he has an interest.

Hibernation is almost—but not quite—death. A woodchuck, for example, normally breathes about 30 times a minute. When excited, the rate jumps to 100 times a minute. But in hibernation one breath in five minutes suffices. Its pulse drops from an average of 80 to four or five beats a minute, the National Geographic Magazine says.

Soil Conservation Program Offers More Inducements for Participants

Additional incentives are being offered farmers under the 1958 Conservation Reserve program to divert more land to Conservation uses, Carlton Smith, chairman of Charlevoix County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. Applications for Conservation Reserve Contracts can now be made at the Charlevoix County ASC Office in Boyne City, Michigan.

Under the Conservation Reserve the long-term phase of the Soil Bank—farmers contract to divert general cropland to soil, water, forestry, and wildlife conservation practices for periods of 3, 5, or 10 years. In return, farmers receive two types of payments on the diverted acreage:

Buyers Warned to Check Appliances For Approval Seal

Look for the seal of approval before buying appliances or other merchandise operated by electricity or gas, the Michigan Department of Health recommended today.

Electrical equipment bearing the Underwriters' Laboratories seal of approval can be used with safety, the department said. The seal indicates there is no danger of electrical shock in normal use.

Cooking stoves, space heaters and other gas devices which carry the approval of the American Gas Association can be used with safety, the department added.

The seals of both the Underwriters' Laboratories and the American Gas Association indicate, the health department said, that the item approved has been rigorously examined by an independent testing laboratory and has been found safe.

Sugar-preserved dairy cream that keeps well, unrefrigerated, just as do sweetened condensed and evaporated milk, is a promising new product of dairy research.

(1) a cost-sharing payment (up to 30 percent) the year they apply a conservation measure, and (2) annual per-acre rental payments each year the land is under contract.

In the 1958 Conservation Reserve program, the chairman explains, in order to encourage participation by whole farm units and to emphasize forestry and wildlife practices, where such action can be justified, County ASC Committees will be authorized to increase certain annual payment rates for land to be planted to forest trees and for whole farms retired from production.

According to the chairman, it has been found that "the diversion of whole farm units usually results in a larger average reduction in crop production than is accomplished where only a part of the cropland on a farm is put in the Soil Bank. Land going into forest trees is land going out of production over a long period. Moreover, there is urgent need to check the disappearance of our forest resources, which is running ahead of current tree planting and growth."

Beginning in 1958, contracts offered for land devoted to trees or shrub plantings for shelterbelt, windbreak, or wildlife habitat purposes, will be for 5 or 10 years, at the option of the producer. Presumably, all tree and shrub plantings were under 10-year contracts only. The 10-year requirement remains in effect for tree plantings for forestry purposes.

The Conservation Reserve program is open for participation by all farmers.

Indians Greeted New Years with Noise Making

Up-to-date as it may seem, noise-making—including blowing horns and beating drums—was an old American Indian custom for celebrating New Year's Day.

So it's stated in Andrew J. Blackbird's "History of the Ottawa and Chippewa" in the possession of the University of Michigan Historical Collections.

Blackbird, who writes about the life of his people in their settlement near Little Traverse Bay in the 1830's, was the son of an Ottawa chief and had been educated by French missionary priests.

He writes: "My people used to observe many holidays, particularly Christmas, New Year's Eve and Corpus Christi. On New Year's Eve every one of the Indians used to go around visiting the principal men of the tribe, shooting their guns close to their doors, after screaming three times. 'Happy New Year's', bang, bang, altogether, blowing their tin horns and beating their drums."

"Early on New Year's morning they would go around among their neighbors expressly to shake hands with one another, with the words of salutation, 'Bozhoo' (Hello). The Indians could come to the French 'Bogon', children and all. This practice was kept up for a long time, or until the white people came and intermingled with the tribe."

"I thought my people were very happy in those days, when they were all by themselves and possessed a wide spread of land, and no one to quarrel with them as to where they should make their gardens or take timber or make sugar."

"And fish of all kinds were so plentiful in the harbor. A hook anywhere in the bay and at any time of the year would take Mackinac trout, as many as one would want. And if a net were set anywhere in the harbor, in the morning it would be loaded with fish of all kinds. Every big council of the Indians was transacted in the village of Little Traverse."

March of Dimes Sets 1958 Goal At 44 Million

"Survival is not enough" is the theme of the 1958 March of Dimes fund campaign which marks the twentieth anniversary of the annual drive in the fight against infantile paralysis.

This year's national goal must be $44,000,000 if the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is to meet its obligations, according to Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools and county chairman for the fund drive now underway in the county.

Salk vaccine, developed and promoted by the March of Dimes, has won an important scientific battle against polio, but thousands of polio victims are struggling to achieve maximum freedom from crippling after-effects of the cruel disease.

Patient aid is the biggest single program of the National Foundation. Although new polio cases went down sharply in 1957, costs continued high with 90 per cent of the patient care money spent by chapters used for victims stricken in earlier years. Only 10 per cent was used for current cases. Estimated need in 1958 for patient care alone totals $21-100,000.

Rehabilitation is another important program for which funds are needed. Thousands of polio patients formerly doomed to imprisonment in iron lungs have been provided with assistive mechanical devices and helped to return to their homes. Thousands more seek similar opportunities. Their goal is operation comeback.

In the 19-year history of the March of Dimes, Charlevoix county has raised $43,490.20. Though $22,884.76 was forwarded to national headquarters, excess local funds have required advances from that office exceeding $43,000. In total the county chapter has spent $62,776.43 or $19,286.23 more than the revenue from all drives in the county since 1938.

Additional information, free movies and other campaign aids may be obtained by calling the office of the county superintendent of schools.

Civil Defense To Hold School Of Instruction

The Charlevoix county Civil Defense organization has announced plans for a school for all persons interested in radio-activity fall out and its detection.

The school will be held at the Boyne City high school at 7:30 p. m. beginning Tuesday, Jan. 14, and continuing until the course is completed, according to Gen. George Ely (Ret.) assistant Civil Defense director in the county.

Wallace Roesske, science instructor at Boyne City, who recently completed the Federal Civil Defense school for radio-active monitor instructors, will conduct the school.

Purpose of the school is to train persons as instructors and team members who are badly needed by all Civil Defense units, Gen. Ely said. He added that there should be a radio-activity monitoring team in each community.

He went on to say that this is an opportunity for all persons, men and women as well as high school students, to become prepared to do their part when and if an emergency comes to this county.

Everyone is urged to enroll as soon as possible. This may be done by calling or writing Mr. Roesske or Charles P. Dunnette in Boyne City of General Ely of East Jordan.

Any class in which enough persons are interested and for which an instructor can be obtained will be offered this year as in the past, Mr. Novak said. No classes have been set up at this time or times of meeting established. This will depend entirely on the enrollees.

Among the classes in which interest has been shown and in which several people have enrolled are: square dancing, upholstery, bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, mechanical drawing, woodworking, painting, ceramics, welding, metal work and car driving. Other suggested classes are income tax, state and national history and high school subjects.

Mr. Novak emphasized that enrollment was not limited to residents of the Charlevoix school district. Registrations from throughout the entire area are encouraged.

His subject was "Problems confronting the 1958 legislature".

An inter-club award won by the Charlevoix club under the chairmanship of Glenn B. Snider and given to the new president, E. D. Hawley at the mid-winter meeting of Division 14 held at Saginaw Saturday and Sunday was presented to the club by Mr. Hawley. Arnold Wadas and H. B. Schofield attended the conference with Mr. Hawley. Mr. Wadas gave a detailed report at the meeting Monday.

Municipal Ice Rink Opened on Softball Field

The municipal ice rink located on the softball field on the south side was opened to skaters for the first time Tuesday evening.

In announcing the opening, city superintendent Hal M. Hill said the rink was much larger than last winter and that it was in excellent condition.

Freezing temperatures during the past week have made it possible for city workmen to build the rink. Snow has been removed from around the rink and there is ample room for parking, he said.

The hours for skating have been announced. They are from 7 to 9 p. m. for youngsters up to 14 years of age and from 7 to 10 p. m. for those over 14 years every evening.

On weekends there will be skating from 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday and Sunday. The evening hours will be the same as on week days.

There will be skating 3 to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday weather permitting.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vratnina, he did his externing in the Birmingham school where he is now teaching.

Ice Trapped Gull Now 'Jail Bird'

The population at the Charlevoix county jail was increased by one Monday night when a seagull which had been rescued earlier from the ice on Round Lake was placed behind bars for the night while recuperating from the harrowing experience.

Sheriff Glenn E. Dyce and Deputy Phil Sumner rescued the bird about 6 a. m. after its tail feathers had been frozen into the ice. The bird was trapped near open water so it was necessary to pull a row boat over the ice in the event it would be needed.

The bird was released early Wednesday, seemingly none the worse for the experience.

Though Sheriff Dyce gave his name as George he would give no other details since this was the first time the bird had been 'jailed'.

Milk Producers Elect Directors At Annual Meet

Three directors were elected by the Charlevoix local of the Michigan Milk Producers association at the annual meeting held Saturday afternoon in the Charlevoix school cafeteria. Aaron Brock and Donald Hott were elected to succeed themselves for a three year term and Jasper Warner was elected to fill a one year vacancy resulting from the resignation of John M. Boss.

Guest speaker, Howard Simmons, secretary-manager of the Michigan Milk Producers association, reviewed the accomplishments of the organization in developing the northern Michigan markets. He emphasized the fact that modern transportation has virtually eliminated local markets as such, pointing out that producers in one area are trucking great distances to supply markets. The same applies to interstate shipment of milk thus forcing Michigan producers into competition with producers in adjacent states he said.

Local producers discussed the advantages and disadvantages of installing bulk milk storage and cooling tanks to replace cans and coolers on the farm. Main point of objection from the producers was cost of installation, estimated to be about $2,000 on each farm. Most of the markets in northern Michigan have converted to bulk handling.

Producers were advised by John Reynolds, district sanitarian, that a federal inspector will make a survey of this market in the near future to qualify it for a grade A rating. He said physical requirements in all probability meet requirements but warned that a "root housekeeping" was equally important to obtain a grade A rating.

Ski Conditions Excellent on McSaubas Slopes

The Mt. McSaubas ski slopes are now open as the result of snow which fell during the storm this week. King Saunders, manager of the winter sports park has announced.

The main slope as well as the beginner's slope are in excellent condition and skiing has been very good.

Royce Delaney, ski instructor at the slope last season, has been engaged again this year and will give instructions every Saturday. There is also a possibility that there will be a class for adult instruction Tuesday evening.

Lessons for children receiving them in a group will be 50 cents and $1.00 per lesson for adults in a group beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The hours the slopes will be open and season tickets honored have been announced following a meeting of the board of directors. The slopes will be open from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday; from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, 1 to 5 p. m. and 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

There will be skiing from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. Sunday but season tickets will not be honored and there will be a tow charge of $1.00.

Fire Destroys Barn and Tools On Falting Farm

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a large barn on the Arthur Falting farm five miles south of here in Marion township Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Falting who discovered the fire at 1:30 p. m. succeeded in driving 10 head of cattle, a team of horses and a brood sow from the barn. He also saved a tractor which was stored in the 50 by 120 foot frame structure which had a stone foundation.

Lost in the blaze were many tons of baled hay and straw, and oats stored in the barn, a hay loader, milking equipment and many small farm tools and equipment.

Mr. Falting discovered the blaze when he went to the barn to do some work. After calling the Charlevoix fire department, he and another member of his family drove the stock from the barn and tried to save what they could.

Fire Chief John Curtis said that the fire department devoted its efforts to saving other farm buildings. The Ellsworth fire department was called and assisted by hauling water to the scene. A grainery and implement shed were damaged by the fire.

Mr. Falting would make no estimate of the loss. He told Chief Curtis the loss was partially covered by insurance.

Island Game Club Sponsors Coyote Hunting Event

Beaver Island will be the scene of coyote hunt this weekend sponsored by the Beaver Island Game club headed by Bud McDonough.

Hunters from throughout northern Michigan and the upper peninsula are expected to participate in the event which is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Many hunters are expected to bring dogs trained in tracking the wary coyote.

Police Place Parking Ban From 2-7 A.M.

All night parking on city streets will be prohibited during the winter months as the result of a resolution adopted by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Parking between the hours of 2 a. m. and 7 a. m. will not be permitted in order to facilitate snow removal. The order will remain in effect until April 1.

The Boy Scout Scenic Trails Council was given permission to use city-owned property on the north side to the rear of the Paul-Reed property for the annual Camporee to be held in May.

The council also voted to publish the Mayor's annual report to the citizens of Charlevoix in January 9 edition of the Charlevoix Courier.

Bills amounting to $13,468.22 were approved and ordered paid.

Re-organizing Of Polar Bears Is Underway

The Charlevoix Polar Bears, an independent basketball team which at one time attracted statewide attention, have been re-organized under the direction of one of the team's stars Dean Davenport, who will coach the new Polar Bears.

Appearing on the roster of the new Polar Bear squad will be many former Charlevoix high school athletes as well as others who won recognition on the hardwoods elsewhere. Among them will be Bobo Bennett, Guy Swanson, Dwain Walker, Kenny Balch, Joe Etienne, Ron Cunningham, Charlie Dennis, Deane Davenport, Jerry Albright, John Swanson and Bill Lusk, all former Rayder stars, and Bob Klooster, Jim Alger, Fritz Puffpaff and Jack Taylor, the latter of Petoskey.

In listing the above names, Coach Davenport said there was a great need for additional players because not all of these men could play all the time and it was imperative that the team have enough players so that a full squad of at least 12 players would be available for all games.

Anyone wishing to play with the team may report at the high school gymnasium on Wednesday or Saturday evening or call Coach Davenport.

The Polar Bears will take on the East Jordan Independents at 8 p. m. Saturday in the local gymnasium and at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday will host the Mancelona Independents here.

The team's business manager, Don Brown, is presently contacting other teams in the area in an effort to present a full schedule of 'home and home' games. Ron Geer will be the team's equipment manager.

In announcing the re-organization's plans for the future, Coach Davenport said that it is the hope of the Polar Bears to present a full schedule of good basketball to the sports fans of the community. "We are confident that we can give fans what they are looking for in entertainment on the basketball court. We ask only that the fans support the team so it can remain a self-sustaining group," he said in pointing out the aim of the organization.

The team has racked up two wins thus far, a 50 to 44 victory over Ellsworth and a 60 to 48 win over East Jordan.

Sentenced for Embezzlement Of Hess Funds

Mrs. Marguerite VanKoeveering, 41, of Ellsworth who pleaded guilty earlier to a charge of embezzling funds while employed as a bookkeeper at Hess Furniture here, collapsed as she heard Judge Charles L. Brown sentence her to two to ten years in the Detroit House of Correction. The fall resulted in a badly fractured hip.

She is presently hospitalized at the Charlevoix hospital where attending physicians found it necessary to operate and place her in a cast, according to Sheriff Glenn E. Dyce. Sheriff Rose said that she would remain at the hospital here until she could be transferred by ambulance to the Detroit House of Correction. This may be several weeks he added.

Mrs. VanKoeveering is said to have embezzled more than $6,000 while employed as bookkeeper at Hess Furniture over a nine months period. She left the employ of the local retail store in October. Following an audit of the company's books, she was arrested and on Dec. 6 pleaded guilty to the embezzling charge. She was released on $25,000 bond.

The sentence was handed down late Friday afternoon during a special term of circuit court.

"Courage Mounteth with Occasion"

More than three hundred years ago the great Francis Bacon wrote: "The virtue of prosperity is temperance; the virtue of adversity is fortitude; which in morals is the more heroic virtue."

A few weeks ago the Vice President of the United States held a press conference, directly following the failure of this country's first attempt at launching an earth satellite. Mr. Nixon said: "Sure we failed. We have before and we will again. But we need to keep our sense of proportion. We haven't overnight lost our scientific know-how, our ability to get things done. Let's get away from our weeping walls and act like Americans. We've got work to do. Let's get on with it like Americans."

There is a great gulf of time and language between these two quotations. But both of them stem from the same attitude—the same outlook on life and the demands of life.

Some Americans met the Russian scientific success in a strident style—by trying to ignore them or by deprecating them. Some, at the other extreme, reacted with panic and despair, an all-out attitude. They showed themselves lacking in "the virtue of adversity" of which Francis Bacon wrote. Or they went to the "weeping walls" of which Richard Nixon spoke.

But the people were very much in the minority. The great majority of Americans fully understand that there is work to do and we must get on with it.

The point, then, is how to do it.

Russia has been showing the world some of the fruits of a harsh materialistic system. Her achievements—and only a fool will now try to minimize them—have been brought about by force. The abilities of people are carefully, efficiently and rigorously channeled into whatever avenues best serve the purpose of the state. The rewards for success are often very great; the penalties for failure are often extremely severe. In any event, the individual has small command over his own destiny. The state makes the important decisions and provides the directions.

Can a free people rival and surpass the achievements of such a system—and still keep their freedom, their traditions, and their national heart and soul?

History tells us that we can. Time and time again the forces of freedom have defeated the forces of tyranny.

But the exact opposite also has occurred. Great civilizations have fallen to barbarian hordes. This has happened when those civilizations grew soft and sleek, contented and slack, immersed in luxury and degenerate in character. It has happened when faith was lost in principles and institutions that led to greatness—to be replaced by overwhelming cynicism. It has happened, in sum, when fortitude did not come out of adversity, when defeatism prevailed, and citizens turned to the "weeping walls."

We do not yet know the extent of the efforts that will be needed to build and to maintain the strength necessary for survival. But we do know that they will be great, and future events may demonstrate that they will be greater than anyone realizes now. The burden will fall upon all—on industry, labor, government. Restraint and wisdom will be needed by all—the national interest must come ahead of self-interest. But no one should look on this burden with distaste or fear. The times have brought challenge and opportunity—and a people which value freedom and honor will rise voluntarily and in full willingness to meet the challenge and exploit the opportunity.

Here another thing that was said many centuries ago is perfectly in keeping. Shakespeare put into the mouth of one of his characters: "Courage mounteth with occasion." The occasion is at hand. We must now prove our courage.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

That winter we've been waiting for since Dec. 21 has arrived... a little short on snow but winter just the same... With temperatures everywhere from six to 20 degrees there was a bit of ice on Round Lake the other day... But it's been beautiful... no wind and clear sunny days... and moonlight nights the likes of which you seldom see... there may be stormy weather ahead but we're on the down grade of winter as far as we're concerned... Now if we'd just get enough snow so there'll be some skiing we'll have it made... Guess everyone had snow last week but Charlevoix and we have very little.

It's sure going to be dull around here with all our college youngsters back to their books... but there wasn't a dull moment and they were here.

Here we go again on the bus... This week our little buses will go to Grand Rapids and we sure hope their luck changes in the new year... We hope that one of their buses will get stuck in the snow and come up to the house... before the season's over.

Did you notice how few home games we've had... there'll only be two during the first half of the season which ends Jan. 24... And during the last five weeks of the season there'll be six home games... So get your work in order so you'll be able to follow the home games.

And what about Sputnik? haven't heard anymore about the high flyin' moons... But then, maybe we'll have one of our own up there one of these days, do you suppose?... Everyone's talking about a trip to the moon... Would you like to give it a try... Well, we're satisfied with things as they are and have no desire for something out of this world... We'd afraid they wouldn't let us back in...

Two of our favorite winter programs are about to get underway... the adult education program at the high school where all sorts of classes will be offered and the independent basketball season.

We're not out plugging for the adult education classes because we have no connection with 'em but we do know this... they're a lot of fun and you can learn a lot... We've taken three of them through the years and we wouldn't have missed them for the world.

As for independent basketball, that's really fun... The old Polar Bear club (and when we say 'old' we aren't kidding) is being re-organized... There's a lot of fine people involved in the project and there should be a lot of basketball this winter... We like our basketball 'live'... you know, the kind you can reach out and touch (or trip)... When this crew gets going we're sure there's going to be a lot of entertainment to be found in watching the games.

We're a little late but how did mighty hard after the show that you saw that Rose Bowl game... Being loyal to the Big Ten was mighty hard after the show that Green outfit put on... But it was terrific and made up for all the games that weren't.

Two more big games this week-end... The Senior Bowl at Mobile on Saturday and the Pro stars on Sunday... And then we'll turn our attention to baseball which will begin shortly with spring training... with the regular season scheduled to open only about three months from now... Wanna make a bet on the pennant winners?

Any of you remember a fellow named Bill Tallman who once summered on the Belvedere?... Under his own name he's been working for a place in the sun... on the stage, that is... We never knew him but several people told us he was on a national TV network one night last week... and they recognized him... Nice.

And if you don't want to be quoted keep your big mouth shut... That's something we'll just never learn... We commented last month on the beautiful issue of the Kinston, N. C., Daily Free Press... a 75th anniversary edition which was really beautiful... An Annual Report to the Citizens of Charlevoix

ADMINISTRATIVE DEPARTMENT

The center of a well-run City is its administrative department. Charlevoix's Administrative Department functions under the direction of the Mayor and Council, and the immediate and capable supervision of Hal M. Hill, City Superintendent, who is responsible for the efficient operation of all departments.

During the year, two new Aldermen have taken their place on the City Council—Edward P. Hansen replacing Ralph Hamilton at the annual election, and Lee Moerland appointed to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Charles Bellinger. In addition to the regular duties of public office, your Administrative Department has spent untiring effort in Industrial Development, Resort Development, City Promotion and Public Relations. A rewarding result of this effort came with the announcement of the relocation of the Coast Guard Cutter SUNDEW in Charlevoix next June; and plans for the construction of an Armory for the U. S. Army Reserve Training Corps. Both of these installations will greatly effect the economy of Charlevoix.

Charlevoix is an active member of the Michigan Municipal League, and the Michigan Municipal Utilities Association. Student Government Day has continued to be a popular event each year, thus denoting the young people's interest in City Government. We have participated each year in Mayor Exchange Day during Michigan Week, and have found this experience to be most rewarding.

The City's three business offices, namely City Superintendent, City Clerk and City Treasurer, work in close conjunction to provide complete and up-to-the-minute records of all City transactions, and do commendable work in purchasing, bookkeeping, billing and all business procedures.

City Council Committees spend many hours drafting business procedures, ordinances and resolutions. Money without doubt, is most important to all of us, and your Finance Committee in planning the City's budget has kept the tax rate at 17 mills, yet has provided for ample expenditures to meet the City's demands.

UTILITIES DEPARTMENT

Edward Swanson, Superintendent

ELECTRIC

Because of an increased demand for power, and to encourage new industry to locate in Charlevoix, an engine foundation, auxiliary equipment, switchboard equipment and overhead hoist were installed at the Ferry Avenue Diesel Plant to complete the installation of the Fairbanks-Morse Opposed Piston Diesel Engine previously purchased by the City. All parts, materials and labor for the above installation have been paid in full. Last year major overhauls were performed on two engines, and this year two more engines will receive major overhauls, which will place all equipment in first-class running condition. Our Diesel Plant now has a generating capacity of 4336 KW. The peak load for 1957 was 2460 KW, occurring in August; the peak load for the previous year was 2220 KW.

Major repairs were made to the south and west walls of the Hydro Plant at Bellaire. The transmission line from Charlevoix to Bellaire will be trimmed and several poles will be relocated near the County line. The Electric Department pays $600.00 per month to the General City Fund in taxes; and $1,500.00 is refunded to the Charlevoix hospital yearly. The Electric Department furnishes free Street Lights and Porch Lights to the entire City, thus making Charlevoix one of the best-lighted communities to be found.

WATER

Due to new construction and constant increase in demands for water our small water mains were inadequate to maintain proper pressure for hydrant safety and efficiency and it became necessary to install a 10-inch Cast Iron pipe for trunk line water main from Park Avenue along Sherman Street to West Carpenter, east along Carpenter to Bridge Street. Total pipe installed—5,762 feet at a cost of $52,000.00 Revenue Bond Issue. Further expansion of our water mains included 500 feet of 4-inch transite pipe on South Bridge Street and 2200 feet of 6-inch transite pipe from Mercer Boulevard along U.S. 31 to the City property adjacent to Paul-Read, Inc. This latter installation was made to supply water to the new Trailer Park, and also to furnish water to the City's industrial sites. A new 425 Gallons Per Minute Water Pump was installed last year at the Pump House on Lake Michigan. The interior of the Elevated Water Storage Tank was repainted last fall, with exterior painting scheduled for this Spring. During the month of August 1957,

With a new year ahead of us, your Mayor and Council firmly believe that you, the citizens of Charlevoix, should have access to an inventory of your City's interests. We believe that Charlevoix should be foremost in all your thoughts and plans. An uninformed public is an indifferent one, and so your administrative department has tried to design a brief but thorough picture of the activities and progress of the City during the past year. We trust that you citizens will continue to have confidence in our interest, ability and integrity in carrying out an active program of bettering our City.

1,387,100 gallons of water were pumped during a 24-hour period; and a total for the month was 26,272,500 gallons.

SEWAGE DEPARTMENT

J. C. Marshall, Superintendent

Charlevoix is fortunate, indeed, to have such a modern, up-to-date disposal plant, and the manner in which it is maintained compares with cities of much larger population. Outstanding Bond balance of $8,000, of which $4,000 will be retired this year, final maturity date January 1, 1959. Maximum flow for 24-hour period was in August, 1957, 541,000 gallons to treatment plant. Improvements for the future include replacing steel sash with glass blocks, and a new gas-fired boiler.

STREET DEPARTMENT

LEO ALLARD, STREET COMMISSIONER

During the past year the remaining islands were removed from State Street, and street was repaved with bituminous asphalt, and new and improved overhead street lights were installed. We can be justly proud of this improvement to our City.

After considerable correspondence and conference with State Highway Commissioner, we were fortunate in having Bridge Street resurfaced from Huribut Avenue to Carpenter Avenue at no expense to the City. Several streets have been restabilized and seal-coated, preparing them for surfacing in the near future. We have only to drive along Park Avenue to become aware of the improved parking area along the upper terrace of Lake Michigan Park.

Snow removal is always a serious problem in this particular section of the country, and we feel that Charlevoix's street department handles this job commendably. In keeping with our policy of providing new and better equipment on a rotating basis, a new heavy-duty dump body truck with under-body scraper and front-end plow hitch has been purchased and will be put into service on arrival. Also, a new tail-gate sander was purchased to speed up sanding operations and cut down the man-hours required for this operation. Last winter the City used 400 yards of sand and 20 tons of rock salt on the streets in an effort to make the City's streets much safer for drivers and pedestrians.

PARK AND RECREATION

Because Charlevoix is primarily a resort city, much planning goes into this particular department. We have only to look around us to realize how fortunate we are to have such natural beauty, and to appreciate the work that is done by our employees to keep it Charlevoix-the Beautiful. Some of the many services provided without charge throughout the year include life-guards employed at the three public beaches (with swimming instruction offered to the children); supervised shuffle board courts; city-supervised softball league; launching ramp for small boats and a parking lot at the Ferry Avenue beach. Winter facilities include the skating rink, which was relocated at the softball field last winter with much success, and a sliding hill on Grant Street.

Because of sand erosion in winter it has always been necessary to erect a fence at the Lake Michigan Beach each year. A new brick wall has recently been constructed and we feel that this permanent installation will not only add to the beauty of Lake Michigan Beach but also be more successful in combating sand erosion. Plans for the future include improved picnic areas at the several parks, and new tennis courts.

GOLF COURSE

Keith Carey, Manager

Charlevoix's Municipal Golf Course has met the increased demand for recreation at a modest fee, and its management and maintenance are outstanding. Last summer a new porch was added to the club house and minor repairs were made to the living quarters. several greens were rebuilt and rough areas were rebladed. The beauty and excellent condition of the course are due to the untiring effort of Walter Henley. We are proud to report that this department pays its own way, with a revenue this past summer of $6,379.25.

POLICE

Joseph Smith, Chief of Police

Charlevoix has a police department that functions very efficiently under the leadership of Chief of Police Joseph Smith, who was appointed in May 1957 to fill the vacancy left by the untimely death of former Chief Clarence Heise. This department consists of the Chief of Police and three regular police. During the summer an additional man is employed to fill the need for a parking meter patrolman. During this past year new uniforms have been purchased for all regular policemen, and a new Police Car has recently been purchased and will be put in service upon arrival. A total of 883 calls were received and investigated during the year, with total arrests numbering 113. The efficiency of the police department is measured not by the number of arrests made, but by the amount of work done by this department to keep things running smoothly which the general public is never aware of.

FIRE

John Curtis, Fire Chief

The Charlevoix Fire Department, manned by the Fire Chief, his assistant and fourteen volunteers has continued to provide outstanding fire protection not only to this city but to outlying rural communities. During the year this department answered 8 building calls (with a loss of $2,200), 10 grass fires, 3 car fires, 6 stand-by alarms, and 13 township calls. 1500 feet of new hose was purchased, together with a fog nozzle, new intake adapter, safety helmets for firemen, and identification plates for Volunteer Firemen's cars. The new fire truck has been paid for in full.

AIRPORT

Joseph McPhillips, Manager

Charlevoix's airport is small, but very efficiently operated. It is encouraging to see the yearly increase in airport traffic, and in keeping with this trend, the City is in the process of developing a master plan for improvements which include a 3500-foot hard-surfaced runway and the installation of lights, with participation by State and Federal agencies. During the past year the Airport office and waiting room have been relocated and improved; painting was done on hangars; runways were rolled and mowed during summer months, two runways were kept plowed for winter operations.

DOCKS AND HARBOR

With the influx of summer visitors by pleasure craft greatly affecting the economy of our City, we feel that this is a most important department and have given much time and planning to it's development. In June Ordinance No. 272 was adopted to regulate and control the use of waterfront and slips. Since the adoption of this regulation the City has received $2,107.00 in revenue. Last Spring two boat slips were rebuilt and minor repairs were made to ten other slips; all slips were numbered to make berth reservations possible. Plans for next summer include rewiring the electric service, improving water service to the slips and an improved method of handling reservations.

CEMETERY

Leslie Everts, Sexton

Without doubt Charlevoix's Brookside Cemetery is one of the most beautiful and well-kept to be seen. This past year extensive work was done on the retaining walls along Stover Creek. Constant care is taken of the grounds with the results being evident to all of us who take pride in Charlevoix's beauty. Employees who work at the Cemetery during the summer months maintain the skating rink during the winter.

The foregoing report has been presented to you for your information, and we trust will meet with your approval. The City is in sound financial condition. Due to the fact that this report is submitted before the end of our fiscal year we are not including a tabulated financial report at this time. However, such a report will be published for your information at the close of the fiscal year February 28, 1958.

City Council meetings are held bi-monthly and we earnestly urge citizens to attend these meetings in order that they may become better informed on how the City functions.

C. Lynn Sheldon Funeral Rites Held Here Sunday

O. Lynn Sheldon, 57, former local resident who had lived in Lake Orion for the past six years, died Thursday at Pontiac General hospital where he had been a patient for 10 days. He had been in failing health for the past five months.

Funeral services were held at the Winchester funeral home here Sunday with the Rev. George L. Majors officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery. On Saturday afternoon services were held at the Flumerfelt funeral services in Lake Orion with the Rev. Thomas Malone officiating.

A native of Ellsworth where he was born Aug. 2, 1900, he lived at Ellsworth and East Jordan before coming to Charlevoix in 1920. He was employed at the Loeb Farms and, later at the O'Neill Taxi Service here. During World War II, he was employed in Detroit. He returned here in 1917 and in 1951 went to Lake Orion. He had been employed at National Taxi in Rochester until his death.

He is survived by his wife, the late Hazel Heddy whom he married in 1924. May 20, 1934, two daughters, Mrs. Claude (Shirley) Kalkatz and Susan, of Lake Orion; a nephew, Emerald Howe of Pontiac; five grandchildren; a brother, Theodore Sheldon of Flint and one sister, Mrs. C. J. Whitney of Waynesville.

Card of Thanks

We are deeply grateful to our neighbors and friends for the many kind deeds and expressions of sympathy extended following the death of our husband and father, Trimble B. Reynolds. Anna and Elizabeth Reynolds.

Funeral Service Held Tuesday for Mrs. Judson Moore

Mrs. Judson K. Moore, 84, died late Sunday at Grandview hospital near East Jordan where she had been a patient for four years.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Winchester funeral home here with the Rev. A. R. Gold officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. Born at Michigan Center Dec. 20, 1873, the former Marian H. Markham was married to Mr. Moore at Grand Rapids in January 1905. They resided in Lowell where he was a mail carrier until coming to Charlevoix in 1942. She was a member of the Congregational church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by several nieces and nephews. A son preceded her in death in 1932.

Horse Traders

Newest device in home selling is the trade-your-home movement. If you have a home too small for your growing family or older than you wish, you can use it for a down payment on a new home. Builders in many U. S. cities advertise in this home trade movement. Most popular new home designs are the contemporary homes with open areas where much exposed wood is used in beams, planks and ceiling, as well as a variety of built-in.

Another First

This is the 350th anniversary of the founding of the first business in America in 1603, which was a sawmill erected at Jamestown in what is now Virginia. However, wood products have been found in ancient mounds in the Southwest that date back hundreds of years more, and were products of mysterious cliff dwellers.

You Could Get Lost

Did you know that one-third of the U. S. is covered with forest? That the forest is the source of many of our necessities? That we would make a lot of money if we had a forest? The answer is yes. The Douglas fir and western red cedar are produced in the lush forests of the Pacific Northwest.

Home Owning

It Says "Greatness"...in Any Language!

Wherever highways exist and motor cars are known, the name "Cadillac" signifies but one thing—the unmistakable leader in its field.

For the motor car that has borne that distinguished name for the past fifty-five years has been so well designed and crafted that it has become a synonym for everything good and desirable in a product.

And never have these virtues been more evident than they are in the Cadillac car for 1958.

A single, sweeping glance at the new "car of cars", for example, reveals a grace and majesty and elegance never before attainable in modern automotive design.

A brief journey at the wheel provides irrefutable proof of the forward strides that have been made in Cadillac performance and in Fleetwood coachcrafting.

And a study of the facts about Cadillac economy and dependability indicates a soundness of investment beyond anything in Cadillac's brilliant past.

If you haven't as yet inspected and driven a 1958 Cadillac, you should do so very soon.

Whatever your favorite among Cadillac's wide selection of models, which includes the distinguished Eldorado Brougham, you will find it a rare masterpiece in everything a Cadillac can be.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

What to Do With the Shadows

The meaning of life—only six a world where people could not do more than be there. There is no great purpose and there is no great end. It is just a long, long journey. But the journey is not a journey of a thousand miles. It is a journey of a thousand moments. It is a journey of a thousand shadows. It is a journey of a thousand lives. It is a journey of a thousand deaths. It is a journey of a thousand rebirths. It is a journey of a thousand endings. It is a journey of a thousand beginnings. It is a journey of a thousand lives. It is a journey of a thousand deaths. It is a journey of a thousand rebirths. It is a journey of a thousand endings. It is a journey of a thousand beginnings.

These deeper shadows of winter are reasons why I love this season in the North. In summer the shades of trees are somewhat lost amidst the dark green hues of the forest floor, but in winter, on a bright day, the woods present a study in bright light and dark shading. It is a season when photographers glory in their art, venturing into the nippy out-of-doors to catch on film the sparkle of light on sequin-like snow and to capture in their lenses the phantom shadows of trees and animals, skiers, skaters, iceboaters, hunters and fishermen. Now, as at all other seasons, sun and snow afford opportunities for playing with shadows.

I can well recall taking a junior high school class in drawing and hearing the teacher direct the class to sketch wooden balls, cubes and pyramids from models set before us. Any of the students could draw a ball, cube or pyramid with the help of a compass and ruler. However, in many cases they would not look like ball, cube and pyramid, but rather like an empty circle, an empty square and an empty triangle. To draw them realistically the fledgling artist had to shade them, showing both light and shadows. Later when we drew fruit, flowers, draperies and people we had to master the problem of what to do with the shadows. They could not be deleted from the picture. They must be included. What hue and value should they be given? How should they be arranged? How could shadows best be used to show the substance and structure of things? What was the meaning of shadow?

That is a problem everyone has, whether in painting, in photography or in treating life realistically. Learning what to do with the shadows that belong in the picture.

Nearly every job has its sunlit side and its shadowy aspects, its happy rewards and its drudgery and disappointments. A measure of contentment can be achieved if the job-holder knows that some underlie shadows belong in the picture, and it accepts them without irritability or bitterness.

Fellowship is the sunlit side of human relationships and breaevment the shadow side. They are part of the same picture. There would be no grief at parting if we never belonged to each other. But who would wish to live on

Cub Scout Party
Cub Scout Pack 163 enjoyed a pack Christmas party Dec. 30 in Banks school with families of Cubs as guests.

A tree decorated with hand made decorations carried out the theme for the month, Christmas in other lands. Each den made those decorations which were typical of the country they were studying.

Skills by dens 2, 3, 4, and 5 composed the program. Den 1 was in charge of a Mexican game.

Refreshments were served by den mothers of Ellsworth Den 1 and Atwood den 2.

Cubmaster Grant Hastings presented Gary Nicola with his Lion badge, Gary Torga, and Roy Henry Burns with denner's badges and Larry Torga an assistant denner badge. John Reid was presented with a gold arrow award.

The date of the Pack meeting is now the last Monday evening of each month, when families and friends join the Cubs as a climax to the month's work by the dens.

Conservation Department Makes Year End Report

Resources for the future—always, the major goal of conservation—received special emphasis during 1957.

Expanding industrial, agricultural and commercial uses in the future promise to exert even greater pressure on Michigan's natural resources. This means more intensive use of water, land, minerals and other vital commodities.

Meanwhile, the state's growing population coupled with increased leisure time creates a larger demand for public recreational opportunities—more facilities for hunting, fishing, camping and other outdoor activities.

Michigan's Conservation Department, stepping up its efforts to meet these needs of tomorrow, launched or expanded programs in several key fields during 1957.

Game division personnel started work on establishment of experimental game areas authorized by the 1957 legislature. Experiments in the five areas will include varying of season lengths and bag limits on small game to test effects of hunting pressure on individual species.

Game research work of this nature will provide information valuable in the determination of future hunting regulations.

During 1957, Michigan maintained its position as the nation's most popular hunting state. About 1,000,000 nimrods enjoyed their sport with varied success. Deer hunters bagged 80,200 white-tails in 1957, including 18,400 during special seasons in designated crop damage or food shortage areas.

Pheasant hunting success again was good with about 1,000,000 ringnecks taken. An upswing in the grouse population cycle was indicated during 1957 and better "pat" hunting is in store. Rabbits and squirrels were abundant.

The future for fishermen also brightened as the Department expanded its program for chemical treatment of lakes to reduce pan-fish populations where excessive numbers of fish restrict growth. Other research projects got underway in various areas to provide facts which will mean fish for more fishermen in years to come.

Possibly the most significant development occurred in Cheboygan county during the year when the initial field test of a lamprey control chemical was "very successful." The trial, conducted by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service with cooperation of the Michigan Conservation Department, was an encouraging note in efforts to restore the once-valuable Great Lakes fishery.

Improvement projects on inland lakes and streams also were increased, adjusting habitat conditions to encourage game fish production. In addition, more than 2,879,000 fish were planted from state fish hatcheries and rearing stations, including 1,650,000 legal-sized trout.

Attendance at Michigan state parks, where current and future needs perhaps are most critical, was at near-record levels during 1957 and a five-year program for expansion and development was proposed. The $27,500,000 program suggested by the Department includes acquisition and development by 1963 of 225,000 acres in 23 counties for new public recreation facilities.

State forests are increasing in value as timber producers—returning a record $823,000 to the people of Michigan during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957—but recreational use of these state lands grows even more important each year.

More than 18,000,000 trees from state-owned nurseries were planted this year on public and private land.

The future is receiving considerable attention, too, in other Department fields, including geology, lands field administration and education.

More widespread utilization of lower grade iron ores, through "beneficiation" processes, promises to boost the upper peninsula iron mining industry. Upgrading processes also are in use in the production of sand and gravel in Michigan.

Michigan continues to rank among the leading states in the production of several vital resources, but experienced another decline in oil and natural gas yield.

New techniques in forest fire suppression are in the development stage at the Department's forest fire experiment station at Rosecommon. Modern methods of detection and control, coupled with public cooperation, kept fire damage this year to 5,861 acres, fifth lowest loss total in history.

Michigan Needs $50,000,000 to avoid a red ink budget for next year.

The legislature is back to wrestle with the problem and has before it a number of suggestions from Gov. Williams.

The whole picture is complicated by the eagerness of both parties to please in an election year.

Williams, who has asked state agencies to spend less to save against the anticipated austerity of next year, chopped dozens of choice items out of his budget.

Projects that could wait for a year were held back and others were shelved indefinitely.

Williams then proposed a long-range bond issue for construction to be retired by belt-tightening. Higher taxes on intangibles—stocks, bonds and other securities—is another plank in the platform to make ends meet, or come close, before voters go to the polls next fall.

Republicans charge that Williams' wrong guess on anticipated revenue for next year and this year created part of the money crisis.

To tighten the screws on the whole situation, Republicans are pledged to no new taxes until they complete two investigations of the state's financial structure next year.

G.O.P. legislature—Rep. George W. Sallade, of Ann Arbor, and Willard L. Bowerman, of Lansing, had the bond issue idea first.

Sallade came out for the bond issue to build university projects on a full faith and credit basis. Bowerman would allow students to sign notes, payable after they graduate.

Experts in Lansing predict that the 1958 session of the legislature will be "torrid."

Public Safety in an age of atomic energy for both war and peace has developed as a major target for state government.

Labor organizations were the first to protest two years ago when the Enrico Fermi, Corp., organized by a syndicate of power utilities, planned to build a nuclear reactor at Monroe.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington said it would be safe for workers and the community.

Repeated complaints from the unions, however, prompted Gov. Williams to create a special investigating commission to develop a master plan for atomic safety.

It has come up with a plan for an atomic energy "czar," a director of Atomic Activities who will use the combined talents of six state agencies to formulate plans and to enforce them.

A safety advisory board will develop safety standards. Another on science will seek to find new ways to use atomic energy in the state's economy.

For instance, the department of agriculture will be assigned to determine the uses of atomic energy on the farm.

It will be the state's first attempt to get into the atomic energy field.

Processors, producers, transporters and others who come into contact with atomic energy in the state would be required to get a license from the state in addition to the Federal government.

More Money for local health departments will be sought from the legislature before spring.

It will be one of the top-priority projects of the state health department which, this year, has an organized pressure group at its elbow.

More than 100 of its leaders met in Lansing late in 1957 to establish the priority list and pledge their support to the health department budget for 1958-59.

Farm Laws to be proposed by the governor this year will be highlighted by his Seal of Quality proposal—defeated every year since he took office in the legislature.

More support for the "Seal" idea than in the past is evident. Since many farm organizations have endorsed it for the first time, it has a better chance of becoming law.

Petoskey Northmen Edge Out Rayders 32 to 30

Clarlevoix to Play At Grayling Friday

The Charlevoix Rayders bowed to the Petoskey Northmen by a score of 32 to 30 in the first of two non-loop games they will play with the Class B team this season.

The defeat at the hands of the Northmen marked the first time in the history of the series that Petoskey had defeated Charlevoix three consecutive times. Last year the Northmen were on the long end of the scores in both games.

This week the Rayders will resume their league schedule when they travel to Grayling to take on the Vikings, a team with only one win to its credit this season.

The Rayders who have a two and a half record thus far will find themselves meeting an inexperienced but full team that shows signs of being a contender.

The team, however, is expected to shape up as the season progresses and though they may not finish in the first division can be counted on to dash the hopes of other teams.

Charlevoix opened the season with one regular and two letterman plus several players who were expected to shape up as they become more experienced. However, they have not come to the level of the other teams.

Unless they snap out of the slump, the Rayders may well be victims to the sloppy Vikings.

In the game in which only 22 field goals were scored by both teams, Charlevoix outscored their hosts in the field goal department 12 to 10 but lost out on the

This year's record was accomplished despite an increase in drivers, vehicles and miles traveled.

Stop and Look in Charlevoix and Save

The eight teams of the Northern Michigan Class C league will resume their loop schedules Friday after a three-week holiday lay-off.

Despite the annual Christmas recess, most teams continued practice sessions throughout the two week vacation period and four of the eight teams took on non-loop rivals.

When play starts Friday Mancelona will be hosting Gaylord, Harbor Springs will be playing at East Jordan, Boyne City will be invading Pellston and Charlevoix will be traveling to Grayling.

With four games down and three to go in league play before the second round starts Jan. 28, Boyne City is leading the pack with a perfect record; Gaylord and Mancelona with three wins in four starts are tied for second place; Harbor Springs and Charlevoix with a two and two record are tied for third place; Gaylord and Pellston, with one win each in four games are tied for fourth place; and East Jordan with no wins in four starts are occupying the league cellar.

The big game this week will be the Gaylord-Mancelona game with the two teams battling it out on the hardwoods for possession of second place.

To date Gaylord's only loss has been to Charlevoix, a team Mancelona defeated by a 12-point margin in the opening game of the season while Mancelona's only loss has been to Harbor Springs, a team the Blue Devils defeated 65 to 61 to open the season.

With so much at stake, this should be a close game. On the basis of experienced players, Mancelona should have an edge but on the other hand, the Blue Devils have shown a great deal of scrappiness and unless the Mancelona outfit can show more than they did before the holiday's they may find themselves on the short end of the score, come Friday.

East Jordan was seeking its first win when they met Harbor Springs this week. The Red Devils composed entirely of inexperienced players has had several near misses this season and will be going all-out for a win on the home floor this week. Harbor Springs with a host of experienced players and, on paper, one of the strongest teams in the loop, have had trouble finding themselves and unless they play better ball than they have been playing may fall prey to the victory-hungry Red Devils.

The league-leading Boyne City Ramblers will move into Hornet territory this week when they play at Pellston. The Ramblers, however, should have little difficulty with a team whose only win has been over East Jordan.

What is the life expectancy of Michigan's Mackinac Straits bridge? It's engineer-designer, David B. Steinman, New York, says the span is built to remain serviceable for at least a century.

Michigan completed the year 1957 with 221 fewer traffic deaths than in 1956 according to provisional figures compiled by the State Police.

The report reveals that this was well beyond the goal to save 174 lives, or 10 per cent under the total of 1,747 who were killed during the preceding year.

Every month but one last year showed a reduction. The exception was June with seven more than in the same month of 1956.

December, one of the most deadly months of the year, had a provisional saving of 19 lives, 140 deaths in 1957 as compared with 159 in 1956.

While the provisional figure for the year is subject to adjustment downward with the receipt of delayed reports, the final saving is expected to be in excess of 200. Deaths in 1957 now total 1,526.

Soils Conservation District Completes Successful Year

Aerial view of the large terraced field, Route 3, Charlevoix, showing the results of the soil conservation work done by the district. The field is a good example of the type of work that can be done by the district. The field is a good example of the type of work that can be done by the district.

The Charlevoix Soil Conservation District completed another successful year with Clayton Healey of East Jordan, as chairman of the district, John Wieland of Charlevoix, as vice-chairman, Robert Reidel of Boyne City, as treasurer, and Ed Reiman, county agricultural agent at Boyne City, as secretary of the district. Other directors for the past year were Norbert Nachazel of East Jordan, and Lee Sneathen, Jr., of Charlevoix. William Grimm of the Soil Conservation Service was farm planner for the district. The district's conservation work was completed by the end of the year.

The district organized in 1947 and has since then been working to improve the soil in the Charlevoix area. In 1957, the district completed a major project of terracing and contour plowing. This work was done on a large field owned by the Healey family. The field is a good example of the type of work that can be done by the district.

The district has continued to make available to the people the county plat books which were printed a year ago. Many folks are finding these plat books of real value.

The district took the lead in promoting an all-agency meeting concerning the ACP program in this area. Many times farmers who own land in two counties can carry on a practice in one county and not do the same practice in another county. It was thought that a get together would promote a better ACP program.

Land classification for tax assessment purposes is still being worked on by the district. At the present time, one township is in the process of being completed. More details about this program are in another article in this report.

The district was asked to put on a program during Farm City Week for the Charlevoix Kiwanis farmer night program. Clayton Healey and Ed Reiman discussed the district's program. Others in the district who attended included John Wieland and Ed Reiman.

274 Farms Now Co-operate in Soil District Program

The cooperators of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District carried out many soil and water conservation practices during the year of 1957. The number below in parenthesis represent the total amount applied in that practice since the district was organized.

The amount of practices are as follows: Crop rotations, 1,262 acres (5039), cover crops, 1,191 acres (2935), strip cropping, 424 acres (4522), pasture improvement, 1,912 acres (4,137), woodlot improvement, 455 acres (1,142), tree planting, 114 acres (709), wildlife area improvement, 413 acres (781), diversions, 0.4 miles (2.8), ponds, 5 (8), waterways, 3 acres (19), erosion control structures, 2 (2), and subsoiling, 120 acres (120).

The district obtained 32 new cooperators, bringing a total of district cooperators to 274. Twenty-six basic plans and nine revisions of plans were written. Soil surveys of 3,137 acres were mapped, bringing the total to 53,379. Thus, 1957 was another successful year.

President Healey Active in Establishing Soil District

Clayton Healey of East Jordan, has been a District director since the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District was organized in 1948 and has been chairman of the District for the last eight years. He was active in getting the District established and has farm plan number 1.

This 42-year old farmer with his two boys, have a 300-acre farm which has 180 tillable acres. At present this farm has 60 head of commercial beef cow and calf enterprise as well as 31 dairy cows. They also rent an additional 100 acres.

A variety of soil conservation practices have been established. Some are contour strips, diversions, waterways, tree plantations of red pine, multiflora rose plantings and windbreaks. Clayton states the diversions he established back in 1949 saved the orchard from severe erosion and the grass waterway was a must for the outlet of the excess water from the diversion. The contour strips have held erosion to a minimum on his cultivated cropland. Once a barren hillside, the plantation of red and white pine have made an excellent growth and has created an ideal habitat for wildlife. In the management of this plantation Clayton has also harvested a few Christmas trees.

This number one farm plan calls for a five year crop rotation along with rotational grazing of pasture. The favorite stand of pasture is a mixture of ladino and alsike, bromo and timothy, which has a greater carrying capacity and is well adapted to lowland areas. Clayton is also using a corn cob high protein supplement feed for his beef herd in the area. This is one way of expanding instead of buying more land. The results of these practices greatly encouraged neighborhood participation in the District program.

Clayton isn't alone in practicing and teaching conservation. Agnes, his wife, has been active in the Women's Auxiliary of Soil Conservation Districts. They have three children, Terry, Fritz and Patty. His goal is to leave the farm in a better condition than when he started farming so that his children may continue to carry on the farm enterprise.

Clayton has not only assumed the responsibility in his District, but state-wide as well. He has been regional director for six years of the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts. He has burned plenty of midnight oil in attending other directors' meetings giving them advice and information.

Besides his duties as director, Clayton is past president of Farm Bureau, past Master of Grange, past board member of FFA, active member of East Jordan School board, past director of Artificial Breeders' Association, honorary member of the East Jordan FFA, and member of the ASC Committee. Both Clayton and his wife are active in 4-H work.

Clayton's leadership in the District's program has not only put conservation on the land, but also in the minds of the people.

Note: Sorry we were unable to obtain picture of Albert Carlson.

New Kind of Gold

It would be a pretty difficult job for anyone to list all the commodities exported from the U. S. today, but back in 1608 there was only one: wood. The colonists at Jamestown didn't find gold as they had expected, but they found valuable forests from which trees were cut and shaped into poles, shakes and other forest products which were exported to England as America's first merchantable cargo.

certificates.

Charles Faculak and Sons, Charlevoix, have been active for several years in conservation and have contributed of time an effort in the conservation program in their neighborhood. They have 240 acres of which nearly 121 acres is tillable. They have established strip cropping, drainage ditches, crop rotation, green manure, cover crops and woodland management as their major accomplishments. Their main enterprise is dairy.

Harold Gobels, East Jordan, has been a leader in his neighborhood in conservation achievements. As a past director of the Soil District he gave unselfishly of time and effort. He has 240 acres of which 142 acres is tillable. Among his conservation practices are strip cropping, tree planting, pasture improvement and crop rotations.

Roscoe Barber, East Jordan, has worked part time for the District. There is 60 acres in this farm of which 20 acres is contour cherry orchard. Much has been done in green manure, cover crops, and woodland management.

Albert Carlson, East Jordan, has a 120 acre farm of which 65 acres is tillable. Cash crops are his major program. His main conservation practices are strip cropping, waterways, green manure, cover crops and crop rotation.

Alfred Crane, Boyne City, has a 320 acre farm of which 122 is tillable. The main enterprise is dairy. Alfred has done considerable work in strip cropping, cover crops, crop rotation and pasture improvement.

Perry Reich, East Jordan, has a 160 acre farm of which 140 is tillable. Main enterprise is dairy and a cherry orchard. Perry has reclaimed some severely eroded areas on his farm to workable cropland. Perry filled in gullies and other areas as well as constructed a diversion & established a ditch.

Run-Off Plot Is Established By Soil District

The Charlevoix county run-off plots is one of the long time programs being sponsored by the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District. These plots are located just north of East Jordan on M-66 at the Hi Brock farm. They were started in 1954 and have now completed one rotation.

These plots consist of 1-50 of an acre with a slope of about 8 per cent. The rotation on three of the plots is corn, oats and two years of hay. On the last plot the land is seeded and will remain sod for the ten years.

The first plot is planted up and down the eight per cent slope. The second plot is planted across the slope, while the third plot is planted in strips across the slope.

There was, of course, considerable amount of soil loss the first year when everything was seeded down. Disregarding the first year the last three years show about 20 pounds of soil lost in the plots planted up and down the slope and across the slope, about 16 pounds of soil lost in the plot planted in strips, but only about eight pounds lost in the plot remaining in sod. To obtain acre figures multiply the above figures by 50.

Farmers and everyone else are invited to stop in and see the run-off plots whenever they are in that area. These will be operating for six more years and should furnish considerable information on the soil and water lost in soil types of Charlevoix county.

Boyne City and Mancelona Vie for Top Spot in League

Action in the Northern Michigan Class C league will find Boyne City playing at Gaylord, Mancelona entertaining Pellston, Harbor Springs traveling to Gaylord and Charlevoix hosting East Jordan on Friday.

The Boyne City Ramblers now tied with Mancelona for first place in loop standings, will be trying to get back on the victory trail when they play at Gaylord Friday. Coach Paul Pfahler will devote his efforts this week to ironing out the kinks which resulted in the Rambler's upset at Pellston.

Gaylord, like Boyne City, will be trying to get back in the win column after being dumped by Mancelona by a 48 to 33 score.

Boyne City with four wins in five starts will be the favored team in this meeting. However, the Blue Devils could give the Ramblers a close game if they play the kind of ball they are capable of playing.

Pellston, the 'giant killers' of the loop now that they have upset the league-leading Boyne City Ramblers, will be out to make it two in a row this week when they invade Mancelona, now tied with the Ramblers for first place. Whether they can accomplish this feat remains to be seen but it will not be for lack of trying. To date Mancelona's only loss has been to Harbor Springs (71-59) a team that trounced Pellston 51 to 30. The Ironmen have a smooth operating club and should win but following Pellston's win over the Ramblers the Hornets may turn into a tough rival and Mancelona might have to fight for the victory.

Harbor Springs, tied with Gaylord for second place in loop standings, will be defending this spot when they go against Grayling this week. Grayling, on the other hand, is tied with Charlevoix and Pellston for third place and will be trying hard to trim the Rams and advance to second place.

On the basis of experience and polish, the Rams will be the favored team in the meeting but Grayling is capable of upsetting any club and might just do that unless the Rams play their best brand of ball.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

The Pellston Hornets, a team with only one win to its credit up to Friday night, upset the Boyne City Ramblers by a score of 40 to 39 to headline the action in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night as all eight teams returned to the hardwoods following the Christmas holidays.

In other action Mancelona defeated Gaylord 48 to 33 to move into a first place tie with the Ramblers; Harbor Springs trounced East Jordan 62 to 42 and Charlevoix bowed to Grayling 43 to 32.

Pellston 40; Boyne City 39. Two free throws in the last seven seconds of the game spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the Pellston Hornets as their Bill McClutchevank the two all-important charity shots as time ran out to give his team an upset victory over the Boyne City Ramblers.

Boyne City jumped into an 11 to 7 first quarter lead which the Hornets overcame to go ahead 20 to 19 at half-time. The third period was a seesaw battle with the lead changing countless times but the inspired Hornets came up with a 31 to 29 lead as the period ended. The final period was a repetition of the third quarter with the Hornets trailing 39 to 38 when McClutchev was fouled. With a one and one situation prevailing, he sank the first shot to tie the score 39-all before putting his team ahead 40-39 with his bonus shot. The Ramblers took the ball down the floor for one shot before the final horn sounded.

Pellston outscored the Ramblers 14 to 13 in the field goal department while scoring on 12 of 24 free throw attempts. Boyne City connected on 13 of 20 attempts while collecting 18 personal fouls. Pellston had 16 personal fouls called.

Rains Carry Ton of Soil from Plots at Michigan State Tests

August through October rains of about 5 inches coupled with poor planting and cultivating practices cost a run-off plot at Michigan State University's Kellogg farm more than a ton of surface soil.

That's the report from Russell Hill, extension specialist in soil and water conservation at M. S. U.

The plot that lost the ton of soil had been in corn which was planted up and down the slope.

Plots of oats drilled up and down a 170 per cent slope lost a half ton of top soil while a nearby plot worked across the slope lost only one-tenth ton of soil.

Soil losses on established legume plots were negligible, notes Hill. On plots where recommended conservation practices were applied, soil and water losses were even less.

M. S. U. soil scientists have kept records since 1934 on soil losses on these plots at the farm in Kalamazoo county. Since then, one plot cultivated up and down the slope has lost over 46 tons of surface soil.

Improper cultivation practices not only move a loss of valuable top soil, but they also cut down on the amount of water that the soil can store up for growing plants, Hill points out.

Demolition plots are cooperatively operated by the Calhoun, Kalamazoo and Barry Soil Conservation districts and the M. S. U. Kellogg farm.

Interest in Pelleted Hay Remains High

Pelleting of hay continues to be one of the hottest topics of discussion and areas of research in agriculture.

The process consists of compressing hay into disks that may range from about 5-8 to 2 inches in diameter and 1/2 to 2 inches thick.

Farmers are interested in the idea because it may eventually allow them to feed hay automatically. Hay pellets can be moved on conveyor belts just as corn is now.

Another advantage of pelleting hay is reduced storage space requirements. An equal quantity of hay in pelleted form would take about half or less the storage space needed if the hay were in baled form. There are also some indications that animals on pelleted hay may gain a little faster than those on loose hay.

Agricultural engineers at Michigan State University, as well as at other colleges and at implement companies, are working on the pelleting process. They eventually hope to build a machine that can pellet hay in the field after about one day of drying.

M. S. U. agricultural engineers will have an exhibit on hay pelleting at the 1958 Farmer's Week.

That's scheduled for Jan. 27 to 31, on the campus at East Lansing.

Engineers are currently investigating size and hardness of pellets, at what moisture content the hay can be pelleted best, and pressures needed to make pellets. Researchers need this information before a field machine can be designed.

There is one big disadvantage to the process: It takes a lot of power to pellet the hay. This will be a cost factor farmers will have to consider. But it may be that the added cost of pelleting would be more than offset by savings in costs of storage and feeding.

Low furniture with a horizontal line and furniture of the same height help give a feeling of space to a room.

Ice Rink Proves Popular Sport Spot

One of the most popular spots in town these winter days is the new ice rink at Kipke field where as many as 350 youngsters as well as elders have gathered at one time for skating. Pictured is a part of the crowd that gathered at the rink Thursday evening. The rink is built and operated by city workmen on the South side softball field.

Volunteers Needed

NOTE—The volunteer services of nearly 200 residents of the Charlevoix School District will be needed to conduct the school plant study, or survey, now being planned by the Board of Education in cooperation with the Parent-Teachers association. One of the first steps is to acquaint the public with the program and its objectives. The following is the first of a series of informative letters being sent to parents of students in the school. For the benefit of citizens who do not have children in school, the Courier will reprint these letters as they appear in order to acquaint the community with the project.

How you can help in our school plant study

The first step in the school plant study is to get the data on the present condition of the school plant. This data will be used to determine the need for new buildings, and to plan for the future. Drift Ice Blocks Tug from Harbor

The 40 ft. fish tug Eddy Ann, owned by James Driggett, was forced to seek refuge at Northport when an ice field in Lake Michigan blocked the entrance to the harbor.

The tug started through the field about three-quarters of a mile from the piers and late Sunday afternoon sought assistance from the U. S. Coast Guard which dispatched the 65 ft. cutter to assist. The cutter was unable to break through the field and returned to the harbor about 9 p. m. The tug made its way back to open water and went to Northport.

Drift ice driven into the Bay between North and South points by northwesterly winds is 30 inches deep in some places.

School Offers Classes in Adult Education

Registration for adult education classes at the Charlevoix public schools are still being accepted, according to Max Novak who is in charge of the program which offers a variety of subjects.

"We are prepared to offer any class in which enough people are interested," Mr. Novak said.

The first class to meet is the one in upholstery which met Wednesday night with 17 students enrolled.

A group of seven interested in photography is anxious to get started and all persons interested in taking such a class are urged to register at once.

A total of 17 have enrolled in commercial subjects. However, there are not enough people interested in any one of the three subjects, typing, shorthand and bookkeeping, to warrant a class. Additional registrants are needed if classes of income tax, ceramics and painting and welding are to be offered.

Another in which a lot of interest has been shown is square dancing. Several people who have registered for this class are hopeful that enough enrollees can be obtained so that a square dance club can be organized.

Two other classes which will be taught if persons are interested are cooking and sewing. These will not among the suggested classes.

Anyone desiring additional information regarding these classes may call LI 7-6533. Classes are held in the high school building, 100 N. Main St., Charlevoix, Mich.

City Opposes Suspending Air Service

The Charlevoix city council, at its regular meeting Monday night, adopted a resolution firmly protesting the tentative position taken by the Civil Aeronautics board to suspend Capital Airlines in northern Michigan.

The council voted to lend its utmost efforts to maintain the franchise of the Capital Airlines which the Civil Aeronautics board proposes to place with the North Central Airlines.

A copy of the resolution was forwarded to Barron Fredricks, hearing examiner, Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, D. C.

In taking this action the local council joined with other communities throughout the area who are protesting the proposed action of the Civil Aeronautics board.

In the only other action, the council voted to make a small parking area in an effort to eliminate a traffic hazard. No parking signs will be erected on the north side of Mason st. west of State St. for approximately 150 ft. The action was taken because the corner had been the scene of several minor accidents.

Bills totaling $13, 648. 29 were approved and ordered paid.

Joys and Woes of Raising Family Provide Comedy for Senior Play

"To Dad who raised only 12 boys, children and to Mother who reared 12 only children."

Thus did Ernestine Gilbreth Carey and Frank Gilbreth Jr. dictate the delightful book, "Cheaper by the Dozen," on which the play to be presented Feb. 1 by the senior class of the local high school is based.

In the play, as in the book, Ernestine and Frank, played by Mary Schuchard and Edward O'Neill, recall some of the high-lights of growing up under the unusual nurture and guidance of these remarkable parents portrayed by David Miles and Esther

The play centers around a particular phase of the children's development in which Anne, the oldest daughter (Wanda Russell), with the help of Ernestine and a younger sister, Martha (Susie Duerr), emerge victorious in a struggle toward more adult independence. Other contributing factors in the humorous yet painful growth are the school teacher, Miss Brill (Ellen Miller), a younger brother, Bill (Bob Moll), and a couple of young men, Joe Seales (Larry Smith) and the 'catch of the season' Larry (Larry Ingalls).

The younger Gilbreth children, Jackie, Lillian, Dan and Fred, played by Mary Ann Berg, Sue McBride, Charles McDermott and Stan Harwood, and the housekeeper, Mrs. Fitzgerald (Sharon Swanson) add their share of humor to the projects Dad launches with such high expectations. Dr. Burton, played by Michael McCann, interjects the sober note that is really the motivating force behind the major phase that Dad has worked out for the family.

The joys and frustrations, the problems and woes of a large family will be seen when the senior class presents, "Cheaper by the Dozen," at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 1 under the direction of Mrs. Robert G. Martin. Mrs. Louis Courtade is the assistant director and Madelyn Rabach the student director.

There is still need for clothing of the 1920's. If you have any thing that might be used call LI 7-6746.

Boync City defeated Gaylord 48 to 42 and Mancelona trounced Pellston 40 to 26 to retain their first place standings while Harbor Springs dumped Grayling 71 to 47 to assume sole possession of second place in league standing and Charlevoix advanced to a third place tie with Gaylord after trouncing East Jordan 59 to 24 in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night.

Boync City 48; Gaylord 42. Gaylord offered little resistance to the Boync City Ramblers Friday night as the latter rolled into a 15 to 10 first quarter lead, held a four-point 26 to 22 halftime advantage and went ahead 37 to 28 at the three-quarter mark after Gaylord scored only six free throws in the third period. Rick Casper and Carl Charon shared scoring honors for the victors with 15 points each. Darwin Mason had 17 for Gaylord.

Mancelona 40; Pellston 26. Pellston's hopes of upsetting Mancelona as they did Boync

City the week before were short-lived as the Ironmen rolled to a 12 to 7 first period lead, held a 17 to 13 at the half and 34 to 21 at the third quarter mark. Dick Holstad paced the scoring for Mancelona with 14 points. Bill McClintock had seven for Pellston.

Harbor Springs 71; Grayling 47. The Harbor Springs Rams could do nothing wrong at Grayling Friday night as they roared into a 21 to three first quarter lead; remained ahead 34 to 21 at the half and 52 to 33 going into the final quarter. Richie Clarke led the way with 24 points. Roger Hatfield had 23 for Grayling.

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

"Best bombing crew in the world" is the title now held by the B-47 crew of Major Roy H. Howard, 384th Bombardment Wing, Medium, of Little Rock Air Force Base at Jacksonville, Ark.

Staff Sergeant Keith A. Mort is a member of the crew that won its title during the ninth annual SAC Bomb-Nav Competition, the "World Series of Bombing," held at Pinecastle AFB, Orlando, Fla., last fall.

Sgt. Mort, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mort and a veteran of 3½ years in the U. S. Air Force, was one of 25 officers and enlisted men who comprised the "greatest maintenance and A & E teams in the world today." They are the men behind the scene who played such an important role in keeping their airplanes flying during the competition.

Three recent graduates of the Charlevoix high school enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps earlier this month and have been assigned to San Diego, Calif., for training.

They are James T. Flynn, Patrick Collon and Edwin Belfy. Their families have not received their permanent address at this time.

Charlevoix Takes 59-24 Victory Over East Jordan

Rayders Meet Harbor Springs Friday Night

Charlevoix's Rayders racked up their third win in six games, rolling over East Jordan 59 to 24 Friday night. This week the Rayders will travel to Harbor Springs to take on the Rams who moved into second place Friday night after snowing under Grayling by a score of 71 to 47. The Rams have a record of four wins and two losses.

The Rayders will have their next contest for them when they meet the Ironmen of Harbor Springs on Friday night. The later the evening game of the season. In the credit column they have wins over Mancelona (71-59), East Jordan (62-42), Pellston (51-30) and Grayling (47-47). Charlevoix, on the other hand, has wins over Gaylord (56-51) and Pellston (53-41) as well as East Jordan while losing to Mancelona (56-44), Boyne City (53-32) and Grayling (43-32).

This game could be a close one but with their record the Rams will be favored to win, especially on their cracker-box court.

This game will conclude the first half of the season. On Tuesday Charlevoix will host Mancelona as the second round starts. Now that the Ironmen are tied for first place they will have a definite edge in the meeting. However, Charlevoix may make a comeback and come up with a win over the Ironmen on their home floor.

Starting for the Rayders in Friday's game were Ron Vandenberg, Joe Beaudoin, John Bingham, Bob Mol and Scott Supernaw. Mike Genett, Bruce Pease and Bill Poquette joined the lineup in the second quarter and Steve LaBlance and Rod Ostrum saw limited action in the first period.

Rayder Reserves Continue Their Winning Ways at East Jordan

Charlevoix's little Rayders continued their winning ways Friday night by trouncing East Jordan 53 to 42 after the visitors had threatened in the second quarter to lead 19 to 13 at half-time.

Jim Ladd, Charley Coleman, Dick Valt, apert, Stan Smith and Dave Schuchard, started for the Rayders. Bud Dreth joined the lineup in the second period, and Scott Supernaw in the third quarter. VanRaaphorst, with 12 points followed by Ladd and Schuchard with 10 each were top scorers for the victors. Dreth had 12 and Redner 11 for East Jordan.

With VanRaaphorst hitting for three field goals, Ladd for two and Coleman for a free throw the little Rayders romped into an 11 to 5 first quarter lead. East Jordan scored three from the free throw line and one field goal. In the second period Charlevoix scored only two points on free throws by Coleman and VanRaaphorst while the visitors were finding the bucket for five field goals and four free throws.

Going into the third quarter it was a different story, however, as Schuchard finally started to hit and connected for three quick field goals. Ladd and Coleman scored two free throws and a field goal each. VanRaaphorst a

Secret of Youth

You can't tell the age of a tree by the cellular structure of the wood, says T. K. May, technical director of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, because the cells never change no matter how old a tree grows or how long a piece of lumber remains in use.

Boyne City Plays Mancelona Friday to Break First Place Tie

Northern Michigan Class C basketball teams will conclude the first half of the 1957-58 season Friday when Boyne City hosts Mancelona. Charlevoix plays at Harbor Springs, East Jordan hosts Grayling and Gaylord travels to Pellston.

On Tuesday all eight teams will open the second half of this season's schedule with Boyne City playing at Grayling, Harbor Springs hosting Gaylord, Pellston playing at East Jordan and Charlevoix entertaining Mancelona.

The tie for first place will be broken Friday night when Boyne City and Mancelona fight it out for possession of league lead as the first half of the current season draws to a close. Each team has one loss thus far. Boyne City's record is 40 to 39 upset by Pellston while Mancelona's was 71 to 59. Boyne City defeated Harbor in their meeting by a one point margin, 68-67, while Mancelona dumped Pellston, the only team to beat Boyne, by a score of 40 to 26.

This game could be a close one but the Ramblers will have an edge by virtue of past performances and because they are playing on their home floor.

East Jordan will host Grayling in a game this week that should be a pretty good one but the visitors will definitely have an edge in the meeting with the Jordanites who have yet to win a game. The Gaylord Blue Devils, tied with Charlevoix for third place in league standing, will invade Pellston this week and unless they play their best brand of ball may find themselves victims of an upset. "... We Need 'em Fast!"

THE SCENE IS the traffic department of any of the hundreds of manufacturing plants in Michigan. The time is 4:00 P. M., on any day of the week. The traffic manager is talking long distance to a supplier in another state about some parts needed for production.

"Send 'em by truck," he says, as he prepares to hang up. "We need 'em fast!"

He knows from experience that motor transport is the fastest link between shipping and receiving. He knows he can depend on it. In fact, he and thousands of his fellow traffic managers have been the men most responsible for the rapid growth of motor transport. Once they experienced the efficiency and speed of trucks, there was no satisfying them with anything less—and today their companies could not operate successfully without truck transport!

That's something for every wage earner in Michigan to think about.

Thus announced Postmaster

Blue Cross will again sponsor 10 nursing scholarships of $330 each. As in previous contests, the winners will be chosen on a competitive basis by the Michigan League of Nursing.

Initial application blanks with rules and instructions for entering the 1958 competition are available at the offices of high school principals or at the office of the Michigan League for Nursing, 567 Hollister Bldg., Lansing.

To qualify for final judging, contestants must complete the initial application and return it to the League's scholarship committee by March 1. This, together with a transcript of high school grades will constitute the major basis on which the committee will pick the 10 winners.

Funeral Services To Be Held Friday For Mrs. Tellman

Mrs. Herman G. Tellman, 77, widow of a hotel executive and member of one of Charlevoix's early families, died late Tuesday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for six days.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m. Friday with the Rev. E. F. Denay officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. The body will lie in state at the family home at 801 Bridge st. where the rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Thursday. The Winchester Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Born in Bay City, Sept. 1, 1880, the former Agnes M. Orlovski came to Charlevoix as a child with her parents who were among the early settlers here. In 1920 she was married to Mr. Tellman in Charlevoix. They lived in Chicago, Los Angeles and Duluth where Mr. Tellman served as a hotel executive. In 1940 he retired and they returned here to make their home. Mr. Tellman preceded her in death in 1944.

She was a member of St. Mary's church and its Rosary Altar Society.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Mayme Orlovski of this city; two nephews, Edwin J. Madit of Calgary, Alberta, Canada and Louis S. Orlovski of Detroit and a niece, Mrs. C. D. Geiken of this city.

The family request that those wishing to honor Mrs. Tellman donate to their favorite charity in lieu of flowers.

Board of Commerce Results Questioned By Mayor and Council

Fifteen local business men and others interested in the welfare of the city, five directors of the Board of Commerce and its secretary, S. E. Coleman, Mayor James Hiller and three aldermen attended a meeting at the city hall last Wednesday called by Mayor Hiller to discuss the Board of Commerce and its activities.

Mayor Hiller who presided, said the meeting had been called at the request of the council to see what the Board of Commerce had planned for the year before the city's budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year was adopted. The Board of Commerce receives its operational funds from city taxes.

Mayor Hiller then read letters from other communities of a comparable size which told how each community assisted its Board or Chambers of Commerce. In all cases, cities assisted by supplying office space, utilities and by contributing from $300 to $2,000 to support the Board or Chamber.

Other funds for operational costs were derived from memberships by local merchants and resort operators.

In Charlevoix the cost of operating the Board of Commerce has been underwritten by the city which allocated $5,512.00 for this purpose last year.

Mayor Hiller said that it was the opinion of the council that the city was not receiving anything tangible for its money and that before the council would appropriate a similar sum for next year the Board of Commerce would have to present a concrete plan of operation.

Mr. Coleman, as spokesman for the Board of Commerce, said that if the board received the one per cent of all taxes which they were supposed to have for operational costs, the Board would have no financial difficulties.

Mayor Hiller said that council records which had been checked back to 1921 revealed no account of such an agreement to give the Board of Commerce a specific amount of money.

Mr. Coleman then outlined the plans the Board had made for next year, stating that he did not think the merchants and resort operators should shoulder the entire cost of financing a Board of Commerce which benefits the entire community.

Plans projected by Mr. Coleman include several industrial prospects to bring small industries to the community; as well as plans for a new resort folder, a card project whereby everyone would be asked to mail cards to friends throughout the mid west asking them to stop in Charlevoix enroute to see the Mackinac Bridge for a meeting with other communities on US 31 to see what could be done to encourage people to travel this route to the new bridge; to have each merchant sponsor a float in the Venetian boat parade; for an amateur show during the month of July with the winners appearing on the program during the Venetian weekend if a sponsor for the project can be found; a book of coupons to be given to all newcomers to town with each merchant contributing something from his store; for a Chamber of Commerce banquet to renew interest in the project and a banquet for the crew of the U. S. C. G. cutter Soudew when it moves here from Sturgeon Bay, Wis. in June. He said the Chamber would also encourage the planting of flowers at the entrances to the city and the enlargement of the airport so larger private and commercial planes could land here. Plans for entering a float in the National Cherry Festival and a queen in the Michigan Winter Queen contest were also mentioned. He said a church circle was handling the latter project.

After hearing the plans, Mayor Hiller said he did not think that these were concrete plans which would warrant financial backing from the city. Mr. Coleman replied it was impossible to evaluate the results of the work done by the Board of Commerce.

It was suggested that the Board of Commerce become a membership organization with each merchant and resort operator paying a pro-rated sum for membership. Mr. Coleman said

Mrs. A. L. Livingston Dies Suddenly at Home Thursday

Mrs. Archia L. Livingston, 66, wife of the vice president and cashier of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, died unexpectedly at her home here early Thursday evening. She had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were held at the Winchester Funeral home Monday with the Rev. A. R. Gold officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Lansing Jan. 13, 1891, the former Margery E. Ash attended the Lansing schools and was graduated from Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant where she majored in music and art. She was a member of the Gamma chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. She was married to Mr. Livingston at Bellare where the family spent the summer months on Aug. 17, 1913. She had always lived here since her marriage.

She was a member of the First Congregational church and for many years was soloist with the choir. She also was a member of the Charlevoix chapter No. 72, O. E. S. and the Dickens Study club and former treasurer of the Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Hahn of Alma and Janet of Charlevoix; three sons, David of Rockford, Archie L. Jr. of Bellare and Robert of Charlevoix; 13 grandchildren and two brothers, Gerald L. Ash of Phoenix Ariz. and M. M. Ash of Miami, Fla.

New Local Writer Makes Publication

Another local writer has had an article accepted by a nationally known magazine.

The writer is Mrs. Frinklin Olmstead whose short humorous article entitled "To Love and to Cherish" has been accepted by "Women's Day," a widely read magazine sold only in one of the major chain stores.

The article pokes fun at her tendency to keep things, all sort of things, because they might be useful some time.

Mrs. Olmstead, the former Anne Huggan, has been interested in writing since she was employed at the Charlevoix Courier following her graduation from the Charlevoix high school.

This would not work because he had written letters to all local businesses and had received very little response.

Mayor Hiller said that you could not solicit funds for memberships unless you had a concrete plan to sell and repeated that he did not think the Board of Commerce had such plans.

One of the businessmen present said that he felt the Board of Commerce worked under a veil of secrecy and suggested that their work be published. Other projects were proposed and touched on lightly but no definite action was taken at the meeting.

Facts You Should Know

About the Survey of the Community

In these changing times, we are fortunate to be able to have a well-trained, experienced educator groups for advice. The College of Education of the Michigan State University, the answers to all the questions we as every day people, want to know about the needs for proper education of our children and grandchildren.

We all think at times, that this is not right and that is not right, in our Public School. None of us are qualified to really answer these questions, other than to express our personal feelings.

We have a great advantage in being able to conduct this survey and realize positive answers, and as a result, goals to work for that are worth our time and effort.

Through this survey we will achieve this. By working on the various committees of which there are five: we can gather these facts for the college to put together. The five committees are: The Community, School Enrollments, Educational Programs, School Plant, and School Finance.

The University will return a written report with the final results, keyed to the information we have given them, on what we can and should have in our area.

It is our duty in these times to make this school plant study a success. This could not be realized in other countries where no one is allowed to even think that the methods of their education are not correct. This then is the dream of other countries. It is not a dream to us. It is ours for the doing.

Make February 12th, at 8 p. m. in the School Band Room a positive date on your calendar. You will hear Dr. Hecker from the University. He will answer your questions and start us off in the various committees.

The study will begin that night, February 12th.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Everyone's talking about the mild winter we've been having. Perhaps by the time you read this it will be snowing and blowing like mad... but it's being written our snow is gradually disappearing. Everyone's and snow but Charlevoix, it seems. Though our weather has been cold, it hasn't been too windy. To give you an idea of the season's madness, we'd like to tell you about the AS on the outside chimney at the William Smith home on Petoskey ave.

Pat Patterson called our attention to it and said he couldn't remember ever seeing anything that green this time of year. Of course, there's a certain amount of heat from a fire, but just the same the weather gets mighty cold at times.

Go, there hasn't even been any snow around here. When it was snowing all over the country the other day we had hopes... but they were short-lived when it started to rain Saturday.

In the mail the other day a card from Mrs. Herbert Fox, who is spending the winter at St. Petersburg, Fla., with the message that she hoped we were all feeling sorry for her down here in the cold. Despite that, she went on, they were having a good time so we don't think she, Mrs. Rudy Korth and the other rate too much sympathy. At least they're not paying fuel bills or are they?

They've a wonderful idea at the county jail. At least, we think it's worth going along with. Sheriff Rose has appealed for old toys, broken toys, wagons, tricycles or anything that a child would like to play with. He admits he's copied the idea from the Emmet county sheriff Dept. and here it is. He proposes to collect these items and put them in working order for distribution next Christmas. Every year there's a demand for toys of all description for the less fortunate children of the community. If Sheriff Rose and the men in his department with some help from prisoners who will welcome something to do can supply this demand then he thinks the cause will be more than worthwhile.

If you have any toys, metal, mechanical, wooden or what have you that you plan to dispose of, won't you leave them at the county jail, perhaps the item will sell beyond repair but it may furnish parts for another boy or girl's throw anything out.

Or if you have bigger toys, like doll beds, chairs, tables, beds or such they'd like those too. It may not mean much to you as it is, but when it's reported and placed in running order it may make some other little girl's day happy, come Christmas.

Perhaps you'll be able to help a little more. It's a fine idea and it's worth a try. You know what would be fun for the kids (and their elders too)? A snowman contest to see who can build the cleverest snowman? Can't we get somebody to sponsor one now that what snow we have is ideal for forts and snowmen and the like.

It's cherry pie time in Michigan, the cherry capital of the nation. And if you like cherry pie like we like it, you would have known about it Monday when seven Charlevoix high school students baked cherry pies.

The judges had a rugged time picking three girls to represent Charlevoix in the county contest and after sampling the pies we can understand why. Mrs. O'Neill brought us some samples... and were they good. We're all for having a national cherry pie day every week... with such good cooks around.

If you like a good laugh don't miss the senior play, "Cheaper by the Dozen" that's to be presented Saturday night. The costumes alone are enough to have you rolling in the aisles. If you grew up in the roaring '20's you'll find them a riot. The middy blouse, long stockings, knickers, the 'sack' dresses which are in style again this year, the hair-dos... you'll find them all a riot. Oh yes, and the play's real clever too, so plan now to see it.

A belated birthday greeting to our good friend Alvin Goldman... who observed an anniversary during the week. We hope he

Homemakers to Learn Where All The Money Goes

"What became of all that money we took in last year?" Miss Eunice Pardee, specialist in home management at Michigan State University, will show the residents of Charlevoix county how to keep records that will show them where that money was spent.

This important meeting which is open to the public will be held at the city hall here from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Tuesday. It will also be a leader training course for Home Demonstration club leaders.

It has been suggested that those planning to attend the training meeting jot down expenses for the month of January. For example: food, $4.36; shoes, $10.50; medicine, $2.50, etc. These persons are asked to bring this list to the meeting so Miss Pardee will show you how to get started on keeping an account book.

Keeping records can be interesting or dull. Miss Pardee hopes to show those interested how to make it anything but dull.

The training meeting is sponsored by the Home Demonstration clubs in Charlevoix county.

When Mrs. Dorothy McRae, kindergarten teacher in the Charlevoix public schools, issued a call for assistance recently it was Chief D. L. Reynolds, officer in charge of the U. S. Coast Guard Lifeboat Station here, who true to the tradition of the service, answered her S. O. S.

The "call" was for fathers of kindergarten pupils to paint the playhouse in the kindergarten room, so Chief Reynolds, whose daughter, Gladys, attends the class called for volunteers from among his crew at the U. S. Coast Guard station and went about completing Operation: Playhouse.

The playhouse, which was completely re-decorated inside and out, is now a lovely shade of pink with gray roof and trim.

Assisting Chief Reynolds were Jack Stiehl, BM3, Fred Freese, BM1, Daniel Bryson BM3, Lynn Kleckner BM2, John Liebi SN, BM3 and Darwin Hauke SN.

Fathers of other children in the room have painted the furniture for the home and mothers have dressed the dolls.

Two County Men Named Directors By Beef Breeders

Edward K. Shanahan of Birchwood Ranch and Clayton Healey of East Jordan were elected to the board of directors of the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders Association during the 12th annual meeting of the organization held Tuesday at the association headquarters in Gaylord.

Cmdr. Shanahan was elected for a three year term and Mr. Healey for a two year term.

They are among the 12 beef breeders in Charlevoix who are members of the Northern Michigan Association whose membership numbers 81 breeders from 11 counties.

Cmdr. Shanahan said that membership in the Beef Breeders Association was open to people who have commercial beef herds and who have pure bred bulls.

The 12 Charlevoix county consignors supply 13 per cent of the stock sold at the feeder sale in Gaylord every fall. Last October a total of $174,000 worth of calves and yearlings were sold at the 12th annual sale, the most successful in the Association's history.

In explaining the idea behind the association, Cmdr. Shanahan said that members urge farmers in the northern Michigan area which is good hay country to raise young stock. By supplementing even poor pasture land with hay, these young stock can be raised thus turning the land into a good use. The feeder stock is then sold at the annual feeder sales at Gaylord to buyers from southern Michigan who transport the young stock to corn growing counties where it is ready for market.

He went on to say that the raising of feeder stock is an ideal set-up for people who live on farms and work in urban areas.

The beef breeding herd and the young stock do not make the demands a dairy herd makes so it is possible to raise this herd while working elsewhere. More and more people are utilizing their land for this use while being employed at regular jobs, he added.

The third annual bull sale will be held at Gaylord in May.

The Association owns physical properties at Gaylord where the sale yard is located. It has $13,000 in cash derived from dues, consignment fees and commission on sales. Consignors do most of the work themselves during the sales.

Anyone wanting to know more about the Beef Breeders Association may do so by calling Cmdr. Shanahan or Mr. Healey.

Letter carriers' uniforms are a 50-50 blend of the Union Blue and Confederate Gray.

The Grand Banks consist of a shallow section of ocean off Newfoundland, where the cold Labrador Current meets the warm Gulf Stream, the National Geographic Magazine says. The swirling waters provide conditions favorable to the growth of plankton, and make a rich oceanic pasture for fish. Fishermen have been filling their ships with cod from the banks for 450 years.

Sheriff's Dept. Summarizes '57 Activities

A report on the activities of the Charlevoix county sheriff's department for 1957 has been issued by Sheriff Glenn E. Rose. In making the report, Sheriff Rose said that the duties of the officer were as varied as the types of crimes for which people are arrested and jailed.

The department policed 143 accident calls including five in which persons lost their lives. A total of 127 traffic summons were issued in connection with these calls and 63 traffic summons were issued while on routine patrol duty.

A total of 1,278 drivers licenses were issued out of the office. 167 foxes were checked for bounties. This necessitated the making of five copies for each bounty with three of them being mailed to district and state Conservation Department offices at the expense of the county. A total of 354 boats were inspected as a safety measure. In addition, the office took care of a variety of Civil Defense duties which are attached to the office. The sheriff's department patrol car traveled 30,000 miles last year while on calls and patrol duty.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's in the Bag

Out-of-towners must have wondered what was going on last Tuesday. Every parking meter was covered by a paper bag lettered "Free Parking."

Tuesday was officially designated "Free Parking Day" by the Town Council as a reward for going a year without a traffic accident.

"Traffic safety, like virtue, is its own reward," said Judge Cunningham as he proposed the motion. "But let's show our drivers we're proud of 'em!"

From where I sit, a little praise never hurts—in fact, that's why I talk in this column about the nice, fair-minded people I meet. Folks who live—and let live... who don't care whether you like beer or buttermilk at dinner time. I say real neighbors never try to "park" their ideas on others!

Devere Bird Wins

Recognition for Selling Record

Devere R. Bird of Adrian who has been associated with the Prudential Insurance Co., since 1934, recently was credited with writing a million dollars worth of insurance for the second straight year.

Earlier he was featured in an illustrated article which appeared in the company's publication, Prudential Bulletin. The article entitled "Sell Less, Sell More" gave Mr. Bird's solution to a problem he faced, wearing himself out making too many sales without selling enough insurance. Pictures of him and his family as well as others taken while calling on prospective customers were included in the article.

Mr. Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bird of this city, started with the company as a district clerk under his uncle, H. G. Bird, former Traverse City district manager. He started his sales career as a district agent in 1937 and transferred to another division of the company in 1953. He is currently a special agent associated with the Detroit agency.

A native of Charlevoix and a graduate of the local high school, he attended Parsons Business school in Kalamazoo before joining the Prudential family.

His brother, Douglas, is now a division manager for the company at Ann Arbor.

Mr. Bird is married to the former Eleanor Graham of Adrian. They have four children, Mrs. James Tornow, Thomas, Mary and Margaret.

Rayder Reserves Rack Up Two Victories to Maintain Record

The Charlevoix Reserves sneaked by the Mancelona Reserves 30 to 29 Tuesday night in one of the closest games of the current season.

The little Rayders took a slim eight to four quarter lead which they lost after being outscored seven to two in the second quarter as Mancelona led 11 to 10 at halftime.

Charlevoix took an 18 to 17 quarter lead but Mancelona knotted the score and then went ahead briefly before the little Rayders pulled the game out of the fire in the final minute of play.

Drop Harbor Springs 52-34

Charlevoix's little Rayders racked up win No. 7 in league play Friday night by rolling over Harbor Springs 52 to 34.

Jim Dennis, John Martin, Ralph Brock, Don Nowland and Sam Supernaw started for the Rayders with Jim Ladd, Charles Coleman, Dick VanRaaphorst, Stan

Bingham and Supernaw scored one field goal each for 18 points.

Harbor Springs coasted along with only eight points in the final period for the 20 point victory.

Clarke, John Burns, and Garver had two points each and Dean Barnifiber and George Coveyou one free throw each in the final period.

Graham tallied 21 and Garver 20 for the Rams. Vandenberg had 19 and Supernaw 12 for Charlevoix.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

Boyer City defeated Mancelona 44 to 41 Friday night to assume sole possession of first place in the Northern Michigan Class C league as the first half of the 1957-58 schedule drew to a close.

In other games Harbor Springs trounced Charlevoix 59 to 39 to move into a second place tie with Mancelona; Pellston dumped Gaylord 53 to 47 and Grayling won over East Jordan 40 to 31. As a result of the action, Charlevoix, Gaylord, Grayling and Pellston are now in a four-way tie for third place, and East Jordan is in the loop cellar with no wins in seven games.

Boyer City 44; Mancelona 41
With the league lead at stake, the Boyer City-Mancelona game turned into a seesaw battle in which the Ironmen led nine to six at the quarter before the Rams took a 13 to 11 lead at halftime.

In the third period Mancelona took a 21 to 13 lead, but Boyer City rolled over Grayling 60 to 43 and Mancelona edge Charlevoix 50 to 47.

As the result of Tuesday's games Pellston assumed sole possession of third place in loop standings and Charlevoix, Gaylord and Grayling dropped to fourth place followed by East Jordan in the loop cellar.

Harbor Springs 54; Gaylord 50
Harbor Springs avenged an earlier loss to Gaylord by rolling over the Blue Devils 22 to 7 at the quarter; 36 to 20 at halftime and 41 to 36 going into the final period when the visitors rallied to cut the margin to four points as the game ended. Pete Graham had 20, Richie Clarke 14 and Ken Garver 13 for the victors. Keith Riddle had 18 and Darwin Mason 17 for Gaylord.

Pellston 49; East Jordan 30
Pellston moved into third place after rolling over East Jordan 13 to 4; 23 to 11 and 40 to 16 by quarters. Gary Cihak and Gene Richards had 10 points each for the Jordanites. Bill McClutche had nine and Barry Anderson eight for the victors.

Boyer City 60; Grayling 43
Boyer City rolled into a 22 to nine first quarter lead which the Vikings cut to 35 to 27 at halftime before the Ramblers pulled away 49 to 37 going into the final period. Carl Charon paced the action with 23 points for the victors. Regie Hatfield had 13 for Grayling.

Ironmen Edge Charlevoix by 50 to 47 Score

The Charlevoix Rayders bowed to the Mancelona Ironmen 50 to 47 after playing one of their best games of the current season.

This week the Rayders will travel to Gaylord to take on the Blue Devils in a return game.

The Rayders jumped Gaylord 56 to 51 in their first meeting and this one can be expected to be as close. If Charlevoix plays the usual up-and-down ball they displayed Tuesday they could come up with a win.

In the last game, the Rayders trailed 30-10 to five at the quarter, 22 to 19 at halftime and 35 to 33 at the three quarter mark.

In the final period the Rayders kept pace with the visitors, matching them basket for basket until the 1:57 mark when Ron Vandenberg put Charlevoix ahead for the first time as he dumped in two free throws to make the score 45 to 44. Mancelona scored one bucket to put the Ironmen ahead 46 to 45 before Vandenberg went in to score a bucket and again give the Rayders a lead. Mancelona came through with one more field goal and two gift shots in the final minute of play for the three-point victory.

Vandenberg paced the game with 22 points followed by John Bingham with 11 Bob Mol six; Joe Beaudoin, five; and Poquette, three; Steve LaBlance, Rod Ostrum and Mike Genett also played.

Coast Guard Cagers Matched For Two Games

The Charlevoix Coast Guard will play return games with ege teams from the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw and a quintet from the Traverse City Air Station after hosting the two teams in games here last week.

The local squad lost to the team from Cheboygan by a score of 54 to 46 but dumped the team from Traverse City 52 to 31.

In the first game Charlevoix Coast Guard got off to a slow start and trailed 31 to 17 at halftime. In the third period they closed the gap to six points 39 to 33 but the margin proved too much and time too short as the game ended 54 to 46 in favor of the visitors.

Gilbert Aumon had 19 points for the victors. Dick Harju with 21 was top scorer for the local Coast Guard team.

In the game with the quintet from the Traverse City Air Station, the Charlevoix Coast Guard jumped into an early lead and at halftime led the visitors 30 to 15. The local five continued to hit for the 21-point victory. Harju with 23 points paced the winners. Darwin Hauke had 10. High scorers for the visitors were Cobbabubba with 11 and Mel Ney with 10 points.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from "A Northerner's Diary"

By Harold E. Kohn

How to Handle Our Hatreds

Some solemn and cynical observers of wild life complain of Nature's cruelty. They point to the furious attack of wolf on caribou, of hawk on song sparrow, snake on mouse, and pike on minnow as examples of the ceaseless terror that visits the kingdom of the wild, and they completely ignore the fact that in a system where animals and plants must die that others might live, there is little if any of the feeling that we know as hatred. As a rule, animals kill other animals not because they hate them but because they must eat to live. And the violent deaths that are necessary in this scheme are nearly never prolonged, but almost always mercifully sudden, painless, and easy. In the strictest sense of the word, "cruelty" implies enjoying seeing another's pain; and among even the highest animals such cruelty is nearly non-existent. Cruel hostility is an attitude of which man alone is capable.

Psychologists generally agree that feelings of hostility get their start in childhood and stem from the inevitable frustrations children meet on their way toward adulthood. Very early in his life the child learns the meaning of the words "No", "You mustn't", and "You'll have to wait awhile." He becomes irritated by restraints put upon him, angered at those who hold him in check, control him, and repress him. But since the feeling of frustration can seldom be freely expressed by striking back at his parents and bigger brothers and sisters, it is repressed and diffused throughout his subconscious mind, and is later revealed in less direct and more unwholesome ways. Since we all have some feelings of hostility either plainly shown in our conduct or deeply hidden in our natures.

Hostility is not a new problem. It is as old as the human race. The earliest known picture drawn by prehistoric man shows men killing one another. The Bible doesn't move far from its opening sentence before it tells the story of Cain murdering his brother, Abel. The ancient Romans promoted circuses where condemned men and women were confined in an arena with wild beast and torn to bits before a fascinated audience. And the history of Christianity is blotted with the blood of Christians murdered by other Christians because they deviated at some point from the orthodox position.

It would be bad enough if our expressions of hatred hurt our fellow men, but what compounds our misery is that the hostile person is always a victim of his own feelings. He inevitably slips from the cup by which he hoped to poison another. Some years ago on the Amos and Andy radio program Andy was repeatedly irritated by a big exuberant acquaintance who would heartily slap Andy across the chest whenever they chanced to meet. Andy got "fed up" and devised a plan. He related to Amos what he had in mind: "I'm fixed for him! I put a stick of dynamite in my vest pocket. The next time he slaps me on the chest he's going to get his hand blown off!" He didn't seem to realize that at the moment, the man's hand was blown off. Andy's chest would be shattered to bits. But that is the way it is with hatred. The one who hates is hurt worse than the one being hated. Hatred disturbs our rest and sleep. It upsets digestion. It erects barriers between ourselves and our fellows, stopping the good they could do us, and—more seriously—hindering the good we could do them. Hatred never builds any good in us, because its nature is destructive rather than constructive. As Joseph Fort Newton once put it, "Hate never builds anything; it can only blast. Every beautiful thing has been loved into being."

Yet, the world's worst people and its best people alike, have been haters. The criminal is the sort of person who acts out his hostile feelings toward other human beings in a direct manner. He may steal from them, assault them with weapons, or kill them outright. A village gossip vents hostile feelings almost as viciously, but with less severe legal consequences. But gossip, in its way, can be as hateful and destructive as a knife or a gun. The world's worst people employ their hostility in destroying what is good: human life, another's property, or another's reputation.

The world's best people vent their hatred, too, but upon those things that deserve hating. They are the researchers and doctors who destroy disease, the men and women of insight in management and labor who aim to bring an end to injustice in industry, the educators who uproot ignorance and superstition and plant learning, the peacemakers who work to abolish war, the representatives of religion who seek to destroy evil and help God build a colony of heaven on earth.

The best people hate, but they are discerning in what they hate. On the morning of December 8th, 1941, the day after the Japanese assaulted Pearl Harbor, Marion Forgy Line wrote a meaningful prayer:

"O Lord, let me not hate too much.
Let me hate this thing called War.
Let me hate the bitter strife in the hearts of men
In our own land and afar.
But, oh, Lord, let me not hate the people,
Flesh and blood,
Even as we.
The men and the boys
In strange uniforms,
The hungry children,
And lonely wives like me."

Everyone might profitably pray, "O Lord, let me learn to hate the right things." In every community there is enough of life-destroying, personality-crippling evil to absorb all our hostile, destructive instincts. Just as a gardener must not only love flowers, but also despise weeds, so if everyone, everywhere would learn to hate and uproot the right things, what a garden of God we could plant in their stead!

Name City Cherry Pie Contestants

At that time the trio representing Charlevoix will compete with three girls from the East Jordan high school for the county crown.

The winner of the Charlevoix county contest will represent the county at the 26th annual State Cherry Pie contest in Grand Rapids Feb. 13 and 14 where the county winners will compete for state honors and the privilege of going to the National contest in Chicago later in the month.

Charlevoix high school home-making students studied the art of pie making under Mrs. Helen O'Neill, home-making teacher in the local schools. Other girls who participated were Marilyn Basscom, Patricia Belfy, Esther Boss and Gail Kelly.

A panel of judges composed of teachers judged the entries on the basis of appearance, flavor, texture and consistency.

Mrs. O'Neill said in announcing the winners, that the judges found it very difficult to pick the winners because all the pies were so good.

Shoveling Snow the Easy Way!

All the work is taken out of snow shoveling by this new Reo-Snow-Throw. The machine, demonstrated here by Max Hosmer of Harbor Hardware to Bob Winchester of the Winchester Funeral Home, plows a full 20 inch path through all kinds and depths of snow. The self-propelled snow remover can throw snow just over the curb or up to 25 feet whichever is desired. The new machine, a tremendous back and health-saver can be seen at the Harbor Hardware in Charlevoix.

We Can Solve School Problems

The right to criticize was given to us with the birth of our nation. It is a privilege resorted to most insparingly whether it be constructive and based on knowledge or destructive and based only on rumors or personal whims. Government, from the top level to the smallest unit, has always been an open target for criticism.

A case in point might be found right here at home—our public school system for example. Most of us accept it as better than average, but that has not made it immune to our criticism, possibly some well founded and probably more of it is based on petty gripes. But in either case we venture to state that few of us are well enough informed about school operations to offer workable plans that would effect economies or lend to sound improvements.

Following are a few of the problems that confront many schools in the country, including our own. Do you have the answers?

1. Is our school enrollment going to increase, decrease or remain static?
2. Do we need changes in our curriculum and program to better qualify our children for the future?
3. What is the economic trend in our community that may present future problems in education?
4. Is our school plant adequate and are we making the most efficient use of what we have?
5. What can we afford to pay for education?

Many of us have our own ideas about these problems but how many of us have sound facts and figures to support our ideas. The answer is evident if we are honest with ourselves. That is why the Board of Education with the support of the Parent-Teachers association has embarked on a "School Plant Study" of our school system under the direction of the College of Education of Michigan State University.

Gathering the information that may provide the solution to the above problems will be up to the individuals in our community who want to get the worth of their tax dollar. With plenty of help it will not be a difficult task for any one to do his small bit in collecting the information as directed by Dr. Hecker of the College of Education.

Once the information is obtained it will be projected into a comprehensive picture of our school system. With such information available all of us may have a more dependable guide for the present and future of our school.

Both men and women of the community are needed to do the job. The results are important to all of us whether or not we have children in school. How about lending a hand to this project and at the same time get acquainted with the educational program you are helping to finance with your tax dollars. Meet at the school band room next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock and accept your share of the responsibility.

Speech Correction Program in Schools Making Good Progress

A review of the accomplishments of the speech correction program in Charlevoix county has been made by speech therapist, Allen G. Coltharp.

Mr. Coltharp will make a second report in March on the program which was started in September under the direction of the Charlevoix county board of education in cooperation with the several school districts in the county.

By early October all children in grades one through six had been given a brief articulation test to determine how many children in the county might need some help in speech development.

Following, this preliminary survey, approximately 115 children were placed in groups of four, five or six and were further tested to determine as far as possible the extent of severity of the defect. It was found that approximately 25 per cent of pupils with defects were severe articulation cases. The remaining 75 per cent were of a milder nature.

It was felt that the severe cases should have more time in intensive therapy, while the milder ones could be treated in larger groups with relatively good results.

Mr. Coltharp reports that nearly all of the milder cases have shown visible speech improvement while the more severe cases have shown some progress in less visible but necessary areas of speech development.

Following are the case dispositions to date by schools:

Boysen City: pupils screened 481; phonetic analysis made, 88; began therapy, 28; cases added, 65; cases discharged Jan. 3, 1958, 28; cases now in therapy, 65.

Charlevoix: pupils screened 364; phonetic analyses made, 65; began therapy, 21; cases added, 37; cases discharged 17; cases now in therapy, 41.

East Jordan: pupils screened 455; phonetic analysis made, 55; began therapy, 27; cases added, 22; cases discharged, 8; cases now in therapy, 41.

Boysen City: pupils screened 33; phonetic analysis made, 19; began therapy, 11; cases added, 8; cases discharged, 5; cases now in therapy, 14.

McBrose: pupils screened, 97; phonetic analysis made, 17; began therapy, 10; cases added, 1; cases discharged, 1; cases now in therapy, 10.

Others: pupils screened, 97.

The annual Father and Son banquet will be an event of Monday, Feb. 17, at the First Methodist church. Mrs. Carlton Iken, president of the sponsoring organization, the W. S. C.-S. has announced.

George Schraut, Boy Scout executive of the Scenic Trails Council, will be the guest speaker at the banquet honoring fathers and their sons.

Scouts to Enter Klondike Derby At Petoskey

Four Charlevoix Boy Scout patrols will go to Petoskey Sunday to participate in the 11th annual Klondike Derby being held as a part of the Winter Sports Carnival in that city.

The local Scouts will be among the more than 30 patrols from throughout the Northern District of the Scenic Trails Council to participate in the popular event.

The Derby will be held at the Winter Sports park with the first patrol moving out at 1:30 p. m. to visit the five stations where they will be faced with problems of ice rescue, wildlife identification, fire building, first aid and other scouting skills.

Each patrol will have a sledge which patrol members have built. This sledge will be loaded with equipment necessary to carrying out the projects at each of the five stations.

Local patrols planning to participate are the Owl patrol headed by Darrell Somerville which recently won a blue ribbon in Klondike Derby competition at Traverse City; Snake patrol with Robert Odmark as patrol leader; Hawk patrol, Mike Herrington the Flying Arrow patrol, David Kaiser.

Harvey Griswold, Boy Scout field representative for the Northern District, said there would be ample warm shelter for adults planning to attend the Klondike Derby.

Charlevoix Scouts will be accompanied by a group of local adults including Louis Edward who only this week accepted the position of Scout Master. Wayne Sundberg, assistant Scout Master, will also make the trip.

Students on Sales Campaign with Tickets for Fair

Concession tickets for the Fair to be held at the Charlevoix gymnasium and Elementary building Feb. 22 are now on sale by members of the eighth grade.

The boy and girl who sells the most tickets will be named king and queen of the festival.

Work on the fair itself is progressing satisfactorily. The event, sponsored by the P. T. A., will raise funds for a school plant survey to be held under the direction of Michigan State University.

Former Resident Dies in West

News of the death of a former resident, Swain Smith, 73, in La Puente, Calif., on Jan. 21 has been received here.

A native of Charlevoix county, Mr. Smith had resided here until going west about 25 years ago. He was a contractor and builder.

Funeral services and burial were in the west.

Surviving are his wife, the former Anna Kimey whom he married at East Jordan in May 1905, two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Leonard Beers of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Rhodes (Cleora) Neece of La Puente, Calif., and several grandchildren.

Two Benefits Planned to Aid March of Dimes

Two more benefit events for the March of Dimes have been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bleha, co-chairmen for the annual fund campaign.

Thursday (tonight) the Airport Bar will sponsor a smorgasbord for the benefit of the March of Dimes. Hank Felix and Des Milligan will furnish a buffet lunch and there will be several special events for the entertainment of guests at the popular night spot.

On Saturday, Feb. 15, Charlevoix Polar Bears will host the St. Ignace Independents in a benefit game at the local gymnasium. There will be a preliminary game beginning at 7 p. m., followed by the feature event.

The annual Mothers' March on polio held last Thursday was the most successful in recent years, netting a total of $500.86 Mrs. Bleha reported this week.

In addition contributions have been received from the following: Barnard Grange, V. F. W. Auxiliary and Church of God, $10.00 each; Inwood Ladies Aid, $5.00; Beaver Island, $94.00; St. Mary's school, $24.34; Murray school, $11.75; Norwood township, $25.75.

Conservation Dept. Considers Buying Land on Beavers

Addition of 3,550 acres to four state game areas will be considered by the state Conservation Commission when the group meets February 9-7 in Lansing.

The proposed purchases would be financed by the Pittman-Robertson act, the cooperative state-federal plan for wildlife restoration. Federal funds would make up 75 percent of the purchase price, while Michigan would contribute 25 percent from the state Game and Fish Protection Fund—revenue from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

The latest acquisition would increase the size of the Little Beaver Islands state game area by 3270 acres. This would involve purchase of 3,150 acres on High Island—all of the remaining privately owned land on the island except a one-half acre school site—and 120 acres on Garden Island. The islands are northwest of Charlevoix in Lake Michigan.

High Island is expected to be used for experimental game purposes. The island is large enough to conduct valid experiments that will have broad application on the mainland. Because it is an island sufficiently isolated from other land areas, introduced birds and animals are not apt to leave the island.

The Garden Island area also is expected to have value for experimental game purposes.

Other proposed game land purchases would add 219 acres to Three Rivers state Game area, St. Joseph county; and 60 acres to Middleville, state game area, Barry county.

Survey Needs for Community College

The Needs committee of the Community College Study Committee in Petoskey is conducting a sample survey in the area which may eventually be served by a Community College in Petoskey.

The names of the people who will receive questionnaires were selected at random.

All persons receiving these cards are asked to fill them out and return them at the earliest possible date to the committee. The survey is being made to determine the need for such a college.

Guild to Sponsor Spaghetti Dinner

The Little Flower Guild of St. Mary's church will sponsor a spaghetti dinner at the school hall Thursday, Feb. 13, Mrs. Edward Stark, general chairman, of the event, has announced.

Dinner will be served from 6 to 9 p. m. Mrs. Danford Gallagher will be in charge of the dinlog room.

Man Pays Price to Clear Conscience

If Diogenes were to travel the world, seeking an honest man he would find one in Northern Michigan.

County clerk Fenton R. Bulow received the following letter last week. Enclosed with it was 25 cents. The reason for the quarter is told in the letter which was addressed to the Fair board which has not been in existence for several years.

The letter follows: Jan. 29, 1958 Traverse City, Michigan. While passing through your city (Charlevoix) I will mail in this quarter. "Many years ago as a child I didn't pay my admission into the fair grounds. I want to make this right."

The letter was unsigned. However, someone in northern Michigan has a clear conscience after all these years.

Community Chest Directors Named At Annual Meeting

Three new members were named to the Community Chest board of directors at the annual meeting held Wednesday at the elementary school.

They are Mrs. Dean Dayton, Hal M. Hill and Franklin Ochs who were elected for three year terms. They succeeded Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duerr and William Fechtman whose terms expired and who were not candidates for re-election to the board.

An organizational meeting was scheduled for Wednesday evening. At that time the nine-member board will elect officers for the year.

Other members of the board are Leonard Burns, Lawrence Feindt and Fran Martin whose terms expire Dec. 31, 1958 and Mrs. J. K. Reed, Mrs. Carl F. Kohler and Karl Schultz whose terms end Dec. 31, 1959.

Council Appoints Commissioners for Primary Election

The Charlevoix city council, at its regular meeting Monday night appointed election commissioners and inspectors for the forthcoming election and approved current bills.

A petition by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbons of Ann Arbor to re-zone Lots 1 and 2 of the Lindsey addition from Residential 2 to Commercial 2 was tabled until the Feb. 20 council meeting. The lots are located on Petoskey ave., at Oak St.

Norman D. Anee, J. L. Feindt and Hugh Mayne, all qualified electors of the city of Charlevoix, were appointed commissioners for the primary election scheduled for Feb. 17.

Marjorie Webster, Grace Genett, Henrietta Gill, Bernice Pearl, June Heise, Anna Scott, Edna Miller, Audrey Herrington, Clarence P. Heise and Vivian Trimble all qualified electors of the city, were named as inspectors for the Feb. 17 primary election.

Bills totaling $15,525.57 were approved and ordered paid.

Plans for repairs on slips and docks were discussed but no action taken.

Harry Gebeau, mayor pro-tem, presided in the absence of Mayor Miller.

Former Resident Dies Suddenly At Royal Oak

Lewis Hyeck, 55, a former local resident died unexpectedly at his home in Royal Oak, Jan. 22.

Funeral services were held in Detroit, Jan. 24 with burial in a Detroit cemetery.

A native of Charlevoix, Mr. Hyeck had resided in southern Michigan for many years.

He is survived by his wife, Viola; three sons; three daughters; four grandchildren and three brothers, Albert and Henry of Detroit and John of Charlevoix.

Two High School Bands To Enter Music Festival

The two Charlevoix high school bands, both directed by C. A. Odmark, will participate in the annual District Qualifying Festival in Petoskey Saturday, Feb. 15, it was announced this week.

This festival is sponsored by District II of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and is the preliminary festival to the state festivals which will be held in Ann Arbor and Lansing in April. Bands must first receive a first division rating in district competition to qualify for state festival participation.

Charlevoix's 53-piece Senior band will be seeking its eleventh first division rating in 12 years of district participation when the group goes to Petoskey on Feb. 15. Last year the Senior band not only won a first division in the district but went on to take a first division rating in state competition, its sixth state championship since 1950.

The Reserve band, composed of 45 eighth and ninth grade students, will participate to gain much needed experience. Last year this group earned a second division rating which means a very good performance with minor deficiencies which eliminated it from the first division group.

Because of increased participation in District II, it has become necessary to hold two qualifying festivals. The bands in the northern area will participate in Petoskey Feb. 15 and those from the southern area at Traverse City a week later.

A Solo-Ensemble festival will be held at each site in conjunction with the band and orchestra comprised of 1,100 young high school musicians and 55 ensembles and 80 soloists totaling 274 students will participate in festivals at Petoskey and Traverse City.

Bands and orchestras from as far north as Sault Ste. Marie and Newberry and as far south as Grayling, Northport and Leland will participate.

Judges for the Petoskey festival will be Dr. William D. Revelli, director of bands, University of Michigan; George Cavender, assistant director of bands, University of Michigan; Harry Begian, director of the Cass Technical high school band in Detroit and Irvin VanSluys and Richard Correll, both of the Lansing Conservatory of Music. Mr. VanSluys and Mr. Correll also are former high school band directors and officers of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

A complete schedule of events at Petoskey will be announced next week. These events are open to the public at no charge. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Boysen City Five Swamps Gaylord

The Boysen City Ramblers dumped Petoskey 79 to 58 and Gaylord edged Cheboygan 60 to 56 in non-league games played Tuesday night.

Sparked by the return of 6 ft. 5 in. Steve Williams to the line-up, the Ramblers forged into an 18 to 13 first period lead which they increased to 41 to 22 at halftime and 61 to 32 going into the final period. Carl Charon paced the game with 22 points. Dwayne Savinar had 20 for Petoskey. Williams is returning to the court after recovering from a football injury which had sidelined him until this week.

At Cheboygan Gaylord trailed the Chiefs 14 to 11 at the first quarter mark before going ahead 30 to 29 at halftime. The score was tied 44-all as the game went into the final period. Cheboygan held a slim lead until the last 90 seconds when a bucket and two gift shots by Keith Riddle gave the Blue Devils their second win of the season over Cheboygan. Riddle had 19 points for the victors. George Earhart had 13 for the Chiefs.

Etha Nagler Circle To Give Luncheon

The Etha Nagler circle of the Methodist church will sponsor a Valentine luncheon at the church parlor at 1 p. m. Tuesday, according to Mrs. Lyla Arvill, circle chairman.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

We're going to have six weeks more of winter here. How do we know? The little groundhog saw his shadow Sunday and, according to somebody or something, that will mean just six weeks more of winter. But that, to our way of thinking, doesn't mean a thing here. We have winter 'til the first of April, shadow or no shadow.

And winter has finally come to Charlevoix. We've had the coldest weather for some time but as of last Thursday we also have the snow. All the skiers are happy for there's snow at Mt. McSaubu for the first time since the first of the year and the skiing is wonderful. King Saunders, who manages the run told us that there was a perfect base and all that was needed was some new snow. We sure got that in a big way. Now if it will just stay everyone will be happy, especially those small fry who received ski clothes and equipment for Christmas.

Been to see the Charlevoix basketball team play recently? The fans sure got their money's worth last Tuesday for the Reserves came up with a whale of a game which they finally won by one point margin and then the Rayders lost a close one after coming from way behind to tie the score and then go ahead briefly. Wouldn't want to sit through too many games like those two. There's two big ones coming up this week too. Pellston here Friday and Boyne City here on Tuesday. Wouldn't be one bit surprised to have the Rayders add two wins to the list.

Minutes of School Board Meeting February 3, 1958

Present: Lieberman, Smith, Martin, Bennett, Supt. Absent: Hawley, Boss.

The meeting was called to order at 8:20 p. m.

Minutes of January 20 were read and approved as corrected.

Moved by Smith and supported by Lieberman that bills in the amount of $2,078.06 be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 3-0.

Discussed at some length was the plan for permitting skiing to become a recognized high school sport. Further study was recommended as to the eligibility regulations and other details of administration.

It was recognized that the driver training program needed some definite decisions in addition to the recommendation in the Law, for eligibility to the program itself. It was thought that the age of participants needs to be defined more clearly.

The Community Survey: The Citizens Conference on Education in Lansing; and the current State Aid Bill in the Legislature, were discussed.

The meeting adjourned at 10 p. m.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

"Board of commerce results will be a difficult matter to collect the fees but it is worth trying."

At last it has come to the attention of our City government as to how the Board of Commerce has been spending the large amount of taxpayers money which has been allocated to the Board. Last year the amount was a little over $5,500.00. The Mayor and Council should keep in mind that City expenditures be held to a minimum in order to relieve taxpayers with small incomes.

They also expressed their opinion that the Board recommendations are not a good and workable plan. We agree. The Board of Commerce should be supported by the people receiving direct benefits from the tourist trade. A pro-rated sum should be paid for membership and in return a membership card of conspicuous size be given to be placed in windows and a list of paid up members kept by the Board for tourist information. This probably will be a difficult matter to collect the fees but it is worth trying. The public should be informed as to how the Board uses this money and if they are getting results to boost the tourist trade. The Council then would be more willing to support it financially and could allot some money collected from the City Boat Wells.

Here are the Board of Commerce proposals.

1. Bring in small industries. What about freight transportation? A meeting held at the city hall last year was well represented by manufacturers and business men from and around our city promising the Detroit-Charlevoix Greyhound bus line to do all they can in shipping by bus. What was the result of that meeting? "No Bus".

2. Plans for a new resort folder, a card project whereby everyone would be asked to mail cards to friends throughout the mid-west asking them to stop in Charlevoix enroute to see the Mackinac Bridge. (Seems very silly).

3. A meeting with other communities on U. S. 31 to see what could be done to encourage people to travel this route to the new bridge. (Remedy: Treat the tourists courteously and do not over charge them).

4. To have each merchant sponsor a float for Venetian night seems like a good idea but how many can take time to put this in effect during their busiest season?

5. Amateur show and coupon books asking for donations from the merchants. It seems to be a habit that when there is anything doing here merchants are always asked for donations.

6. A Chamber of Commerce banquet to renew interest in the project, and now hear this, a banquet for the crew of the U. S. C. G. cutter Sundew when it arrives here from Sturgeon Bay.

7. Flowers to be planted at the entrance to the city and also enlarge our airport. To us the whole set up is just a pipe dream and I do not blame the Council for not going along.

It is time that our City Council is sincere in the spending of taxpayers money and we hope that they feel the same way when the new budget is set up and passed. (Signed) John Wolf

Charlevoix Rayders Pulling Out of Mid-Season Slump

Score 52-45 Victory Over Gaylord Cagers

The Charlevoix Rayders made their way into the win column Friday by defeating Gaylord 52 to 45. The game gave the local quintet a record of four wins in nine games and moved them into fifth place.

This week the Rayders will play two home games, taking on Pellston here Friday and hosting the league leaders, Boyne City, Tuesday.

The Rayders dumped the Hornets 55 to 41 in their first meeting but since then the Pellston outfit has racked up five wins and is in fourth place in loop trouncing Grayling, a team that had dumped the Rayders by a 10-point margin so the meeting between the Hornets and the Rayders should be a good one. If Charlevoix plays the brand of ball they've shown in their last two games they should move into a tie for fourth place with the Hornets.

On the basis of records, the Rayders don't have a chance against the league-leading Ramblers next Tuesday, but meetings between these two teams have consistently been close ones. This one can be counted on to follow the same pattern. The Rayders might pull an upset but even if they don't the Ramblers will know they've had a game when they meet the Rayders on the latter's floor.

In the game at Gaylord Coach Don Carey started Ron Vandenberg, Joe Beaudoin, John Bingham, Bob Mol and Bill Poquette. Only other player to see action was Steve LaBlance.

Gaylord scored four field goals and five gift shots to take a 13 to 11 first quarter lead over the Rayders. Bingham had two field goals, Vandenberg three free throws and Beaudoin and Mol one field goal each to account for Charlevoix's points.

In the second quarter, however, Charlevoix outscored Gay-

John Bingham (14) sets himself up as a barrier against three Gaylord players so Joe Beaudoin (10) can get off a basket in the Charlevoix-Gaylord game Friday which the Rayders won 52 to 45.

Rayder Reserves Win Tenth Victory at Gaylord 41-34

Charlevoix's little Rayders stayed on the victory trail for the tenth time this season as they wrapped up win No. 10 including one over Petoskey by defeating the Gaylord Reserves 41 to 34.

Gaylord got back into the game in the third period scoring 10 points but this was not enough as the Rayders went into a 33 to 30 third quarter advantage. Vandenberg and Bingham had two field goals each, Poquette three points and Beaudoin two. Gaylord dumped in five field goals for one free throw.

The Blue Devils outscored Charlevoix 15 to 14 in the final period as they dumped in seven field goals and one free throw. Their efforts were in vain, however, as Beaudoin added seven points, Vandenberg and Bingham three each and Mol one free throw for the victory.

Beaudoin paced the scoring with 19 points followed by Vandenberg with 12, Bingham with 11 and Mol and Poquette with five each.

Darwin Mason had 15, Larry Jenkins 12, Keith Riddle 10 and John Burnison eight for Gaylord. Jon Strolle, Ernie Wolf and Dick Larrabee also played.

Ramblers to Defend Title at Harbor Springs Friday Night

This will be another busy week in the Northern Michigan Class C League as all eight teams meet loop obligations on both Friday and Tuesday.

On Friday Harbor Springs will host Boyne City, Mancelona will travel to Grayling, Gaylord will invade East Jordan and Charlevoix will entertain Pellston.

Grayling will play at Gaylord, Pellston will host Harbor Springs, East Jordan will journey to Mancelona and Charlevoix will entertain Boyne City on Tuesday.

The big game Friday will be the meeting between Harbor Springs and Boyne City on the Ram's floor. The league leaders, Ramblers, will find themselves defending their loop lead when they travel to Harbor Springs for the Rams, who were edged by one point in their first meeting with Boyne City will be out to avenge the loss. On the Harbor Springs floor this will not be an easy task.

The Rams are in second place with seven wins in nine games. They lost to Gaylord and to Boyne City and rolled over the one team to upset Boyne City, the Pellston Hornets, by a score of 51 to 30. The Rams only last week dumped Mancelona 54 to 41. Earlier Boyne City won over the Ironmen by a three-point 44 to 41 margin.

The Ramblers have posted a 43 to 42 win over Gaylord, the only other team to defeat Harbor Springs.

The Rams have their sights on league title and will be tough opponents, especially on their home floor. It wouldn't be surprising if Harbor Springs moved into first place with the Ramblers this week.

Mancelona will invade Grayling this week and will find the Vikings a much tougher opponent than when they met in December. The Grayling quintet may not win but they will give the visit-

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

Action in the Northern Michigan Class C League Friday night saw Harbor Springs dump Mancelona 54 to 41, Pellston edged Grayling 46 to 44, Boyne City trounced East Jordan 57 to 32 and Charlevoix defeated Gaylord 52 to 45.

Harbor Springs assumed sole possession of second place, Mancelona dropped to third, Pellston advanced to fourth and Charlevoix to fifth place, Gaylord and Grayling dropped to sixth and East Jordan remained in the loop cellar following Friday's games.

Harbor Springs 54: Mancelona 41. With Richie Clarke scoring 19 and Pete Graham 14 points, Harbor Springs forged into an early lead which they never relinquished as they led the Ironmen 15 to 10 at the quarter, 29 to 17 at the half and 40 to 31 at the three-quarter mark. Ron Johnson with 14 points paced the game for Mancelona.

Pellston 46: Grayling 44. After a saw-saw battle in which the lead changed many times in the second and third quarters, Pellston jumped into a three-point lead going into the final period and stayed ahead for the next eight minutes of play for the victory.

Pellston went ahead 12 to seven in the game with Grayling before the Vikings found their stride and started exchanging buckets with the Hornets who managed at 22 to 20 half-time lead.

In the third period the Vikings tried to take over but the determined Hornets snapped back for a three-point advantage 37 to 34, at the three-quarter mark. Grayling outscored Pellston 10 to nine in the final period to cut the Hornets lead to two points as the game ended. Ray Durkalec had 14 and Barry Anderson 11 points for the victors. Frank Gross with 12 and Roger Hatfield with 10 paced the game for Grayling.

Boyne City 57: East Jordan 32. George Shote's and Carl Charon with 15 points each paced the game as the Boyne City Ramblers forged into a 13 to five first period lead over East Jordan, increased it to 22 to 16 at halftime and 48 to 22 going into the final period. Gary Chahak had 14 and Larry Hayden eight for East Jordan.

ors a run for their money.

Gaylord, tied with Grayling, for fifth place with three wins for the season, will take on the last place East Jordan Red Devils, who occupy the loop cellar with no wins in nine games. Unless Gaylord snaps out of its lethargy, the Jordanites may upset them.

An old rivalry will be renewed when Grayling plays at Gaylord on Tuesday. The teams are presently tied for fifth place. If Friday's games do not change this, the meeting between the two teams on Tuesday will. Unless Gaylord starts playing better ball, Grayling might dump them.

Harbor Springs will invade Pellston after a tough game with Boyne City Friday. If the Rams should let down the up and coming Hornet squad could upset them just as they did in December. This, however, is hardly a probability and the Rams should stay on the victory trail.

East Jordan almost upset Mancelona in their first meeting. Tuesday's game could be a close one but Mancelona should come up with a win.

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

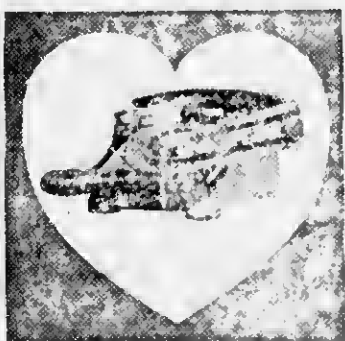

DRIVING CAN BE pretty tricky this time of the year. So Telephone Company drivers get special training for winter. Among other things they make a special effort to:

- Keep windshields clean.
- Watch for unexpected icy spots where roads are shaded by trees or buildings.
- Keep plenty of stopping space between their car and the car ahead.

When a telephone man waves good-bye to his family in the morning and says "See you tonight," we want to do everything we can to make his words come true.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Don't know if they froze to death or not but until the big blizzard blew up over the weekend, the pussy-willows were in full bloom or at least they were in the process of blooming. It was a beautiful sight to see them in bloom. But when the blizzard came, it was a different story. The pussy-willows were frozen solid. It was a beautiful sight to see them in bloom. But when the blizzard came, it was a different story. The pussy-willows were frozen solid.

Will you be our Valentine? ... Cause we love you all very much ... You've all been so kind to us in so many ways through the many years we've been writing this column ... Why, last week when we only had a few Odds 'n Ends we even had some calls asking "How come?" ... We appreciate your interest and what better way to tell you about it than to ask "Will you be our Valentine?"

Remember the good ole county fairs ... when you come home loaded with monkeys on strings, kewpie dolls and what have you ... Those days will be re-enacted shortly when the PTA sponsored fair is presented at the gym and elementary school ... It's to be Saturday, Feb. 22 ... and it sounds like great fun ... Surely you've heard about it because the eighth graders have been selling tickets like mad ... So circle that date on your calendar 'cause it's going to be a red letter day for everyone.

Sputnik ... late-nik ... call it what you will but didn't you kind a give a sigh of relief when our little old satellite took off and went into its orbit ... Those of us who live in this area won't get to see it but that's not important

Uniform Assessment Method Studied

Charlevoix county assessors and other officials pause briefly during a tax assessment study conference at Boyne Mountain last week to have their picture taken before the massive snow and ice sculpture of a St. Bernard made by Perker Seltzer of East Jordan.

Back row: (l to r) Russell Curtis of Marion township, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; William Jenkins of Hudson township; Don Kondziola of Melrose township; T. R. Miller of Charlevoix; William Sanderson of Eveline township; John Lynch of the State Tax Commission who with Mr. White conducted the conference; Lawrence Feindt, Charlevoix city assessor. Also at the meeting but absent when the picture was taken were Lee Sneathen Jr. of Hayes township and Charles Robinson of Bay township.

According to Mr. Miller, chairman of the equalization committee of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors who reported on the meeting under the file-card system each piece of property is listed on a card. Included in the information, also listed on the card, is the size and shape of the land, a description of the buildings, including their type, construction, age, condition, heating and plumbing facilities and other pertinent information.

Using the formula method of the Michigan State Tax Manual, the buildings are then classified and square-foot building costs applied and the whole translated into the true cash value and related to average market value. The State Tax Commission is now using in its tax appraisals, 50 per cent of this true cash value for the assessed valuation figure. However, the general trend of the counties, including Charlevoix county, is to use 40 per cent of the true cash value. In these days of high taxes people are concerned more than ever with the raising and spending of tax monies, Mr. Miller said. He went on to say that it must be remembered, however, that assessments and the tax assessors only provide the wagon that carry the load. The load of taxes is placed there by the boards and commissions and city councils who are being constantly bombarded by demands for more services and expanded social welfare. The main concern about assessments is whether or not one is fairly assessed in relation to other property-holders and whether each township or city is carrying its fair share of the total assessment of the county, Mr. Miller explained. This latter is the concern of the equalization committee of the Board of Supervisors which is currently composed of William Sanderson of Eveline township, Robert Barnett of East each week they meet. Just in the event they might be needed some time. We think they're a pretty fine group and we'd like you to meet them all some time. You'll read about them this week. We suggested an open house at their present headquarters and were told they might do just that when they get the place in shape. When they do we'll tell you about it so you can drop in and meet them.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

What Is Success?

The LaBrea Tar Swamp within city limits of Los Angeles, California, contains great deposits of pitch that have yielded up the bones of many species of prehistoric animals. Scientists explain that thousands of years ago, wild animals from the surrounding hills and mountains came to this place, perhaps for water, and became trapped in the sticky tar. As they sank slowly to their deaths, the pitch sealed their bodies on the air, beautifully preserving their skeletons from the ravages of time. From these pits, skeletons of sabre-tooth tigers, gigantic teratodonts, giant ground sloths, huge mastodons and dozens of other prehistoric creatures have been taken and exhibited at museums throughout the country.

Many of these huge creatures were predators of unimaginable strength. Their battles with each other and attacks upon smaller creatures must have shaken the earth, and the sight of them must have paralyzed the weaker animals of the forests and swamps with terror. If prehistoric man had any thought at all to the after, he must have concluded that these monstrous creatures could live forever. Certainly at last they would conquer the earth. But now they are gone. Only their skeletons remain as mute witnesses to their prehistoric existence.

But lying mingled with the massive bones of these ancient animals, searchers have found the bones of lowly rabbits—rabbits of those that scamper through winter-laden woods and visit lush gardens in summer, these meek denizens of primitive swamps seem like nature's servile failures when compared to their primordial neighbors, the house-size mammals and lizards. But the obvious successes, the mountains of flesh and the names of muscular power rushed. Their age and race faded away, and the obvious failures, the humble, mild rabbits, with us still.

The appearances of success and failure are deceptive. We cannot see our eyes and minds. To my mind the successful person is one who can do as he pleases, having money enough and influence enough to bend people to do his will, living above or below morality and largely apart from mercy and love. The successful person is one who dominates—situations and people. But nothing RESEMBLES such success, as the disappearance of the dinosaurs, which dominated a geological age, abundantly witnessed.

Elly Rose once told in his newspaper column of a meeting held in 1923 in the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. Seven of the most powerful and influential financial leaders in the world attended the gathering. It was said that those seven men controlled more wealth than was in the entire United States Treasury. They were Arthur Cutten, greatest wheat speculator in the world; Richard Whitney, president of the New York Wheat Exchange; Albert Fall, member of the President's Cabinet; Jesse Livermore, the leading "bear" on Wall Street; Ivar Krueger, chief of the world's greatest monopoly; Charles Schwab, president of the world's largest independent steel company; and Leon Fraser, who was president of the Bank of International Settlement. What an assemblage of eminent successes! But by 1948 this is what happened to them. Cutten died abroad, insolvent. Schwab died penniless, having lived the last five years of his life on borrowed money. Livermore, Krueger and Fraser committed suicide. Whitney spent time in Sing Sing Prison, and Fall was released from prison, ill, so that he could die at home. Nothing shrinks like material power, and nothing recedes like worldly success.

But if lasting success is not found in dominance, in accumulation of power as represented by wealth and fame, how can it be achieved? Those whose achievements have lasted and whom history has finally called "great" are not the predators and the accumulators, but the self-giving. Florence Nightingale who gave herself to nursing, Lincoln who gave himself for the Union and for freedom of the slaves, Beethoven who gave the world a great or music, Shakespeare who gave us a grander literature, and Jesus

Rayders Bow to Ramblers, 46-31, Tuesday Night

The Charlevoix Rayders bowed to the Boyne City Ramblers for the second time this season when they lost to visitors 46 to 31 Tuesday night. The win by the Ramblers virtually gave them their third straight title.

This week the Charlevoix five will host Grayling here Friday and Petoskey on Tuesday. The Rayders lost to the Vikings 42 to 32 in their first meeting but things may be different when the two teams meet this week. Charlevoix will be defending the fourth place in loop standings they now share with Gaylord and Pellston when they take on the Vikings who are in fifth place. It will be a close game but the Rayders should win.

The Rayders will be out to avenge an earlier loss to Petoskey when they entertain the Northerners here Tuesday in a traditional battle. The Rayders should take this one too.

In their meeting with the Ramblers Tuesday, the Rayders managed to stay in the game for the first half before a bad third period in which they scored only three points put them so far behind they were unable to offer a real threat to the champions.

Carl Charon led the way for the victors scoring 23 points in all as Boyne City took an 11 to seven first quarter lead. John Bingham had two field goals and Ron Vandenberg three points for Charlevoix.

In the second period the Rayders outscored Boyne City 12 to 11 to cut the visitors lead to three points as Bingham added four points and Vandenberg, Joe Beaudoin, Bob Miel and Steve Lablancie field goal each.

Vandenberg scored Charlevoix's only field goal in the third period as the Rayders scored 11 to 7.

The Rayders scored four points in the fourth quarter and lost the game 46 to 31. Bingham scored four points and Vandenberg three points for Charlevoix.

Boyne City outscored Charlevoix in both the field goal and free throw department, making 18 field goals to 12 for the Rayders and 10 of 16 free throw attempts while Charlevoix hit on only seven of 20 attempts.

Bingham led the Rayder scoring attack with 12 points followed by Vandenberg with nine.

Others in line-up were Bill Poquette who started and Ron Scott Supernaw and Bud Balch.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula is experiencing a major revival brought about by building of the Mackinac Straits bridge which links the vast area with the Lower Peninsula for the first time. According to figures furnished to the Michigan Economic Development Department a $200,000,000 building boom is taking place in the Upper Peninsula.

Wintry Blasts Improve Skiing On McSaubia Slope

Skiing is excellent at the Mt. McSaubia ski slopes according to King Saunders, who manages the project.

He added that the slopes are presently in better shape than they have ever been before. The Blizzard early this week added fresh snow to slopes which have excellent bases. The near zero temperatures prevailing in the area are expected to keep the slopes in good shape for some time.

Facilities at the park will be open tonight (Thursday) from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Over the weekend the hours will be from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, 1 to 5 p. m. and 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. Saturday and from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

The slopes will also be open from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. Sunday evening but season tickets will not be honored at that time.

310th Ordnance Co. Called for Training

Areas of training include warehouses, offices, maintenance shops, mess hall and orderly room. One night will be spent in bivouac on the reservation at which time the company will set up defenses against a make-believe enemy. The remainder of the training will be spent in conducting drills, inspections and in the performance of routine military duties.

Since Fort Riley is a large permanent post, a large variety of off-duty activities is available for everyone. Short trips to local points of interest will be made available and is expected to include a hunting trip to Presque Isle, a trip to the Lake Superior State University and a trip to the University of Michigan.

The 310th Ordnance Company (Field Support) was re-activated in Detroit after World War II and moved to northern Michigan in 1950 with headquarters in Boyne City. Two years later it was brought to Charlevoix and presently is housed at 106 Antrim St.

Officers of the 310th are: Captain Burkholder and Lt. Donald M. Gilbert of Charlevoix; Lt. Herbert H. Bechtold and Lt. Don R. Hill of Bellaire and Warrant Officer Byron D. Stockwell of Charlevoix. SFC William P. Riede is assigned to the unit by the U.S. Army as NCO advisor.

The personnel of the 310th is comprised of men from Indian River in Cheboygan county; Alanson, Oden, Harbor Springs and Petoskey in Emmet county; Boyne Falls, East Jordan, Boyne City, Ironton and Charlevoix in Charlevoix county and Ellsworth, Bellaire, Elmira and Mancelona in Antrim county.

Acreage Reserve Program for 1958 Is Established

The acreage reserve program for 1958 marks the first time that the establishment of a Soil Bank base for a farm has been required, Carlton H. Smith, chairman of Charlevoix county ASC committee, points out. In explaining the effect of this new requirement, which in effect limits the farm's total harvested acreage, the chairman noted that the establishment of a soil bank base has been required under the soil bank's conservation reserve since the program started.

A farm's soil bank base for the 1958 acreage reserve, which is established by the ASC committee, is based on the average amount of land on the farm from which soil bank base crops were harvested in the 2 years 1956 and 1957. Soil bank base crops are, roughly all crops harvested on the farm except hay.

Under the 1958 Acreage Reserve, farmers agree to limit their bank base less the amount of the farm's land in the acreage reserve and the conservation reserve. Thus, an overall limitation is set on the total crop acreage of farms signed under the 1958 program.

Organize Committees To Conduct Survey of Educational System

A School Plant Study to be conducted under the direction of the Michigan State University Department of Administrative and Educational Services was launched at a meeting of the Charlevoix P. T. A. held Wednesday evening in the high school band room. More than 130 interested persons attended the important meeting at which Mrs. Isaac Terr presided.

Dr. Stanley Hecker of the Michigan State University staff was present to assist in organizing the various committees who will

Development Corp. Elects Directors At Annual Meeting

Four directors were elected to succeed themselves at the annual stockholders meeting of the Charlevoix Development Corp., held Monday evening at the city hall. Re-elected for a term of three years were Frank Novotny, Joseph R. Williams, Harold M. Totten and Archie Livingston. S. E. Coleman, vice president, presided.

Directors met following the stockholder meeting and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Ralph V. Hess; vice-president, S. E. Coleman; secretary, Joseph R. Williams; treasurer, Archie Livingston.

Reading of the financial statement was omitted at the meeting of stockholders because of the absence of the treasurer. The secretary referred to the statement of last year and said he was satisfied payment had been made as agreed by American Mold Engineering Co., which would add $1,500 plus interest to the statement of a year ago less a small operating cost of the corporation.

This was questioned by Joe Foster who said he understood the mortgage had been paid in full and suggested the stock be redeemed at once and the corporation liquidated. In order to clear this matter the Courier agreed to obtain if possible and publish the financial statement as prepared by the treasurer, Archie Livingston.

The secretary's financial statement as of Jan. 28, 1953 shows the corporation had received three payments, of $1,500 plus interest, leaving a balance due on the mortgage of $10,500. A fourth payment, made in February, will appear on the financial statement for the current year.

Members of each of these committees were named at each of the five group meetings: school finance, Gordon L. Freedman; school plant, Rev. George L. Majors; school enrollments, Mrs. Robert Gill; educational program, Mrs. Freedman and community, Robert Neff.

Members of each of these committees were scheduled to meet last night (Wednesday) with experts in School Plant Surveys from the Department of Administrative and Educational Services from Michigan State. These experts were to brief each committee on its duties and explain and distribute materials to be used in the survey.

After collecting the information needed for the survey, all findings will be evaluated by the group from Michigan State who will then make recommendations.

What is a school plant survey or study? Dr. Hecker describes it as a thoughtful undertaking which enables people to plan for a small part of its over-all community educational needs. Three basic questions are involved: What kind of educational programs and facilities does Charlevoix have now; what kind of educational programs and facilities does the community want and what is needed to achieve the desired educational program and facilities.

Among the questions the committees will have to answer are these: What is happening in our community; what will our school enrollments be; how adequate is our school plant; what can we afford and what are our needs.

Anyone wishing to become a member of any of these committees may do so by contacting committee chairmen and asking about the time and place of the next meetings.

At the brief business meeting which preceded the discussion of the proposed survey, Mrs. Terr named a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Ivan Phillips, Mrs. Robert Richards, Mrs. Don Gilbert, Glenn Snider and Mrs. Paul Burkhardt. They will present a slate of officers at the March meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Majors gave the invocation. Mrs. H. E. Paddock read the minutes of the preceding meeting and Mrs. James Hiller presented the treasurer's report. Mrs. Lloyd Arnold of the membership committee reported that the association now has 288 members.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by seventh grade room mothers.

Northmen Take Second Match From Rayders

The Charlevoix Rayders dropped their second game of the season to the Petoskey Northmen Tuesday night by a score of 54 to 43.

In the meeting, the Rayders romped into a 14 to 12 first quarter lead which they lost at halftime as the Northmen took over 25 to 23. In the third period the visitors outscored the local quintet 11 to four for a 36 to 27 advantage going into the last period. Charlevoix got back into the game in the final period but the third quarter deficit was too great as the Northmen won by 11 points.

Denny Hitchmough paced the scoring with 18 points followed by Harry Carls with 17 and Dick Smith with 13 for Petoskey.

Bob Mol had 15 and Ron Vandenberg 14 for the Rayders.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McDowell were among the passengers aboard the luxury liner Malsonia sailing for Hawaii from Los Angeles harbor Wednesday, according to a release by the Matson Navigation Co.

Dr. Stanley Hecker (left) of the Department of Administrative and Educational Services at Michigan State University outlines the objectives of a School Plant Survey for committee chairmen under whom the study will be conducted. Chairmen are seated (l to r) Robert Neff, Community; Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman, Educational program; Mrs. Robert Gill, School Enrollment. Standing (l to r) Mr. Freedman, School Finance; Rev. George L. School Band Scores High In Festival

Charlevoix's entries in the District II qualifying festival at Petoskey Saturday, the Charlevoix high school senior band of 58 pieces and the reserve band of 45 pieces were awarded first division ratings in the event sponsored by District II of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra association.

The bands, both directed by C. A. Odmak, received two of the four top ratings given in the festival. Other bands to receive the coveted rating were Petoskey in Class B and Sault Ste. Marie in Class A.

The first division rating will enable the Senior band to participate in the State Festival in Ann Arbor April 12.

Both the Senior and Reserve Groups received straight I ratings from all judges, Dr. William D. Bevelly and George Cavender of the University of Michigan, Harry Bergian of the Detroit public schools and Irvin VanSluyters and Richard Correll of the Lansing Conservatory of Music. Comments of the judges, while critical of technical aspects, were unanimous in their praise of the performances.

Other bands participating in the festival were Alanson and Ellsworth in Class D, Harbor Springs in Class C and Newberry in Class B which received II ratings. Mackinac City in Class D, Onaway in Class C and Rogers City in Class B which were given III ratings.

Charlevoix's only entry in the Solo-Ensemble division of the festival, Robert Odmak, a seventh grade student, received a II rating for his oboe solo. He was accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns.

Approximately 700 young high school musicians participated in the festival at Petoskey, the first of two to be held in the district. The second festival will be held at Traverse City Saturday.

Mrs. Isaac Terr's Father Succumbs

Thomas Rosen, 68, of Petoskey, father of Mrs. Isaac Terr, died unexpectedly at Miami Beach, Fla., Thursday.

Funeral services were held at Olean, N. Y. Sunday. Burial was also there.

Mr. Rosen was in the steel industrial wrecking business for many years and in recent years was associated with his son Joseph, in Antrim Steel Products and Emmet Metal Products. He had lived in Petoskey since 1947.

Besides Mrs. Terr of this city and Joseph of Petoskey, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Horace Michelson of New York City, eight grandchildren, two brothers and two sisters.

Churches to Join In World Day of Prayer Services

"Bread of Life" will be the theme of the annual World Day of Prayer to be held at the Assembly of God church at 2 p. m. Friday.

Women from Charlevoix's Protestant churches will join together in presenting this impressive service on the first Friday in Lent. Special music for the event will include "The Light on the Cross" with Mrs. Herbert Hamlin at the organ. There will also be special hymns in keeping with the theme of the service.

Mrs. John Ryder is general chairman of arrangements. Everyone is invited to attend this service at the Assembly of God church at 2 p. m. tomorrow (Friday).

Reserves Edge Petoskey Cagers By 31 to 30 Score

Charlevoix's little Rayders racked up another win Tuesday night as they romped over the visiting Petoskey Reserves 31 to 20.

Petoskey took a slim seven to six quarter lead before the Rayders took over 13 to 11 at the half and 19 to 13 at the three quarter mark.

Jim Ladd and Dick VanRaap-horst shared scoring honors for the victors, scoring seven points apiece. Bob Woodruff had six for Petoskey.

Polar Bears Lose Game to St. Ignace

In a benefit game played at the high school gym Saturday night, the Charlevoix Polar Bears lost to the St. Ignace Independents 94 to 76. In the preliminary game the local quintet dumped the Coast Guard 37 to 27.

In the feature game St. Ignace forged into a 22 to 18 first quarter lead. The Bears came back to knot the score 44-all at halftime before the visitors pulled away for a 71 to 59 third quarter advantage. J. Sorenson had 32 points for St. Ignace. Dwain Walker had 18 for Charlevoix.

In the preliminary game, the Polar Bears trailed the U. S. Coast Guard six to five at the quarter before going into a 12 to 10 halftime lead before taking over 27 to 19 going into the final period. Walker and Guy Swanson shared scoring honors for Charlevoix with seven points each. Dick Harju had 15 for the service team.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Simpson and family have returned from a weekend visit in Port Huron.

Candidates Tied For Nomination In Second Ward

The only contest in the primary election here Monday, the race for the nomination for second ward alderman, ended in a tie when both candidates polled a total of 63 votes.

Incumbent Ray L. Kipke was opposed by Richard Donaldson for the post.

A total of 129 votes were cast for the office. Of this number three were spoiled; i. e., the voter had voted for both candidates on one, the voter had failed to vote for either candidate on another and on a third a check mark was placed in the box instead of the necessary 'x'.

City Attorney Norman D. Anee said that the contest will be determined by lot if the tie still exists following the official canvass of the votes by the City Council Thursday night.

Both candidates were consulted Wednesday on the possibility of a slip campaign for the office if he lost the race. Mr. Donaldson said he had decided not to run on slips in the general election. Mr. Kipke was non-committal, saying he had not given the matter any thought.

Other candidates, all incumbents, won the nomination without opposition in the election which brought out only 30 voters in the first ward, 129 in the second ward out of a possible 725 and 31 in the third ward.

In commenting on the small number of voters who went to the polls Monday, Mayor E. James Hiller said "The outcome of Monday's election surely indicates a great lack of interest in Charlevoix, by its citizens. The little time it takes to go to the polls to cast a vote in no way compares with the time that is spent by the men on your City Council to make Charlevoix the city you expect it to be. When a man does a good job, you should show your appreciation by taking the time to cast a vote for him."

Mayor Hiller then repeated what he has said many times before: "Voting is a privilege our sons have fought for, fought to secure and maintain. We dare not take it lightly or fail to exercise our opportunity to vote, a privilege so many people in the world do not enjoy. To be citizens of this great country is a priceless heritage. It carries responsibilities, keeping ourselves informed, voting in elections and, indeed, serving in public office as the need may indicate. Truly, the government belongs to those who take an interest in it."

Incumbents whose names will appear on the ballot in April and the number of votes each polled follow: Mayor, E. James Hiller, 166 including 30 in the first ward, 106 in the second and 30 in the third; Clerk, Hugh Mayne, 170 or 23, 110 and 31 by wards; treasurer, Nolie A. Hammond, 169 or 30, 108, and 31 by wards.

Drew Young received one vote for mayor in the first ward.

Incumbents, Lee Moerland, alderman, and Ivan Phillips, supervisor, polled 28 votes each for their respective offices in the first ward. Gordon L. Freedman received one vote for the office of supervisor.

In the second ward T. R. Miller, incumbent supervisor, received 104 votes.

Incumbent alderman, Harry Gebeau and incumbent supervisor Jesse Smith, each received 31 votes for their respective offices in the third ward. John Wolf received one vote for the office of supervisor.

Write-in votes for justice of the peace were as follows: incumbent John Connolly, 16 votes; H. E. Paddock, 13; Clarence P. Heise, 19; Leonard Burns, Sonny Belfy, Ray Ashdon, Gordon L. Freedman, Grover Geneit and Mrs. Carson, one each.

For constable: first ward: Charles Bieha, H. E. Paddock, J. M. Foster, and Joseph F. Howard, one each; second ward, Shelby Goss, 2; H. E. Paddock, T. R. Miller, Don Meggison, Clarence Coblenz, Emerald Chew, Richard Donaldson and Clarence P. Heise, one each.

Third ward: R. D. Miller, 4; Wesley Wells and Henry Supernaw, one each.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teter of Kinsdale, Ill., spent the weekend at their cottage on Lake Charlevoix.

Local Dealers Attend Chicago Boating Show

Advance styling and design in outdoor motors and boats has captured the fancy of the nation's growing boat-minded public, according to Steve Rabb local representative of the Evinrude Co., following his return from the National Boat show in Chicago last week.

While in Chicago Mr. Rabb joined more than 600 other Evinrude dealers for dealer clinic on sales, service and promotion.

Mr. Rabb now has the franchise for the popular Glasspar, Dumphy and Starcraft outboards, runabouts and cruisers.

While in Chicago Mr. and Mrs. Rabb had the misfortune to have their car broken into and a suitcase containing much of their clothing stolen.

James Bellinger of Bellinger Marine Service local Johnson outboard dealer was also in Chicago for the show. He met trouble too. Near Holland his car was sandwiched in a nine car pile up. He escaped without injury but had to resort to other transportation to make the show. Mr. Bellinger had a load of Charlevoix advertising material for distribution at the show. He managed to take some of it on with him but the remainder will be returned for future use when his car is repaired.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

How many times have you heard people say "Winter? Why, people today don't know what winter is! I can remember when I was young it wasn't anything to have temperatures below zero for days on end . . . and snow! . . . Let us clue you, chums . . . that weather way back when hasn't anything on what we've been having these last few days . . . One day last week it was down to 20 degrees below in spots . . . and we mean zero . . . And today on Sunday the temperature hovered right at zero all day long . . . blown about by a brisk breeze right off the Arctic ice cap . . . It's weather when the snow squeaks underfoot, the telephone wires sing, your nose and cheeks get nipped with frost and you wonder if spring will ever come . . . But it's wonderful, too . . . 'cause everyone stays close to the fire and does many of the things they never find time to do otherwise . . . You even see people walking . . . not but of choice, we'll grant you but walking because the car won't start . . . and enjoying every bit of it.

The skating and skiing have been wonderful . . . There's ice in Lake Michigan as far as one can see and it's getting thicker by the minute . . . If the weather held we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see the lake freeze over between here and the Beavers . . . Don't laugh . . . it has happened, you know . . . although the last time was probably more than 25 years ago.

But with snow in New Orleans and weather so cold some of the Mardi Gras festivities had to be called off . . . what can one expect . . . The answer's easy . . . what we've been having.

A great big "well done" to our . . . which each of themselves first division . . . coming down two of the four first . . . at the end of the . . . Petoskey in . . . Marie in . . . We should be very proud of these . . . two groups which number more than 100 members . . . We'd like to congratulate them and Odie Odmark, their super-duper director, who does such a terrific job with these kids.

With only two games remaining in the regular season, we'd like to wish our Rayders the best ever on the basketball court. . . . They've played some good ball recently and given the crowd their money's worth . . . while winning a few . . . Now if we can just hold on and win the next two we'll end up in the first division . . . So how's about it, fellas, think you can manage it for us . . . We're expecting you to.

Did you see the announcement about the California party . . . What is it? a picnic, a get-together and a good-old confab all wrapped up in one for all Charlevoixians wintering in the west and all former residents living there . . . or families of former residents . . . It's held in Glendale and we're told it's always a whale of a party . . . All of us back here get talked about (or it least we hope we do) and everyone reminisces about the time they lived here and the people they knew . . . And there's nothing any more fun than that . . . Hope someone sends along a couple copies of Bob Miles picture book of Charlevoix so they can ohhh-and ahh about the changes . . . Galo Hines who lives in Sherman Oaks and Charlie Emrey who now reside in Glendale do a bang-up job on this . . . If you have anyone in the west who might be interested, send along the details so they can go . . . We know they'll have a wonderful time . . . And there's more than a few people we'd love to see again, too.

From down Ruskin, Fla., way back from Mrs. Bernard Schindler and Mrs. Jack Armstrong . . . We had mentioned the fish that were being caught through the ice at Ironton . . . Mrs. B. came to tell us that they've been catching plenty of them . . . and that they're big . . . They've been catching them since the fish were first caught . . . and they have a lot of them . . . which we'd like to see . . . when we get a chance to go down there . . . We certainly hope to see you at the Fair Saturday . . . at the high school gymnasium and environs.

See you at the Fair Saturday . . . at the high school gymnasium and environs.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Sign of Promise

When snow lies soft and thick upon the ground and ice rests heavily upon the ponds and lakes, when one's steps play a tiny tinkling music upon the trail and every fence post wears a woolly cap and every shrub a tattered white gown, when mischievous, boisterous winds playfully puff little whiffs of snow down a stroller's neck and hungrily gnaw at the icing on the trees, spring seems far away and summer but a faint memory.

But break the ice off the twigs of shrubs and trees and examine them closely enough and you will find delicate buds carefully wrapped in tough, thick scales that protect their tender parts from winter's fierce bite. These buds are Nature's pointers that her plan and concept have not been abandoned, leaving all the sprouting to the North country in the spring months. Buds are summer trapped in winter, ready to unfold when the proper moment arrives.

The hidden buds remind me of the signal's flown in the days when sailing vessels plowed the high seas. Three signal flags, "B. N. C." meant "I will not abandon you!" When a ship was in distress nothing was so heartening as to see a sister ship draw alongside flying that signal. It not by a catnap, then possibly by a full night and day in bed, so if our desire for knowledge and goodness cannot be answered by this life, it can by the life to come. There is some where a satisfaction for every human craving. And our very yearning for a better and more complete life than earth affords is a sign of a more abundant life ahead.

This list of hopeful signs could be greatly lengthened, taking in countless circumstances and situations. There just are no hopeless situations. There are only hopeless people who fail to see the signs of promise. Beyond every dark night there dawns a tomorrow. On the other side of every wilderness there is a promised land. Beyond every winter there is a spring.

Pioneer Couple to Observe Fifty-Ninth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cartier, pioneer residents of this community, will observe their fifty-ninth wedding anniversary at their home at 110 Belvedere ave., Tuesday.

No formal observance of the occasion has been planned.

Both Mr. Cartier and the former Hannah Scafe were residents of Chatham, Ont., when they came to southern Michigan to be married Feb. 25, 1899, at Adrian. They returned to Chatham to make their home until June, 1901, when Mr. Cartier came to Charlevoix to be employed in a local tailor shop. Later that year he returned to Canada for Mrs. Cartier and their two sons, Harold and Claire.

The next year Mr. Cartier opened his first shop on Bridge st., where East Park is now located. During the years he watched Charlevoix grow from a lumbering town to a fishing community and later to a summer resort and the home of several small industries.

As a businessman he was interested in civic affairs and served several terms as second ward alderman, was a member of the Charlevoix hospital board of directors, of the park commission and the Charlevoix board of commerce. For many years he was a director of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association. He was a local correspondent for the Grand Rapids Press from 1922 to 1945.

In the late 1930's Mr. Cartier moved his business off Bridge st., for the first time when East Park was built. He later sold his dry-cleaning business and several years ago retired.

Though he is no longer active in business and civic affairs, he has a keen interest in all local doings and as often as possible travels the length of the business district keeping an eye on the activities.

Mrs. Cartier confined her efforts to rearing their family and to church and club work. Until recently she was an active member of the First Congregational church and its Margaret Parker circle and the Garden club. She was born in Chatham Sept. 1, 1880.

Mr. Cartier, a native of Chatham where he was born Dec. 7, 1872, is a member of St. Mary's church.

The couple has three sons, Harold of New York City and Dover, N. J., Dr. W. Claire of Grand Rapids and Stanley of Atlanta, Ga., and a daughter, Mrs. Willis A. (Betty) Cross of Grand Haven. They also have 12 grandchildren.

Noble Grand Club Elects Officers

Recently elected officers of the Past Noble Grand club assumed their duties at the February meeting of the organization held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Grace Geneit.

They are: president, Mrs. W. E. Goss; vice president, Mrs. Robert Mitchell; secretary, Mrs. Floyd Ikens and treasurer, Mrs. William Ager.

Members voted to make a contribution to the Rebekah home at Jackson in memory of Mrs. Mary Hamilton and Mrs. Henry Wagner.

Ten members gathered for the meeting and potluck supper served at a table decorated in a Valentine motif. A lighted birthday cake honoring the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Earl Blood and Mrs. George Cook, twin sisters, was a feature of the refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith Observing 58th Wedding Anniversary Today

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Smith, pioneer residents of this community, are observing their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary today (Thursday).

A family gathering at the family home at 106 Petoskey ave., Sunday afternoon will mark the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married at St. Francis Xavier church in Petoskey Feb. 20, 1900 and have always resided in this community since then.

Mr. Smith was born in Two Rivers, Wis., April 1, 1874, and as a young lad went sailing as a cabin boy. He continued to sail the Great Lakes for some time after their marriage before returning here to establish a draying business which he operated until the early 1920's. At that time he became manager of the Ayres Bools farm in Hayes township, a position he held until 1930 when he and Mrs. Smith moved to their present home.

Mrs. Smith is the former Catherine C. Haggerty. She was born in Berea, Ohio, Aug. 5, 1874, and came to Hayes township with her family at the age of nine years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are members of St. Mary's church. Joining them Sunday for the observance of the anniversary will be their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Petoskey, their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Fitch Tooley of Boyne City, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mayne, Mr. and Mrs. H. Reserves Beat Grayling 48-21 For Twelfth Straight Victory

Charlevoix' little Rayders racked up their twelfth win of the season in a league play Friday night when they routed over the visiting Grayling Vikings 48 to 21.

The game tempo was slow in the first quarter but Charlevoix never let Grayling get a foothold in the game. The Vikings never made a shot until the second quarter when they scored once.

Starting for Charlevoix were Jim Ladd, Charles Coleman, Dick VanRaaphorst, Bruce Pease and Stan Smith. Scott Supernaw joined the line-up in the second quarter and Ralph Brock, John

The Rayders cooled off in the second period, scoring only five points including field goals by Coleman and VanRaaphorst and a free throw by Ladd. The Vikings scored only three points on one field goal and one charity shot.

The local five got back into the game in the third period after having their lead cut to 25 to 12 at halftime to make the third period advantage 38 to 20. Smith who are now tied with Pellston for fifth place with five wins in 12 games. The Rayders dumped the Blue Devils in their first meeting 48 to 44 and chances are they will win by an even bigger score this week.

Harbor Springs will be defending its second place standing when the Rams take on Grayling this week. In their first meeting with the Vikings, the Rams emerged with a 71 to 47 win. Since then, however, Wayne Winston has joined the Grayling line-up to give them much-needed depth. He is expected to return to the line-up after missing the Charlevoix-Grayling game last week when his father died unexpectedly. Harbor Springs with nine wins will have an edge because of their record and because they are playing in home territory.

Mancelona will travel to Pellston to take on the Hornets, a team they defeated 42 to 26 in an earlier meeting. The Hornets have improved a great deal since then and can be expected to give the visiting Ironmen a good game. Mancelona will be favored to win.

Charlevoix must defeat the East Jordan Red Devils this week if they hope to hang on to their fourth place in league standings. East Jordan has yet to win a game and as a result is in the league cellar. This hardly seems the time for the Red Devils to come to life but Charlevoix is an old rival and the renewal of this series may be just the thing to inspire the Jordanites to new heights. However, if Charlevoix continues to play the brand of ball they have shown in recent games, they should come up with a win which they must have if they are to hold their present standing.

Mrs. Leonard Burns at the organ played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Marvin Shooks of Central Lake who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white velvet for her wedding. Fashioned with an empress waistline, a Sabrina neckline trimmed with seedpearls and long tapered sleeves, the gown featured a bouffant skirt and chapel length train. A jeweled crown secured her fingertip veil of bridal illusion and she carried a white prayer book topped with an arrangement of white hyacinth flowers centered with a white orchid.

Mary Elmslad of Ann Arbor, her only attendant wore a ballerina length gown of salmon satin with inserts of deep pink satin styled with an Empire waistline. Her head-band was of matching pink satin and she carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses. Suzanne Boss, sister of the bride, as flower girl wore a floor length gown of blue net over taffeta sashed with blue satin and a matching blue satin head-band. She carried a basket of talisman roses.

Kenneth Ferrington of Detroit assisted his brother as best man. David DeTar of Ann Arbor and Thomas Scott of Ypsilanti seated the guests.

A reception followed at the Weathervane Inn. For traveling on their wedding trip to Florida and Nassau the bride chose a light blue suit, black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

They plan to make their home in France where the bridegroom will be stationed with the U. S. Army.

The bride is a graduate of St. Lukes - Presbyterian hospital school of nursing in Chicago. Dr. Ferrington is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Medicine where he was affiliated with Phi Rho Sigma fraternity. He is presently serving with the U. S. Army Medical Corps.

New Central Drug Store building (above) which will be formally opened this week. It replaces the old three story wood structure (right) which had been a landmark on the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets for more than half a century. Completely new fixtures, featuring "self selection service," have been installed in the new building.

Central Announces Formal Opening of New Drug Store

The Central Drug Store will hold a grand opening in its new building at the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Harley L. Ochs and Franklin Ochs, who own and operate the attractive new store.

The Rexall store moved into the one-story fireproof structure earlier this month after occupying the Murdock building at 226 Bridge St. while the former building was razed and the new building erected.

During the three-day grand opening the public is invited to visit the new drug store, the most modern in the area. More than $200.00 in gifts will be given away during the three-day period. Located on the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets which has been the site of a drug store for 60 years, the one-story brick structure has approximately 1,950 square feet of floor space. A 29 ft. prescription counter across the back of the 30 by 65 ft. structure is a feature of the attractive interior. Merchandising stands in an aqua blue color are placed at strategic locations throughout the store. The tile floor covering and the acoustical tile in the ceiling blend with the pastel colors on the walls. The store is lighted with a series of 'daylight' lighting fixtures.

The one-story modern shopping center is in sharp contrast to the three-story frame building which had occupied the corner for nearly three quarters of a century. Known as the Chapel building it was constructed in the 1890's as a hotel. In the mid-1890's it was badly damaged by fire and rebuilt as a store site. It has been the site of a drug store since 1897. Mr. Ochs has been associated with the business since 1914. In 1929 he purchased the business which had been known as the Ivy Drug Store. His son, Franklin, a graduate of Ferris Institute School of Pharmacy and a veteran of World War II joined him in the business in 1945.

The new drug store, planned with the assistance of the Rexall Drug Co., features the newest in merchandising trends.

The Drenth Brothers of Ellsworth were the general contractors; Charlevoix Lumber Co. supplied the modern store front and prescription counters; the Bulman Corp. represented by Roy deLongpre the counters, islands and cabinets; Miles Floor and Wall the floor tile.

Leo Carey the decorating and John Mol, heating and plumbing.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

With the days so bright and beautiful and long, the sunsets so lovely and the nights just the right temperature, can spring be far away? It will soon be the first of March and though we have every kind of weather during the month everyone knows that we're fast leaving winter behind.

March means something else around here... basketball tournament time—Charlevoix will go to Petoskey again this year... and will meet one of three possible opponents next Thursday, March 6... We hope our little ole Rayders pull an upset as they did last season and come up with a district championship... It's just as possible as it was in '57 so how's about it, you Rayders? But before we can play in the tournament we have another little chore... taking on Harbor Springs this week... It could be a whale of a game... and we'll be right there watching every minute of it.

What's with the local alderman who decided to take a vacation trip to Florida... only to find it so cold that he decided to take off for California and or the southwest... We'll bet that he'll be barred from the state if Florida's Tourist Council gets a hold of that info.

You Know there's a group of people who work in our community who deserve a lot of credit... We mean all those people who take care of our streets and highways... the city street crews and the county road commission workmen who get out early in the morning, late at night or whenever it's necessary to keep traffic moving.

...to our way of thinking there're the unsung heroes of the north country... Another group who has our vote are the bus drivers... They have in their care along hazardous highways the lives of many little and not so little ones... and they, too,

BABY TALK

Births recorded at the Charlevoix hospital recently include:
A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Orville Derenzky of East Jordan Feb. 21.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernie DeYoung Feb. 21.
A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Timms Feb. 21.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Kiesel of Central Lake Feb. 23.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Persons of East Jordan Feb. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony F. Gengle of Petoskey announce the birth of a son, Timothy Francis, on Feb. 14. Mrs. Gengle is the former Mary Ann Murphy.

do a real fine job.

Last week we mentioned the cold weather and low temperatures in this column and stated that it had been as rugged as the good ole days... Mrs. Lou Comfort didn't quite agree with us and we can't blame her too much.

She said she remembered when it was nothing to have days on end when the temperature was "way below zero" Mr. C. recalled one year they spent the winter in Milwaukee when the temperature never got above 10 degrees below zero for 10 days and Lake Michigan was frozen all the way across at Grand Haven and Milwaukee... No doubt there are others who recall other cold winters but we'll still stand by what we said... the winter week before last will compare with any one way or another.

Despite the cold we were lucky in one respect... we didn't get all the snow that fell in the area south of Traverse City to the South Haven area... Our skiers are crying for snow... and it falls down there... There's just no justice.

Back to the basketball tournaments... when the tournaments get underway next week it will mark the 37th annual for that grand ole man of tournament play, Art Treloar... Why, it wouldn't be tournament time with out Art around... How he's stood up under the annual "rat race" through the years we'll never know... But he has and everyone loves him for the fine way he manages things... There's a set of rules and they apply to everyone as far as Art's concerned... and that's the way it should be... He's the kind of guy that we all hope will be around for a long, long time.

A lei of orchids... and they're well earned... the all those who joined forces in making the P. T. A. fair the success it was... It surpassed everyone's wildest hopes... thanks to a lot of people whom we're sure had a grand time working on it... It was a real community project, in which everyone participated... So... all of you... take a bow.

Here's a credit we forgot a couple weeks ago... We're sorry that we didn't mention at the time that Maxbauer's Creamery furnished all milk... and there was a lot of it... for the annual Blue and Gold dinner... Mr. Boss doesn't have anyone in the Cubs but he gave it anyway... as he often does... and we think he deserves a big thank you from everyone.

We received our annual letter last week from someone in Florida... a real clever letter sent out from the ZanziBar in Fort Lauderdale... It's in the Cannibal room of the Gulfstream Hotel... and arrives each year about this time... But we never recognize the printing... Many thanks anyway.

Spring arrived Sunday... in the person of Jimmy Terr who brought us our very first bunch of pussywillows... Though some say they've seen them throughout the winter, they're still harbingers of spring as far as we're concerned... We're happy to have them... Thanks, Jimmy.

A note this week from Dr. G. F. Weaver, now of Farmington, who said he remembered of few times the channel was frozen over when he was a kid here... He did recall once, that Dick Finucan walked across the channel near the bridge... and occasionally when "we" used to coast down Berdan's hill and go all the way across the lake (Round Lake) to O'Neill's dock... Fond memories... They sure are... When we tell people we used to coast the length of Berdan st. on big bob-sleds they think we were crazy... but we did and those, too, are fond memories.

Land Classification in Marion Township Nearly Completed

Marion township south of Charlevoix will be the first township to have all of its land area classified. Russell Curtis, supervisor of Marion township, is very excited over the program and would like to have it completed in time for assessment purposes.

The idea behind the classification of the land is that some soil is worth more for production of some crops than other land even though located in the same area. Good heavy soil that will produce 100 bushels of corn per acre would demand a higher price on the market than sandy soils that won't grow corn.

This program started when William Korthase of Boyne City was supervisor of Wilson township. The Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution on January 13, 1956. This resolution stated "that the chairman appoint one member of the board to contact the county agricultural agent and request that he have soil maps made for Charlevoix county."

During the spring of 1956 a meeting of all agencies was held at Boyne City to discuss this program. During the summer old land survey maps of Charlevoix county were found in the files of the Department of Conservation at Lansing. These maps were checked with various sites in the county and found to be very accurate and usable.

Dr. Henry Foth of the Soil

Science Department at Michigan State University, Mr. Engberg of the Soil Conservation Service, Clayton Healey, Bill Grimm and Ed Rebmam appeared before the Board of Supervisors in October 1956 to discuss this program. The program consists of classifying the land in each farm, marking it on an area photograph, marking the area of each soil type and recording it in the card file. The cost of growing crops and the net returns of the same are also computed. Finally a ratio is arrived at of the different soil types.

The program was discussed during the summer of 1957 with several groups and individuals. More and more folks seem to be in favor of this method of classifying soils. In the October session in 1957 of the Board of Supervisors, Ed Rebmam again appeared before the board to discuss the situation to date. At that time Marion township was ready to go ahead with the program.

The soil maps for Marion township have been photostated and are now being checked with various spots in the township. Members of Michigan State University have been in the county checking on crop yields, sales of farms and obtaining the information to arrive at the different soil types. This program for the township should be completed in the near future.

Check Yields Of Early Corn And Late Corn

Early maturing corn hybrids yield just as well or better than late maturing hybrids, according to Elmer Rossman, farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Many farmers compare corn by the size of the ear which is often misleading, Rossman says. Late maturing corn retains moisture longer than early corn and the higher moisture content makes the ears larger and heavier than the drier early corn.

Ears over one-half pound indicate the corn was not planted thick enough to get the top possible yield so large ears may actually indicate lower total production than a field with smaller ears.

To accurately compare yields M. S. U. has carried on tests at several locations in Michigan and measured production on plots planted side by side for 15 years. Only by correcting for moisture content can yield per acre be accurate. Judging yield by looking at it may result in a 25 bushel per acre error.

Rossman says late frosts in past years have lured many Michigan farmers into using later maturing corn hoping to get higher yields. Killing frost near the normal frost date the last two years have pointed out the problems of handling immature wet corn.

Early maturing corn offers several advantages: (1) Drier crib storage due to lower moisture content. (2) Earlier harvest which means less harvest loss from lodging and bad weather. (3) Mature corn is better feed than soft corn. (4) Less moisture means less discount at the elevator. (5) Less expense for drying. (6) Early harvest offers a better chance for fall plowing and seeding.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Enjoy Your Faith

For some years now I have been deeply interested in problems nature presents to curious minds. What is it, exactly, that makes deer change their coats from the grayish-brown garb of winter to the reddish-brown cloak of spring and summer? The lengthening days may trigger the transition, but what body chemistry decides the color? How do migrating birds find their way from Central and South America to a certain forty-acre plot in Hayes Township, Charlevoix County, State of Michigan, in the United States of America? What determines whether a newly born animal will be male or female? What is life? We know what life does, how it functions, but what is life itself? If death in man is the separation of soul from body, then what is death in a red fox, in the scarlet plover, in a speckled trout? Just as in humans there is something vital in the creature one moment and it is gone the next, and we say, "It is dead!" But what happens in death in non-humans? Why do thousands of gossamer spiders make a massive migration on silken parachutes an autumn day? Why are some of the lower animals color-blind while others are not? Why? Why?

There exists a real temptation to be academic concerning nature, to spend one's nature study hours among heavy natural history textbooks and journals, seeking what the most authoritative scientists have to say about those problems. But if that is done, one misses the most important aspect of nature study—the exposure of one's eyes to beauty, the inhaling of evergreen-scented air, the feel of rough bark under one's finger tips and the soft caress of a lake breeze across one's face. The well-balanced student of nature is one who recognizes the problems of his field of interest and works toward their solution, but in the meantime he experiences nature directly, living it, breathing it, rejoicing in it.

This balance between recognizing the problems of life and enjoying happiness. If we do not weigh the problems at all we become jittery activists or empty-headed sentimentalists, and if we consider only the problems we become burdened by discouragement and pessimism. The most some of the chapters and books, or exactly when some books were written. The Old Testament conception of God and the New Testament portrayal of God are difficult to harmonize. Some of the heroes and heroines of the Bible had low ethical and moral standards for which they would be jailed today. Numberless such problems arise in some people's minds when the Bible is mentioned.

But the person who sees the Bible primarily as a book of problems, or even as a book that needs argumentative defense, does not really know the Bible. This is the Book that has inspired our best literature, art and music. It is the most candid of books, picturing us as we are. But it is also a hopeful Book, showing us what we might be with God's help. The New Testament is the world's most joyous Book, opening with the coming of the Savior and drawing near a close with a glad shout of victory that "the Lord God omnipotent reigneth." There are problems in the profound insight, and immense hope are there, too. Although no Bible, all right, but revelation, man understands all the Bible, everyone can understand enough to live better than he is now living. To anyone who will read it the Bible is a book of spiritual adventure, with heights to climb, depths to plumb, sunlit stretches of revelation to visit, experiences of old have had with God that we could well repeat, standards like those of the Sermon on the Mount we should stretch to reach.

Voltaire, considering that the Bible was outdated, onetime said that in one hundred years the Bible would be a forgotten book, found only in museums. When the hundred years were up, Voltaire's own home was occupied by the Geneva Bible Society, and the Bible was being read by more people than ever before. The Bible still lives because, in spite of its problems it speaks to our condition and answers our spiritual needs.

Prayer, too, is problematical. Why pray if God is all-wise, knowing our needs better than we do, and all-good, giving us what is best for us regardless of our asking. Moreover, if this world is run by invincible laws, how can prayer change anything? Why does God so often answer "No" or "Wait awhile"? How dare we try to communicate with God when He is so good and we are such blunderers, when He is so wise and we are so foolish? These and many more problems assault our minds, demanding answers. And there are answers if we have the courage to look for them. But prayer is more than a problem to be pondered or discussed. Prayer is primarily a privilege we enjoy. No one knows much about prayer until he prays, and the best way to know more about prayer is to pray more often and more meaningfully. I have felt about some discussions I have heard on prayer as Walt Whitman did about a lecture on astronomy.

"When I heard the learn'd astronomer, When the proofs, the figures, were ranged in columns before me, When I was shown the charts and diagrams, to add, divide, and measure them, When I, sitting, heard the astronomer where he lectured with much applause in the lecture-room, How soon unaccountable I became tired and sick, Till rising and gliding out, I wandered off by myself, In the mystical moist night air, and from time to time, Looked up in perfect silence at the stars."

Religious questions deserve a careful consideration, and an alert and devout mind will continue to seek answers to life's perplexing riddles. But the quest is perilous to a person's spiritual welfare if it becomes a substitute for enjoying one's faith. To refrain from experiencing religion while we weigh its problems is like a meteorologist studying the atmosphere with weather balloons, weather maps, charts, and all sorts of delicate instruments that result in carefully worked out calculations, but in the meantime holding his breath until all the data are collected. His very study will be the death of him. While he studies the atmosphere he had better breathe it, too, if he wants to stay alive. Religious faith is worth studying, but it is primarily for breathing!

Well, that's all for now. For a few minutes I'm going to cease thinking about the problems of nature and God, lay down this pen, step out into the woods and breathe the good clean air and walk around a bit, lost in the incomparable Companionship.

All cuts of pork, fresh or cured, will be plentiful in February, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A community sleigh ride was held on Sunday. Wayne Saunders furnished one sleigh with a tractor and Mark Saunders furnished the other sleigh pulled with his horse which was the attraction of the day. The youngsters, for the most part, piled into Mark's sleigh and I'm not surprised, for a horse drawn vehicle of any sort is practically obsolete and would be quite a novelty.

Charlevoix Scores 56 to 46 Victory Over E. Jordan

Rayders Play Rams Here Friday Night

The Charlevoix Rayders assured themselves of fourth place in league standings Friday night by dumping East Jordan 56 to 46 as the 1957-58 season neared its close.

This week the Rayders will host second place Harbor Springs, a team which defeated them by a 20-point, 59 to 39, margin in their first meeting. The odds are in favor of the Rams repeating their performance. However, the Rayders have developed into a scrappy outfit that could dump the Rams who have three losses in 13 starts this season.

and Gene Richards one field goal for East Jordan.

In the second period it was Vandenberg again, this time with nine points including two field goals and five gift shots, who led the scoring attack. Beaudoin had four and Mol and Poquette three each as the Rayders led 31 to 23 at halftime. East Jordan had four field goals and five free throws.

Mol had five points, Beaudoin four, Vandenberg and Schuchard two and Poquette one in the third period as Charlevoix remained ahead 45 to 31. East Jordan had three field goals and two charity shots.

The Rayders dumped in 11 points in the final period to take the game by a 10-point margin. Vandenberg scored six points, Poquette two, Balch, Beaudoin and Schuchard one each in the last quarter while East Jordan was scoring 15 points on six field goals and three free throws for their best period of the game.

Vandenberg with 23 points paced the game followed by Mol with 11 for the victors. Richards had 14 and Chihak 13 for the Red Devils.

Class C Teams Clash Friday To Wind Up Conference Play

The 1957-58 basketball season will officially end this week as all eight teams in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference play their last loop games before going into district tournaments at Petoskey, Gaylord and Grayling next week.

The league champs, the Boyne City Ramblers, will play at Mancelona, Charlevoix will entertain Harbor Springs, Pellston will travel to Gaylord and East Jordan will play at Grayling in the final games of the season.

The Boyne City Ramblers tied up the loop title last week and will be playing out their schedule when they play at Mancelona this week. The Ironmen seemed like a team that might upset the Ramblers earlier but when the two teams met late last month the Boyne City squad came up with a 44 to 41 win over Mancelona proving their superiority. Prestige is the only thing at stake in the meeting now that the Ramblers have the title and Mancelona is assured of third place in loop standings as the season ends. The Ramblers will likely win although the Ironmen may pull an upset on their home floor.

Harbor Springs, currently in second place with 10 wins in 13 games, will invade Rayder territory this week in the hopes of finishing behind the Ramblers. The Rams are assured of a second place in the standings as the season ends. However, should Mancelona defeat Boyne City and the Rams and lose to Charlevoix the Ironmen could finish in a tie with Rams for second place. This hardly seems likely, however, so chances are the Rams will finish in second, even if Charlevoix should defeat them. The Rayders with a 7-6 record will be the underdog going into the meeting. Harbor Springs trounced them 59 to 39 in the game on the Rams floor. It is doubtful if they can repeat that score and the Rayders may even come up with a win if they try real hard.

It will be a battle for possession of fifth place when Pellston and Gaylord meet on the latter's floor this week. Pellston defeated the Blue Devils 53 to 47 in their first meeting but chances are Gaylord will avenge the earlier loss in this game.

Charlevoix's little Rayders who have a perfect record thus far this season. If they get past Harbor Springs Friday night they will finish the 1957-58 season with 16 wins including two over Petoskey.

Reserves Need Friday Game To Complete Perfect Record

Charlevoix's little Rayders racked up their fifteenth victory of the current season Friday by defeating East Jordan 60 to 46. If the group can get past Harbor Springs here this week they will finish the season with a perfect record.

In the meeting with East Jordan they got off to a slow start and trailed 11 to 7 at the quarter before going ahead 23 to 21 at halftime and increasing their advantage to 40 to 36 going into the final period. In the last stanza they poured in 20 points for the lop-sided win.

Starting for the Rayders were Jim Ladd, Charles Coleman, Dick VanRaaphorst, Bruce Pease and Stan Smith. Sam Supernaw joined the action in the second quarter, John Martin in the third and Ralph Brock in the last quarter. In the first quarter the Rayders scoring was confined to two field goals by Smith, one by Pease and a free throw by VanRaaphorst while East Jordan was pouring in two field goals and seven gift shots.

The Rayders outscored East Jordan 16 to 10 in the second quarter for a two-point 23 to 21 halftime lead. VanRaaphorst accounted for six of the total. Pease scored five, Coleman three and Smith two. East Jordan continued to score from the free throw line, scoring six points in this manner while hitting for two field goals.

The local quintet stretched its advantage to 40 to 36 at the three quarter mark. Ladd started to lift and, as the period ended had dumped in eight points. Pease had six and Coleman three, East Jordan scored five field goals and five free throws for their best period.

In the final period the Rayders found their stride and dumped in 20 points including eight by Ladd, four each by VanRaaphorst and Pease and one each by Smith and Supernaw. East Jordan scored five field goals.

Pease with 17 points paced the scoring for the game. He was followed by Ladd with 16 and VanRaaphorst with 11. Kowalske had 15 and Drenth 13 for East Jordan.

Despite a bad second quarter, the Hornets fought back to assume a 31 to 26 lead as the third period ended. In the last period the Ironmen outscored the Hornets 21 to 13 to take the game by a three-point margin. All of Pellston's 13 points were made from the free throw line in the final stanza.

Wanted; A Board of Commerce

Can Charlevoix compete for trade, industry and resort business without a Board of Commerce?

That will be the issue Friday night when all persons interested in our future welfare are urged to be present and take an active part in re-organizing the Charlevoix Board of Commerce as an organization independent of city support.

Action of the city council Monday evening in divorcing the Board of Commerce from city government virtually means the Board is defunct.

We believe the action was well taken and that it eventually will bring about a strong and more united support from those who gain their livelihood in this community. When programs such as a Board of Commerce are practically supported by tax money, we as individuals too often take the attitude of "Let George do it" and fail miserably in giving the wholehearted support necessary for success.

"George" has now bowed out of the picture and we either unite for an active Board of Commerce or we go it alone and sympathize with each other because business is going right past our door. Communities seldom thrive by happenstance. It's usually the result of loyal co-operation and support from the progressive individuals who live there.

In this age of highpowered promotions, fast modes of transportation and easy communication our merchants are faced with keen competition from miles away; thousands of towns and cities are fighting for industries; localities with no more than a 10 acre mud hole, called a lake, strive to attract the tourist and resort. Few communities have as many God-given advantages as Charlevoix and the surrounding area, and we doubt if any community has a citizenry more capable of uniting in support of a common cause.

Your opportunity to help formulate and get behind a progressive program for Charlevoix will be Friday evening at 8 o'clock, city hall.

School Teacher Wins Case in Supreme Court

A school teacher, Mrs. Carole Steel of Ellsworth, is entitled to a full year's pay of $2,240 even though she taught only one week during the 1953-54 school year in a rural school, the State Supreme Court held Tuesday.

The case reached the higher court on an appeal from the Charlevoix School Board which objected to paying Mrs. Steel the full year's pay as ordered by Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown.

The school board contended Mrs. Steel did not have a valid teaching certificate when she signed a contract Aug. 29, 1953 to teach the Marion Center school for $250 per month.

On Sept. 16, 1953, the State Department of Public Instruction issued her a special certificate, legally qualifying her to teach. However, by that time the Marion Center school district had voted to consolidate with the Charlevoix Township school. The Charlevoix school board declined to accept Mrs. Steel as a teacher and refused to pay her contract salary for the year.

The supreme court upheld Judge Brown's decision that the Charlevoix school board owes the teacher $2,240 plus interest and court costs. She had previously drawn $50.00 salary from the Marion Center school for her services before the consolidation became effective.

Theater Group to Present Play

The play, "A Man Called Peter," adapted from the best selling book by Catherine Marshall, will be presented at the Petoskey high school auditorium by the Petoskey Little Theater group Monday and Tuesday.

Curtain time is 8 p. m. The Rev. Allan J. Hunter will play the title role with Marge Summer playing the part of his wife, Catherine.

Ross W. Stokess Jr., is the director. Mrs. Helen Cannon and Mrs. Ruby Stanback are co-production managers.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

In 1919 he was graduated from the Detroit College of Law and was admitted to the State Bar of Michigan. He practiced law in Detroit where he was associated with Race Hass and Allen, a law firm. In 1935 he came to Charlevoix for reasons of health and opened a law practice here. He served as Circuit Court Commissioner for several terms before he was appointed Probate Judge for Charlevoix county in December 1948 by the late Kim Sigler, governor of Michigan at that time. He was a veteran of World War I, having served with the U. S. Navy.

Train Crashes Swanson Truck; Driver Escapes

A gravel truck owned by Lawrence Swanson was struck by a northbound C & O passenger train Thursday afternoon at the Perry ave. crossing to the plant of Stream-Eze, Inc.

Thomas Swanson, 20, driver of the truck, escaped serious injury.

The accident happened at a private crossing on the roadway which leads from Perry ave. to the Stream-Eze property on Lake Charlevoix. Young Swanson and his father were each driving two-ton dump trucks loaded with dirt. Young Swanson told Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith that he had looked both ways before passing over the Perry ave. crossing and saw no train. He entered the private road and was crossing the tracks for the second time when he saw the train approaching from the south. The truck stalled as he tried to shift into another gear in an effort to get it out of the path of the train.

His father who was following in the second truck witnessed the accident but was unable to warn his son of the approaching train.

Young Swanson was treated at the Charlevoix hospital for facial lacerations, abrasions and bruises and released.

The northbound train was one-half hour late the day of the accident.

Glenn Williams of Traverse City was the engineer and Nick Brock of Ellsworth the conductor of the train which received only minor damages in the accident.

Vet Committee Names Counsellor

Frank Bourgeois counsellor for the county council of veteran Affairs and post service officer of the Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion will be at the county building room 9 a. m. until noon every Monday to assist veterans with their problems. This service will be available to all veterans regardless of their service club affiliations.

Mayor Draws Douglas Again In Exchange

For the second straight year Charlevoix was paired with the village of Douglas for Mayor's Exchange Day, May 5.

As a result Mayor James Hiller asked that this community be paired with some other of comparable size because he was certain Douglas officials would not want to come to Charlevoix again but would want to visit some other community in the state.

He was advised by those in charge of the program that there would be neither drawing and that Charlevoix would be paired with another community.

Charlevoix was one of four cities in the state to draw the same community with whom they shared officials last year. This is the first time this had happened, Mayor Exchange committee officials said.

Charlevoix will be advised at a later date regarding the new pairing.

15 Men Enter Guilty Pleas to Morals Charges

Twenty-two persons were arraigned and one East Jordan youth sentenced Monday by Judge Charles L. Brown during one of the busiest terms of circuit court in recent years.

One case was dismissed after being reviewed by the court and others postponed until a later date.

Fifteen men from the eastern section of the county arrested Saturday on moral charges pleaded guilty before Judge Brown Monday. Three of the men changed their guilty pleas from gross indecency to indecent exposure. All cases were referred to the probation department for investigation. They will be sentenced at a later date.

Sundew Breaks Channel in Ice To Open Harbor

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew broke a path through a quarter of a mile of ice outside the piers in Lake Michigan late Tuesday and entered the harbor at 5:50 p. m.

The Sundew opened the path at the request of local commercial fishermen who have been unable to leave the harbor because of ice conditions for the past month. It is understood that two of the fishermen have had nets in the lake during the month-long period.

The Sundew departed from here at 7 p. m. Wednesday. The ship had arrived in the area late Monday to break a path through the ice on Grand Traverse Bay so the oil tanker, Chicago Seacon, could dock at Traverse City with a cargo of gasoline and oil products.

Council Ties Bd. of Commerce Purse Strings

The City Council at its regular meeting Monday night, placed restrictions on the expenditures of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce, passing a resolution requiring prior approval of any expenditure the city is expected to pay.

The board is currently being re-organized and the restriction will remain in effect until the re-organization is completed.

At the same meeting, Mayor Hiller appointed the following committee to prepare a program for Mayor's Exchange Day May 5: Harry Gebeau, chairman, Lee Moerland and Edward Hansen.

The council also rejected the bid of the Rouse Oil Co. for fuel oil for the municipal light plant. The Rouse bid was the only one submitted.

A petition signed by Mrs. Ted Miller and 24 other citizens of the city of Charlevoix requesting support from the city for the Charlevoix public library was read.

The Council went on record as opposing the passage of House Bill 235 which deals with annexation of certain properties to cities. A certified copy of this resolution is to be mailed to Senator Frank Andrews and Representative C. B. Meggison.

Approval was given to bills amounting to $17,008.78. This includes the cost of the new police cruiser, new street department truck, underbody scraper and snowplow hitch.

Highway Dept. Accepts Bids on County Work

The bid of $186,302.17 submitted by Raff and Dexter, a Lansing construction firm, for the construction of two bridges at East Jordan has been accepted by the Michigan Highway Department. It was announced in Lansing Tuesday following the opening of the sealed bids.

Of the total, $150,342.49 will be spent on the M-32 bridge across the Jordan river at East Jordan. The remainder, or $35,959.68 will be used for the construction of Roger's bridge across the Jordan river a mile south of East Jordan on a county road which will be used as a detour while the M-32 bridge is under construction. The Charlevoix county road commission will pay approximately 25 per cent of the cost of the latter.

The work will begin this spring. There is no completion date on the project at this time.

In addition to the above figures, and estimated total of $221,500 will be spent on road construction in the county during 1958, John J. Martin, county road commission superintendent said Wednesday.

Later this spring contracts will be let for the construction of 2.94 miles of roadway on the Marion Center road from the San Straw farm to the Antrim county line at an estimated cost of $88,000.

The county road commission will build 3.712 miles of roadway north of the city limits of Boyne City on County road 630 at an estimated cost of $96,000 and black top two other sections of county roads including 1.5 miles extending between Advance and the city limits of Boyne City at an estimated cost of $8,500 and 3.643 miles of roadway which extends from US 31 toward Boyne City. The later was constructed by an outside firm last summer.

Morweld Expansion Loan Approved by Small Business Adm.

The Morweld Steel Products Co. of Ellsworth has been granted a $200,000 loan by the Small Business Administration, Maurice Taylor, president of the company has been notified in a telegram from Senator Charles E. Potter.

The company makes steel tank fittings and presently employs 75 persons.

Mr. Taylor said Wednesday that the money would be used for an expansion program at the Ellsworth plant. Expansion plans call for the floor space to be increased by 30,000 sq. ft., the purchase of new equipment and the construction of a 50 by 50 ft. office building. The latter will be built on the site of the present village park which the company purchased recently.

Work on the new building will begin as soon as weather permits, Mr. Taylor said.

Under the expansion plans, the number of employees will be increased by 50 per cent or up to 150 employees.

Mr. Taylor credits Senator Potter and the officials of the Charlevoix County State Bank for his success in obtaining the loan for the Morweld Steel Products Co. He said they had recommended to the Small Business Administration that the loan be approved.

The telegram which follows clearly gives Senator Potter's reasons for recommending the approval of the loan:

"Pleased to advise Small Business Administration has approved two hundred thousand loan to Morweld Steel Products Co. I know this sum will enable you to realize your excellent expansion plans. An especially gratifying you can now proceed with hiring of the additional fifty to seventy-five employees you indicated could be brought in under expansion plans.

Working men and women of Michigan need these jobs. They look to public-spirited companies like yours to provide dynamic employment opportunities. Assume your new employees will be drawn locally and from near-by communities of Charlevoix, East Jordan, Atwood and Central Lake and you can take pride in initiating an economic stimulus for entire area. It has been a real pleasure to work with you in efforts to obtain this assistance. Best wishes and good luck."

The Charlevoix County State Bank has been named administrator for the loan. The local bank will also handle 10 per cent or $20,000 of the loan.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Was it a lamb or a lion... the way March came in Saturday we mean... It depended of course on where you were sitting but one thing was for sure... it was wet... Not lamb or the lion... just the weather... If the month of March is going to be as varied as the weather on the first day, we're in for a lot of stuff before the month is out so let us warn you... Leave the spring coat and straw hat where it is for the time being.

Despite the sloppy weather Friday there were those who braved it all for the basketball game...

Voice of Our Readers...

The Survey of our educational system.

It is surprising the enthusiasm our citizens show in the undertaking of the Educational Survey. Keep up the good work. Let us all give the committees our full and complete support so we can receive a complete report and will have an understanding about our school system. We certainly are in favor of a good schooling and a little more attention could be given to the 3 R's (reading, writing and arithmetic).

The fair held Saturday, Feb. 22 was a surprise to everybody. Thanks to the hard work donated by some of our good citizens.

We all know that our present high school is old and out of date. The construction is fairly good but does not comply with the fire restrictions. A good deal of money could be spent to make it somewhat safer by fireproofing certain parts. But is it worth while to spend the money on an old structure? Or is it advisable to work out a plan for a new building for the near future.

Let us see what the committees will report—especially our finance committee.

We hope when the City Council adopts their new 1958 budget that it will be published in the Couriers. Give all the incomes and expenditures and state the indebtedness of our City. We also should receive a report of our county financial standing. The people are entitled to a report and not to be kept in the dark as up to now.

The Charlevoix area during the past year are worthy of commendation by the entire community. Under the direction of Mrs. Polly VerWys, Mrs. June Riley, Mrs. Jan Odmark, Mrs. Vera Baker and Mrs. Robert Lieberman, Charlevoix clubs carried out one of the largest clothing projects in the county. Popularity of these projects was in no small part due to the co-operation of R. E. Bennett, superintendent of schools, who opened the high school homemaking department to the club one night a week.

Barnard Community club was under the direction of Dick Smith who not so long ago was an active 4-H club member. Mrs. Joe Martineck Sr., is leader of the Marion-Phelps Community club, instructs girls in cooking projects cooking at the county 4-H club and also takes charge of the summer camp.

The county-wide program was carried on last year by 80 club leaders. Total enrollment of boys and girls was 357 who worked on 552 projects.

Plan for College At Petoskey Voted By Committee

The steering committee of the proposed Emmet county Community College voted unanimously at a recent meeting to proceed with steps to establish a community college in Petoskey in the fall of 1959.

The locations committee has selected the former Sheridan school as a temporary campus for the proposed college which would serve the Straits area.

The decision to establish a community college in Petoskey follows many months of study conducted by various committees.

A petition and resolution along with a formal written report will now be submitted to the State Department of Public Instruction requesting authority to proceed with plans for the college. If this is granted, the next step will be to ask the people of Emmet county to vote approval for setting up a County Community College District and a board of trustees. The trustees will determine the millage rate necessary to support the college and select a name for the institution. Voters will then be asked to approve the levying of the necessary millage.

Dr. Dean C. Burns who heads the steering committee named Carl E. Spiller, superintendent of the Petoskey schools, chairman of a special committee to be made up of the formal request to the State Department of Public Instruction. Clifford Buckmaster, C. L. Johnson and A. D. Shankland were named to the committee.

Some Indian tribesmen believe old elephants never die, because elephant carcasses are so rarely seen, the National Geographic Magazine says. Actually, annual remains of any kind are seldom found in Indian forests, thanks to clean-up squads of ants, vultures, jackals, and hyenas, aided by torrential monsoon rains and occasional forest fires.

Minutes of School Board Meeting

March 3, 1958

Present: Smith, Lieberman, Boss, Hawley, Martin, Bennett, Supt. Absent: None.

The meeting was called to order at 8:10 p. m.

Minutes of the meeting of February 17 were read and approved.

It was moved by Smith, supported by Hawley, that bills in the amount of $1,983.15 be approved and ordered paid. Carried: 5-0.

There was careful discussion of the State Aid for Education now in the Legislature, with its implication on the budget that must now be prepared for the Allocation Board. A tentative budget was discussed at length, as well as the Teacher's contracts and salary schedule. Meeting the salary schedule requirements was found to be the most serious problem facing the Board at this time. A tentative budget was finally arrived at, totaling $253,315.00, and its adoption moved by Hawley, supported by Lieberman. Carried: 5-1. This compares with a current budget of $247,230.00.

Appreciation was expressed for the considerable amount of effective work that is being done on the school survey by the P. T. A.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:50 p. m.

Respectfully Submitted

Rayders Meet Rams In First Game of 'C' Tournament

Tonight will be a big night for the Charlevoix Rayders who will take on Harbor Springs in one of two Class C games in the district tournament at Petoskey. Charlevoix will play Harbor Springs at 8:55 p. m.

In the first game scheduled for 7:15 p. m. Boyne City will play Pellston.

The Rayder-Rams game promises to be a good one. Last Friday the Charlevoix five lost to Harbor Springs by a score of 58 to 51 but only after they had lost regular Bob Mol via the four route early in the final period. The Rayders, underdogs in the meeting held with Harbor Springs to 16-16 tie at the quarter and trailed by three points, 37 to 24 before taking over at 37 going into the final period. With less than two minutes gone, Mol went to the bench and the Rams edged the Rayders.

Pellston is the only team in the Northern Michigan Class C loop to dump Boyne City this season. They will have one more chance to upset the Ramblers when they meet tonight (Thursday).

The Class C finals will be played at 8:55 p. m. Saturday.

The Class D finals are scheduled for 7:15 p. m. Saturday.

Charlevoix is the defending district title holder.

If Charlevoix edges Harbor Springs and the Rayders advance to the district finals, tickets for the Saturday night game will go on sale at the elementary school office at 8:30 a. m. Friday. If Charlevoix is not in the finals, tickets must be purchased at the Petoskey gymnasium.

Freedman's Enter New Field

Develop Stereo Sound Display

In answer to a definite need for a store fixture which would demonstrate stereophonic sound, and, at the same time, provide point-of-sale self-service of the Freedman Aircraft Engineering Corp., located here has developed the Stereo Sound Center pictured above.

Making use of two speakers on uprights with swivels, the new and attractive display fixture makes it possible for a person to listen without disturbing others or, with the speakers swung back, a whole area can be filled with stereo sound for demonstrations to groups.

The first production run of the beautiful maple center which has caught the fancy of tape retailers is now underway and will be completed early in April.

The new sound center is another of the Freedman Aircraft fixtures which need no introduction to record dealers. The company, which has specialized in creating displays and merchandising racks for the record retail trade, watches new developments and tries to anticipate dealer needs.

The new Stereo Sound Center now being manufactured by the local firm is the result of this study, for it provides the answers to the questions asked by dealers: "What am I going to do about stereophonic tape and records?" "How am I going to stock them?" "How will I display them?" and "How can I demonstrate them effectively?"

Since stereophonic tapes and eventually records are the coming thing, dealers must stock them if they are to stay abreast of times. The stereo sound center, in a very simple way, provides the answers to the other questions by providing an attractive, compact place to stock, display and demonstrate them.

With the exception of an acoustically perfect music hall, there is no finer way to hear music than by means of stereo. The stereo effect is very pronounced in the Stereo Sound Center as developed at Freedman Aircraft, especially when the unit is used by one or two persons and the speakers brought close in, getting much the same effect as with headphones. This makes for a very dramatic demonstration because outside sounds are practically eliminated and the whole attention of the listener is focused on the music.

As can be seen in the photograph, the center is a point-of-sale self-service unit which can be made flexible by the use of other Freedman Aircraft units. A dealer may start with a basic unit and add others as needed. When stereo records become available, units for displaying these will be added to the present ones. Thus, the customer listens and browses through other tapes, or, in the future, recordings, conveniently located within his reach.

In designing the unit, Freedman Aircraft engineers were conscious of the fact that many customers, women in particular, need to be shown the simplicity of operation of tape. For that reason the tape players (or decks) are located in the center where the customer can see the ease with which the player can be set up and regulated. The volume is also placed for easy control.

For those not familiar with it, stereophonic sound, first heard in the wide-screen movies, is sound recorded on two separate channels and played back through two separate pick-ups, two separate amplifiers and two (or more) speaker systems.

Stereo is sometimes called "binaural" sound, as compared to monaural sound of single-channel reproduction.

As of today, the easiest way to record two separate channels is on magnetic tape. For this reason all of the stereophonic sound currently on the market is on tape and can be played only on a tape recorder with a special stereophonic head (dual pick-up) and the necessary to amplifiers and speaker systems as found in the Freedman Aircraft center.

As for stereophonic sound on records, major recording manufacturers and many independents are cutting experimental stereophonic records now. The records and the equipment to play them on is expected to be available within the year.

The Charlevoix Rayders, displaying excellent ball handling all the way, bowed to the Harbor Springs Rams by a score of 58 to 51 in the final scheduled game of the season.

The Rayders finished in fourth place in loop standings with a record of seven wins and seven losses in league play. They also lost two games to Petoskey.

In the meeting with Harbor Springs Friday night the Rayders held the Rams to a 16 to 16 first quarter tie and trailed 27 to 24 at the half before going ahead 41 to 37 at the end of the third quarter. The loss of Bob Mol who went to the bench with five personal fouls with only 1½ minutes gone in the last period was a serious blow to the Rayders who fell behind as time ran out. Bill Poquette collected his fifth foul with two minutes remaining in the game. This, too, had its effects on the local quintet. Starting for Charlevoix were Mol, Joe Beaudoin, Ron Vandenberg, Poquette and Dave Schuchard. Steve LaBlance, John Bingham and Bruce Pease saw limited action in the final period.

The first quarter of Friday's game turned into a scoring spree with the Rayders matching the Rams basket for basket throughout the first eight minutes. The Rams, biggest lead was by five points when they led 15 to 10 but the Rayders closed the gap as the period ended in a 16 to 16 tie. Richie Clarke had scored five field goals, most of them on a pivot shot and Bob Lauer and Dean Barnifher one field goal each and Pete Graham two free throws.

Beaudoin had scored three field goals, Mol and Schuchard two each and Poquette one to keep pace with the visitors.

Two and one-half minutes passed in the second period before Clarke broke the tie with a field goal. He added one more field goal, Graham added a field goal and a free throw and Barnifher three gift shots to give the Rams a three-point 27 to 24 halftime lead. For Charlevoix, Vandenberg had a field goal and two free throws and Mol and Beaudoin one field goal apiece for eight points.

As the second half got underway the Rayders started to hit and with only 3:25 minutes remaining tied the score 33-33 before going ahead 41 to 37 as the third period ended.

Reserves End Season With 16 Victories

Charlevoix' little Rayders finished the season with a perfect record of 16 victories after dumping Harbor Springs 51 to 40 in the final game of the season here Friday night.

The string of victories includes two wins over all conference opponents and two over the Petoskey Reserves.

Sophomores who were playing their last reserve game before going on to varsity status were Len Ladd, Charles Coleman, Dick VanRaaphorst, John Martin, Ralph Brock, Sam Smith, Mike LaBlance, Jim Browne, Frank Wanagashik, Tony Genia, and Spencer Root. Only sophomore is Brian Seymour who was not in uniform Friday night.

Starting for the Rayders Friday were Ladd, Coleman, VanRaaphorst, Don Nowland and Terry DeYoung. They were followed by a team composed of Jim Dennis, John Martin, Brock, Supernaw and Smith. Others who played were Tom Martin, LaBlance, Browne, Gross, Wanagashik, Genia, Tom Louisselle, Jerry Williams, Don Farrell, Root, Bill Supernaw, Perry Smith and Gene McBride.

In Friday's game Charlevoix romped into a 13 to five first quarter score, increased their lead to 27 to 16 at halftime and 39 to 23 at the end of the third period before taking the game.

In the first period VanRaaphorst scored nine points and Ladd and Nowland a field goal each for the Rayders 13 points while the visitors were held to two field goals and a free throw.

In the second quarter Stan Smith scored two field goals and Nowland, Dennis, Martin, Brock and Supernaw two points each as the local team went ahead 27 to 16 at the half. Harbor Springs had four field goals and three gift shots.

Charlevoix continued its scoring attack going into the last half with VanRaaphorst scoring five, Nowland three and Ladd and DeYoung two points each to go ahead 39 to 23 after the Rams had scored only three field goals and a free throw.

Harbor Springs trimmed the Rayders lead in the final period by outscoring them 17 to 12 as the Rayders' line-up changed to Stan Smith, two by Supernaw and one by Dennis.

VanRaaphorst paced the Rayders' attack with 14 points. Frank Lauer had 10 for Harbor Springs.

The versatile Bob Mol is the only senior on the Charlevoix Rayder squad. He has started in the forward slot and the guard position and on occasion has doubled at center. On a team that has lacked experience, he has served as a mainstay when the going was rough. Returning from the year's line-up will be Ron Vandenberg and Bill Poquette, juniors who have been starting recently along with Joe Beaudoin who was moved up from the reserves earlier in the season and Dave Schuchard who has been up only three weeks. Both Beaudoin and Schuchard are sophomores. Others who will be back are John Bingham who has been out of the line-up with a back injury, Steve LaBlance, Scott Supernaw, Mike Genie, Ron Balch, Rod Ostrum and Bruce Pease. The latter has been up from the Reserves only since last week although he has played off and on with the Varsity all season. Balch and Pease are sophomores. The others are juniors.

Vandenberg had scored three field goals, Mol two, Schuchard four points on a field goal and two gift shots and Beaudoin a field goal and a free throw, for 17 points. Garver had six points, Graham two and Barnifher and Allen Allarding one each for Harbor Springs.

Charlevoix continued to lead 43 to 40 when Mol collected his fifth personal foul with 6:25 minutes remaining in the game. With the veteran player, the Rayders senior on the squad, out of the line-up the Rayders attack bogged down and the visitors went ahead 56 to 49 with 1:56 minutes remaining when Poquette scored to tie the game with five fouls. The Rams went into a stall as the run out, cutting the Rayders scoring to two points while collecting two points from the free throw line for themselves.

Clarke paced the scoring for the Rams with 20 points. Beaudoin had 15 for Charlevoix followed by Vandenberg with 12 and Mol with 10. Schuchard with 10 each.

The Rayders outscored the Rams 22 to 20 in the field goal department but lost the game on the free-throw line where the Rams hit on 13 of 30 attempts while committing only 14 personal fouls. Charlevoix hit on only seven of 21 free throw attempts and had 21 fouls called on them.

Top Class C Teams to Lose Many Stars this Season

With the 1957-58 basketball season all but over for all but a few chosen teams who will advance to regional and state competition, many athletes of the Northern Michigan Class A league who have made names for themselves and their teams on the hardwoods will be making their final appearances as high school stars.

Hardest hit by graduation will be the league champions, Boyne City. Harbor Springs and Mancelona who will lose all, or nearly all their starting line-ups. Gaylord and Pellston will lose mainstays from their starting fives while Grayling will lose two and Charlevoix and East Jordan one.

At Boyne City Coach Paul Mähler is counting among his losses the graduation of the all-around athlete, Carl Charon along with Steve Williams, Bob Christensen, Doug Newville and Rick Casper from the regular starters and Jerry Green, Jim Camburn and Jack Hartwell from the bench. Only regular returning will be guard George Shiotellis who was a starter until Williams returned to the line-up last month.

The Harbor Springs Rams who finished in second place will lose the line-up that gave them such a successful season. This includes Richie Clarke, Pete Graham, Bob Lauer, Allen Allarding and Dean Barnifher, all starters and Randy Lauer, Sam Gokee and Jack Meyer from the bench. Ken Garver is the only regular who is a junior.

Mancelona's losses are equally as great. Among the list of seniors are John Phillips, Dexter Bailey, Dick Holstad and the Johnson brothers, Ron and Bob. Jerry Biehl is the only returnee with any experience. He served as a first line substitute all season and started when someone was ill.

Pellston is counting among his losses the team captain, Ray Durkalec, Jack Schmalzried, Dwayne Johnston, Allen Ball, Charlie Ball and Basil Naganashe. All but the latter are seniors. Naganashe will be 19 before the season opens next season and therefore will be ineligible.

At Grayling Coach Bruce Smith is counting one regular, Don Roberts, and Wayne Winston, a transfer student who has added depth to the squad during the season. Returning far another second semester, among his only losses. Returning far another year will be Frank Gross, a freshman, Roger Hatfield, a sophomore, Jack Hull and Roger Hornung, juniors.

Coach Gayle Saxton of East Jordan is losing Gene Richards, who sparked the Red Devils' play this season along with two sophomores, Glenn Kowalski and Terry Healy, who were not regulars.

ADVENTURES IN UNDERSTANDING

Notes from A Northerner's Diary

By Harold E. Kohn

Diets and Destiny

We are nearing the end of winter, and now the time of deep hunger in the North has arrived. Winter supplies of food have dwindled. The woodland pantry is nearly bare. Easily reached brownings have long since been consumed in crowded deer areas, or wood, seeds, flap, or sap. It is only the more inconvenient, hard-to-reach alder and birch twigs and maple tips are now available. I remember one late winter day about this season of the year in 1953 looking out the window of the Miller Cabin on the Thunder Bay River in northeastern Michigan and seeing deer across the stream stretching desperately for tender twigs on trees and shrubs. In that heavily populated deer country the larders of their favorite haunts no longer provided abundant food on the lower shelves. They had to reach, and even then seldom could they obtain their favorite delicacies. More often they had to settle for some less tasty substitute. So it is all over the far North now, just before spring begins.

If whitetail deer could order any one kind of food, acorns would doubtlessly be their choice, and next to the acorns they might select the fruit of the blackgum, or persimmon tree, or perhaps maple, poplar, or witch-hazel shoots. But now when supplies are low they will make do with cedar, hemlock, and pine. They must either adjust to scarce supplies or perish.

Rabbits, too, have favorite menus. Carrots, cabbage, lettuce, and parsley from a garden rate high. Succulent clover, wheat, oats, and soybeans have a high ranking, too. But now in winter they find none of these. At winter's end all the summer leftovers, such as they were able to find earlier in snow-covered gardens and fields, are gone. So rabbits nibble and nawn the bark of sumac, dogwood, cherry, apple, and peach trees, making a less palatable food serve when their favorite is unobtainable.

As far as we can discern no creature in the North will use this occasion of scarcity for self-pity. None will rebel. Everyone will adapt himself to the food shortage as well as he can, and where he cannot have the best will make the second-best or tenth-best serve his purpose.

Here is one of the prime differences between lower and higher forms of life. If one of the lower insects cannot find the food it prefers, it will lie right down and die. The Anthrenus musco-rum, a beetle that specializes in eating dead and dried insects, will not choose a second-best food if its favorite rations are not available. It dies. If the snail-eating insect, Cyathus andrewsian, cannot find snails, it will not eat aphids consumed in crowded deer areas, or wood, seeds, flap, or sap. It dies. Thus, with numerous kinds of insects and other low forms of life. They must have their preference or perish. But adaptability seems to increase as forms of life reach higher and higher. If a cat cannot have catnip, it will accept a mouse, a fish, a bird, or a saucer of milk. If a deer cannot find acorns, it will eat sweet fern or cedar. If a man cannot afford steak, he will resign himself to eating frankfurters.

In areas other than eating, adaptation is a sign of high intelligence and great spirit. If a person cannot have the job he wants, he can still make the most of the job he has. If he cannot live where he would like, he can still live nobly and by the highest standards of conduct right where he is. Look carefully enough at some of the successes of history and you will find that once they were failures at what they wanted most. They could not reach it. But when they missed their first aim, they did not let discouragement or self-pit destroy them. Like deer in this time of great hunger, they settled for something other than the choicest items on their menu and made strength of it.

James Whistler wanted to become a soldier. But he failed at West Point because he could not master chemistry. He tried engineering, but that profession did not suit him, or he did not suit that profession. Having a knack for painting, he decided to try that as a life's work and became world-famous in the fine arts. His portrait of his mother is one of the most widely-known paintings in the history of art.

Phillips Brooks' early ambition was to be a teacher. Upon graduating from college he launched his career in teaching and found he was a failure. The youngsters made him tired and cross, and he was so humiliated at his lack of control over them that he quit teaching and went into seclusion, refusing to see even his close friends. Then, recovering from the blow, he entered the Christian ministry and became one of America's outstanding preachers, the author of a favorite Christmas carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and Joseph did not want to go to Egypt. But when his jealous brothers sold him into slavery and he was delivered to the Egyptian, Potiphar, he made the best of it and at last became prime minister of all Egypt and used his God-given wisdom to save the people of a great region from starvation during a prolonged famine. If Joseph had achieved what he wanted most, a life as a shepherd in his own country, scores of thousands would have starved. He made the most of a second-rate situation.

Not everyone can have what he wants most. Many of us must settle for something less than our favorite item, whether it's cedar when we really want acorns, a medium income when we want wealth, being secretary-treasurer when we want to be president, ailing when we want to be well, or followers when we want to be leaders.

God doesn't demand of anyone that he be a resounding success or that he does as well as he would like. But God does expect everyone to do as well as he can with the materials on hand—as does a whitetail deer or a cottontail rabbit.

100,000 Fish Moved into New Quarters at US Hatchery Here

One hundred thousand fishes, some of them no larger than a silver, have been moved into their new quarters at the U. S. Fish Culture station here operated by the Fish and Wildlife Service under the Department of the Interior.

The majority of this number is lake trout which will eventually find their way into the Great Lakes under the restocking program. The remainder are rainbow trout which will be used to stock streams and inland lakes in the state.

Impressive as this figure may sound, the newly remodeled station on Palmer st. on the shores of Lake Michigan has been equipped to care for one million fish, 90 per cent of which will be lake trout.

In the past vast numbers of fish have been reared in the local station and planted in the big lakes when they were only six or seven months old.

However, it has been found that the fish have a better chance of survival if they are allowed to reach yearling size before they are planted. Since facilities here were not adequate for this operation, the entire station has been remodeled at the cost of $54,295 to handle the project.

This necessitated the removal of out-moded aluminum tanks only large enough to handle the fish until they were a few months old, the replacing of the existing water system and the construction of modern concrete raceways deep enough to hold the fish until they reach yearling size.

Pictured above are four of the new raceways which are 78 feet long, three feet wide and 30 inches deep. On the racks in these raceways may be seen aluminum tanks in which the small fish will be kept until they require deeper water.

These latter raceways are built 30 inches above the main floor level so a siphon system can be utilized, thus making it possible to use the water supply twice, first in these and then in the wider ones on the lower level which can be seen in the background.

When the station is operating at capacity it will be possible to care for one million of the smaller fish and one hundred thousand yearling-size fish. As they grow to fingerling or yearling size, the over supply will be taken to feeding stations in the upper peninsula where they will be raised to yearling size before being planted.

The station boasts an excellent warming system in the event the remodeling program which was done by a Cheboygan construction company under the direction of George Roff, hatchery manager, also includes the installation of new water pipes, additional pumps, a new walk-in cooler and freezer and the relocation of existing pumps and other equipment to facilitate operation of the station. There is also a new food preparation room adjacent to the cooler and freezer.

When the fish eggs, which are gathered for the department by commercial fishermen, are hatched, the resulting fish weigh 3,200 to the pound. For the first two weeks the newborns are nourished by a food sac attached to their abdomens. At the end of approximately two weeks these sacs disappear and the fish must get their food from an outside source. At this time their diet is composed entirely of ground beef liver. It is necessary to feed them every hour but as they grow the feedings are cut to four a day.

During the early months the growth of the fish is quite rapid. At the end of the first two weeks they will weigh 2,500 to the pound and at the end of the first month 2,000 per pound. By the time they are six months old, it will take 250 to make a pound and when they are yearlings it will take only eight or nine for one pound.

Depending on the food supply after they are planted, they will reach legal size when they are approximately three years old. Lake trout do not start to reproduce until they are seven years old.

Caring for these "babies" is a delicate job, requiring a "baby sitter" or attendant 24 hours a day every day in the week from the time they are hatched until they are planted. They are kept on strict diet and after they outgrow the ground liver diet they are placed on a diet of dry food, a commercial product which includes meals, vitamins and minerals... all the requirements necessary to a balanced diet.

Every precaution is taken to keep the mortality rate down. The station is disease free, a fact of which Mr. Roff and his staff are very proud, and every effort is made to keep it that way. The tanks and raceways are cleaned regularly and all equipment used in the handling and feeding of the fish is sterilized. The weight of the fish is checked regularly and the diet regulated accordingly.

The life of the fish is dependent on the supply of fresh water. The new equipment pumps water from a well at the rate of approximately 1,000 gallons per minute into a 5,000 gallon storage tank. The water is then pumped into the raceways, first to the elevated center raceways and then to those on the lower level. The large raceways require nearly 8,000 gallons to fill them. The smaller ones just under 3,000 gallons.

The station boasts an excellent warming system in the event the

Objectives of MRA Told at Kiwanis Ladies Night

Moral Re-Armament, whose international assembly center located on Mackinac Island, was the subject of the program presented at ladies' night dinner meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday evening.

More than 60 members, their wives and other guests attended the dinner meeting at the high school cafeteria.

The MRA film, "An Idea for Washington and Moscow" was shown by Cyril Beal of the MRA. Other MRA members who spoke briefly were Lise Marienfeldt, a native of Germany who came to this country in 1938 to study nursing. She later was instrumental in interesting the first Germans in the MRA; Eileen Hunt of Sarnia who returned recently from Nigeria where another MRA film, "Freedom", was made; Sylvia Szeifelt, a Swiss nurse who has spread the MRA doctrine on four continents; Mr. and Mrs. Miles Phillimore, pioneers in the MRA movement. They have belonged to the group for 21 years and have traveled in Europe, the Middle East, America and New Zealand; Clive Ulyate who is from the center of the gold-mining industry in South Africa. Sport Magazine Features Story by William Ratigan

The March issue of the Fisherman, a magazine which covers the year-around world of sport fishing, features a short story by Charlevoix's widely known author William Ratigan.

The story, entitled "When a Joker Beats a King", is the only fiction in the popular magazine. Though Charlevoix is not mentioned as the locale of the story, readers will readily recognize the community during the fall perch runs.

In another section of the magazine, "On Our Lines" where new contributors are introduced to readers there is an interesting biography of the writer who concentrates on the history of the Great Lakes region and his workshop, the Docks Press. A picture of Mr. Ratigan and the familiar Docks Press located on Belvedere ave., accompany the article about the author.

Democrats in County Observe FDR Anniversary

Charlevoix county Democrats observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president at a special meeting held here last week.

A total of 40 Democrats including several from Petoskey gathered for the event.

Archie Murphy of East Jordan, former county chairman, was master of ceremonies. He was joined by J. M. Foster, Ralph S. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jordan and Alex Kostlosky, the latter trio from Petoskey, in relating recollections of the days of the New Deal. A review of his first year in office, taken from Mrs. Roosevelt's book, "This I Remember" was presented by Julius Elzinga.

Some of his speeches found in an album of "I Can Hear it Now" compiled by Edward R. Murrow were also played for the group. Card games and refreshments followed.

"A breath-taking trip for two by luxurious Seaboard, Belgian World Airlines to the World's Fair in Brussels, and then on, by helicopter, to the heart of Paris for two weeks at the deluxe Hotel Claridge on the Champs Elysees, plus $500 personal expense money," are the words used by Mrs. Rose Ager, chairman of the Home Economics Committee of the Barnard Grange, in describing the first-place award in a $50,000 Sewing Contest sponsored by the National Grange.

Mrs. Rose Ager explains that the contest is open to Grange members and non-members alike, and that it closes April 30. Separate divisions and awards are provided for: (a) adults—18 years of age and over, (b) youth—15 through 17 years of age, and (c) juniors—12 through 17.

Action Started To Re-organize Board of Commerce

Ninety-five persons representatives of every business, industry and interest in the community turned out last Friday for a Board of Commerce meeting at the City hall.

Purpose of the meeting was to make plans for the re-organization of the Board of Commerce as the result of recent action by the City Council which tightened the purse strings on the present board. For many years the city has been the sole support of the board, making appropriations to underwrite the cost of operation. Last year the appropriation was $5,512. Recently the council voted to discontinue this appropriation, stating that if the Board of Commerce was to continue to operate, local business and industry must find a way to support the organization. The city will continue to supplement the total.

With Max Hosmer serving as temporary chairman, the group discussed at length the job of a Chamber of Commerce.

It was then found that the Board of Commerce had been operating without a constitution and by-law so the first step was to name a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws and present them at the next meeting scheduled for Friday, March 21. Norman Agee, Lee Moorland, Richard Edwards, Fred Willis and Mr. Hosmer were named to this committee.

A nominating committee composed of Harold Totten, Paul Burkhardt, Earl A. Young, E. D. Hawley, William Fochtman, Russell Dohm and Fran Martin were named to compile a list of possible candidates for the board of directors.

Directors will be elected at the next meeting.

The meeting opened with the showing of the film "What is a Chamber of Commerce" made under the sponsorship of the National Chamber of Commerce. Don Ruffer, secretary-manager of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce, who supplied the film for the meeting then answered a variety of questions relating to financing, membership, public relations, promotions and organizations.

Kit Carson, president of the former board of directors, all of whom resigned to make way for a re-organization, opened the meeting by introducing Paul Burkhardt who in turn introduced Mr. Ruffer, secretary of the Petoskey Board of Commerce. Mr. Carson asked Mr. Hosmer to preside as chairman of the meeting. Robert Neff was elected acting secretary for the meeting.

Cancer Society Offers Nursing Scholarship

A $300.00 nursing scholarship is being offered to high school seniors or graduates in Charlevoix county by the Charlevoix county unit of the American Cancer Society, according to Mrs. J. C. Marshall, county chairman.

This is the second scholarship to be offered by the unit. An applicant must be a senior or a high school graduate, must be a resident of Charlevoix county and must have applied for admission to an accredited school of professional nursing in the state of Michigan before applying for the scholarship and must be financially worthy.

The scholarship will be paid at the rate of $100.00 a year over a three-year period with the recipient receiving her first check at the time she enters training. The second and third checks will be given to her on this anniversary. Should the recipient withdraw from nurse's training for any reason other than health, she must repay the amount she has received to the sponsoring organization.

Application blanks are available at the office of high school principals in Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Boyne Falls.

Members of the scholarship committee are Mrs. Marshall, Dr. Robert G. Martin of Charlevoix, medical chairman of the county unit, Mrs. Henry Erber of Boyne City, Mrs. Marion Jackson Jr., of East Jordan and Mrs. Charles Bellingier, chairman in their respective communities.

Warren G. Harding is the only man who went direct from the Senate to the Presidency.

"Wake Up and Read"

The above is the slogan for National Library Week, Mar. 16 to 25. Purpose is to spark a united effort to dramatize the role of libraries and revitalize reader interest in the daily life of every American. During this week all agencies interested in fostering life-time reading habits have joined in a concerted effort to awaken Americans to the rewards of reading.

Charlevoix is fortunate in having a public library. We wonder, however, just how many of us stop to realize its true value to the community. There we have a great store of reading material available to all who would read for self improvement or for entertainment. It all means that regardless of a person's educational background there is no limit to self education when good public libraries are available.

Sonie years ago we heard a college professor remark that he wasn't seriously worried about his children's formal education if they learned the value of books and learned to read with understanding. With those qualifications they had the knowledge of the world at their command. There is more than a grain of truth to his philosophy.

Salute the Legion

The American Legion will observe its 39th anniversary Mar. 15-16. It was born on those dates in Paris, France, at a caucus of delegates from the American Expeditionary Forces. The organization was completed at a caucus held in St. Louis, Mo., May 8 to 10 of the same year.

Today the Legion is a three-war organization with a membership composed of eligible veterans of World War I and II and the Korean conflict. It counts it ranks by the million with 17,000 community posts. By and large these posts have provided an influence and power for good in their communities.

From its beginning the Legion has been dedicated to the promotion of the best interests of America and defenders of the American way. There has never been any doubt as to where it stands on matters that affect the welfare of America and preservation of our free institutions. It is especially militant in opposing all influences or activities that are un-American in concept and design.

We salute the American Legion and may it never deviate from its original objectives.

Did you notice all those sap pails or bags or whatever it is they use hanging on the trees as you drove through the country-side last weekend? Then you know it's maple syrup time. We happened to see Ed Shanahan the other day and he told us they'd tapped their first trees. You know, that's quite a business in this country. There are about six sugar bushes in the county which tap several thousand trees that not heaven knows how many gallons of the luscious liquid that tastes so good on waffles, pancakes or what have you. It's quite a treat to visit a sugar bush so if you have a chance don't pass it up. It's something you will never forget.

It's birthday time... and though we're late we'd like to mention a couple... Belated greetings to that grand lady, Mrs. Rosa Nettleton, who seems ageless so it's hard to believe that she was ninety last week. We're not sure but we think we know one of her secrets for staying young... She has many interests and hobbies... You know she has always painted... oils, water colors and whatever else artists paint with a few years ago, when it became too much for her to spend hours at her easel she turned to color photography... though she still dabbles in paints she has a colorful new interest in photography.

Another birthday gal is Mrs. Lillian Moore whom I'm sure won't mind if we mention that she observed her seventy-fourth birthday over the weekend... Her sons, Clay and Wally, and their wives joined her for the occasion... We hope both will enjoy many more happy years.

And right here in our town more than 100 girls are observing a birthday this week... Not their own but that of the organization of which they are members... The Girl Scouts... That's right, it's Girl Scout week... and a couple days this week, Little Scouts will come knocking on your door asking you to buy Girl Scout cookies so be prepared for them... And happy birthday to a grand group that does so very much for our Girls.

How did you like that Michigan state basketball game for the Big Ten title Saturday... Indiana won, as you know, by playing beautiful ball... but when you see the big boys making glaring errors you can't blame the high school kids for not coming through... The same is true of the pros... We still believe that there are gremlins who do nothing but push the ball out of the basket or tip it off the rim instead of in... they've been working overtime recently... We saw it at the tournament at Petoskey last week... and in the games on TV.

Top of the mornin' to you... Faith and begorra, it's St. Patrick's Day again... a time for the wearin' of the green... And everyone with a drop of Irish blood will be observin' the occasion in one way or another... Since we're more than a bit of Irish, we'd like to wish you the best this St. Patrick's Day... And to our friends on America's Emerald Isle a wonderful day... There's no place else in the world, unless it's on the auld sod, itself that they celebrate any more than they do on Beaver Island... come St. Patrick's Day.

And in the mail... from down Florida way a note from Mrs. Russell Dundas and son, Clark, who'll be leaving the south that got sunny just before they were ready to leave... They'll be in Mt. Clemens shortly to spend a month before returning to Grey Gables for the summer... They send their best to everyone... Like the robins they'll be with us shortly... another criterion of spring.

And from out Arizona way, Phoenix, to be exact... a note from Mrs. Ruby Morrow... who's a beautician at the Paradise Valley Racquet club... where there's a good many movie stars coming and going... She said that Bing Crosby was there recently... and that Mrs. Eisenhower was there last week to watch the pro tennis players, Jack Kramer and Lew Hoad... The tennis pro at the club is Mine Arnold who is rated as the sixth best tennis player in the world, according to Mrs. M... who sends her best to everyone and writes that she'll miss Charlevoix this summer.

From Groton, Conn., a note from Mrs. A. G. Leitch whose husband was once the city superintendent here, you'll remember... She sent along a copy of the New London, Conn., Day, a daily newspaper which carried a picture story on Commissaryman first class Roland L. Corbisier who was honored recently as Sailor of the Month by the New London Exchange Club... He's stationed at the U. S. Coast Guard Training Station at New London where he has the job of preparing from 3,000 to 4,000 meals each day... Quite a chore, you'll admit... He works on the theory that if food looks good, it tastes good and it's evidently a good one for you don't get assignments like his unless you're good... He's been in the Coast Guard most of the time since 1942... You'll remember that he's married to the former Ann Lietch whom he met when he was stationed here, if memory serves us correctly... They have two children, Diane, 12 and Lawrence, 11... Oh yes, he re-enlisted recently for another six year hitch... so he must like his job... though it sounds like a difficult one.

Here's a story that will make your blood run cold when you stop to think of what might have happened... Seems two youngsters, accompanied by their dog, decided to go for a boat ride on Round Lake Saturday... With sticks for paddles, no oars... they worked their way through the ice floes that had drifted in from the big lake... All this is bad enough but about that time, one decided to get out and stretch his legs... on an ice floe, which you very well know, is pretty risky business this time of year... A man on the south side of the lake called to them, warning them to get back to shore before they fell in... Slowly they worked their way through the ice floes and landed some place on the north side... With that water so cold and that ice drifting about, their lives wouldn't have been worth two cents if they'd fallen in... Luckily they didn't... But wouldn't it be a good idea to warn youngsters of the danger...

Cadillac

It's an Easy Step from Dreaming to Driving!

Here he is at last—just a few miles out on his maiden journey—with his hands on the wheel and his head in the clouds. It's his!

And yet, truth to tell, he does have one regret. For he knows that he needn't have waited this long, had he but realized what an easy step it is from dreaming of a Cadillac to driving in a Cadillac.

Like a great many motorists, for instance, he was not aware that a Cadillac—in view of its obvious virtues—could be so modest in price.

Nor did he appreciate, until the facts were presented, how economical a Cadillac is to maintain or how wonderfully it holds its value over the years.

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

WINTER always reminds us of the famous picture called "Spirit of Service," showing a telephone line-man walking on snowshoes through a blizzard. It may come as a surprise to the folks who mostly see our men riding in heated cab trucks, but in many Michigan areas our men still must use snowshoes occasionally to reach lines in open country. And those fellows still get a kick out of it because they know they're making it possible for you to phone anyone, any place, any time.

IF HE COULD LIVE THAT LONG, a fellow could expect to work in Michigan Bell's plant department—building lines, installing and repairing phones, and so on—for about 900 years without an injury that would keep him off his job. That's just another way of saying our company's Safety Report for 1957 shows that only 1 fellow out of 900 didn't show up for work because of an accident. Of course, we'd rather have a record of none out of 900... that's our goal. And that's why our Safety Supervisors keep reminding: "Make sure the pole's safe before you climb it"; "Lift with your legs, not your back"; "Get out of your car on the sidewalk side—not on the side where you'll step into traffic."

HAVE YOU NOTICED how much steeper those stairs get when you're tired? How many miles do you travel each year up and down stairs—nr from one end of the house to the other—to answer the phone? Nowadays this is an unnecessary waste of energy and time. You can have an additional phone anywhere in your home for about one dollar a month. Last year Michigan Bell installed 66,000 telephones in homes which already had at least one phone. Join the families who have discovered how much pleasanter life is with extension phones. To order yours just call our Business Office.

Twice Defeated Rams Press 56-41 Victory

The Harbor Springs Rams rolled over the Boyne City Ramblers by a score of 56 to 41 in the Class C district finals Saturday night to capture their first district title since 1942.

Going into the finals, the Boyne City Ramblers, who had defeated the Rams twice during the regular season, were favored to win. However, the Rams were not impressed by this or the fact that the Ramblers were the league champions for the third straight year as they jumped into a 10 to one lead which they never relinquished as they remained ahead 16 to 14 at halftime and 31 to 27 at the three-quarter mark before the roof caved in in the Ramblers. In the final period Harbor Springs poured in 25 points to banish hopes for a comeback.

With Richie Clarke scoring 20 points on five field goals and 10 of 11 free throws and Ken Garver accounting for 18 on six field goals and six of nine free throws the Rams were in control of the game all the way. Though they were outscored 17 to 15 in the field goal department, the Rams capitalized on the Ramblers' 22 personal fouls to score 26 free throws on 35 attempts. Boyne City scored on seven of 17 attempts. Harbor Springs collected only 14 personal fouls.

Bob Christensen had 14 and Carl Charon 13 points for the Ramblers.

Boyne City advanced to the district finals after drubbing Pellston 77 to 41 in their first game of the tournament.

Paced by Carl Charon with 27 points, the Ramblers led the Hornets 19 to nine, 37 to 15 and 59 to 28 by quarters for the victory. Ray Durkalec had 11 points for Pellston.

The Class C regional finals have been scheduled for 8 p. m. Saturday night.

Gaylord Upsets Mancelona In Regional Meet

In the district tournament at Gaylord, the Gaylord Blue Devils upset the Mancelona Ironmen 59 to 58 to advance to the regional tournament at Petoskey.

Mancelona had been favored to take this tourney.

A technical foul, called on Mancelona when an Ironman called for time out when his team had already had five, gave the Blue Devils this game by a one-point margin.

With the score tied 56-all and less than two minutes remaining, Keith Riddle sunk the free throw on the technical foul. John Phillips put Mancelona ahead with a field goal but Riddle countered with one for the Devils as time ran out for the victory.

Gaylord led 18 to seven at the quarter and 30 to 22 at halftime only to lose the lead to Mancelona 41 to 37 as the third period ended.

Riddle had 16 for the game followed by Larsen Larrabee and John Burnison with 14 each. Phillips had 22 for the Ironmen. Gaylord defeated East Jordan 49 to 45 and Mancelona dumped Onaway 59 to 29 to advance to the Class C district finals.

Rayders Lose District Title to Harbor Springs Rams 77-65

The Charlevoix Rayders, defending Class C district champions, bowed out of the 1958 district tourney at Petoskey Thursday night after losing to Harbor Springs 77 to 65.

Harbor Springs went on to defeat Boyne City 56 to 41 in the finals to capture its first district Class C championship since 1942. Boyne City defeated Pellston 77 to 41 to go into the finals against the Rams.

In their meeting with the new Class C district champions, the Rayders kept pace with the Rams during the first eight minutes of play, trailing by only one point, 21 to 20 as the quarter ended.

In the second period, however, they were outscored 19 to 12 as Harbor Springs went ahead 40 to 32 after regular Bob Mol had collected his fourth personal foul and Coach Don Carey benched him.

The Rams continued the torrid pace as the second half got underway to go ahead 61 to 42 going into the final period when the Rayders had their best quarter and managed to cut the Rams advantage to 12 points as the game ended.

Prayer of Thanks on A Starlit Evening

Lord of heaven and earth,
Many are the blessings which I have within my reach,
Food for eating,
Clothes for wearing,
A house for shelter,
And loved ones near enough to touch.
They are all needed.
They are all good.
For each I offer daily thanks.
But on this starlit night
I lift my praise for all those things
I prize without possessing, like
The stars above,
The world's priceless art,
The skills of those whose bright gifts dim my poor lights;
For all the beauty and all the goodness beyond my reach
I thank Thee, O Lord.
Amen.

Assembly of God Plans Meetings

A four-day missionary-slanted series of Gospel meetings will be conducted at the Assembly of God church by the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Louton of Detroit beginning at 8 p. m. tonight (Thursday) and continuing for several days, according to the Rev. T. B. Thodeson, pastor of the church.

The meetings will be held at 8 p. m. tonight, Friday, Sunday and Monday.

On Monday night the service will be a rally with teen-agers and young people coming from Petoskey, Boyne City, East Jordan, Central Lake and Rapid City.

The Rev. Mr. Louton, at 23, is a mature missionary having been in Africa for 5½ years. He attended a South African Bible College and upon graduation worked among the neglected people who are not accepted by the natives or the whites.

Last month he was married to the former Barbara Hughes, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Hughes of Clio.

Leo Allard, city street commissioner receives the key to a new Dodge truck from H. E. Schofield of Brown Motors. To the right of Mr. Schofield are Alderman Harry Gebeau of the street committee, Mrs. Laura Courler of Brown Motors and Alderman Ed Hansen of the street committee.

The new truck to be used for street maintenance is a 2½-ton Dodge D-600 with dump body. It is equipped with underframe scraper and front plow hitches.

Church to Sponsor St. Patrick's Tea

A St. Patrick's tea will be held at the Norwood Methodist church Friday afternoon under the sponsorship of the W. S. C. S. of the church.

A brief program will be presented at 2 p. m. and will be followed by refreshments served at a table decorated in a St. Patrick's motif.

Women of the First Methodist and First Congregational churches in Charlevoix have been invited to attend.

Proceeds will be used for the organ fund.

Mrs. Ralph Hamilton Attends Conference

The annual state convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs is being held in East Lansing this week.

Mrs. Ralph Hamilton is in southern Michigan to attend the conference as a delegate of the Dickens Study club.

We're Sorry

The name of Jimmy Dennis who scored three-points in the final Reserve team game of the season was inadvertently omitted from the box score.

Jimmy, a freshman, scored one field goal and one free throw and should have been credited with this in the box score.

Fish Moved Into New Quarters

Contained from page 1: water supply is cut off. The workers have several alternatives should a pump go out of order or the water supply from the well be cut off.

The operation of the station requires three full-time employees, one of whom is on duty at all times. Dean of the group is Mr. Roff, a veteran of 30 years, in the service, who has been manager of the local station for the past 12½ years. He is ably assisted by Raymond J. Nowland, station foreman, who has been with the service since 1946. The third man is Ronald Geer who was recently engaged as a hatchery aide.

Mr. Roff said that Charlevoix has been the site of a fish hatchery since 1889. The first one was located on the south shore of Round Lake in what is now known as the Washburn building. A nearby flowing well supplied the running water for the hatchery. In 1903 the hatchery was moved to the frame building now used as a dwelling by the manager located adjacent to the present fireproof building which was started in 1917 and completed the following year. The manager's house was re-modeled as a dwelling in 1924.
